

JSS1 ENGLISH STUDIES LESSON NOTES

FIRST TERM

WEEK 1 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO SPEECH; ORGANS OF SPEECH

WHAT IS SPEECH? Speech is the ability to produce sounds using the vocal organs to communicate ideas, thoughts, and feelings.

Components of Speech:

- Sound production
- Voice modulation
- Articulation (clear pronunciation)
- Intonation (rise and fall of voice)

THE ORGANS OF SPEECH:

1. THE LUNGS:

- Provide air for speech
- Push air through windpipe
- Control breath for speaking

2. THE LARYNX (Voice Box):

- Located in the throat
- Contains vocal cords
- Produces voice/sound

- Controls pitch

3. THE VOCAL CORDS:

- Two bands of muscle in larynx
- Vibrate to create sound
- Open for breathing, close for speaking

4. THE PHARYNX (Throat):

- Passage between mouth and larynx
- Resonates sound
- Shapes voice quality

5. THE SOFT PALATE (Velum):

- Soft back part of roof of mouth
- Raises/lowers to direct air
- Controls nasal vs oral sounds

6. THE HARD PALATE:

- Hard front part of roof of mouth
- Helps shape sounds
- Tongue touches it for certain sounds

7. THE TONGUE:

- Most important articulator
- Very flexible, moves in all directions
- Different parts: tip, blade, front, back
- Shapes vowels and consonants

8. THE TEETH:

- Upper and lower teeth
- Help produce sounds like /f/, /v/, /θ/, /ð/
- Tongue touches teeth for some sounds

9. THE LIPS:

- Shape the mouth opening
- Round for sounds like /w/, /u:/
- Spread for sounds like /i:/
- Press together for /p/, /b/, /m/

10. THE ALVEOLAR RIDGE:

- Bumpy ridge behind upper teeth
- Tongue touches it for /t/, /d/, /n/, /l/, /s/, /z/

11. THE JAW:

- Opens and closes mouth
- Lowers for open sounds
- Position affects sound quality

12. THE NASAL CAVITY:

- Space behind nose
- Produces nasal sounds /m/, /n/, /ŋ/
- Air passes through for nasal consonants

HOW SPEECH IS PRODUCED:

Three Processes:

1. RESPIRATION (Breathing):

- Lungs provide air
- Air pushed up through windpipe
- Controlled exhalation for speech

2. PHONATION (Voice Production):

- Air passes through larynx
- Vocal cords vibrate
- Creates voiced sounds

3. ARTICULATION (Sound Shaping):

- Organs modify airflow
- Tongue, lips, teeth shape sounds
- Creates specific phonemes

TYPES OF SPEECH SOUNDS:

1. VOWELS:

- Air flows freely
- No obstruction
- Voice always used
- Examples: /a/, /e/, /i/, /o/, /u/

2. CONSONANTS:

- Air partially or completely blocked
- Uses articulators (tongue, lips, teeth)
- May be voiced or voiceless
- Examples: /p/, /t/, /k/, /b/, /d/, /g/

ARTICULATORS:

Active Articulators (Move):

- Tongue (most mobile)
- Lower lip
- Soft palate
- Lower jaw

Passive Articulators (Stationary):

- Upper teeth
- Alveolar ridge
- Hard palate
- Upper lip (less mobile)

IMPORTANCE OF ORGANS OF SPEECH:

- Enable human communication
- Allow language production
- Differentiate humans from animals
- Create variety of sounds
- Express emotions and ideas

EVALUATION:

1. Define speech and state three components of speech production
2. List and explain the functions of five organs of speech

3. Describe the three processes involved in producing speech sounds
4. What is the difference between vowels and consonants in terms of speech production?
5. Draw and label a simple diagram showing five organs of speech

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List all twelve organs of speech and write one sentence describing each organ's function
2. Explain the role of the tongue in speech production (5 sentences)
3. Identify which organs of speech are used to produce these sounds: (a) /p/ (b) /n/ (c) /s/ (d) /m/ (e) /l/
4. Describe how air flows from the lungs to produce speech sounds (8 sentences)
5. Why are the organs of speech important for communication? Give five reasons

WEEK 1 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: PARTS OF SPEECH; NOUNS – MEANING; TYPES OF NOUNS WITH EXAMPLES

PARTS OF SPEECH:

The parts of speech are the categories into which words are classified based on their function in a sentence.

The Eight Parts of Speech:

1. Noun – naming word
2. Pronoun – replaces noun
3. Verb – action/state word
4. Adjective – describes noun
5. Adverb – modifies verb/adjective
6. Preposition – shows relationship
7. Conjunction – connects words/sentences
8. Interjection – expresses emotion

NOUNS:

Definition: A noun is a naming word. It names people, places, things, animals, ideas, or qualities.

Examples:

- People: boy, teacher, Mary, doctor
- Places: school, Lagos, market, home
- Things: book, table, car, phone

- Animals: dog, cat, lion, bird
- Ideas: love, happiness, freedom, honesty

TYPES OF NOUNS:

1. COMMON NOUNS: General names for people, places, things, or animals. They do not start with capital letters (unless at the beginning of a sentence).

Examples:

- boy, girl, man, woman, teacher, student
- city, school, market, house, river
- book, pen, car, table, chair
- dog, cat, bird, fish, cow

Sentences:

- The boy went to school
- A teacher gave me a book
- The dog ate its food

2. PROPER NOUNS: Specific names of particular people, places, or things. They always begin with capital letters.

Examples:

- People: John, Mary, Dr. Adeleke, President Buhari
- Places: Nigeria, Lagos, River Niger, Aso Rock
- Days: Monday, Tuesday, Sunday
- Months: January, February, December

- Organizations: United Nations, Red Cross
- Titles: Mr., Mrs., Dr., Chief

Sentences:

- John lives in Lagos
- Mary goes to Queen's College
- We celebrate on Christmas Day

3. ABSTRACT NOUNS: Names of things we cannot see, touch, or measure but can feel or think about. They represent ideas, qualities, feelings, or states.

Examples:

- Feelings: love, happiness, sadness, anger, joy, fear
- Qualities: honesty, bravery, kindness, wisdom, beauty
- Ideas: freedom, justice, peace, democracy
- States: childhood, sleep, death, life

Sentences:

- Honesty is the best policy
- Love conquers all
- Wisdom comes with age
- His bravery saved many lives

4. CONCRETE NOUNS: Names of things we can see, touch, smell, taste, or hear. They are physical and tangible.

Examples:

- Things we see: tree, house, book, car
- Things we touch: stone, cloth, water
- Things we smell: flower, perfume, food
- Things we taste: sugar, salt, bread
- Things we hear: bell, music, thunder

Sentences:

- The tree is tall
- I touched the stone
- The flower smells sweet

5. COLLECTIVE NOUNS: Names for groups of people, animals, or things considered as one unit.

Common Examples:

People:

- a team of players
- a class of students
- a crowd of people
- a choir of singers
- an army of soldiers
- a crew of sailors

Animals:

- a herd of cattle/elephants
- a flock of sheep/birds

- a pack of wolves/dogs
- a swarm of bees/insects
- a pride of lions
- a school of fish

Things:

- a bunch of keys/flowers
- a bundle of sticks
- a pack of cards
- a library of books

Sentences:

- The team won the match
- A flock of birds flew away
- The class is studying

6. COUNTABLE NOUNS: Nouns that can be counted and have both singular and plural forms.

Examples:

- Singular: book, pen, boy, dog, house
- Plural: books, pens, boys, dogs, houses

Rules:

- Can use numbers: one book, two books, three dogs
- Can use "a/an": a pen, an apple
- Can use "many/few": many books, few students

Sentences:

- I have three books
- There are many students in class
- She bought five oranges

7. UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS (Mass Nouns): Nouns that cannot be counted individually. They have no plural form.

Examples:

- Liquids: water, milk, oil, tea, coffee
- Substances: sugar, salt, rice, flour, sand
- Abstract: advice, information, knowledge, news
- Materials: wood, paper, gold, silver

Rules:

- Cannot use numbers: X two waters, X three rices
- Cannot use "a/an": X a rice, X an advice
- Use "much/little": much water, little sugar
- Use "some/any": some rice, any milk

Sentences:

- I need some water
- She gave me good advice
- There is little sugar left

Note: To count uncountable nouns, use measurement words:

- a cup of tea, two cups of tea
- a bag of rice, three bags of rice

- a piece of advice, some pieces of advice

FORMING PLURALS:

Regular Rules:

- Add -s: book → books, pen → pens
- Add -es (ending in s, x, z, ch, sh): class → classes, box → boxes
- Consonant + y → change y to ies: baby → babies, city → cities
- Vowel + y → add s: boy → boys, key → keys
- f/fe → change to ves: knife → knives, wife → wives

Irregular Plurals:

- man → men, woman → women, child → children
- tooth → teeth, foot → feet, mouse → mice
- sheep → sheep, fish → fish, deer → deer

EVALUATION:

1. Define noun and give five examples of each type: common, proper, and abstract nouns
2. What is the difference between countable and uncountable nouns? Give three examples of each
3. Write the collective nouns for: (a) sheep (b) cattle (c) students (d) bees (e) singers
4. Identify the types of nouns in these sentences: "John showed great courage when he saved the child from the fire"
5. Write the plural forms of: (a) baby (b) knife (c) sheep (d) woman (e) box

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List the eight parts of speech with one example for each
2. Write ten common nouns, ten proper nouns, and ten abstract nouns
3. Give five examples of collective nouns and use each in a sentence
4. Explain the difference between concrete and abstract nouns with five examples each
5. Identify and classify all nouns in this passage: "Mary went to the market in Lagos with her mother. They bought rice, tomatoes, and fish. The crowd was large, and Mary felt happiness when they returned home."

WEEK 1 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: THE FAMILY; VOCABULARY – INTRODUCTION TO LANGUAGE SKILLS (LSRW)

PART A: THE FAMILY

DEFINITION: A family is a group of people related by blood, marriage, or adoption who live together or maintain close relationships.

TYPES OF FAMILIES

1. Nuclear Family

- Father, mother, and children
- Small family unit
- Common in urban areas

2. Extended Family

- Includes grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins

- Large family unit
- Several generations together
- Common in African culture

3. Single-Parent Family

- One parent raising children alone
- Due to death, divorce, or choice

4. Blended/Step Family

- Parents remarried with children from previous marriages
- Children have step-parents and step-siblings

FAMILY MEMBERS AND RELATIONSHIPS

Immediate Family:

- Father/Dad/Papa – male parent
- Mother/Mum/Mama – female parent
- Son – male child
- Daughter – female child
- Brother – male sibling
- Sister – female sibling

Extended Family:

- Grandfather/Grandpa – father's/mother's father
- Grandmother/Grandma – father's/mother's mother
- Uncle – father's/mother's brother, aunt's husband
- Aunt/Aunty – father's/mother's sister, uncle's wife

- Cousin – uncle's/aunt's child
- Nephew – brother's/sister's son
- Niece – brother's/sister's daughter
- In-laws – spouse's family (father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law)

FAMILY ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Father:

- Provides for family
- Protects family members
- Guides and disciplines children
- Makes important decisions
- Role model

Mother:

- Cares for children
- Manages household
- Prepares meals
- Nurtures and comforts
- Teaches values

Children:

- Respect and obey parents
- Help with household chores
- Study and attend school
- Care for younger siblings

- Learn family values

IMPORTANCE OF FAMILY

- Provides love and security
- Teaches values and morals
- Offers emotional support
- Meets basic needs (food, shelter, clothing)
- Preserves culture and traditions
- Prepares children for society
- Creates sense of belonging

PART B: INTRODUCTION TO LANGUAGE SKILLS (LSRW)

THE FOUR LANGUAGE SKILLS: Abilities needed to communicate effectively

TWO CATEGORIES:

RECEPTIVE SKILLS (Input) – Receiving and understanding information PRODUCTIVE SKILLS (Output) – Producing and expressing information

1. LISTENING (Receptive)

Definition: Receiving and understanding spoken information

Activities:

- Listening to teacher in class
- Following instructions
- Listening to radio/news

- Understanding conversations

How to Improve:

- Pay attention when others speak
- Avoid distractions
- Ask questions if unclear
- Practice active listening
- Listen to English programs

Importance:

- Understand instructions
- Learn from others
- Build relationships
- Avoid misunderstandings

2. READING (Receptive)

Definition: Understanding written information

Types:

- Reading aloud (oral)
- Silent reading
- Intensive reading (detailed)
- Extensive reading (general)

Activities:

- Reading textbooks
- Reading newspapers and stories

- Reading instructions

How to Improve:

- Read daily
- Read various materials
- Look up new words
- Practice pronunciation
- Read fiction and non-fiction

Importance:

- Gain knowledge
- Improve vocabulary
- Enjoy literature
- Access information

3. SPEAKING (Productive)

Definition: Expressing ideas orally

Types:

- Formal speaking (presentations, speeches)
- Informal speaking (conversations)
- Monologue (one person)
- Dialogue (conversation)

Activities:

- Answering questions in class
- Giving presentations

- Telling stories
- Participating in discussions

How to Improve:

- Practice speaking English daily
- Participate in class discussions
- Join debate clubs
- Record and listen to yourself
- Learn correct pronunciation

Importance:

- Express thoughts and feelings
- Participate in discussions
- Build confidence
- Make presentations

4. WRITING (Productive)

Definition: Expressing ideas in written form

Types:

- Formal writing (letters, reports, essays)
- Informal writing (notes, messages)
- Creative writing (stories, poems)
- Academic writing (assignments, exams)

Activities:

- Writing essays and letters

- Taking notes
- Answering exam questions
- Writing stories

How to Improve:

- Write daily (diary, journal)
- Practice different types of writing
- Read to improve vocabulary
- Learn grammar rules
- Proofread your work

Importance:

- Record information
- Communicate formally
- Express creativity
- Demonstrate knowledge

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE FOUR SKILLS

Integration: All skills work together for effective communication

- Listening → Speaking (hear, then respond)
- Reading → Writing (read examples, then write)
- Listening/Reading → Understanding (input leads to comprehension)
- Speaking/Writing → Expression (output shows learning)

Order of Acquisition: Natural language learning order

1. Listening (babies listen first)

2. Speaking (then start talking)
3. Reading (learn to read)
4. Writing (learn to write)

SUMMARY TABLE

Skill	Type	Definition	Example Activities
Listening	Receptive	Understanding spoken language	Following instructions, listening to news
Reading	Receptive	Understanding written language	Reading books, newspapers, textbooks
Speaking	Productive	Expressing ideas orally	Presentations, discussions, conversations
Writing	Productive	Expressing ideas in writing	Essays, letters, notes, stories

EVALUATION:

1. Define family and name 3 types with examples
2. List 5 extended family members and explain their relationships
3. What are the four language skills? Group them into receptive and productive
4. Explain 3 responsibilities of parents in a family
5. How can you improve: (a) listening skills (b) reading skills (c) speaking skills?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Draw your family tree showing at least 10 family members with their relationships to you
2. Write a paragraph (10 sentences) describing your family (type, members, roles)

3. Explain the four language skills (LSRW) with 2 examples of activities for each
4. List 5 ways each skill is important: (a) Listening (b) Reading (c) Speaking (d) Writing
5. Describe how the four language skills work together in a classroom setting (8 sentences)

4. COMPOSITION

WEEK 1: MEANING OF COMPOSITION; TYPES – NARRATIVE, DESCRIPTIVE, ARGUMENTATIVE, EXPOSITORY

CONTENT:

WHAT IS COMPOSITION?

Definition: Composition is the art of putting words together in a structured and organized way to express ideas, thoughts, or tell a story. It is written expression of ideas in sentences and paragraphs.

Other Names:

- Essay writing
- Continuous writing
- Creative writing

Purpose:

- Express ideas clearly
- Communicate thoughts
- Demonstrate language skills
- Inform, entertain, or persuade

CHARACTERISTICS OF GOOD COMPOSITION:

1. Clear Purpose: Know what you want to achieve
2. Good Organization: Logical arrangement of ideas
3. Unity: All parts relate to main idea

4. Coherence: Ideas flow smoothly
5. Correct Grammar: Proper sentence structure
6. Appropriate Vocabulary: Right words for the topic
7. Proper Punctuation: Correct use of marks
8. Good Paragraphing: Ideas grouped logically

TYPES OF COMPOSITION:

1. NARRATIVE COMPOSITION (NARRATIVE ESSAY):

Definition: A narrative composition tells a story or relates events in chronological order (time sequence). It has characters, setting, plot, and usually teaches a lesson.

Characteristics:

- Tells a story
- Has beginning, middle, end
- Uses past tense (usually)
- Includes characters and dialogue
- Has a plot (sequence of events)
- Often written in first person (I, we)
- Descriptive and engaging

Purpose:

- Tell a story
- Share personal experiences
- Entertain readers
- Teach lessons through stories

Common Topics:

- My First Day at School
- A Day I Will Never Forget
- My Last Holiday
- An Unforgettable Experience
- The Happiest Day of My Life
- A Journey I Made

Key Elements:

- Characters: People in the story (I, my friend, my mother)
- Setting: Where and when the story happens
- Plot: What happens (events in order)
- Climax: Most exciting part
- Lesson: What was learned

Example Opening: "I will never forget the day I got lost in the market. It was a bright Saturday morning in December when my mother and I went to buy Christmas items..."

Useful Expressions:

- Once upon a time...
- One day...
- Last week/month/year...
- First, Then, Next, After that, Finally
- Suddenly, Immediately, Later
- At that moment, Meanwhile

2. DESCRIPTIVE COMPOSITION (DESCRIPTIVE ESSAY):

Definition: A descriptive composition paints a picture with words. It describes a person, place, object, or event in detail using sensory language (what you see, hear, smell, taste, touch).

Characteristics:

- Creates vivid mental images
- Uses sensory details (five senses)
- Rich in adjectives and adverbs
- Present tense (usually)
- Organized spatially (top to bottom, left to right)
- Focuses on details

Purpose:

- Describe something clearly
- Help readers visualize
- Create mental pictures
- Appeal to senses

Common Topics:

- My School
- My Best Friend
- My Village/Town
- My Bedroom
- A Market Scene
- A Festival
- An Interesting Place I Visited

Key Elements:

- Physical appearance: What it looks like
- Size and shape: Dimensions and form
- Color: Shades and hues
- Texture: How it feels
- Sounds: What you hear
- Smells: What you smell
- Tastes: What you taste (if applicable)
- Location: Where things are positioned

Example Opening: "My school stands majestically at the end of Kings Road. The large, white-painted building has two stories, with wide windows that shine brightly in the morning sun..."

Useful Expressions:

- It looks like...
- It is located...
- To the left/right of...
- In the center/middle...
- Surrounding it are...
- The most striking feature is...
- Beautiful, colorful, magnificent, enormous
- Bright, sparkling, gleaming, radiant

3. ARGUMENTATIVE COMPOSITION (ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY):

Definition: An argumentative composition presents a position on a topic and supports it with reasons, evidence, and examples to convince readers. It includes opposing views and refutes them.

Characteristics:

- States a clear position/thesis
- Presents arguments with evidence
- Addresses counter-arguments
- Uses logical reasoning
- Formal tone
- Present tense (usually)
- Persuasive language

Purpose:

- Convince readers
- Present and defend a viewpoint
- Show logical thinking
- Persuade through reasoning

Common Topics:

- School Uniforms Should Be Compulsory
- Television Does More Harm Than Good
- Boarding School is Better Than Day School
- Sports Are More Important Than Academics
- Mobile Phones Should Be Banned in Schools

- Capital Punishment Should Be Abolished

Structure:

- Introduction: State your position (thesis)
- Body Paragraph 1-3: Present arguments with evidence
- Counter-argument: Present opposing view
- Refutation: Explain why opposing view is wrong
- Conclusion: Restate position, summarize arguments

Example Opening: "School uniforms should be compulsory in all schools. While some argue that uniforms limit self-expression, the benefits far outweigh this concern. This essay will demonstrate why uniforms promote equality, discipline, and school identity..."

Useful Expressions:

- I strongly believe that...
- It is evident that...
- First/Firstly, Second/Secondly, Finally
- For example, For instance
- However, Nevertheless, On the other hand
- Some people argue that...
- This view is flawed because...
- In conclusion, Therefore, Thus

4. EXPOSITORY COMPOSITION (EXPOSITORY ESSAY):

Definition: An expository composition explains, informs, or describes a topic clearly and objectively using facts, statistics, and examples. It does not include personal opinions or try to persuade.

Characteristics:

- Informative and educational
- Objective (factual, no opinions)
- Clear and organized
- Uses facts and examples
- Formal tone
- Third person (he, she, it, they)
- Present tense (usually)

Purpose:

- Explain how something works
- Inform about a topic
- Describe a process
- Define concepts
- Compare and contrast

Common Topics:

- How to Prepare Jollof Rice
- The Importance of Education
- Types of Transportation
- HIV/AIDS: Understanding the Disease
- The Water Cycle

- Causes of Road Accidents
- Benefits of Reading

Types of Expository Essays:

- Process (How-to): Explains steps (How to make...)"
- Cause and Effect: Shows relationships (Causes of...Effects of...)
- Compare and Contrast: Shows similarities/differences
- Problem-Solution: Presents problem and solutions
- Definition: Explains what something means

Example Opening: "Education is the foundation of personal and national development. It equips individuals with knowledge, skills, and values necessary for productive living. This essay examines the importance of education in modern society..."

Useful Expressions:

- This essay explains...
- There are several types/kinds...
- First, Second, Third, Finally
- The process involves...
- As a result, Consequently, Therefore
- For example, For instance, Such as
- In addition, Furthermore, Moreover
- In summary, In conclusion

COMPARISON OF TYPES:

Type	Purpose	Tone	Person	Tense
------	---------	------	--------	-------

Narrative	Tell story	Personal, engaging	First person (I, we)	Past
Descriptive	Describe/paint picture	Vivid, sensory	First/third person	Present
Argumentative	Persuade/convince	Formal, persuasive	Third person mainly	Present
Expository	Explain/inform	Objective, formal	Third person	Present

CHOOSING THE RIGHT TYPE:

Question/Topic Analysis:

- "Describe..." → Descriptive
- "Narrate...", "Tell a story..." → Narrative
- "Do you agree...?", "Should...?" → Argumentative
- "Explain...", "Discuss...", "What is...?" → Expository

EVALUATION:

1. Define composition and state four characteristics of good composition
2. Explain the four types of composition with one example topic for each
3. What is the difference between narrative and descriptive composition?
4. List five topics suitable for: (a) narrative composition (b) argumentative composition
5. Which type of composition would you use for these topics: (a) My Last Birthday (b) Why Students Should Read More (c) The Market Near My House (d) How to Make Fried Rice?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a comparison table showing the four types of composition with their: (a) definition (b) purpose (c) characteristics (d) common topics

2. Write the opening paragraph (5 sentences) for: (a) A narrative essay about "My First Day at School" (b) A descriptive essay about "My Classroom"
3. List ten transitional expressions commonly used in: (a) narrative composition (b) argumentative composition
4. Explain three differences between expository and argumentative composition
5. For each topic, identify the type of composition: (a) Life in the Village (b) A Narrow Escape (c) Television is Harmful to Children (d) The Causes of Examination Malpractice (e) An Exciting Football Match

5. LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

WEEK 1: WHAT IS LITERATURE?

CONTENT:

DEFINITION OF LITERATURE:

Literature is the art of written works that express ideas, emotions, and experiences in beautiful, imaginative, and meaningful ways. It is creative writing that has lasting artistic value.

Simple Definition: Literature is any written work that is considered to have artistic or intellectual value.

CHARACTERISTICS OF LITERATURE:

1. CREATIVE/IMAGINATIVE:

- Uses imagination and creativity
- Not just stating facts
- Creates new worlds and characters
- Original and unique

2. ARTISTIC:

- Beautiful use of language
- Careful choice of words
- Attention to style and form
- Aesthetic appeal

3. MEANINGFUL:

- Conveys important messages

- Explores human experiences
- Teaches lessons about life
- Has depth and significance

4. PERMANENT/LASTING:

- Survives across time
- Relevant to different generations
- Universal themes
- Enduring value

5. EMOTIONAL:

- Appeals to feelings
- Evokes emotions in readers
- Makes readers laugh, cry, think
- Creates connections

6. ENTERTAINING:

- Provides pleasure
- Engages readers
- Holds attention
- Makes reading enjoyable

PURPOSES/FUNCTIONS OF LITERATURE:

1. ENTERTAINMENT:

- Provides enjoyment and pleasure
- Offers escape from reality

- Makes leisure time valuable
- Creates memorable experiences

LITERATURE VS NON-LITERATURE:

LITERATURE:

- Creative and imaginative
- Artistic use of language
- Focuses on human experiences
- Has lasting value

- Examples: novels, poems, plays, short stories

NON-LITERATURE:

- Factual and informative
- Straightforward language
- Focuses on information/facts
- May have temporary value
- Examples: textbooks, news articles, instruction manuals, reports

WHY STUDY LITERATURE?

1. LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT:

- Improves vocabulary
- Enhances grammar
- Develops writing skills
- Improves communication

2. CULTURAL UNDERSTANDING:

- Learn about different cultures
- Understand traditions
- Appreciate diversity
- Build tolerance

3. CRITICAL THINKING:

- Analyze and interpret
- Make connections
- Evaluate ideas

- Think deeply

4. EMPATHY:

- Understand others' perspectives
- Experience different viewpoints
- Develop compassion
- Connect with humanity

5. IMAGINATION:

- Stimulates creativity

- Expands possibilities
- Inspires innovation

6. LIFE LESSONS:

- Learn from characters' experiences
- Understand consequences
- Make better decisions
- Grow personally

7. ENTERTAINMENT:

- Enjoyable and pleasurable
- Escape and relaxation
- Fun and engaging
- Lifelong hobby

LITERATURE AND LIFE:

Literature Reflects Life:

- Shows real human experiences
- Mirrors society's problems and joys
- Presents true emotions
- Depicts real relationships

Literature Shapes Life:

- Influences how we think
- Changes perspectives
- Inspires actions
- Molds character

Literature Enriches Life:

- Makes life more meaningful
- Provides beauty and pleasure
- Offers wisdom and insight
- Creates shared experiences

ELEMENTS THAT MAKE WRITING LITERARY:

1. FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE:

- Metaphors, similes, personification
- Creates vivid images
- Adds depth and beauty

2. SYMBOLISM:

- Objects represent ideas

- Deeper meanings
- Layered significance

3. THEME:

- Central message or idea
- Universal truths
- Meaningful insights

4. CHARACTERIZATION:

- Well-developed characters
- Realistic personalities
- Character growth

5. PLOT/STRUCTURE:

- Organized sequence
- Engaging storyline
- Effective pacing

6. STYLE:

- Distinctive voice
- Unique expression
- Artistic presentation

EVALUATION:

1. Define literature and state four characteristics that make a work literary
2. Explain five purposes or functions of literature with examples
3. What is the difference between literature and non-literature? Give two examples of each

4. List and explain four qualities of good literature
5. Why should students study literature? Give five reasons

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a comprehensive definition of literature in your own words (8 sentences)
2. Explain six characteristics of literature with examples
3. Describe how literature: (a) entertains (b) educates (c) preserves culture (d) provides moral instruction
4. List five sources of literature and explain how each inspires literary works
5. Create a table comparing literature and non-literature based on: purpose, language, style, examples, and lasting value

WEEK 2 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: PURE VOWEL SOUNDS (MONOPHTHONGS) WITH EXAMPLES

CONTENT:

WHAT ARE VOWELS?

Vowels are speech sounds produced with an open vocal tract. Air flows freely from the lungs through the mouth without obstruction.

Characteristics:

- Voice is always used (voiced sounds)
- No blockage of airflow
- Tongue position varies but doesn't block
- Form the nucleus of syllables
- More sonorous than consonants

TYPES OF VOWELS:

1. PURE VOWELS (MONOPHTHONGS): Single vowel sounds where the tongue stays in one position throughout pronunciation.

2. DIPHTHONGS: Vowel sounds that glide from one position to another (studied later).

THE TWELVE PURE VOWEL SOUNDS IN ENGLISH:

SHORT VOWELS (7):

1. /ɪ/ (as in "sit"):

- Short, quick sound

- Tongue high and front
- Lips slightly spread
- Examples: sit, bit, his, give, women, busy, England

2. /e/ (as in "bed"):

- Short sound
- Tongue mid-front
- Lips spread
- Examples: bed, red, pen, any, said, friend, bread

3. /æ/ (as in "cat"):

- Short sound
- Tongue low-front
- Mouth open fairly wide
- Examples: cat, hat, man, bad, apple, happy, family

4. /ɒ/ (as in "hot"):

- Short sound
- Tongue low-back
- Lips slightly rounded
- Examples: hot, pot, dog, want, wash, because (British)

5. /ʊ/ (as in "book"):

- Short sound
- Tongue high-back
- Lips rounded
- Examples: book, look, good, could, put, woman

6. /ʌ/ (as in "cup"):

- Short sound
- Tongue mid-central
- Lips neutral
- Examples: cup, but, sun, love, come, blood, done

7. /ə/ (schwa - as in "about"):

- The most common English sound
- Very short and weak
- Only in unstressed syllables
- Tongue central
- Examples: about, again, teacher, doctor, banana (last 'a')

LONG VOWELS (5):

1. /i:/ (as in "see"):

- Long sound
- Tongue very high-front
- Lips spread and tense
- Examples: see, meet, tea, he, people, key, field

2. /ɑ:/ (as in "car"):

- Long sound
- Tongue low-back
- Mouth wide open
- Examples: car, father, arm, heart, class, grass (British)

3. /ɔ:/ (as in "door"):

- Long sound
- Tongue mid-back
- Lips rounded
- Examples: door, four, ball, thought, daughter, walk, war

4. /u:/ (as in "too"):

- Long sound
- Tongue high-back
- Lips tightly rounded
- Examples: too, food, blue, true, move, soup, through

5. /ɜ:/ (as in "bird"):

- Long sound
- Tongue mid-central
- Lips neutral
- Examples: bird, her, turn, work, learn, journey

KEY DIFFERENCES:

Short vs Long:

- Short: Quick, unstressed, relaxed
- Long: Prolonged, can be stressed, tense

Front vs Back:

- Front vowels: Tongue toward front (/i:/, /ɪ/, /e/, /æ/)
- Back vowels: Tongue toward back (/ɑ:/, /ɒ/, /ɔ:/, /ʊ/, /u:/, /ʌ/)

- Central vowels: Tongue in center (/ə/, /ɜ:/)

Rounded vs Unrounded:

- Rounded: Lips rounded (/ɒ/, /ɔ:/, /ʊ/, /u:/)
- Unrounded: Lips spread or neutral (most others)

THE VOWEL CHART:

Position by Tongue Height:

- High/Close: /i:/, /ɪ/, /ʊ/, /u:/
- Mid: /e/, /ə/, /ɜ:/, /ɔ:/, /ʌ/
- Low/Open: /æ/, /ɑ:/, /ɒ/

Position by Tongue Placement:

- Front: /i:/, /ɪ/, /e/, /æ/
- Central: /ə/, /ɜ:/, /ʌ/
- Back: /ɑ:/, /ɒ/, /ɔ:/, /ʊ/, /u:/

PRACTICE WORDS:

Minimal Pairs (words differing by one vowel):

- sit /ɪ/ - seat /i:/
- bit /ɪ/ - beat /i:/
- pet /e/ - pat /æ/
- cot /ɒ/ - caught /ɔ:/
- full /ʊ/ - fool /u:/
- cup /ʌ/ - carp /ɑ:/

COMMON SPELLING PATTERNS:

/i:/: ee (see), ea (tea), e (he), ie (field), ei (receive) /ɪ/: i (sit), y (happy), e (England) /e/: e (bed), ea (head), a (any) /æ/: a (cat) /ɑ:/: a (father), ar (car), ear (heart) /ɒ/: o (hot), a (want) /ɔ:/: or (door), au (daughter), aw (law), ough (thought) /ʊ/: oo (book), u (put), ou (could) /u:/: oo (food), u (true), ue (blue), ou (soup) /ʌ/: u (cup), o (love), ou (country) /ɜ:/: ir (bird), er (her), ur (turn), or (work), ear (learn) /ə/: a (about), e (teacher), o (doctor)

PRONUNCIATION TIPS:

1. Length matters: Hold long vowels longer
2. Tongue position: Practice front, central, back placement
3. Lip shape: Round or spread as needed
4. Stress: Vowels in stressed syllables are clearer
5. Context: Same letter can make different sounds
6. Practice: Use minimal pairs to hear differences

EVALUATION:

1. What is a monophthong/pure vowel? How many pure vowels are in English?
2. List the five long vowel sounds with three examples for each
3. Pronounce and identify the vowel sounds in: (a) seat (b) book (c) bird (d) father (e) pot
4. What is the difference between /ɪ/ and /i:/? Give two examples of each
5. Write five minimal pairs showing different pure vowel sounds

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a table showing all twelve pure vowels with: (a) phonetic symbol (b) example word (c) whether short or long (d) tongue position
2. List ten words each containing: (a) /i:/ sound (b) /ɑ:/ sound (c) /ɔ:/ sound
3. Identify all pure vowel sounds in this sentence: "The good teacher put the book on the seat"
4. Explain the difference between short and long vowels with five examples
5. Practice and write ten minimal pairs (words that differ by only one vowel sound)

WEEK 2: GRAMMAR

TOPIC: PRONOUNS – MEANING, IDENTIFICATION, TYPES

CONTENT:

WHAT IS A PRONOUN?

Definition: A pronoun is a word used in place of a noun to avoid repetition. It refers to a person, place, thing, or idea without naming it again.

Purpose:

- Avoid repeating nouns
- Make sentences flow better
- Make language less awkward
- Create variety

Example:

- Without pronoun: John went to John's school. John met John's friend there.
- With pronoun: John went to his school. He met his friend there.

THE ANTECEDENT:

The antecedent is the noun that the pronoun replaces or refers to.

Example:

- Mary lost her book. (Mary = antecedent; her = pronoun)
- The boys played until they were tired. (boys = antecedent; they = pronoun)

TYPES OF PRONOUNS:

1. PERSONAL PRONOUNS:

Refer to specific persons or things. They change form based on:

- Person (1st, 2nd, 3rd)
- Number (singular, plural)
- Case (subject, object, possessive)

Subject Pronouns (do the action):

- Singular: I, you, he, she, it
- Plural: we, you, they

Examples:

- I am a student
- She reads books
- They play football

Object Pronouns (receive the action):

- Singular: me, you, him, her, it
- Plural: us, you, them

Examples:

- The teacher called me
- I saw him yesterday
- Give it to them

Chart:

Person	Subject	Object
1st Singular	I	me

2nd Singular	you	you
3rd Singular (male)	he	him
3rd Singular (female)	she	her
3rd Singular (thing)	it	it
1st Plural	we	us
2nd Plural	you	you
3rd Plural	they	them

2. POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS:

Show ownership or possession.

Two Forms:

Possessive Adjectives (before nouns):

- my, your, his, her, its, our, your, their

Examples:

- My book is new
- Her mother is a teacher
- Their house is big

Possessive Pronouns (stand alone):

- mine, yours, his, hers, ours, yours, theirs

Examples:

- This book is mine
- The car is theirs
- Is this pen yours?

Note: "Its" (possessive adjective) vs "It's" (it is) - don't confuse!

3. REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS:

Refer back to the subject. Formed by adding -self (singular) or -selves (plural).

List:

- myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself
- ourselves, yourselves, themselves

Uses:

a) When subject and object are the same:

- I hurt myself
- She looked at herself in the mirror
- They enjoyed themselves

b) For emphasis:

- I myself did the work
- The president himself came
- She herself cooked the food

Examples:

- He taught himself to play guitar
- We prepared ourselves for the exam
- The cat cleaned itself

Common Mistake:

- X Me and John went (should be: John and I)

- X Myself will come (should be: I will come)

4. DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS:

Point to specific things. Show whether something is near or far, singular or plural.

List:

- this (singular, near)
- that (singular, far)
- these (plural, near)
- those (plural, far)

Examples:

- This is my book (near me)
- That is your house (far from me)
- These are fresh fruits (near, plural)
- Those are old buildings (far, plural)

Usage:

- As pronouns: This is good (stands alone)
- As adjectives: This book is good (before noun - technically "demonstrative adjective")

5. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS:

Used to ask questions about people or things.

List:

- who (asks about people - subject)

- whom (asks about people - object)
- whose (asks about possession)
- which (asks about choice/selection)
- what (asks about things/information)

Examples:

- Who is that man?
- Whom did you see?
- Whose book is this?
- Which do you prefer?
- What happened?

Who vs Whom:

- Who: Subject of verb (Who called? - who is doing the calling)
- Whom: Object of verb (Whom did you call? - whom receives the action)

6. RELATIVE PRONOUNS:

Connect clauses and relate back to a noun (antecedent) mentioned earlier. Introduce relative clauses.

List:

- who (for people - subject)
- whom (for people - object)
- whose (possession)
- which (for things/animals)
- that (for people, things, animals)

Examples:

- The boy who won the race is my friend (who = the boy)
- The book which I bought is interesting (which = the book)
- The man whose car was stolen reported to police (whose shows possession)
- The dog that barked is big (that = the dog)

Differences:

- Who/Whom: People only
- Which: Things/animals
- That: People, things, animals (more flexible)
- Whose: Shows possession

7. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS:

Refer to non-specific persons or things. Don't identify exactly who or what.

Common Indefinite Pronouns:

Referring to people:

- someone, somebody, anyone, anybody, no one, nobody, everyone, everybody

Referring to things:

- something, anything, nothing, everything

Referring to quantity:

- some, any, none, all, both, few, several, many, much, more, most, each, either, neither, one, other, another

Examples:

- Everyone is present

- Someone knocked on the door
- Nothing is impossible
- Few understand this
- Each has a role to play
- Neither is correct

Agreement:

- Most indefinite pronouns are singular: Everyone is here (not "are")
- Some are plural: few, many, several, both
- Some can be both: all, some, none (depends on context)

8. RECIPROCAL PRONOUNS:

Show mutual action between two or more people.

List:

- each other (two people)
- one another (more than two people)

Examples:

- John and Mary love each other (two people)
- The students help one another (more than two)
- They greeted each other

Note: Some grammar books say this distinction isn't strict anymore, and both can be used interchangeably.

PRONOUN AGREEMENT:

Pronouns must agree with their antecedents in:

1. Number (singular/plural):

- The boy lost his book (singular)
- The boys lost their books (plural)

2. Gender (male/female/neutral):

- John did his homework (male)
- Mary did her homework (female)
- The dog wagged its tail (neutral)

3. Person (1st, 2nd, 3rd):

- I finished my work (1st person)
- You finished your work (2nd person)
- She finished her work (3rd person)

COMMON PRONOUN ERRORS:

1. Wrong case:

- ✗ Me and John went (should be: John and I)
- ✗ Between you and I (should be: Between you and me)

2. Unclear antecedent:

- ✗ John told Peter that he was late (Who was late? Unclear)
- ✓ John told Peter, "I am late" or "You are late"

3. Agreement error:

- X Everyone brought their book (should be: his/her book - technically, though "their" is increasingly accepted)
- X The team won their match (should be: its match - collective noun is singular)

4. Reflexive misuse:

- X Myself and Mary will go (should be: Mary and I)
- X Give it to myself (should be: Give it to me)

EVALUATION:

1. Define pronoun and explain its purpose with three examples
2. List and explain five types of pronouns with two examples each
3. What is the difference between: (a) subject and object pronouns (b) possessive adjectives and possessive pronouns?
4. Fill in with correct pronouns: (a) Mary lost _____ book (b) The boys enjoyed _____ (c) This pen is _____ (mine/me)
5. Correct these errors: (a) Me and John went home (b) The dog wagged it's tail (c) Everyone brought their books

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a chart showing all personal pronouns (subject, object, possessive adjective, possessive pronoun) for all persons and numbers
2. Write ten sentences using different types of pronouns. Identify the type and underline the antecedent
3. Explain five types of pronouns not covered in personal pronouns (demonstrative, interrogative, relative, indefinite, reflexive) with three examples each

4. Identify all pronouns in this passage and classify them: "I saw Mary yesterday. She told me that her brother lost his book. This made him very sad. They searched everywhere but found nothing. Someone must have taken it."
5. Correct the pronoun errors in these sentences: (a) Him and me are friends (b) The teacher gave we the books (c) John hurt himself (d) Between you and I (e) Everyone must do their best

WEEK 2 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING STRATEGIES

CONTENT:

WHAT ARE READING STRATEGIES?

Reading strategies are techniques or methods used to improve understanding, speed, and retention when reading. They help you become an active, efficient reader.

Why Use Reading Strategies?

- Improve comprehension
- Increase reading speed
- Remember information better
- Identify important points
- Make reading purposeful
- Enjoy reading more

TYPES OF READING:

1. SKIMMING:

Definition: Reading quickly to get the general idea or main points without reading every word.

Purpose:

- Get overview of text
- Decide if text is relevant
- Find specific section
- Preview before detailed reading

How to Skim:

- Read title and headings
- Read first and last paragraphs
- Read first sentence of each paragraph
- Look at pictures, graphs, charts
- Notice bold/italicized words
- Don't read every word

When to Skim:

- Previewing a chapter
- Reading newspaper headlines
- Browsing through book in library
- Deciding what to read in detail

Example: Before reading a chapter on "The Water Cycle," skim by reading the title, headings (Evaporation, Condensation, Precipitation), first paragraph, and last paragraph to get the general idea.

2. SCANNING:

Definition: Looking quickly through text to find specific information without reading everything.

Purpose:

- Find particular fact, number, name, date
- Locate specific information quickly
- Answer specific questions

How to Scan:

- Know what you're looking for
- Move eyes quickly over page
- Look for keywords
- Don't read sentences fully
- Stop when you find information

When to Scan:

- Looking up word in dictionary
- Finding phone number in directory
- Locating date in text
- Searching for specific fact

Example: To find "When was Nigeria's independence?", scan the text looking for numbers that might be years (1960), or the word "independence."

3. INTENSIVE READING:

Definition: Reading carefully and slowly to understand every detail.

Purpose:

- Understand completely
- Learn new information thoroughly
- Prepare for exams
- Analyze text deeply

How to Read Intensively:

- Read slowly and carefully
- Read every word

- Look up unknown words
- Take notes
- Reread difficult parts
- Analyze meaning

When to Read Intensively:

- Studying textbooks
- Reading exam questions
- Following instructions
- Learning new concepts

Example: Reading a mathematics problem or science experiment instructions requires intensive reading to understand every step.

4. EXTENSIVE READING:

Definition: Reading longer texts for general understanding and enjoyment without focusing on every detail.

Purpose:

- Develop reading habit
- Improve overall reading ability
- Enjoy literature
- Build vocabulary naturally

How to Read Extensively:

- Read for pleasure
- Don't stop for every unknown word

- Focus on overall meaning
- Read at comfortable pace
- Choose interesting materials

When to Read Extensively:

- Reading novels/stories for fun
- Reading magazines
- Leisure reading
- Building reading stamina

Example: Reading a Harry Potter book for enjoyment, not worrying about every single word, but understanding the story.

BEFORE READING STRATEGIES:

1. PREVIEW:

- Look at title, headings, pictures
- Check length
- Read introduction/conclusion
- Get general sense of content

2. SET PURPOSE:

- Why am I reading this?
- What do I want to learn?
- What questions do I want answered?

3. ACTIVATE PRIOR KNOWLEDGE:

- What do I already know about this topic?

- Have I read something similar?
- What do I expect to learn?

4. PREDICT:

- What will this be about?
- What might happen?
- What questions might be answered?

DURING READING STRATEGIES:

1. MONITOR UNDERSTANDING:

- Am I understanding this?
- Does this make sense?
- Do I need to reread?

2. VISUALIZE:

- Create mental images
- Picture what you're reading
- Imagine scenes and characters

3. MAKE CONNECTIONS:

- Text-to-self: Relate to personal experience
- Text-to-text: Connect to other readings
- Text-to-world: Link to world knowledge

4. ASK QUESTIONS:

- What does this mean?
- Why did this happen?

- What will happen next?

5. ANNOTATE:

- Underline important points
- Write notes in margins
- Mark unfamiliar words
- Highlight key ideas

6. ADJUST READING SPEED:

- Slow down for difficult parts
- Speed up for easier sections
- Reread when confused

AFTER READING STRATEGIES:

1. SUMMARIZE:

- What was this about?
- What were the main points?
- Retell in your own words

2. REVIEW:

- Look back at notes
- Check highlighted sections
- Recall important details

3. REFLECT:

- What did I learn?
- What was important?

- How does this connect to what I knew?

4. EVALUATE:

- Did I achieve my reading purpose?
- Do I need to reread anything?
- What questions remain?

STRATEGIES FOR DIFFICULT TEXT:

1. BREAK IT DOWN:

- Read one paragraph at a time
- Summarize each paragraph
- Build understanding gradually

2. USE CONTEXT CLUES:

- Figure out unknown words from surrounding words
- Look for definitions in text
- Use examples given

3. REREAD:

- Go back and read again
- Read aloud
- Read more slowly

4. SEEK HELP:

- Use dictionary for difficult words
- Ask teacher/friend for clarification
- Look for supplementary materials

VOCABULARY STRATEGIES WHILE READING:

1. CONTEXT CLUES: Look at surrounding words to guess meaning

Types:

- Definition: "A herbivore, an animal that eats only plants..."
- Example: "Reptiles such as snakes and lizards..."
- Contrast: "Unlike mammals, reptiles are cold-blooded"
- Synonym: "The enormous, huge building..."

2. WORD PARTS:

- Prefix: un-, re-, pre-, dis-
- Root: Latin/Greek roots
- Suffix: -tion, -ness, -ly, -ful

3. SKIP AND CONTINUE:

- If word isn't crucial, skip it
- Continue reading
- Meaning may become clear later

4. USE DICTIONARY:

- Look up important unknown words
- Write down definitions
- Use words in sentences

IMPROVING READING SPEED:

Tips:

1. Avoid reading word by word
2. Read in phrases/chunks
3. Don't vocalize (say words aloud or in head)
4. Limit regression (going back)
5. Practice regularly
6. Use finger/pointer to guide eyes
7. Expand peripheral vision
8. Read more often

ACTIVE READING TECHNIQUES:

1. SQ3R METHOD (will be covered in detail next week):

- Survey, Question, Read, Recite, Review

2. NOTE-TAKING:

- Write key points
- Create outlines
- Use symbols and abbreviations

3. QUESTIONING:

- Ask before, during, after reading
- Who, what, when, where, why, how

4. DISCUSSING:

- Talk about what you read
- Share ideas with others
- Join reading groups

CHOOSING APPROPRIATE STRATEGY:

Consider:

- Purpose: Why are you reading?
- Text type: Fiction, textbook, article?
- Time available: Quick or thorough?
- Difficulty level: Easy or challenging?

Match Strategy to Purpose:

- Entertainment → Extensive reading
- Finding fact → Scanning
- Getting overview → Skimming
- Studying for exam → Intensive reading
- Learning new concept → Intensive + SQ3R

EVALUATION:

1. What are reading strategies and why are they important?
2. Explain the difference between skimming and scanning with examples of when to use each
3. Describe three strategies you should use before, during, and after reading
4. What is intensive reading and when should you use it?
5. How can you figure out the meaning of an unknown word while reading? Give three methods

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a comparison table showing skimming, scanning, intensive, and extensive reading with their: (a) definitions (b) purposes (c) when to use (d) how to do it
2. Choose a passage from your textbook and: (a) Preview it (b) Write what you predict it's about (c) List three questions you expect it to answer (d) After reading, check if your predictions were correct
3. Explain five "during reading" strategies with examples of how to use each
4. Describe a situation where you would use: (a) skimming (b) scanning (c) intensive reading (d) extensive reading
5. List ten tips for improving reading speed and explain why each helps

WEEK 2 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ELEMENTS OF COMPOSITION – INTRODUCTION, BODY, CONCLUSION

CONTENT:

STRUCTURE OF A COMPOSITION:

Every good composition has three main parts that work together to create a complete, well-organized piece of writing:

1. Introduction (Beginning)
2. Body (Middle)
3. Conclusion (End)

Why Structure Matters:

- Organizes ideas logically
- Guides reader through your thoughts
- Makes writing clear and easy to follow
- Ensures completeness
- Creates professional appearance

1. THE INTRODUCTION:

Definition: The introduction is the opening paragraph that introduces the topic, captures attention, and prepares the reader for what follows.

Length: Usually one paragraph (4-6 sentences for JSS1)

PURPOSES OF INTRODUCTION:

- 1. CAPTURE ATTENTION (Hook): Get reader interested immediately
- 2. INTRODUCE TOPIC: Tell what the composition is about
- 3. PROVIDE BACKGROUND: Give necessary context
- 4. STATE THESIS/MAIN IDEA: Present your position or main point
- 5. PREVIEW CONTENT: Hint at what's coming in body paragraphs

TYPES OF HOOKS (Attention-Getters):

- 1. QUESTION: Start with an interesting question

- "Have you ever wondered why the sky is blue?"
- "What would you do if you found a million naira?"

- 2. QUOTATION: Begin with a relevant saying or quote

- "As the saying goes, 'Rome wasn't built in a day'"
- "My grandmother always said, 'Education is the key to success'"

- 3. INTERESTING FACT/STATISTIC: Present surprising information

- "Did you know that an ostrich's eye is bigger than its brain?"
- "Over 70% of the Earth is covered by water"

- 4. ANECDOTE (Short Story): Tell a brief, relevant personal experience

- "Last Tuesday, something happened that changed my life forever"
- "I was only seven when I learned the importance of honesty"

- 5. DESCRIPTIVE SCENE: Paint a vivid picture

- "The market was bustling with activity as vendors called out to potential buyers"
- "Rain pounded on the roof as I sat alone in the dark room"

- 6. DRAMATIC STATEMENT: Make bold, attention-grabbing claim

- "That day taught me a lesson I would never forget"
- "Reading saved my life"

COMPONENTS OF A GOOD INTRODUCTION:

- 1. Hook (1-2 sentences): Attention-grabber
- 2. Background/Context (2-3 sentences): Necessary information to understand topic
- 3. Thesis Statement (1 sentence): Main idea or position (especially in argumentative/expository)
- 4. Preview (1 sentence - optional): What will be covered

SAMPLE INTRODUCTIONS:

Narrative Essay - "My First Day at School":

I will never forget the 5th of September, 2023. It was my first day at Government Secondary School, and I was both excited and nervous. As my mother helped me put on my new uniform that morning, I had no idea what adventures awaited me. That day turned out to be one of the most memorable days of my life.

Analysis:

- Hook: Dramatic statement about remembering the date
- Background: First day at school, emotions
- Preview: Hints at adventures
- Sets narrative tone

Descriptive Essay - "My Classroom":

Walking into my classroom is like entering a world of learning and friendship. Our classroom, located on the second floor of the school building, is where we spend most of our day. It is a spacious, well-organized room filled with desks, books, and educational charts. This special place has become my second home.

Analysis:

- Hook: Comparison "like entering a world"
- Background: Location and purpose
- Preview: Mentions what will be described
- Sets descriptive tone

Argumentative Essay - "School Uniforms Should Be Compulsory":

The debate about school uniforms has continued for decades. Some students complain that uniforms limit their freedom of expression, while others appreciate the sense of equality they create. However, the benefits of school uniforms far outweigh any disadvantages. This essay will demonstrate why school uniforms should be compulsory in all schools.

Analysis:

- Hook: Mentions ongoing debate
- Background: Different viewpoints
- Thesis: Clear position stated
- Preview: What essay will prove

Expository Essay - "The Importance of Education":

Education is often called the key to success, and for good reason. Throughout history, educated people have been leaders, innovators, and change-makers in society. Education transforms individuals and nations, opening doors to opportunities and development. This essay explores the many ways education impacts our lives and why it is essential for everyone.

Analysis:

- Hook: Common saying about education
- Background: Historical perspective
- Main idea: Education's transformative power
- Preview: What essay will cover

WHAT TO AVOID IN INTRODUCTIONS:

1. Too Broad/General:

- X "Many things happen in life"
- X "Since the beginning of time..."

2. Dictionary Definitions (overdone):

- X "According to the dictionary, friendship is..."

3. Apologizing:

- X "I don't know much about this but..."
- X "This may not be interesting but..."

4. Announcing Intentions Obviously:

- X "In this essay, I am going to tell you about..."
- X "I will now describe..."

5. Too Long:

- Should be about 10-15% of total composition

6. Revealing Everything:

- Save details for body
- Don't tell the whole story in introduction

2. THE BODY:

Definition: The body is the main part of the composition where you develop your ideas, present arguments, tell your story, or provide detailed description.

Length: Usually 2-4 paragraphs (depending on topic and total length)

PURPOSES OF BODY:

- 1. DEVELOP MAIN IDEAS: Expand on points introduced
- 2. PROVIDE DETAILS: Give specific information, examples, evidence
- 3. TELL THE STORY: Present events in order (narrative)
- 4. DESCRIBE THOROUGHLY: Paint complete picture (descriptive)
- 5. PRESENT ARGUMENTS: Support thesis with reasons (argumentative)
- 6. EXPLAIN CLEARLY: Provide information and explanations (expository)

ORGANIZING BODY PARAGRAPHS:

Each Body Paragraph Should Have:

- 1. TOPIC SENTENCE: States the main idea of the paragraph
 - First sentence usually
 - Introduces what paragraph is about
- 2. SUPPORTING SENTENCES: Provide details, examples, evidence, explanations
 - 4-6 sentences usually
 - Develop the topic sentence
- 3. CONCLUDING SENTENCE: Wraps up paragraph and transitions to next

- Last sentence
- Links to next paragraph

PARAGRAPH UNITY:

All sentences in a paragraph should relate to one main idea (topic sentence).

Good Paragraph (Unity): Topic: My mother is a hardworking woman

- She wakes up at 5 AM every day
- She prepares breakfast for the family
- She goes to work and returns late
- She still cooks dinner when she returns
- On weekends, she does laundry and cleaning

Poor Paragraph (No Unity): Topic: My mother is hardworking

- She wakes up at 5 AM
- I have three siblings
- Our house is big
- I like football
- She cooks dinner

PARAGRAPH COHERENCE:

Ideas should flow smoothly using transitions.

Transitional Words/Phrases:

Time Order (Narrative):

- First, Then, Next, After that, Finally

- Later, Meanwhile, Soon, Eventually
- Before, During, After

Spatial Order (Descriptive):

- To the left/right, In front of, Behind
- Above, Below, Beside, Near
- In the center, At the top/bottom

Logical Order (Argumentative/Expository):

- First/Firstly, Second/Secondly, Third/Thirdly
- Furthermore, Moreover, Additionally, Also
- However, Nevertheless, On the other hand
- Therefore, Thus, Consequently, As a result
- For example, For instance, Such as
- In fact, Indeed, Actually

BODY ORGANIZATION BY TYPE:

NARRATIVE:

- Chronological order (time sequence)
- Beginning → Middle → End
- Build to climax
- Include dialogue, action, description

DESCRIPTIVE:

- Spatial order (physical arrangement)
- General to specific OR specific to general

- Most to least important features
- Sensory details throughout

ARGUMENTATIVE:

- Order of importance (usually weakest to strongest)
- One argument per paragraph
- Evidence and examples for each
- Counter-argument paragraph

EXPOSITORY:

- Logical order
- Categories, causes/effects, comparisons
- Clear explanations
- Examples and facts

SAMPLE BODY PARAGRAPHS:

Narrative (from "My First Day at School"):

First Paragraph: The morning began with a mixture of excitement and nervousness. I woke up earlier than usual and carefully put on my new uniform. My mother had prepared my favorite breakfast, jollof rice, to give me energy for the day. As we walked to school, she kept giving me advice: "Be respectful to your teachers, make new friends, and study hard." I nodded, but my mind was racing with questions about what school would be like.

Analysis:

- Topic: Morning preparations
- Chronological order
- Details about actions, thoughts, emotions

- Dialogue included
- Transitions: "As we walked," "but"

Second Paragraph: When we arrived at the school gate, I was amazed by what I saw. Hundreds of students in the same uniform rushed around the compound. Some were chatting with friends, while others stood alone looking as nervous as I felt. The school building was much larger than I had imagined, with three stories and many classrooms. My mother walked me to my assigned class, JSS 1A, where I met my class teacher, Mrs. Adeleke. She welcomed me warmly and showed me to my seat.

Analysis:

- Topic: Arrival at school
- Descriptive details
- Comparison ("as nervous as I felt")
- Action and dialogue
- Transitions: "When," "while," "where"

Descriptive (from "My Classroom"):

First Paragraph: As you enter through the blue wooden door, the first thing you notice is the neat arrangement of desks. Twenty brown desks are arranged in four rows of five, each desk designed for two students. In front of the desks stands the teacher's large table, made of dark wood with drawers on both sides. Behind the teacher's table, a green chalkboard spans almost the entire wall, usually covered with notes and diagrams. On the left side of the board, our class timetable is permanently displayed.

Analysis:

- Topic: Physical layout

- Spatial organization (as you enter → front → behind → left)
- Specific details (numbers, colors, materials)
- Descriptive vocabulary
- Transitions: "As you enter," "In front of," "Behind," "On the left"

Argumentative (from "School Uniforms Should Be Compulsory"):

First Argument: First and foremost, school uniforms promote equality among students. When everyone wears the same clothes, economic differences become less visible. Rich students cannot show off expensive designer clothes, and poor students don't feel embarrassed about wearing cheaper clothing. This creates a more inclusive environment where students are judged by their character and achievements rather than their parents' wealth. For example, in schools with uniforms, bullying related to clothing choices decreases significantly.

Analysis:

- Topic: Uniforms promote equality
- Clear argument with explanation
- Cause and effect reasoning
- Example provided
- Transitions: "First and foremost," "When," "For example"

Expository (from "The Importance of Education"):

First Paragraph: Education provides individuals with knowledge and skills necessary for success in life. Through education, people learn to read, write, and perform mathematical calculations—basic skills required in almost every job. Furthermore, education teaches critical thinking, enabling individuals to solve problems creatively and make informed decisions. For instance, an educated person can analyze information, distinguish between fact and opinion, and draw logical conclusions. These skills are invaluable in both personal and professional life.

Analysis:

- Topic: Education provides knowledge and skills
- Clear explanations
- Examples provided
- Cause and effect
- Transitions: "Through," "Furthermore," "For instance"

3. THE CONCLUSION:

Definition: The conclusion is the final paragraph that wraps up the composition, summarizes main points, and leaves a lasting impression.

Length: Usually one paragraph (4-5 sentences for JSS1)

PURPOSES OF CONCLUSION:

- 1. SIGNAL THE END: Let reader know composition is finishing
- 2. SUMMARIZE MAIN POINTS: Briefly recap what was discussed
- 3. RESTATE THESIS: Return to main idea (in different words)
- 4. PROVIDE CLOSURE: Give sense of completeness
- 5. LEAVE LASTING IMPRESSION: Make final statement reader will remember
- 6. REFLECTION (for narrative): Share what was learned or how you felt

COMPONENTS OF A GOOD CONCLUSION:

1. Transition Signal (1 phrase/sentence): Indicates conclusion is beginning

- In conclusion, To conclude, Finally, In summary
- As we have seen, To sum up

2. Summary/Restatement (2-3 sentences): Recap main points or restate thesis

3. Final Thought (1-2 sentences): Memorable closing statement:

- Call to action
- Prediction
- Recommendation
- Thought-provoking statement
- Personal reflection

TYPES OF CONCLUSIONS:

1. SUMMARY CONCLUSION: Restates main points briefly

2. RECOMMENDATION CONCLUSION: Suggests what should be done

3. CALL-TO-ACTION CONCLUSION: Urges reader to do something

4. PREDICTION CONCLUSION: Forecasts future implications

5. REFLECTIVE CONCLUSION: Shares personal insights or feelings (narrative)

6. THOUGHT-PROVOKING CONCLUSION: Leaves reader with something to ponder

SAMPLE CONCLUSIONS:

Narrative (from "My First Day at School"):

That first day at school was truly unforgettable. Although I started the day feeling nervous and uncertain, I ended it with new friends and exciting experiences. I learned that trying new things, even when scary, often leads to wonderful opportunities. Looking back now, I realize that first day was just the beginning of an amazing journey. I'm grateful my mother encouraged me to be brave and embrace the adventure.

Type: Reflective Elements:

- Refers back to beginning
- Shares what was learned
- Personal feeling/reflection
- Sense of closure

Descriptive (from "My Classroom"):

In conclusion, my classroom is more than just a room with desks and a chalkboard. It is a special place where we learn, grow, and build friendships. Every element, from the educational charts on the walls to the library corner filled with books, contributes to creating an environment that inspires learning. I am proud to call this well-organized, welcoming space my classroom. It truly is my second home.

Type: Summary + Reflection Elements:

- Restates main idea ("more than just a room")
- Summarizes key features
- Personal connection
- Returns to introduction ("second home")

Argumentative (from "School Uniforms Should Be Compulsory"):

In conclusion, school uniforms should be mandatory in all educational institutions. As demonstrated, uniforms promote equality, enhance discipline, and create a sense of school identity. While some may argue that uniforms limit self-expression, these minor concerns are far outweighed by the significant benefits uniforms provide. Therefore, schools, parents, and policymakers should work together to implement uniform policies. Our students deserve an environment focused on learning, not fashion competitions.

Type: Summary + Call to Action Elements:

- Clear conclusion signal
- Restatement of position
- Summary of arguments
- Addresses counter-argument briefly
- Call to action
- Strong final statement

Expository (from "The Importance of Education"):

To summarize, education plays a vital role in individual and societal development. It provides knowledge and skills, opens economic opportunities, promotes social mobility, and fosters informed citizenship. Without education, progress would be impossible and potential would remain unrealized. Every child deserves access to quality education. As Nelson Mandela said, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." Let us recognize and support education as the foundation of a better future.

Type: Summary + Quotation + Call to Action Elements:

- Conclusion signal
- Summary of main points
- Broader implications
- Relevant quotation
- Call to action
- Forward-looking statement

WHAT TO AVOID IN CONCLUSIONS:

1. New Information:

- ✗ Don't introduce new ideas or arguments
- ✗ Don't bring up points not discussed in body

2. Apologizing:

- ✗ "I'm sorry this wasn't very good"
- ✗ "I know I didn't explain this well"

3. Contradicting Your Position:

- ✗ Don't suddenly change your stance
- ✗ Don't undermine your arguments

4. Being Too Long:

- Should be brief (about 10% of composition)
- Don't repeat everything in detail

5. Using "The End":

- ✗ Don't write "The End" at the end
- Composition should naturally conclude

6. Exact Repetition:

- ✗ Don't copy sentences from introduction or body word-for-word
- Rephrase and summarize

7. Phrases Like "In this essay I talked about...":

- Too obvious and unnecessary

- Better: naturally summarize

CONNECTING THE THREE PARTS:

Flow and Coherence:

Introduction → Body:

- Thesis/main idea introduced in introduction should be developed in body
- Preview in introduction prepares for body content

Body → Conclusion:

- Main points in body are summarized in conclusion
- Arguments/descriptions/events lead to conclusion

Introduction ↔ Conclusion:

- Echo each other
- Conclusion often returns to idea/image from introduction
- Creates circular structure

Example - Narrative:

- Introduction: "I will never forget that day"
- Conclusion: "That day taught me a lesson I'll never forget"

COMPLETE COMPOSITION EXAMPLE:

Topic: My Best Friend

INTRODUCTION: Everyone needs a friend they can trust and rely on. I am lucky to have Sarah as my best friend. We met three years ago when she moved into the house next to mine, and we have been inseparable ever since. Sarah is not just a friend; she is like a sister to me.

BODY PARAGRAPH 1: Sarah is one of the most kind-hearted people I know. She always thinks about others before herself. Whenever I am sad or worried, she listens patiently and offers comforting words. She also helps other students in class who struggle with their schoolwork. Last week, she spent her lunch break tutoring a classmate in Mathematics instead of playing with us. Her kindness makes everyone around her feel valued and cared for.

BODY PARAGRAPH 2: Moreover, Sarah is very reliable and trustworthy. I can share my secrets with her knowing she will never tell anyone. She keeps her promises, no matter how small. Once, she promised to help me with my Science project, and even when she fell ill, she still found time to assist me. Her loyalty and dependability have strengthened our friendship over the years. I know I can always count on her.

BODY PARAGRAPH 3: In addition to being kind and reliable, Sarah has a great sense of humor. She knows how to make me laugh even when I'm having a bad day. Her funny jokes and stories brighten any situation. During our break time at school, she entertains our group with hilarious imitations of our favorite cartoon characters. Life is never boring when Sarah is around.

CONCLUSION: In conclusion, Sarah is truly my best friend. Her kindness, reliability, and sense of humor make her a wonderful person to have in my life. I am grateful for our friendship and the joy she brings to every day. True friends like Sarah are rare and precious. I hope our friendship lasts forever.

ANALYSIS OF EXAMPLE:

Structure:

- ✓ Clear introduction with hook and thesis
- ✓ Three body paragraphs, each with one main point
- ✓ Logical organization
- ✓ Proper conclusion

Unity:

- ✓ Each paragraph focuses on one trait
- ✓ All sentences relate to topic sentence
- ✓ Everything connects to main idea (Sarah as best friend)

Coherence:

- ✓ Transitions used (Moreover, In addition, Once, During)
- ✓ Ideas flow smoothly
- ✓ Logical progression

Content:

- ✓ Specific examples provided
- ✓ Details support main points
- ✓ Personal connection clear

EVALUATION:

1. What are the three main parts of a composition? Explain the purpose of each
2. List and explain five types of hooks that can be used in an introduction
3. What should a good body paragraph contain? Explain each component
4. Write an introduction paragraph (5 sentences) for a narrative essay titled "An Unforgettable Experience"
5. What should you avoid in a conclusion? Give three things and explain why

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete short composition (150-200 words) on "My School" with clearly labeled introduction, body (2 paragraphs), and conclusion
2. Explain five characteristics of a good introduction and five characteristics of a good conclusion
3. Create an outline for a composition on "The Happiest Day of My Life" showing: (a) Introduction (hook, background, thesis) (b) Three body paragraphs (topic sentences) (c) Conclusion (summary and final thought)
4. Identify and label the introduction, body paragraphs, and conclusion in any composition from your textbook. Explain what makes each part effective
5. Write three different types of conclusions (summary, reflective, and call-to-action) for the topic "The Importance of Reading"

WEEK 2 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: FEATURES OF LITERATURE; TYPES – ORAL, HISTORICAL, DANCE DRAMA, MIMING

PART A: FEATURES OF LITERATURE

Key Features:

1. IMAGINATIVE/CREATIVE

- Product of writer's imagination
- Creates new worlds and characters

2. USE OF LANGUAGE

- Beautiful, artistic expression
- Figurative language (metaphors, similes)

3. EMOTIONAL APPEAL

- Evokes feelings and empathy
- Engages emotions

4. FORM AND STRUCTURE

- Organized presentation
- Attention to format (prose, poetry, drama)

5. PERMANENCE

- Lasting value
- Transcends time

6. UNIVERSALITY

- Appeals across cultures

- Timeless themes

7. MULTIPLE INTERPRETATIONS

- Layers of meaning
- Encourages analysis

8. AESTHETIC QUALITY

- Beautiful and pleasing
- Artistic craftsmanship

PART B: TYPES OF LITERATURE

1. ORAL LITERATURE

Definition: Literature composed, performed, and transmitted by word of mouth, passed from generation to generation through speech and memory.

Characteristics:

- Verbal Transmission: Spoken, not written; relies on memory
- Performance-Based: Uses voice, gesture, facial expressions
- Communal: Belongs to community, performed at gatherings
- Flexible/Variable: Changes with each performance
- Functional: Serves education, entertainment, ritual purposes
- Traditional: Part of cultural heritage

Types of Oral Literature:

1. Folktales - Traditional stories teaching lessons
2. Myths - Sacred stories explaining origins
3. Legends - Stories about heroes and historical figures

4. Proverbs - Short wise sayings (e.g., "When two elephants fight, the grass suffers")
5. Riddles - Puzzles for entertainment and education
6. Praise Poetry - Poems praising individuals or deities
7. Songs - Work songs, lullabies, war songs
8. Oral Epics - Long narrative poems about heroic deeds

Performance Features:

- Call and response
- Repetition and formulaic language
- Rhythmic patterns
- Music and drumming
- Audience participation

Functions:

- Entertainment and education
- Historical preservation
- Moral instruction
- Cultural identity
- Social control

Performers: Griots, elders, parents, community members

2. HISTORICAL LITERATURE

Definition: Literary works based on or set in historical periods, dealing with real historical events and figures, often with fictional elements.

Characteristics:

- Based on historical events and real figures
- Accurate historical setting and period details
- Educational value
- Blend of fact and fiction

Types:

1. Historical Fiction - Novels set in the past
2. Historical Drama/Plays - Plays about historical events
3. Historical Poetry - Poems commemorating battles and heroes
4. Biographies - Life stories of real people
5. Chronicles - Written accounts blending history and storytelling

Purposes:

- Preserve and educate about history
- Inspire and build identity
- Learn from the past
- Commemorate heroes

Examples: Stories of Queen Amina, Shaka Zulu, resistance against colonialism

3. DANCE DRAMA

Definition: Dramatic performance combining storytelling with dance movements, told primarily through dance and gesture with minimal or no spoken dialogue.

Characteristics:

- Movement-Based: Dance is primary expression
- Musical Accompaniment: Drums and instruments

- Symbolic Gestures: Movements represent actions and emotions
- Costumes and Props: Elaborate, colorful costumes
- Minimal Dialogue: Story understood through action

Elements:

- Plot/Story conveyed through dance
- Characters portrayed by dancers
- Music and rhythm
- Choreography
- Costumes and makeup

Types of Movements:

- Representational: Mimic real actions (planting, fighting)
- Symbolic: Abstract movements with cultural meaning
- Narrative: Sequence tells complete story

Purposes: Entertainment, cultural preservation, storytelling, ritual, education

Examples: Masquerade performances (Egungun, Ekpo), festival dances, harvest celebrations

4. MIMING (MIME/PANTOMIME)

Definition: Dramatic performance where story is told entirely through body movements, gestures, and facial expressions without words.

Characteristics:

- Silent: No spoken words
- Exaggerated Gestures: Clear and visible movements
- Facial Expressions: Express emotions clearly

- Physical Acting: Entire body involved
- Imaginary Objects: Creates illusion of invisible props
- Universal Understanding: No language barrier

Techniques:

1. Illusion Creation: Pretending to touch/hold objects, climbing invisible stairs
2. Isolation: Moving one body part while keeping others still
3. Spatial Awareness: Defining boundaries and environment
4. Weight and Resistance: Showing heaviness or effort
5. Character Through Movement: Posture reveals traits

Common Scenarios:

- Trapped in a box
- Walking against wind
- Climbing rope/ladder
- Carrying heavy object
- Opening/closing doors

Purposes: Entertainment, universal communication, artistic expression, education

Elements of Successful Mime: Clarity, precision, imagination, expression, practice

COMPARISON TABLE

Type	Main Feature	Primary Medium	Audience Role
Oral Literature	Spoken word	Voice, memory	Often participatory
Historical Literature	Based on history	Written/oral text	Passive

Dance Drama	Movement & music	Dance, gesture	Observers
Miming	Silent gesture	Body movement	Observers

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN TYPES

Common Elements:

- All are performance arts
- Storytelling element
- Cultural preservation
- Entertainment and education

MODERN APPLICATIONS

- Oral Literature: Radio storytelling, spoken word poetry, traditional festivals
- Historical Literature: Historical novels, biographies, films
- Dance Drama: Cultural festivals, theatre productions, school performances
- Miming: Street performances, theatre scenes, drama education

IMPORTANCE

Cultural Value: Preserve heritage, maintain traditions, build identity

Educational Value: Teach history and values, develop creativity, improve communication

Social Value: Bring communities together, create shared experiences

EVALUATION

1. Define oral literature and list four characteristics

2. Explain three types of oral literature with examples
3. What is historical literature? Give three African examples
4. Define dance drama and miming. State three differences
5. Why are these forms important for cultural preservation?

ASSIGNMENT

1. Create a comparison table for all four types showing: (a) definitions (b) main features (c) purposes (d) examples
2. Collect three proverbs from your culture. Explain their meanings and lessons
3. Research one Nigerian historical figure (200 words). Explain their importance
4. Describe how to tell "The Tortoise and the Birds" using: (a) oral storytelling (b) dance drama (c) miming
5. List five functions of oral literature in traditional African society with examples

WEEK 3 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /i:/

CONTENT:

THE LONG VOWEL SOUND /i:/

Characteristics:

- Long, prolonged sound
- Tongue very high at front of mouth
- Lips spread wide (tense smile position)
- Tense, not relaxed
- Higher and longer than /i/

Mouth Position:

- Tongue tip behind lower front teeth
- Front of tongue raised very high
- Lips stretched horizontally
- Jaw barely open
- Teeth almost together

SPELLING PATTERNS FOR /i:/ SOUND:

1. "ee" spelling (most common):

- see, bee, tree, free, three
- feel, feet, meet, sweet, street
- need, feed, seed, speed

- sleep, keep, deep, sheep
- green, between, screen

2. "ea" spelling:

- sea, tea, pea, flea
- eat, meat, heat, seat, beat, treat
- read (present tense), lead (verb), teach, reach
- clean, mean, bean, ream
- please, ease, tease

3. "e" at end of syllable:

- he, she, we, me, be
- even, evening, female
- decent, recent, secret
- complete, delete

4. "ie/ei" spelling:

- field, yield, shield, wield
- piece, niece, brief, grief, belief, relief, chief, thief
- receive, deceive, perceive, ceiling, conceit

5. "i" spelling (rare):

- machine, police, prestige
- ski, kiwi, regime

6. "ey/y" spelling (word endings):

- key, donkey, monkey, hockey
- happy, lucky, funny, sunny, baby, lady (unstressed)

7. "eo" spelling:

- people

8. Other rare spellings:

- quay /ki:/ (dock)
- amoeba /ə'mi:bə/

COMMON WORDS WITH /i:/ SOUND:

Short words:

- be, he, me, we, she, see, tea, sea, key, bee, tree, free

Medium words:

- feet, meet, sweet, green, clean, dream, speak, teach, reach, beach

Long words:

- believe, achieve, complete, between, fifteen, thirteen -Receive, deceive, ceiling, people, machine

PRACTICE SENTENCES:

- We need to meet at three
- She can see the green tree
- Please keep the seat clean
- He dreams of the sea and beach
- The people believe in freedom
- Fifteen sheep sleep under the tree

MINIMAL PAIRS: /i:/ vs /ɪ/

These pairs show the difference between the long /i:/ and short /ɪ/ sounds:

- seat /i:/ - sit /ɪ/
- feet /i:/ - fit /ɪ/
- beat /i:/ - bit /ɪ/
- sheep /i:/ - ship /ɪ/
- seen /i:/ - sin /ɪ/
- deal /i:/ - dill /ɪ/
- feel /i:/ - fill /ɪ/
- keen /i:/ - kin /ɪ/
- wheel /i:/ - will /ɪ/
- week /i:/ - wick /ɪ/

Key Difference:

- /i:/ is LONG - hold the sound: "seeeee"
- /ɪ/ is SHORT - quick sound: "sit"

Test yourself:

- "I need to sit in my seat" (both sounds in one sentence)
- "She will turn the wheel" (both sounds)

PRONUNCIATION TIPS:

To Produce /i:/ Correctly:

1. Smile wide:
 - Stretch lips horizontally

- Feel corners of mouth pull back
- Like showing your teeth

2. Raise tongue high:

- Front of tongue up
- Almost touching roof of mouth
- Tip stays behind lower teeth

3. Make it long:

- Hold the sound longer
- Don't cut it short
- Steady, continuous sound

4. Keep tense:

- Muscles tight, not relaxed
- More effort than /ɪ/
- Definite, clear sound

5. Close jaw slightly:

- Teeth nearly together
- Just small opening
- Don't open wide

COMMON MISTAKES:

1. Confusion with /ɪ/:

- ✗ Saying "sit" when you mean "seat"

- X Short sound instead of long
- Practice: Exaggerate the length difference

2. Incorrect spelling pronunciation:

- X "great" is /eɪ/ NOT /i:/ (irregular)
- X "head" is /e/ NOT /i:/ (irregular)
- X "break" is /eɪ/ NOT /i:/ (irregular)

3. Adding extra sounds:

- X "feel-uh" (adding schwa at end)
- ✓ "feel" (clean ending)

4. Not tensing enough:

- X Relaxed, short sound
- ✓ Tense, long, deliberate sound

IRREGULAR PRONUNCIATIONS TO WATCH:

Not all "ea" spellings are /i:/:

- bread, head, dead, ready = /e/ sound
- break, great, steak = /eɪ/ sound
- heart, hearth = /ɑ:/ sound

Context helps determine pronunciation:

- read (present): /i:/ - "I read books"
- read (past): /e/ - "I read that book yesterday"
- lead (verb): /i:/ - "Lead the way"

- lead (metal): /e/ - "Lead is heavy"

PRACTICE EXERCISES:

1. Reading Practice: Read these sentences aloud, emphasizing /i:/ sounds:

- The teacher needs to meet three people
- We believe she can achieve her dream
- Please keep the green leaves clean
- He feels weak after fifteen weeks

2. Listening Practice: Which word do you hear: /i:/ or /ɪ/?

- ship or sheep?
- fit or feet?
- fill or feel?
- bin or bean?

3. Speaking Practice: Say these word groups, maintaining long /i:/:

- sea, see, seat, seek
- tea, team, teach, tease
- fee, feed, feel, feet

4. Sentence Creation: Make sentences using these /i:/ words:

- need, sleep, dream
- people, believe, achieve
- clean, green, between

WORD STRESS AND /i:/ SOUND:

In stressed syllables (clear /i:/):

- beLIEVE, comPLETE, aGREE
- reCEIVE, deCEIVE, rePEAT

In unstressed syllables:

- Sometimes shortened or less clear
- "happy" - the 'y' may sound closer to /ɪ/ in casual speech
- But maintain /i:/ in careful pronunciation

HOMOPHONES WITH /i:/ SOUND:

Words that sound the same but spelled differently:

- meet/meat - "Let's meet at the meat shop"
- see/sea - "Can you see the sea?"
- be/bee - "Be careful of that bee"
- peace/piece - "We need peace, not just a piece of it"
- week/weak - "After a week, I still feel weak"
- feat/feet - "Running on your feet is a great feat"

LINKING /i:/ SOUNDS:

When /i:/ sound comes at the end of a word followed by a vowel:

- Add slight /j/ sound (like 'y')
- "see it" sounds like "see-yit"
- "three apples" sounds like "three-yapples"
- "she is" sounds like "she-yis"

Practice:

- We are → "we-yare"
- See everyone → "see-yeveryone"
- The apple → "the-yapple"

CONNECTED SPEECH:

In natural, fast speech:

- /i:/ may be slightly shortened (but still longer than /ɪ/)
- Still distinguishable from short /ɪ/
- Maintain difference even when speaking quickly

Example: "I need to see three people between three and four"

- Even said quickly, all /i:/ sounds remain longer than /ɪ/

TONGUE TWISTERS FOR PRACTICE:

1. Three free trees for me to see
2. She sees cheese in the breeze by the sea
3. Peter Piper peacefully sleeps beneath the peach tree
4. Fifteen people believe in the teacher's scheme
5. Keep the green tea clean and sweet between meals

PHYSICAL PRACTICE:

Exaggeration Exercise:

1. Start with extreme smile - lips pulled back very far

2. Make /i:/ sound as long as possible (5 seconds)
3. Feel tongue position - very high and front
4. Gradually reduce exaggeration to natural
5. Maintain correct position

Comparison Exercise:

1. Say "sit" (short /ɪ/)
2. Then "seat" (long /i:/)
3. Back to "sit"
4. Notice the difference
5. Repeat 10 times

Mirror Exercise:

- Watch your mouth in mirror
- See lips stretch for /i:/
- Compare with /ɪ/ (less stretched)
- Check consistent position

EVALUATION:

1. Describe how to produce the /i:/ sound (tongue position, lip shape, length)
2. Write ten words with "ee" spelling that have /i:/ sound
3. Write ten words with "ea" spelling that have /i:/ sound
4. What is the difference between /i:/ and /ɪ/? Give five minimal pairs
5. Identify which words have /i:/ sound: (a) bread (b) feet (c) head (d) see (e) great (f) meat (g) sit (h) complete

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List twenty words containing /i:/ sound, showing different spelling patterns (ee, ea, e, ie, ei, i)
2. Write ten sentences using words with /i:/ sound, underlining the /i:/ words
3. Create five minimal pairs showing /i:/ vs /ɪ/ contrast and use each pair in a sentence
4. Practice reading aloud and record: "Three clean sheep sleep between fifteen green trees. The teacher believes people need to achieve their dreams. Please keep the sweet tea by the beach."
5. Explain three common mistakes people make when pronouncing /i:/ sound and how to correct them

WEEK 3 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: VERBS – DEFINITION, IDENTIFICATION; TYPES

WHAT IS A VERB?

Definition: A verb is a word that expresses an action, occurrence, or state of being.

Simple Definition: An action or being word.

Functions:

1. Show action: run, jump, eat, write
2. Show occurrence: happen, become, occur
3. Show state/condition: be, seem, appear, feel

Identifying Verbs - Ask:

- What is happening?
- What is being done?
- Can you put "to" before it? (to run, to eat)
- Does it change with time? (walk/walked)
- Can you add -ing? (walking, eating)

TYPES OF VERBS

CLASSIFICATION 1: BY OBJECT REQUIREMENT

1. TRANSITIVE VERBS

Definition: Require a direct object to complete meaning. Action passes to an object.

Structure: Subject + Transitive Verb + Object

How to Identify: Ask "What?" or "Whom?" after verb

Examples:

- She bought a book (Bought what? A book)
- I love my mother (Love whom? My mother)
- He kicks the ball (Kicks what? The ball)

Common Transitive Verbs: eat, drink, buy, sell, make, take, love, hate, like, want, need, write, read, speak, teach, kick, throw, catch, bring, send, give, show, tell

2. INTRANSITIVE VERBS

Definition: Do NOT require direct object. Action is complete by itself.

Structure: Subject + Intransitive Verb (+ optional adverb/phrase)

How to Identify: Ask "What?" or "Whom?" - no answer needed

Examples:

- The baby cried (Cried what? No answer needed)
- Birds fly (Complete without object)
- She laughed loudly ("loudly" describes how, not object)

Common Intransitive Verbs: sleep, wake, sit, stand, lie, rise, come, go, arrive, depart, return, cry, laugh, smile, die, live, exist, grow

Note: Some verbs can be both depending on context

- "She runs every morning" (intransitive)
- "She runs a business" (transitive - business = object)

CLASSIFICATION 2: BY FORM CHANGE

3. REGULAR VERBS

Definition: Form past tense and past participle by adding -ed, -d, or -t

Pattern: Base form + -ed = Past form

Rules:

- Most verbs - add -ed: walk → walked, play → played
- Verbs ending in -e - add -d: love → loved, dance → danced
- Consonant + y - change y to i, add -ed: study → studied, cry → cried
- CVC pattern - double final consonant, add -ed: stop → stopped, plan → planned

Common Regular Verbs: ask → asked, call → called, clean → cleaned, cook → cooked, finish → finished, help → helped, listen → listened, open → opened, visit → visited, wash → washed

4. IRREGULAR VERBS

Definition: Do NOT add -ed for past forms. Must be memorized.

Categories:

a) All three forms same:

- cut → cut → cut
- put → put → put
- hit → hit → hit
- hurt → hurt → hurt

b) Past and past participle same:

- bring → brought → brought
- buy → bought → bought
- teach → taught → taught
- sit → sat → sat

- make → made → made
- say → said → said

c) All three forms different:

- go → went → gone
- see → saw → seen
- eat → ate → eaten
- write → wrote → written
- take → took → taken
- give → gave → given

d) Vowel pattern change:

- sing → sang → sung
- drink → drank → drunk
- swim → swam → swum
- begin → began → begun

Common Irregular Verbs:

Base	Past	Past Participle
be	was/were	been
come	came	come
do	did	done
find	found	found
get	got	got/gotten have	had	had

know knew known

speak spoke spoken

tell told told

think thought thought

CLASSIFICATION 3: BY FUNCTION

5. AUXILIARY VERBS (Helping Verbs)

Definition: Help main verb form tenses, moods, or voices

a) Primary Auxiliaries:

- be (am, is, are, was, were, been, being)
- have (has, had, having)
- do (does, did)

Uses:

- be: Continuous tenses (I am eating), Passive voice (It was done)
- have: Perfect tenses (I have eaten)
- do: Questions (Do you like it?), Negatives (I do not know), Emphasis (I do love you)

Examples:

- She is reading (auxiliary: is, main: reading)
- They have finished (auxiliary: have, main: finished)
- I do not understand (auxiliary: do, main: understand)

b) Modal Auxiliaries:

Express possibility, permission, ability, obligation, advice

List:

- can - ability, possibility
- could - past ability, polite request
- may - permission, possibility
- might - slight possibility
- must - obligation, necessity
- shall - future (formal)
- should - advice, expectation
- will - future, willingness
- would - polite request, hypothetical
- ought to - advice

Characteristics:

- Followed by base form of verb (no -s, -ing, -ed)
- No third person -s
- Cannot be used alone

Examples:

- I can swim (ability)
- You should study (advice)
- She will come (future)
- They must obey (obligation)

Common Errors:

- ✗ He cans swim → ✓ He can swim

- ✗ She must goes → ✓ She must go
- ✗ They will going → ✓ They will go

6. LEXICAL VERBS (Main Verbs)

Definition: Carry main meaning in sentence; the "real" action or state verbs

Characteristics:

- Express main action/state
- Can stand alone
- Have full meaning

Examples:

- I run every day (lexical verb only)
- She ate rice (lexical verb only)

Lexical vs. Auxiliary:

- "I have a pen" (have = lexical/main verb)
- "I have eaten" (have = auxiliary, eaten = lexical)

VERB PHRASES

Definition: Main verb + one or more auxiliary verbs

Examples:

- is eating (auxiliary + main verb)
- have been studying (aux + aux + main verb)
- will be going (modal + aux + main verb)

- should have come (modal + aux + main verb)

SUMMARY TABLE

Type	Definition	Examples
Transitive	Needs object	eat, buy, love, kick
Intransitive	No object needed	sleep, arrive, laugh, die
Regular	Add -ed for past	walk → walked
Irregular	Special past forms	go → went, see → saw
Auxiliary	Help main verb	am, is, have, do, can, will
Lexical	Main meaning verb	run, eat, sleep, study

COMMON ERRORS

1. Transitive/Intransitive confusion:

- ✗ "I explained him the answer" → ✓ "I explained the answer to him"
- ✗ "She married with John" → ✓ "She married John"

2. Irregular verb forms:

- ✗ "I goed home" → ✓ "I went home"
- ✗ "She has wrote" → ✓ "She has written"

3. Modal auxiliary mistakes:

- ✗ "He cans swim" → ✓ "He can swim"
- ✗ "They will going" → ✓ "They will go"

4. Missing verb:

- ✗ "She to school" → ✓ "She goes to school"

EVALUATION:

1. Define verb and state 3 functions
2. Explain difference between transitive and intransitive verbs with 3 examples each
3. What's the difference between regular and irregular verbs? Give 5 examples of each
4. List modal auxiliary verbs and what each expresses
5. Identify and classify verbs: (a) She has eaten breakfast (b) Birds fly (c) I bought a pen yesterday (d) They can swim well (e) He sleeps soundly

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write 20 irregular verbs with base form, past form, and past participle
2. Identify and classify all verbs as transitive/intransitive: "Mary woke up early. She ate breakfast quickly and went to school. The teacher arrived late. Students waited patiently. She taught Mathematics. They listened carefully."
3. Create sentences using: (a) run, sing, eat, write, read as transitive AND intransitive (b) have, will, can, should, must with main verbs
4. Fill in correct verb forms: (a) I _____ (go) to school yesterday (b) She _____ (eat) rice now (c) They _____ (be) happy tomorrow (d) He _____ (write) three letters (e) We _____ (study) when you came
5. Explain difference between lexical and auxiliary verbs with 5 examples showing same verb used both ways

WEEK 3 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: SQ3R TECHNIQUE; VOCABULARY – MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY

PART A: THE SQ3R TECHNIQUE

What is SQ3R? A proven reading and study method that improves comprehension and retention.

Full Form:

- S - Survey
- Q - Question
- R - Read
- R - Recite
- R - Review

Why Use SQ3R?

- Improves understanding and retention
- Makes studying more active
- Saves time in exam preparation
- Identifies important information

THE FIVE STEPS

STEP 1: SURVEY (Preview)

Definition: Quickly look over material to get the "big picture"

How to Survey:

- Read title, introduction, and conclusion
- Read all headings and subheadings

- Look at pictures, diagrams, charts
- Read first sentence of each paragraph
- Notice bold/italicized words

Time: 5-10 minutes for a chapter

Example: Surveying "The Water Cycle"

- Title and headings: Evaporation, Condensation, Precipitation, Collection
- Diagram shows cycle process
- Creates mental framework

STEP 2: QUESTION

Definition: Turn headings into questions to give reading purpose

How to Create Questions:

- Use: What, Who, When, Where, Why, How
- Write questions down

Example Questions for "Evaporation":

- What is evaporation?
- What causes water to evaporate?
- Where does evaporation occur?
- Why is evaporation necessary?

Benefits: Creates focus and improves concentration

STEP 3: READ

Definition: Read actively to answer your questions

How to Read Effectively:

- Read one section at a time
- Look for answers to your questions
- Highlight/underline key points
- Take notes on main ideas and definitions
- Make connections to prior knowledge

Example: Reading "Evaporation"

- Answer: Evaporation is liquid water changing to water vapor
- Note: Caused by sun's heat
- Connection: Like puddles drying after rain

STEP 4: RECITE

Definition: After each section, recall main points in your own words without looking at text

How to Recite:

- Close book, look away
- Answer questions aloud or in writing
- Use your own words
- Summarize key ideas
- Check text to verify accuracy
- If you can't recite, reread

Time: 2-3 minutes per section

Example: After reading "Evaporation" "Evaporation is when liquid water becomes water vapor due to sun's heat. It happens from oceans, lakes, rivers. Water vapor rises into atmosphere. First step of water cycle."

Benefits: Strengthens memory, identifies gaps

STEP 5: REVIEW

Definition: Go over entire chapter to consolidate learning

How to Review:

Immediate Review (right after reading):

- Skim entire chapter
- Review notes and highlights
- Answer end-of-chapter questions
- Recite main points

Ongoing Review:

- Review next day, before class, before exam
- Make summary/outline
- Apply knowledge to examples

Time: 10-15 minutes immediately, then brief reviews later

Benefits: Moves information to long-term memory, reduces forgetting

COMPLETE SQ3R EXAMPLE: "Photosynthesis"

1. SURVEY (2 min): Title, headings (What is it, Requirements, Process, Importance), diagram

2. QUESTION (1 min): What is photosynthesis? What do plants need? How does it work?

3. READ (10 min):

- Photosynthesis = plants make food using sunlight
- Needs: sunlight, water, CO₂, chlorophyll
- Process: CO₂ + water + light → glucose + oxygen

4. RECITE (4 min): Close book and summarize each section

5. REVIEW (5 min): Plants are food factories; review key equation and diagram

TIPS FOR EFFECTIVE SQ3R

DO:

- Take time with each step
- Write things down
- Use your own words in recitation
- Review multiple times

DON'T:

- Skip steps
- Rush through
- Just highlight without thinking
- Read passively

PART B: VOCABULARY – MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY

IMMEDIATE FAMILY (NUCLEAR FAMILY)

Parents:

- Father/Dad/Papa
- Mother/Mum/Mama
- Parent (gender-neutral)

Children:

- Son, Daughter, Child
- Offspring (formal)

Siblings:

- Brother, Sister, Sibling
- Twin, Triplets, Quadruplets

Birth Order:

- Elder/Older, Younger
- Eldest/Oldest (first-born)
- Youngest (last-born)
- Middle child

EXTENDED FAMILY

Grandparents:

- Grandfather/Grandpa, Grandmother/Grandma
- Great-grandfather, Great-grandmother

Grandchildren:

- Grandson, Granddaughter, Grandchild

Uncles and Aunts:

- Uncle: Father's/mother's brother or aunt's husband

- Paternal uncle (father's side)
- Maternal uncle (mother's side)
- Aunt/Aunty: Father's/mother's sister or uncle's wife
 - Paternal aunt, Maternal aunt

Nieces and Nephews:

- Nephew: Brother's/sister's son
- Niece: Brother's/sister's daughter

Cousins:

- Cousin: Uncle's/aunt's child
- First cousin, Second cousin

IN-LAWS (RELATIVES BY MARRIAGE)

Parent's In-Laws:

- Father-in-law: Spouse's father
- Mother-in-law: Spouse's mother

Sibling's In-Laws:

- Brother-in-law: Sister's husband, spouse's brother
- Sister-in-law: Brother's wife, spouse's sister

Children's In-Laws:

- Son-in-law: Daughter's husband
- Daughter-in-law: Son's wife

STEP-RELATIONS (BLENDED FAMILIES)

Step-Parents:

- Stepfather: Mother's new husband (not biological father)
- Stepmother: Father's new wife (not biological mother)

Step-Siblings:

- Stepbrother, Stepsister

Half-Siblings:

- Half-brother, Half-sister (share one parent only)

SPECIAL RELATIONSHIPSGuardians:

- Guardian, Foster parent, Foster child
- Adopted child, Adoptive parent

Godparents:

- Godfather, Godmother, Godchild

Others:

- Spouse, Husband, Wife
- Partner (not married)
- Fiancé (male), Fiancée (female)
- Widow (woman), Widower (man)
- Orphan (parents died)

POSSESSIVE FORMS (Showing Relationships)

- My father's brother = my uncle

- My mother's mother = my grandmother
- My sister's daughter = my niece
- My uncle's son = my cousin
- My son's wife = my daughter-in-law

USEFUL EXPRESSIONS

Describing Relationships:

- "He is my elder brother"
- "She is my maternal grandmother"
- "They are my paternal cousins"
- "I am an only child"

Talking About Family:

- "I come from a large family"
- "I have three siblings"
- "I am the youngest of five children"
- "We are a close-knit family"

COMMON QUESTIONS

- How many people are in your family?
- Do you have any brothers or sisters?
- Are you the eldest, youngest, or middle child?
- How many cousins do you have?
- Do your grandparents live with you?

FAMILY VOCABULARY IN CONTEXT

"My family is quite large. My parents are still alive. I have two siblings - an elder brother and a younger sister. My brother is married, so I have a sister-in-law and two nephews. My grandparents on my mother's side live in the village with my maternal uncle and his family. We often visit them during holidays."

EVALUATION

1. Explain SQ3R technique and what each letter stands for
2. Describe the Survey step - what should you look at?
3. Why is the Recite step important? How should you do it?
4. What is the difference between immediate and periodic review?
5. Define: (a) siblings (b) nephew (c) grandmother (d) cousin (e) brother-in-law

ASSIGNMENT

1. Use SQ3R on any textbook chapter. Write:
 - (a) Survey findings
 - (b) 3 questions created
 - (c) Main points from Reading
 - (d) Recite summary
 - (e) Review notes
2. Draw your family tree showing 3 generations (grandparents, parents, your generation)
3. Write sentences describing:

- (a) Your father's sister
 - (b) Your sister's daughter
 - (c) Your mother's father
 - (d) Your uncle's son
 - (e) Your brother's wife
4. Explain differences between:
- (a) Aunt vs. niece
 - (b) Nephew vs. cousin
 - (c) Stepbrother vs. half-brother
 - (d) Father-in-law vs. stepfather
5. Write a paragraph (150 words) describing your family using at least 15 family vocabulary words

WEEK 3 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ELEMENTS OF COMPOSITION – INTRODUCTION, BODY, CONCLUSION

(Reinforcement and Practice)

REVIEW: THE THREE PARTS

1. Introduction: Opens composition, introduces topic, hooks reader
2. Body: Develops ideas with details, examples, explanations
3. Conclusion: Wraps up, summarizes, leaves lasting impression

ANALYZING SAMPLE COMPOSITIONS

SAMPLE 1: NARRATIVE - "A Visit to the Zoo"

INTRODUCTION: "Last Saturday was one of the most exciting days of my life. My school organized an excursion to the National Zoo, and I had been looking forward to it for weeks. As our bus pulled into the zoo's parking lot, I could hardly contain my excitement. Little did I know that this visit would teach me important lessons about wildlife conservation."

Analysis:

- ✓ Hook: "most exciting days"
- ✓ Background and personal feeling
- ✓ Preview of lesson learned
- ✓ Sets scene

BODY PARAGRAPHS (3 paragraphs):

- Paragraph 1: Lions - descriptive details, specific facts, personal actions
- Paragraph 2: Monkeys - entertaining incident, guide's warning, reflection

- Paragraph 3: Reptile house - contrasting emotions, conservation issue

Key Features:

- Each paragraph has clear topic
- Specific details (golden mane, monkey stealing cap)
- Transitions: "When," "Next," "The highlight"
- Personal involvement and reflection
- Chronological order

CONCLUSION: "As we boarded the bus to return to school, I felt both happy and thoughtful. The zoo visit had been educational and fun, exposing me to animals I had only read about in books. More importantly, I learned about the threats facing wildlife and the need to protect these beautiful creatures. I promised myself to support conservation efforts in whatever way I could. That day at the zoo changed my perspective on animals and nature. I will never forget it."

Analysis:

- ✓ Mixed feelings expressed
- ✓ Summarizes main points
- ✓ States main lesson
- ✓ Personal commitment
- ✓ Returns to introduction theme
- ✓ Provides closure

SAMPLE 2: DESCRIPTIVE - "My Favorite Teacher"

INTRODUCTION: "Among all the teachers in my school, Mrs. Okafor stands out as my favorite. She teaches English Language, my best subject, but it's not just her subject that makes her special. Mrs. Okafor has a unique combination of qualities that make her an exceptional teacher. Her teaching style, personality, and genuine care for students have earned her the respect and admiration of everyone in our school."

Analysis:

- ✓ Clear hook
- ✓ Thesis statement
- ✓ Preview: teaching style, personality, care

BODY PARAGRAPHS (3 paragraphs):

- Paragraph 1: Physical appearance - systematic description (height, complexion, clothing, accessories)
- Paragraph 2: Teaching style - interactive methods, real-life examples, patience
- Paragraph 3: Personality - patient, respectful, humorous, fair, caring

Key Features:

- One main idea per paragraph
- Specific examples throughout
- Varied sentence structure
- Smooth transitions

CONCLUSION: "Mrs. Okafor is more than just a teacher; she is a mentor and role model. Her combination of professional excellence and personal warmth makes her truly exceptional. She has taught me not just English Language but also important life lessons about kindness, patience, and dedication. Every student who has been fortunate enough to be in her class leaves with improved knowledge and character. I am grateful to have such an inspiring teacher, and I hope to emulate her qualities in my own life. Mrs. Okafor embodies what every teacher should aspire to be."

Analysis:

- ✓ Elevation of subject
- ✓ Summary of qualities
- ✓ Dual learning emphasized
- ✓ Broader impact noted
- ✓ Personal gratitude and aspiration

IMPROVING WEAK WRITING

WEAK INTRODUCTION:

"I will write about my best friend. Her name is Sarah. She is a good person. I like her."

Problems: Too simple, no hook, announcing intention, lacks interest

IMPROVED:

"Everyone needs a true friend who stands by them through thick and thin. I am fortunate to have found such a friend in Sarah Adamu. Since we met three years ago when she transferred to my school, Sarah has proven to be not just a friend but a sister. Her loyalty, kindness, and sense of humor make her truly special."

Improvements: Universal statement hook, natural introduction, background, preview, sophisticated language

WEAK BODY PARAGRAPH:

"My mother is nice. She cooks for us. She helps me with homework. She is kind. I love my mother. She works hard. She is the best mother."

Problems: Choppy sentences, repetitive, no examples, no transitions, list-like

IMPROVED:

"My mother's kindness touches everyone around her. Every morning, she wakes up at 5 AM to prepare breakfast for our family, ensuring we start the day well-nourished. Despite working full-time as a nurse, she still finds time to help me with my homework, patiently explaining difficult concepts until I understand. Her kindness extends beyond our family; she often visits sick neighbors and brings them food. Last month, when our elderly neighbor fell ill, my mother visited her daily for two weeks, bringing meals and medicine. Such selfless acts demonstrate why I admire her so deeply."

Improvements: Topic sentence, specific examples (5 AM, nurse, neighbor), varied sentences, transitions, unified focus

WEAK CONCLUSION:

"That is all about my school. My school is good. I like my school. Thank you. The end."

Problems: Abrupt, repetitive, inappropriate phrases, no summary, no closure

IMPROVED:

"Government Secondary School has shaped me into the person I am today. Its excellent teachers, supportive environment, and diverse opportunities have provided me with both academic knowledge and life skills. The friendships I've formed and lessons I've learned extend far beyond textbooks. I am proud to be a student of this institution and grateful for everything it has given me. As I continue my education here, I know I am in a place that will prepare me well for the future."

Improvements: Reflects on impact, summarizes key points, expresses gratitude, forward-looking, provides closure

SELF-CHECK QUESTIONS

Introduction:

- ✓ Hook present?
- ✓ Topic clearly introduced?
- ✓ Preview included?

Body:

- ✓ Each paragraph has one main idea?
- ✓ Specific details and examples?
- ✓ Logical flow?
- ✓ Transitions used?

Conclusion:

- ✓ Summarizes main points?
- ✓ Final thought or reflection?
- ✓ Provides closure?
- ✓ No new information?

Overall:

- ✓ Well-organized?
- ✓ Unified (stays on topic)?
- ✓ Coherent (flows smoothly)?
- ✓ Complete?

EVALUATION:

1. Identify introduction, body, and conclusion in "A Visit to the Zoo"

2. List 5 characteristics of an effective body paragraph
3. What improvements were made to the weak introduction about "My Best Friend"?
4. Why are transitions important? Give 5 examples
5. Write an introduction paragraph (5 sentences) for "My Favorite Sport"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete composition (250 words) on "The Happiest Day of My Life" with clearly marked introduction, body (2-3 paragraphs), and conclusion
2. Analyze any composition from your textbook: (a) label parts (b) identify hook type (c) list topic sentences (d) list transitions (e) describe conclusion type
3. Rewrite this weak paragraph: "My room is nice. It has a bed. There is a table. I have a wardrobe. The walls are blue. I like my room."
4. Write 3 different hooks (question, quotation, interesting fact) for "Importance of Education"
5. Write 2 conclusions (reflective and call-to-action) for "Keeping Our Environment Clean"

PRACTICE TOPICS:

1. My Best Friend
2. A Memorable Birthday
3. My School Library
4. The Market Near My House
5. An Act of Kindness I Witnessed

Requirements:

- Clear introduction with hook

- 2-3 body paragraphs with topic sentences
- Specific details and examples
- Appropriate transitions
- Effective conclusion
- Proper paragraphing and grammar

WEEK 3 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: PURPOSE/FUNCTIONS OF LITERATURE; INTRODUCTION TO PROSE

PART A: FUNCTIONS OF LITERATURE

12 Main Functions:

1. Entertainment/Pleasure

- Provides enjoyment and escape
- Creates suspense, excitement, humor
- Relaxation and stress relief

2. Education/Instruction

- Teaches language, history, culture, life skills
- Makes learning enjoyable and memorable
- Simplifies complex ideas

3. Moral/Ethical Instruction

- Teaches values: honesty, kindness, courage, respect
- Shows consequences of actions
- Shapes character and guides behavior
- Example: Folktales teach "Honesty is the best policy"

4. Cultural Preservation

- Records traditions, language, history, beliefs
- Maintains cultural identity
- Connects generations
- Example: Myths, legends, folktales preserve heritage

5. Social Commentary/Criticism

- Reflects and critiques society
- Exposes problems (poverty, corruption, injustice)
- Advocates for change
- Example: Achebe's "Things Fall Apart" critiques colonialism

6. Emotional Expression/Catharsis

- Allows expression and release of emotions
- Helps process feelings safely
- Develops empathy

7. Aesthetic Pleasure

- Provides beauty through language
- Appreciation of artistry and craftsmanship
- Poetry's musical quality, prose's flowing sentences

8. Imagination/Creativity Stimulation

- Fires imagination and encourages original thinking
- Presents alternative worlds and possibilities
- Enhances problem-solving

9. Communication/Language Development

- Improves vocabulary, grammar, expression
- Enhances reading, writing, speaking skills
- Builds language confidence

10. Empathy and Understanding

- Helps understand different perspectives

- Reduces prejudice, increases tolerance
- Builds compassion

11. Identity Formation

- Helps individuals/groups develop sense of self
- Builds national and cultural pride
- Example: Nigerian literature builds Nigerian identity

12. Historical Documentation

- Records events, daily life, attitudes
- Preserves history for future study
- Example: Slave narratives document slavery

Note: Most literary works serve multiple functions simultaneously.

PART B: INTRODUCTION TO PROSE

DEFINITION: Prose is writing organized in sentences and paragraphs, following natural speech patterns (not poetry or drama).

CHARACTERISTICS:

1. Written in sentences and paragraphs
2. Natural, grammatical language
3. No regular meter or rhyme
4. Detailed and expansive
5. Narrative focus

TYPES OF PROSE:

A. FICTION (Imaginative)

1. Novel

- Long narrative (50,000+ words)
- Complex plot, multiple characters
- Examples: "Things Fall Apart," "Purple Hibiscus"

2. Novella

- Medium-length (20,000-50,000 words)
- Focused plot, fewer characters
- Examples: "Animal Farm," "The Old Man and the Sea"

3. Short Story

- Brief narrative (under 20,000 words)
- Single plot, few characters, one theme
- Read in one sitting
- Examples: "The Sacrificial Egg," "Civil Peace"

B. NON-FICTION (Factual)

1. Biography: Life story written by someone else
2. Autobiography: Life story written by oneself (first person)
3. Memoir: Account of specific period/theme from author's life
4. Essay: Short piece on single subject (expository, argumentative, descriptive, etc.)
5. Travel Writing: Accounts of journeys and places
6. Journalism: Reports of current events
7. Historical Writing: Accounts of past events

ELEMENTS OF PROSE (Fiction):

1. PLOT

- Sequence of events
- Structure: Exposition → Rising Action → Climax → Falling Action → Resolution

2. CHARACTER

- Types: Protagonist, antagonist, major, minor
- Complexity: Flat (simple) vs. Round (complex)
- Development: Static (no change) vs. Dynamic (changes)
- Characterization: Direct (author tells) vs. Indirect (through actions, speech, thoughts, effects, looks)

3. SETTING

- Time and place where story occurs
- Includes historical period, location, social environment, atmosphere
- Influences characters and plot

4. THEME

- Central idea or message
- Usually inferred, not stated directly
- Can have multiple themes
- Examples: good vs. evil, tradition vs. change, coming of age

5. POINT OF VIEW

- First Person: "I" (narrator is character)
- Third Person Limited: "He/She" (knows one character's thoughts)
- Third Person Omniscient: "He/She" (knows all characters' thoughts)

- Second Person: "You" (rare)

6. STYLE

- Author's distinctive use of language
- Includes: diction, sentence structure, tone, imagery, figurative language, voice

7. CONFLICT

- Problem driving the story
- Types: Man vs. Man, Man vs. Self, Man vs. Society, Man vs. Nature, Man vs. Fate

PROSE VS. OTHER GENRES:

Aspect	Prose	Poetry	Drama
Form	Sentences, paragraphs	Lines, stanzas	Dialogue, stage directions
Language	Natural, expansive	Compressed, musical	Spoken
Purpose	Tell stories	Express emotions	Show action

HOW TO STUDY YOUR PROSE TEXT:

1. First Reading: Read for understanding and enjoyment
2. Second Reading: Identify plot, characters, setting, theme; take notes
3. Analysis: Character study, plot outline, theme identification, style observation
4. Critical Thinking: Why characters acted; author's message; real-life connections
5. Exam Prep: Character profiles, plot summary, themes with examples, practice answers

EVALUATION:

1. List 5 functions of literature with examples

2. Define prose and state 4 characteristics
3. Explain 3 elements of prose
4. Differentiate: (a) novel/short story (b) biography/autobiography (c) first/third person POV
5. State title, author, and type of your recommended prose text

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Explain 10 functions of literature with examples
2. Create comparison table: prose vs. poetry vs. drama
3. Read first 3 chapters of prose text; write: (a) summary (b) main characters (c) setting (d) one theme (e) opinion
4. Define 7 elements of prose with examples
5. Choose a short story; identify: (a) conflict type (b) POV (c) theme (d) protagonist/antagonist (e) 3 literary devices

WEEK 4 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɪ/

THE SHORT VOWEL SOUND /ɪ/

Characteristics:

- Short, quick sound
- Tongue high at front (lower than /i:/)
- Lips slightly spread
- Relaxed, not tense
- Common in unstressed syllables

Mouth Position:

- Tongue raised toward front
- Lips neutral/slightly spread
- Jaw slightly open
- Tongue tip behind lower teeth

SPELLING PATTERNS FOR /ɪ/ SOUND

1. "i" spelling (most common):

- sit, bit, hit, big, dig, swim
- pin, tin, win, begin
- fish, dish, wish
- milk, silk

- give, live (verb)

2. "y" spelling (unstressed syllables):

- happy, lucky, funny, pretty
- baby, lady, city
- study, carry, worry

3. "e" spelling (rare):

- pretty, English, women

4. "ui" spelling (rare):

- build, building, guilt, biscuit

5. Other rare spellings:

- sieve (ie), women (o)

COMMON WORDS WITH /ɪ/

Short words:

- in, is, if, it, his, this, which, will, with, think

Medium words:

- sister, little, children, minute, begin, finish, visit, ticket

Long words:

- difficult, important, interesting, business, different, minister

MINIMAL PAIRS: /ɪ/ vs /i:/

Key Difference:

- /ɪ/ is SHORT and RELAXED (sit)

- /i:/ is LONG and TENSE (seat)

Practice Pairs:

- sit /ɪ/ - seat /i:/
- fit /ɪ/ - feet /i:/
- bit /ɪ/ - beat /i:/
- ship /ɪ/ - sheep /i:/
- live /ɪ/ - leave /i:/
- fill /ɪ/ - feel /i:/
- chip /ɪ/ - cheap /i:/
- slip /ɪ/ - sleep /i:/
- rich /ɪ/ - reach /i:/

Test Sentences:

- This ship carries sheep
- Can you feel the fill in the bottle?
- He will slip if he doesn't sleep well
- The bit of food helped him beat hunger

PRONUNCIATION TIPS

To Produce /ɪ/ Correctly:

1. Keep it short: Don't prolong the sound; quick and brief
2. Relax: Don't tense your mouth; comfortable position
3. Tongue position: High and front, but not as high as /i:/
4. Lips: Slightly spread or neutral, not stretched wide

5. Common in unstressed syllables: "begin," "happy"

WORD STRESS AND /ɪ/

In Stressed Syllables:

- SIT, BIG, MISS, FISH (clear /ɪ/ sound)

In Unstressed Syllables:

- hapPY, luckY, citY, baBY (even shorter/weaker)

Examples:

- VISit (first syllable stressed)
- DIFficult (first syllable stressed)

COMMON MISTAKES

1. Using /i:/ instead of /ɪ/:

- ✗ Saying "feel" when you mean "fill"
- Fix: Keep /ɪ/ short and relaxed

2. Using /e/ instead of /ɪ/:

- ✗ "pen" when you mean "pin"
- Fix: Raise tongue higher for /ɪ/

3. Making it too long:

- ✗ "siiit" (sounds like "seat")
- ✓ "sit" (quick)

4. Confusing "live" and "leave":

- live /ɪ/ (verb): "I live in Lagos"
- leave /i:/: "I will leave tomorrow"

PRACTICE EXERCISES

1. Minimal Pair Drills:

- sit/seat, bit/beat, hit/heat
- ship/sheep, chip/cheap
- fill/feel, will/wheel

2. Word Lists:

- List 1: big, sit, fit, hit, bit
- List 2: fish, wish, dish, finish, English
- List 3: begin, ticket, minute, visit, limit

3. Sentence Practice:

- It is difficult to finish this in a minute
- The big fish swim in the river
- Women and children visit the city
- Which sister will begin to sing?

4. Tongue Twisters:

- Six sick sheep sit in the ship
- Which wristwatch is a Swiss wristwatch?
- The myth of Miss Smith's mist list

DISTINGUISHING /ɪ/, /i:/, /e/

Three different sounds:

/ɪ/ (sit): Short, tongue high-front, relaxed

/i:/ (seat): Long, tongue very high-front, tense

/e/ (set): Short, tongue mid-front, relaxed

Practice Trio:

- sit /ɪ/ - seat /i:/ - set /e/
- bit /ɪ/ - beat /i:/ - bet /e/
- fill /ɪ/ - feel /i:/ - fell /e/

CONNECTED SPEECH

Weak Forms (common words use /ɪ/):

- it: "Get it done"
- is: "He is coming"
- his: "His book"
- been: "I've been there"

High-Frequency Words:

- in, is, it, if, his, with, this, which, will

SPELLING VS. PRONUNCIATION

Tricky Spellings:

"i" can be /ɪ/ or /aɪ/:

- bit /ɪ/ vs bite /aɪ/
- sit /ɪ/ vs site /aɪ/

"y" at end usually /ɪ/:

- happy, lucky, city

PHYSICAL PRACTICE

Exaggeration Exercise:

1. Say /i:/ (seat) - stretch lips wide, tongue very high
2. Relax to /ɪ/ (sit) - lips relax, tongue slightly lower
3. Feel the difference - /ɪ/ is more comfortable
4. Practice switching: seat-sit-seat-sit

Length Practice:

- Hold /i:/ for 3 seconds: "seeeeeeat"
- Make /ɪ/ as short as possible: "sit" (instant)

EVALUATION

1. Describe how to produce the /ɪ/ sound (tongue position, lip shape, length)
2. Write ten words with "i" spelling that have /ɪ/ sound
3. Write ten words with "y" spelling that have /ɪ/ sound
4. What is the main difference between /ɪ/ and /i:/? Give five minimal pairs
5. Identify which words have /ɪ/ sound: (a) city (b) tree (c) big (d) sleep (e) fish (f) teach (g) sit (h) difficult

ASSIGNMENT

1. List twenty words containing /ɪ/ sound with different spelling patterns (i, y, e, ui)

2. Write ten sentences using minimal pairs of /ɪ/ and /i:/ to show the difference (e.g., "Please sit in your seat")
3. Create five sets of three-way contrasts: /ɪ/ vs /i:/ vs /e/ (like sit/seat/set) and use each in a sentence
4. Practice and record yourself reading: "It is difficult for children to finish this interesting activity. His sister will visit the city to begin business with the minister. Which women will swim in the big river?"
5. Explain three common mistakes people make when pronouncing /ɪ/ and how to correct them

WEEK 4 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: VERBS (CONTINUED) – TYPES AND FUNCTIONS

REVIEW: MAIN VERB TYPES

1. Transitive - needs object
2. Intransitive - no object needed
3. Regular - add -ed for past
4. Irregular - special past forms
5. Auxiliary - help main verb
6. Lexical - main meaning verb

FINITE VERBS

Definition: Verbs that show tense and agree with subject. Can stand alone.

Examples:

- I go, He goes (present)
- I went, She went (past)
- I will go (future)

NON-FINITE VERBS

Definition: Do NOT show tense or agree with subject. Cannot stand alone.

a) INFINITIVES

Forms: to go (to-infinitive), go (bare infinitive)

Uses:

- Subject: To read is important
- Object: I want to go
- Purpose: She came to help
- After modals: I can swim (bare)
- After certain verbs: Let me go (bare)

b) PARTICIPLES

PRESENT PARTICIPLE (-ing):

- Continuous tenses: I am going
- As adjective: running water
- In phrases: Walking home, I saw her

PAST PARTICIPLE (-ed/irregular):

- Perfect tenses: I have finished
- Passive voice: The door was closed
- As adjective: broken window

c) GERUNDS (-ing as noun)

- Subject: Swimming is fun
- Object: I enjoy dancing
- After prepositions: Thank you for helping
- Compound nouns: swimming pool

GERUND VS. PRESENT PARTICIPLE:

- Gerund (noun): Swimming is fun (can replace with "Music is fun")
- Participle (verb): I am swimming (cannot replace with noun)

COMPARISON TABLE

Type	Example	Shows Tense?
Finite	goes, went	Yes
Infinitive	to go, go	No
Present Participle	going	No
Past Participle	gone, written	No
Gerund	swimming	No

VERB FUNCTIONS

1. Action: run, think, speak
2. State: be, seem, remain
3. Possession: have, own
4. Linking: be, feel, look, taste

CAUSATIVE VERBS

Show someone causing something to happen.

Patterns:

- make + object + bare infinitive: She made me go
- have + object + bare infinitive: I'll have him call you
- get + object + to-infinitive: I got him to help
- let + object + bare infinitive: Let me go
- help + object + (to) infinitive: Help me (to) carry this

STATIVE VS. DYNAMIC VERBS

STATIVE (NOT used in continuous):

- Emotions: love, hate, like, want
- Thinking: know, believe, understand
- Senses: see, hear, smell (ability)
- Possession: have, own, belong
- Examples: ✓ I know / ✗ I am knowing

DYNAMIC (CAN use continuous):

- Actions: run, eat, write, study
- Examples: ✓ I am eating / ✓ She is running

BOTH:

- think: I think so (opinion) / I am thinking (process)
- have: I have a car (possess) / I am having dinner (activity)
- see: I see it (ability) / I am seeing him tomorrow (meet)

PHRASAL VERBS

Verb + particle = new meaning

Separable: turn off the light / turn the light off

Inseparable: look after the baby (NOT: look the baby after)

Common Examples:

- give up = quit
- look after = take care of

- put off = postpone
- break down = stop working
- find out = discover

SUBJECT-VERB AGREEMENT

Rules:

- Singular: The boy runs / She eats
- Plural: The boys run / They eat
- Collective nouns: The team is ready
- "And": John and Mary are friends
- "Or/nor": agree with nearest
- Indefinite pronouns:
 - Singular: everyone, somebody, each (Everyone is here)
 - Plural: few, many, both (Few are ready)

COMMON ERRORS

1. ✗ Yesterday I go → ✓ Yesterday I went
2. ✗ He go → ✓ He goes
3. ✗ I can goes → ✓ I can go
4. ✗ I have went → ✓ I have gone
5. ✗ I am knowing → ✓ I know

EVALUATION

1. Explain finite vs. non-finite verbs with examples
2. What are the three types of non-finite verbs? Give examples
3. Explain gerund vs. present participle with examples
4. What are stative verbs? List five
5. Define phrasal verbs. Give five examples

ASSIGNMENT

1. Identify and classify verbs as finite/non-finite: "I want to go home. Mary is studying now. Having finished her work, she decided to rest. She enjoys reading."
2. Write ten sentences using gerunds: 5 as subjects, 5 as objects
3. Write two example sentences for each causative verb: make, have, get, let, help
4. Create sentences using: give up, look after, turn off, run into, get over
5. Correct and explain:
 - I am knowing him
 - She can goes
 - They was playing
 - He have went home
 - Yesterday I am eating rice

WEEK 4 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: IDENTIFYING MAIN AND SUPPORTING IDEAS; VOCABULARY – YOUR SCHOOL SUBJECTS

PART A: IDENTIFYING MAIN AND SUPPORTING IDEAS

WHAT ARE MAIN IDEAS?

Definition: The most important point or central message in a paragraph. What the paragraph is mostly about.

Also Called: Central idea, Topic sentence, Main point

Characteristics:

- Most general statement
- Covers the whole paragraph
- Supported by other sentences
- Answers: "What is this paragraph mainly about?"

WHERE TO FIND MAIN IDEAS

- 1. Beginning (Most Common - 60-70%): Topic sentence first, then supporting details.
- 2. End (20-25%): Supporting details build to main idea at end.
- 3. Middle (5-10%): Introduction, then main idea, then more details.
- 4. Implied (5-10%): Not directly stated; reader must infer from details.

HOW TO IDENTIFY MAIN IDEAS

Steps:

1. Read the entire paragraph
2. Ask: "What is the main point?"
3. Look for clues: repeated words, first or last sentence, general statement
4. Test: Does it cover the whole paragraph?

MAIN IDEA VS. TOPIC

Topic: General subject (1-2 words) Main Idea: Complete thought about topic (full sentence)

Example:

- Topic: Nigeria's diversity
- Main Idea: Nigeria's ethnic diversity is both a strength and a challenge

WHAT ARE SUPPORTING IDEAS?

Definition: Details, facts, examples, and explanations that develop or prove the main idea.

Purpose: Prove, explain, give examples, and clarify the main idea

TYPES OF SUPPORTING IDEAS

1. FACTS AND STATISTICS: Specific, verifiable information
2. EXAMPLES: Specific instances
3. REASONS: Explanations for why
4. DESCRIPTIONS: Detailed characteristics
5. EXPLANATIONS: Clarifications of how or why

MAJOR VS. MINOR SUPPORTING IDEAS

Major: Directly support main idea; essential to understanding

Minor: Support major ideas; provide additional detail; can be removed

Example:

- Main Idea: Exercise is essential for good health
 - Major: It strengthens the heart
 - Minor: Hearts pump blood more efficiently

PRACTICE PASSAGE

"Studying in a quiet environment improves concentration. When there are no distractions, students focus better. Research shows students in quiet areas remember 40% more information. Libraries provide such quiet spaces. Therefore, students should seek quiet places when studying."

Analysis:

- Topic: Studying in quiet environments
- Main Idea: First sentence
- Supporting Ideas: Reason (focus better), Fact (40% more), Example (libraries), Conclusion

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

DO: Read entire paragraph, look for repeated words, check first/last sentences

DON'T: Choose a detail as main idea, pick something too general

PART B: VOCABULARY – YOUR SCHOOL SUBJECTS

CORE SUBJECTS

1. MATHEMATICS: Numbers, quantities, shapes

- Words: add, subtract, equation, fraction, calculate

2. ENGLISH LANGUAGE: English communication

- Words: noun, verb, essay, vocabulary, spelling

3. SCIENCE:

- Biology: Living things - cell, photosynthesis, organism
- Chemistry: Substances - atom, molecule, acid, laboratory
- Physics: Matter and energy - force, gravity, electricity

4. SOCIAL STUDIES:

- History: Past events - civilization, war, artifact
- Geography: Earth features - continent, mountain, climate, map
- Civic Education: Citizenship - rights, democracy, election

5. RELIGIOUS STUDIES: Religions and morals

- Words: scripture, prayer, faith, morality

GENERAL SCHOOL VOCABULARY

Classroom Items: desk, board, textbook, pen, ruler

Actions: study, read, write, calculate, discuss, revise

Assessment: test, examination, homework, grade, pass

Time: period, lesson, term, timetable

People: teacher, student, principal, classmate

EVALUATION

1. Explain the difference between main idea and supporting ideas
2. Where are main ideas usually located? Give three positions
3. List four types of supporting details
4. Name ten school subjects and what is studied in each
5. Identify main idea and three supporting details in this passage: "Mathematics is useful in everyday life. We use it shopping, cooking, telling time, and managing money."

ASSIGNMENT

1. Write five paragraphs (5 sentences each) with clear main ideas. Underline main idea in each
2. Read any passage. Identify: (a) topic (b) main idea (c) three supporting details (d) types of support
3. Create vocabulary list for five favorite subjects: (a) 10 words per subject (b) use 5 words in sentences
4. Explain major vs. minor supporting details with examples
5. Match details to main ideas:
 - Main Ideas: (1) Exercise is beneficial (2) Reading improves knowledge (3) Water is essential
 - Details: (a) Books provide information (b) Bodies need hydration (c) Physical activity strengthens muscles (d) Literature expands vocabulary (e) Water regulates temperature

WEEK 4 – COMPOSITION

TOPIC: DIFFERENCES BETWEEN DESCRIPTIVE AND NARRATIVE ESSAYS

BASIC DEFINITIONS

Descriptive Essay: Writing that paints a picture with words, describing a person, place, object, or event using sensory language.

Narrative Essay: Writing that tells a story or relates events in chronological order, with characters, setting, and plot.

KEY DIFFERENCES

1. PRIMARY PURPOSE

Descriptive:

- Purpose: To describe; show what something is like
- Focus: How something looks, sounds, feels, smells, tastes
- Answer: "What is it like?"
- Example: "My Classroom" - help reader visualize

Narrative:

- Purpose: To tell a story; relate events
- Focus: What happened, when, to whom
- Answer: "What happened?"
- Example: "My First Day in That Classroom" - tell what occurred

2. ORGANIZATION

Descriptive:

- Spatial order: top to bottom, left to right, near to far
- Order of importance: most to least noticeable
- No time sequence needed

Narrative:

- Chronological order: what happened first, next, then, finally
- Clear beginning, middle, end
- Time is essential

3. TENSE

Descriptive:

- Usually present tense
- Examples: "The school stands majestically..." "My father is a tall man..."

Narrative:

- Usually past tense
- Examples: "I woke up early..." "She walked to school..."

4. CONTENT FOCUS

Descriptive:

- Static: Describes things as they are
- Detailed descriptions: colors, sizes, textures, sounds, smells
- Sensory language: appeals to five senses
- Abundant adjectives and adverbs

- Figurative language: metaphors, similes

Key Elements:

- Physical characteristics
- Sensory details
- Spatial relationships
- Atmosphere created

Example: "The ancient tree towers over the schoolyard, its thick trunk scarred with carved initials. Gnarled branches spread like protective arms, casting cool shade. The leaves rustle softly in the breeze, creating a gentle whisper."

Narrative:

- Dynamic: Describes actions and changes
- Event descriptions: what happened, who did what
- Action verbs and dialogue
- Plot progression

Key Elements:

- Characters (who)
- Actions (what they did)
- Sequence (when, order)
- Cause and effect
- Conflict and resolution

Example: "I arrived at school early that Monday morning. As I walked toward the ancient tree, I noticed something strange. Someone had carved a huge message on the trunk overnight. My friends and I spent the entire break trying to figure out who had done it."

5. POINT OF VIEW

Descriptive:

- Third person most common: "The school has..." "It stands..."
- Observer perspective

Narrative:

- First person very common: "I went..." "We saw..."
- Active participation in events

6. STRUCTURE

Descriptive:

- Introduction: General impression, what is being described
- Body: Organized by space or importance; rich sensory details
- Conclusion: Overall impression, significance, emotional response

Narrative:

- Introduction: Setting scene, introducing characters, creating interest
- Body: Events in time order, rising action, complications, climax
- Conclusion: Resolution, what was learned, reflection

7. LANGUAGE FEATURES

Descriptive:

- Adjectives: beautiful, tall, bright, magnificent
- Sensory words: shimmering, fragrant, melodious, rough

- Similes/Metaphors: "as white as snow," "like a fortress"
- Spatial transitions: to the left, above, below, nearby

Example: "The majestic building stands proudly at the corner, its white walls gleaming like pearls in the sunlight. Surrounding it are lush green gardens that spread like a soft carpet."

Narrative:

- Action verbs: ran, jumped, shouted, discovered
- Time adverbs: yesterday, then, suddenly, finally
- Dialogue: Direct speech
- Time transitions: first, then, next, after, meanwhile, finally

Example: "I ran quickly to the building. Suddenly, the door flew open and my friend appeared. 'Quick!' she shouted, 'Come see what we found!' I hurried inside, my heart pounding."

8. READER EXPERIENCE

Descriptive:

- Reader sees: creates mental picture
- Like looking at a photograph (static)
- Emotional response to beauty, atmosphere

Narrative:

- Reader follows: accompanies the journey
- Like watching a movie (dynamic)
- Emotional response to action, conflict, resolution

COMPARISON TABLE

Aspect	Descriptive	Narrative
Purpose	Describe/paint picture	Tell story
Organization	Spatial/importance	Chronological
Tense	Usually present	Usually past
Focus	What it's like	What happened
Language	Adjectives, sensory words	Action verbs, dialogue
Transitions	Spatial (left, above)	Time (then, next)
Point of View	Often 3rd person	Often 1st person
Movement	Static	Dynamic

RECOGNIZING THE TYPE FROM TOPIC

Descriptive Topics (Key Words: Describe, What...like):

- Describe your school
- My best friend
- The market near my house
- A beautiful place I visited

Narrative Topics (Key Words: Tell, Narrate, Day, Experience):

- My first day at school
- An unforgettable experience
- The day I learned a lesson
- How I spent my last holiday

CAN A TOPIC BE BOTH?

Yes! Example: "My Grandmother"

Descriptive Approach: Describe her appearance, personality, characteristics "My grandmother is a petite woman with silver hair always tied in a neat bun. Her warm brown eyes crinkle when she smiles. She wears traditional wrappers in bright colors and always smells faintly of palm oil..."

Narrative Approach: Tell a story about an experience with her "I will never forget the day my grandmother taught me to make jollof rice. It was a hot Saturday morning when she called me into the kitchen. 'Today, you learn our family secret,' she announced..."

MIXING BOTH IN ONE ESSAY

In Narrative Essays: Include description to set scenes and make story vivid

Example: "I entered the dimly lit room (narrative). Dust particles danced in the sunlight streaming through the cracked window. The air smelled musty (description). As I took another step, the floorboard creaked (narrative continues)."

In Descriptive Essays: Include brief narrative moments to illustrate characteristics

PRACTICE: IDENTIFYING THE TYPE

Passage 1: "The old library building stands at the end of University Road. Its red brick walls have weathered fifty years. Three wide steps lead to massive wooden doors. Inside, the smell of old books fills the air. Tall shelves line every wall."

Type: Descriptive Clues: Present tense, spatial organization, sensory details, adjectives, no events

Passage 2: "Last Saturday, I decided to visit the old library. I climbed the three steps and pushed open the heavy door. It creaked loudly. Embarrassed, I quickly found a table and sat down. I spent three hours reading. When I looked up, the library was closing."

Type: Narrative Clues: Past tense, chronological order, events in sequence, first-person experience

WRITING TIPS

For Descriptive Essays:

- Use all five senses
- Be specific
- Use figurative language
- Organize logically (spatial order)
- Show, don't just tell

For Narrative Essays:

- Have a clear story arc
- Include dialogue
- Build to a climax
- Use specific details
- Include reflection/lesson learned

COMMON MISTAKES

In Descriptive:

- X Including too much action

- ✗ Using past tense for current descriptions
- ✗ Being too vague

In Narrative:

- ✗ Describing instead of telling what happened
- ✗ Mixing up chronological order
- ✗ No clear point or lesson

EVALUATION

1. State five main differences between descriptive and narrative essays
2. What tense is typically used in: (a) descriptive essays (b) narrative essays? Why?
3. How is organization different in descriptive vs. narrative essays?
4. Identify whether these require descriptive or narrative essays:
 - (a) My Last Birthday
 - (b) The Busiest Market in Town
 - (c) An Act of Kindness I Witnessed
 - (d) My Best Friend
 - (e) How I Learned to Swim
5. Write two short paragraphs (5 sentences each) on "My School": one descriptive, one narrative

ASSIGNMENT

1. Create a comparison table showing ten differences between descriptive and narrative essays with examples

2. Take the topic "My Mother" and write:
 - (a) A descriptive paragraph (100 words) on her appearance and character
 - (b) A narrative paragraph (100 words) telling a story about an experience with her
3. Identify which passage is descriptive and which is narrative, giving three reasons for each:
 - Passage A: "The sun rose slowly over the mountains, painting the sky pink and orange. The air was crisp and cool. Birds began their morning songs. Dew sparkled on the grass like tiny diamonds."
 - Passage B: "I woke up early to watch the sunrise. I climbed to the top of the hill and waited. When the sun finally appeared, I gasped at its beauty. I stayed there for an hour, just watching."
4. List ten transitions commonly used in descriptive essays and ten used in narrative essays
5. Explain why dialogue is common in narrative but not descriptive essays. Give examples

WEEK 4 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: ELEMENTS OF PROSE – PLOT, STYLE, CHARACTERIZATION; TYPES OF ORAL LITERATURE

PART A: ELEMENTS OF PROSE

1. PLOT

Definition: The sequence of events that make up a story.

PLOT STRUCTURE (Five Parts):

a) EXPOSITION:

- Introduction to story
- Characters and setting introduced
- Background information
- Example: "John was a hardworking farmer in a small village..."

b) RISING ACTION:

- Conflict introduced
- Problems develop
- Tension builds
- Example: "Strange things began happening. Crops failed. Villagers blamed John..."

c) CLIMAX:

- Most intense moment
- Highest point of tension
- Turning point

- Example: "John confronted the spirit king. The battle was fierce..."

d) FALLING ACTION:

- Events after climax
- Tension decreases
- Conflicts begin resolving
- Example: "The spirit king explained and lifted the curse..."

e) RESOLUTION:

- Conclusion
- All conflicts resolved
- Final outcome
- Example: "John returned as a hero. The village lived in harmony..."

TYPES OF CONFLICT:

- Man vs. Man
- Man vs. Self
- Man vs. Society
- Man vs. Nature
- Man vs. Fate

2. CHARACTERIZATION

Definition: Methods an author uses to develop characters.

A. DIRECT CHARACTERIZATION: Author directly tells us about character

- Example: "John was a brave man."

B. INDIRECT CHARACTERIZATION (STEAL Method):

S - Speech: What character says

- Example: "Please, kind sir..." (polite person)

T - Thoughts: What character thinks

- Example: John smiled but thought, "This man is a fool." (diplomatic but judgmental)

E - Effects on Others: How others react

- Example: Everyone smiled when Mary entered. (shows she's loved)

A - Actions: What character does

- Example: She gave her coat to the shivering child. (selfless, compassionate)

L - Looks: Physical appearance

- Example: His clothes were always neat. (orderly, disciplined)

CHARACTER TYPES:

By Complexity:

- Flat: Simple, one-dimensional, stereotypical
- Round: Complex, multi-dimensional, realistic

By Development:

- Static: Don't change throughout story
- Dynamic: Change and grow

By Role:

- Protagonist: Main character

- Antagonist: Opposes protagonist
- Supporting: Help tell the story
- Minor: Brief appearances

3. STYLE

Definition: The distinctive way an author uses language.

ELEMENTS OF STYLE:

A. DICTION (Word Choice):

- Formal: Sophisticated vocabulary, proper grammar
- Informal: Everyday language, conversational, slang
- Technical: Specialized vocabulary
- Regional: Dialect, local expressions

B. SENTENCE STRUCTURE:

- Simple: Short, direct, creates pace
- Complex: Long, detailed, elaborate
- Varied: Mix of both, creates rhythm

C. TONE: Author's attitude toward subject

- Serious, humorous, ironic, sarcastic, formal, informal, optimistic, cynical, nostalgic

D. IMAGERY: Descriptive language appealing to senses

- Visual (sight), Auditory (sound), Olfactory (smell), Gustatory (taste), Tactile (touch)

E. FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE:

- Simile: Comparison using "like/as" ("Her voice was like honey")

- Metaphor: Direct comparison ("Time is money")
- Personification: Human qualities to non-human ("Wind whispered")
- Hyperbole: Exaggeration ("I've told you a million times")
- Symbolism: Object represents idea (dove = peace)

F. VOICE:

- Unique sound/personality of writing
- Author's recognizable style

PART B: TYPES OF ORAL LITERATURE

Definition: Literature composed, performed, and transmitted orally.

1. FOLKTALES: Traditional fictional stories teaching lessons

Types:

- Animal Tales: Animals as characters teaching lessons
- Trickster Tales: Clever character overcomes stronger opponents
- "Why" Stories: Explain natural phenomena (Why Tortoise has cracked shell)
- Moral Tales: Directly teach lessons

Characteristics: "Once upon a time" openings, stock characters, moral lessons

2. MYTHS: Sacred stories explaining origins, featuring gods and supernatural beings

Types:

- Creation Myths: How world was created
- Explanatory Myths: Why things are the way they are

- Divine Myths: Stories of gods and goddesses

Example: Yoruba creation myth (Olodumare creating world)

3. LEGENDS: Traditional stories about heroes based partially on fact but embellished

Examples:

- Sundiata (Mali)
- Queen Amina of Zaria
- Shaka Zulu
- Queen Moremi of Ile-Ife

Characteristics: Historical basis, heroic deeds, cultural pride

4. PROVERBS: Short, wise sayings expressing truths

Examples:

- "When two elephants fight, the grass suffers"
- "A tree cannot make a forest"
- "A river that forgets its source will dry up"

Functions: Teach wisdom, guide behavior, settle arguments

5. RIDDLES: Puzzles testing wit and intelligence

Examples:

- "I have teeth but cannot eat." (A comb)
- "What runs but never walks?" (A river)
- "What gets wetter as it dries?" (A towel)

6. PRAISE POETRY: Poems praising people, gods, or places

Types:

- Oriki (Yoruba): Praise names for individuals, families, deities
- Praise for Rulers: Kings, chiefs, leaders
- Praise for Warriors: Celebrates bravery

Characteristics: Repetition, rhythmic, often with music/drums

7. SONGS:

Types:

- Work Songs: Sung during labor
- Lullabies: Soothe babies
- War Songs: Inspire courage
- Festival Songs: Celebrate occasions
- Love Songs: Express romance

8. ORAL EPICS: Long narrative poems about heroes

Examples:

- Sundiata Epic (Mali)
- Ozidi Saga (Nigeria/Ijaw)

3. What is the difference between flat and round characters? Between static and dynamic?
4. Explain five elements of an author's style
5. Compare folktales, myths, and legends: (a) Definition (b) Characteristics (c) Purpose (d) Examples

ASSIGNMENT

1. Choose any story and analyze its plot: Identify (a) Exposition (b) Rising Action (c) Climax (d) Falling Action (e) Resolution
2. Create a character using indirect characterization: Write a paragraph (100 words) showing personality through STEAL method WITHOUT directly stating traits
3. Read a passage and analyze style: (a) Diction type (b) Sentence structure (c) Tone (d) Imagery (e) Figurative language (f) Voice
4. Collect and write: (a) 5 proverbs with meanings (b) 3 riddles with answers (c) One folktale summary (150 words)
5. Explain direct vs. indirect characterization with three examples of each from any story

JSS1 ENGLISH STUDIES LESSON NOTES

WEEK 6 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /e/

THE SHORT VOWEL /e/ (as in "bed"):

Production:

- Tongue mid-front position
- Lips slightly spread
- Jaw moderately open
- Short, quick sound

Common Spellings:

- "e": bed, red, pen, men, tell, best
- "ea": head, bread, dead, ready, weather, heavy
- "ai": said, again
- "a": any, many
- "ie": friend
- "eo": leopard
- "u": bury

Minimal Pairs (/e/ vs /æ/):

- pen /e/ - pan /æ/
- bed /e/ - bad /æ/
- met /e/ - mat /æ/

- set /e/ - sat /æ/

Practice Sentence: "Ten men said the red pen was better than any pen in the test."

EVALUATION:

1. Produce /e/ sound and give 10 words containing it
2. Differentiate /e/ from /æ/ with 5 minimal pairs
3. Identify /e/ words: (a) head (b) hat (c) bed (d) bad (e) said
4. Write 5 sentences using /e/ words
5. What spelling patterns produce /e/ sound?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 20 words with /e/ sound (different spellings)
2. Practice: "Ten red hens fed on bread and eggs. Any friend can lend me a pen."
3. Create 5 minimal pairs: /e/ vs /æ/ and /e/ vs /ɪ/
4. Identify the vowel sound in: ready, head, any, friend, said, many, test, best
5. Write 10 sentences using words with /e/ sound

WEEK 6 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: ADJECTIVES – DEFINITION, TYPES; COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES

DEFINITION: An adjective is a word that describes or modifies a noun or pronoun.

TYPES OF ADJECTIVES:

1. Descriptive (Qualitative): Describe quality, size, shape, color, etc.

- beautiful, large, round, red, happy, old

2. Quantitative: Show quantity (how much/many)

- some, many, few, much, little, several, enough

3. Demonstrative: Point to specific things

- this, that, these, those

4. Possessive: Show ownership

- my, your, his, her, its, our, their

5. Interrogative: Used in questions

- which, what, whose

6. Numeral:

- Cardinal: one, two, three (how many)
- Ordinal: first, second, third (order)

7. Proper Adjectives: From proper nouns

- Nigerian food, African culture, Christian values

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES:

Three Degrees:

1. POSITIVE (Absolute): Basic form, no comparison

- tall, big, beautiful, good

2. COMPARATIVE: Comparing two things

- Formation:
 - Add -er: tall → taller, big → bigger
 - Use "more": beautiful → more beautiful
 - Irregular: good → better, bad → worse
- Pattern: adjective + -er + than OR more + adjective + than
- Examples: She is taller than me. This is more beautiful than that.

3. SUPERLATIVE: Comparing three or more (highest degree)

- Formation:
 - Add -est: tall → tallest, big → biggest
 - Use "most": beautiful → most beautiful
 - Irregular: good → best, bad → worst
- Pattern: the + adjective + -est OR the most + adjective
- Examples: She is the tallest girl. This is the most beautiful flower.

Comparison Table:

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
tall	taller	tallest
big	bigger	biggest
happy	happier	happiest
beautiful	more beautiful	most beautiful
good	better	best

bad	worse	worst
many/much	more	most
little	less	least

Rules:

- One syllable: add -er/-est (small, smaller, smallest)
- Two syllables ending in -y: change y to i, add -er/-est (happy, happier, happiest)
- Two+ syllables: use more/most (careful, more careful, most careful)
- Irregular forms must be memorized

EVALUATION:

1. Define adjective and give 5 examples
2. List 6 types of adjectives with 2 examples each
3. Write the comparative and superlative forms: (a) strong (b) careful (c) good (d) bad (e) little
4. Fill in: John is _____ (tall) than Peter but Mary is the _____ (tall) in the class
5. Identify adjectives and their types: "That beautiful Nigerian girl has three blue bags"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 10 adjectives of each type: descriptive, quantitative, demonstrative, possessive
2. Write 10 sentences using different types of adjectives
3. Compare these in three degrees: fast, intelligent, many, far, old

4. Correct errors: (a) She is more taller (b) He is the most good student (c) This is the bigger house
5. Use these adjectives in sentences: comparative form of 5 adjectives, superlative form of 5 adjectives

WEEK 6 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: DIFFERENTIATING MAIN IDEAS FROM SUPPORTING IDEAS IN A PASSAGE

MAIN IDEA:

- The most important point in a paragraph
- What the paragraph is mostly about
- Usually the topic sentence
- General statement

WHERE TO FIND:

- Beginning (most common - 70%)
- End (20%)
- Middle (5%)
- Implied (not stated - 5%)

SUPPORTING IDEAS:

- Details that explain, prove, or develop the main idea
- Examples, facts, reasons, descriptions
- Specific statements

TYPES OF SUPPORT:

1. Facts/Statistics: specific data
2. Examples: instances illustrating main idea
3. Reasons: why main idea is true
4. Descriptions: detailed characteristics

5. Explanations: how or why something works

HOW TO IDENTIFY:

Main Idea:

- Ask: "What is this paragraph mainly about?"
- Look for general statement
- Check first/last sentence
- Find repeated concepts

Supporting Ideas:

- Ask: "What details explain the main idea?"
- Look for specific information
- Find examples and evidence

PRACTICE PASSAGE:

"Regular exercise is essential for good health. It strengthens the heart and improves circulation. Exercise also helps maintain healthy weight and reduces disease risk. Studies show that people who exercise regularly live longer. Additionally, physical activity boosts mental health by reducing stress and anxiety."

Analysis:

- Main Idea: Regular exercise is essential for good health (first sentence)
- Supporting Ideas:
 1. Strengthens heart, improves circulation
 2. Maintains weight, reduces disease
 3. Studies show longer life
 4. Boosts mental health, reduces stress

EVALUATION:

1. Define main idea and supporting idea
2. Where are main ideas usually located in paragraphs?
3. List 5 types of supporting details
4. Read this passage and identify the main idea: "Water is vital for life. The human body is 60% water. We need water for digestion, circulation, and temperature regulation. Without water, a person cannot survive more than three days."
5. From the passage in Q4, list 3 supporting details

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a paragraph with a clear main idea and 3 supporting details on "Benefits of Reading"
2. Read any passage from your textbook. Identify: (a) Topic (b) Main idea (c) Three supporting details (d) Type of support used
3. Create a graphic organizer showing main idea and supporting details for this topic: "Why students should eat breakfast"
4. Differentiate between main idea and topic using examples
5. Analyze this passage - identify main and supporting ideas: "My grandmother is very kind. She helps sick neighbors daily. She volunteers at the orphanage every weekend. Last year, she paid school fees for poor children. Everyone loves and respects her."

WEEK 6 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: PARAGRAPH WRITING – LOGICAL SEQUENCE WITH INTRODUCTION & CONCLUSION

WHAT IS A PARAGRAPH? A group of sentences about one main idea.

STRUCTURE OF A PARAGRAPH:

1. TOPIC SENTENCE (Introduction):

- States main idea
- Usually first sentence
- General statement about the topic

2. SUPPORTING SENTENCES (Body):

- 3-6 sentences
- Develop the main idea
- Give details, examples, explanations
- All relate to topic sentence

3. CONCLUDING SENTENCE (Conclusion):

- Last sentence
- Wraps up the paragraph
- Restates main idea or provides final thought
- May link to next paragraph

LOGICAL SEQUENCE: Ideas must flow in order:

- Time order: first, then, next, finally (for events)
- Space order: left to right, top to bottom (for descriptions)

- Order of importance: least to most important

TRANSITIONS: Connect ideas smoothly:

- Addition: also, furthermore, moreover, additionally
- Time: first, then, next, after, finally, meanwhile
- Contrast: but, however, although, on the other hand
- Result: therefore, thus, consequently, as a result
- Example: for example, for instance, such as

PARAGRAPH UNITY: All sentences must relate to the topic sentence.

SAMPLE PARAGRAPH:

"My school library is a wonderful place to study. (TOPIC SENTENCE) It has comfortable chairs and quiet study areas where students can concentrate. (SUPPORT 1) The library contains over 5,000 books on various subjects, making research easy. (SUPPORT 2) Friendly librarians are always available to help students find materials. (SUPPORT 3) Therefore, the library is truly an ideal environment for learning. (CONCLUDING SENTENCE)"

EVALUATION:

1. Define a paragraph and state its three parts
2. What is a topic sentence and where is it usually found?
3. What is paragraph unity?
4. List 5 transitions used for: (a) time order (b) adding information
5. Write a paragraph (6 sentences) on "My Best Friend" with clear topic, supporting, and concluding sentences

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write 3 paragraphs (6-7 sentences each) on different topics showing clear structure
2. Label the topic sentence, supporting sentences, and concluding sentence in each paragraph you write
3. Identify the parts in this paragraph: "Football is the most popular sport in Nigeria. Millions of people watch matches every weekend. Children play football in streets and fields across the country. Nigeria has produced world-class players who compete internationally. Clearly, football unites Nigerians from all backgrounds."
4. Write a paragraph using time order transitions on "How I Prepare for School"
5. Explain why logical sequence is important in paragraph writing

WEEK 6 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO DRAMA; TYPES & ELEMENTS OF DRAMA; CHARACTERIZATION & THEMES IN RECOMMENDED PROSE TEXT

PART A: INTRODUCTION TO DRAMA

DEFINITION: Drama is literature written to be performed by actors before an audience.

CHARACTERISTICS:

1. Written in dialogue form
2. Meant for performance
3. Uses stage directions
4. Has acts and scenes
5. Requires actors, stage, audience

DIFFERENCE FROM PROSE:

- Drama: dialogue, performance, stage directions
- Prose: narrative, paragraphs, description

TYPES OF DRAMA:

1. TRAGEDY:

- Serious, sad ending
- Hero suffers/dies
- Explores serious themes
- Example: Macbeth

- Written in italics/brackets

7. CONFLICT: Struggle/problem driving the action

8. ACT & SCENE:

- Act: Major division
- Scene: Smaller division within act

PART B: CHARACTERIZATION & THEMES IN PROSE TEXT

CHARACTERIZATION (Review):

Methods:

- Direct: Author tells us about character
- Indirect (STEAL):
 - Speech: what character says
 - Thoughts: what character thinks
 - Effect: how others react
 - Actions: what character does
 - Looks: physical appearance

Character Types:

- Protagonist vs. Antagonist
- Major vs. Minor
- Round (complex) vs. Flat (simple)
- Dynamic (changes) vs. Static (no change)

THEMES:

Definition: Central idea or message in the text

Common Themes:

- Love and sacrifice
- Good vs. evil
- Coming of age
- Tradition vs. change
- Courage and bravery
- Family relationships
- Social injustice
- Power and corruption

Finding Themes:

- What is the author trying to say about life?
- What lessons does the story teach?
- What universal truths are explored?

In Your Prose Text:

- Identify 2-3 main themes
- Support with evidence from text
- Explain how themes are developed

EVALUATION:

1. Define drama and state 3 differences from prose
2. Name and explain 3 types of drama
3. List 8 elements of drama
4. What are stage directions and why are they important?
5. In your prose text: (a) Who is the protagonist? (b) Name one main theme

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short drama scene (1 page) with 3 characters, including dialogue and stage directions
2. Explain 5 elements of drama with examples
3. Compare how character is revealed in drama vs. prose
4. Read Chapters 4-6 of your prose text. Write: (a) Character analysis of the protagonist (b) Two themes identified so far with examples
5. Define these drama terms: soliloquy, aside, monologue, act, scene

WEEK 8 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /æ/

THE SHORT VOWEL /æ/ (as in "cat"):

Production:

- Tongue low-front position
- Mouth fairly wide open
- Lips spread
- Short sound

Common Spellings:

- "a": cat, hat, man, bad, apple, family, happy

Minimal Pairs:

- bat /æ/ - bet /e/
- cat /æ/ - cut /ʌ/
- man /æ/ - men /e/
- pan /æ/ - pen /e/
- bad /æ/ - bed /e/

Practice Words: cat, hat, mat, fat, sat, bad, sad, mad, glad, man, pan, can, ran, fan, hand, sand, land, black, back, pack, track, apple, happy, family

Practice Sentence: "The fat cat sat on the black mat and had an apple for a snack."

EVALUATION:

1. Produce /æ/ sound correctly with 10 words

2. Differentiate /æ/ from /e/ with 5 minimal pairs
3. Identify /æ/ words: (a) bad (b) bed (c) man (d) men (e) hat
4. Write 5 sentences using /æ/ words
5. Explain the mouth position for /æ/ sound

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 25 words with /æ/ sound
2. Practice: "The happy man ran fast and sat on the grass with his family"
3. Create 5 minimal pairs each: /æ/ vs /e/ and /æ/ vs /ʌ/
4. Write 10 sentences using words with /æ/ sound
5. Record and identify /æ/ sounds in this passage: "The fat black cat sat on a mat. A man had an apple and ran after the cat."

WEEK 8 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: ADVERBS – DEFINITION, IDENTIFICATION, TYPES

DEFINITION: An adverb is a word that modifies a verb, adjective, or another adverb. It tells how, when, where, or to what extent.

IDENTIFICATION:

- Ask: How? When? Where? How often? To what extent?
- Many end in -ly (quickly, slowly, carefully)
- Not all -ly words are adverbs (lovely, friendly are adjectives)

TYPES OF ADVERBS:

1. ADVERBS OF MANNER (How?): Tell how an action is done

- Formation: adjective + ly (quick → quickly, careful → carefully)
- Examples: slowly, fast, well, hard, badly, beautifully, quietly, loudly
- Position: usually after verb or object
- "She sings beautifully." "He ran quickly."

2. ADVERBS OF TIME (When?): Tell when an action occurs

- Examples: now, today, tomorrow, yesterday, soon, later, early, late, already, recently, eventually
- Position: usually at beginning or end of sentence
- "I will go tomorrow." "Yesterday, she came."

3. ADVERBS OF PLACE (Where?): Tell where an action occurs

- Examples: here, there, everywhere, nowhere, inside, outside, above, below, nearby, far

- Position: usually after verb or at end
- "Come here." "They went outside."

4. ADVERBS OF FREQUENCY (How often?): Tell how often an action occurs

- Examples: always (100%), usually (90%), often (70%), sometimes (50%), rarely (10%), never (0%), daily, weekly, monthly, yearly, once, twice
- Position: usually before main verb, after 'be'
- "I always wake up early." "She is never late."

5. ADVERBS OF DEGREE (To what extent?): Tell the intensity or degree

- Examples: very, quite, too, almost, nearly, extremely, rather, fairly, completely, totally, hardly, barely
- Position: usually before adjective or adverb
- "She is very tall." "He ran too fast."

COMPARISON OF ADVERBS:

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
fast	faster	fastest
hard	harder	hardest
early	earlier	earliest
quickly	more quickly	most quickly
carefully	more carefully	most carefully
well	better	best
badly	worse	worst

Rules:

- One syllable: add -er/-est
- Two+ syllables: use more/most
- Irregular: memorize (well-better-best)

EVALUATION:

1. Define adverb and state what it modifies
2. Give 5 examples each of adverbs of: manner, time, place, frequency
3. Form adverbs from: quick, careful, happy, easy, good
4. Identify adverbs and their types: "She always sings beautifully here."
5. Write 5 sentences using different types of adverbs

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 10 adverbs of each type: manner, time, place, frequency, degree
2. Write 10 sentences, each using a different type of adverb
3. Convert these adjectives to adverbs: slow, loud, quiet, bad, angry, peaceful, heavy, soft, bright, clear
4. Compare these adverbs: fast, carefully, well, badly, early
5. Identify and classify all adverbs: "Yesterday, she spoke very softly and walked slowly outside. She never talks loudly here."

WEEK 8 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING TO ANSWER SPECIFIC QUESTIONS (INTERPRETATION & PROJECTION LEVELS)

LEVELS OF COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS:

1. LITERAL LEVEL (Easy):

- Answers found directly in text
- Facts, details explicitly stated
- Who? What? When? Where?
- Example: "What is the boy's name?"

2. INTERPRETATION LEVEL (Medium):

- Read between the lines
- Infer meaning not directly stated
- Understand implications
- Why? How? What does this mean?
- Example: "Why do you think the boy was sad?"

3. PROJECTION LEVEL (Difficult):

- Go beyond the text
- Predict, imagine, apply
- Personal opinion with text support
- What if? What might happen? What would you do?
- Example: "What might happen next?"

INTERPRETATION QUESTIONS:

What They Ask:

- Infer character feelings/motivations
- Understand cause-effect relationships
- Identify author's purpose/message
- Explain why something happened
- Draw conclusions from facts

How to Answer:

- Use clues from text
- Combine facts to draw conclusions
- Think about "why" behind actions
- Consider context

Signal Words:

- Why, How, What does this suggest, What can you infer, This implies, The author means

PROJECTION QUESTIONS:

What They Ask:

- Predict future events
- Give personal opinions
- Apply to own life
- Suggest alternatives
- Create new scenarios

How to Answer:

- Base predictions on text evidence
- Use logical reasoning
- Connect to personal experience
- Imagine possibilities

Signal Words:

- What might, What if, What would you, Predict, In your opinion, Do you think, How would you

PRACTICE PASSAGE:

"Tunde had studied only one hour before the exam. His friends studied for weeks. As he sat looking at the questions, his hands shook. The questions looked unfamiliar. He glanced at his friend Bola, who was writing confidently."

Questions:

Literal: What is the boy's name? (Tunde)

Interpretation: Why were Tunde's hands shaking? (He was nervous because he didn't prepare well)

Projection: What do you think will happen to Tunde in the exam? (He will likely fail because he didn't study enough)

EVALUATION:

1. Name and explain the three levels of comprehension questions
2. What is the difference between interpretation and projection questions?
3. Read this and answer: "Mary found a wallet with money but no ID. She thought about keeping it but remembered her mother's advice about honesty."

- Literal: What did Mary find?
 - Interpretation: Why did Mary think about keeping the wallet?
 - Projection: What do you think Mary will do?
4. Give 3 signal words for interpretation questions
 5. Give 3 signal words for projection questions

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read any passage from your textbook. Write 3 questions at each level: literal, interpretation, projection (9 total)
2. Explain how to answer interpretation questions vs. literal questions
3. Practice: "The village was silent. Shops were closed. People hurried past with covered faces. The town crier had made an announcement at dawn." Write: (a) 2 literal questions (b) 2 interpretation questions (c) 2 projection questions - provide answers
4. Why are projection questions more difficult than literal questions?
5. Create a passage (100 words) and write 5 questions: 2 literal, 2 interpretation, 1 projection

WEEK 8 – COMPOSITION

TOPIC: DESCRIPTIVE ESSAY – A MARKET PLACE

DESCRIPTIVE ESSAY REVIEW:

- Purpose: Paint vivid picture with words
- Uses: Sensory details (sight, sound, smell, taste, touch)

SAMPLE OUTLINE:

Title: The Bustling City Market

I. Introduction

- Located in city center

- Vibrant, lively atmosphere
- Heart of community

II. Physical Description

- Sprawling open-air market
- Hundreds of stalls
- Organized by sections

III. Sights

- Colorful displays
- Various goods
- Busy people

IV. Sounds and Smells

- Traders calling
- Mix of aromas
- Noisy atmosphere

V. Conclusion

- Exciting, essential place
- Reflects community life

SAMPLE PARAGRAPH:

"The city market is a feast for the senses. Rows upon rows of stalls stretch as far as the eye can see, each overflowing with colorful goods. The vegetable section displays pyramids of bright red tomatoes, green peppers, and golden oranges. Traders in vibrant wrapper sit behind their wares, calling out to potential customers in melodious voices. The air is thick with the mingled scents of fresh fish, ripe mangoes, and sizzling akara from nearby food stalls. Shoppers weave through the narrow aisles, baskets on heads, bargaining loudly over prices. The constant hum of activity - voices, laughter, and the occasional blaring horn - creates an energetic symphony that is unmistakably the market."

EVALUATION:

1. What is the purpose of a descriptive essay?

5. List 20 vocabulary words (adjectives, nouns, verbs) useful for describing a market

WEEK 8 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO DRAMA; TYPES & ELEMENTS; CHARACTERIZATION & THEMES IN RECOMMENDED PROSE TEXT

(Reinforcement from Week 6 with focus on prose text study)

DRAMA REVIEW:

Elements:

1. Plot - sequence of events
2. Character - people in play
3. Dialogue - conversations
4. Theme - central message
5. Setting - time and place
6. Stage directions - instructions
7. Conflict - problem/struggle
8. Acts & Scenes - divisions

Dramatic Techniques:

- Soliloquy: Character speaks thoughts aloud when alone
- Aside: Character speaks to audience; others don't hear
- Monologue: Long speech by one character to others

FOCUS: PROSE TEXT STUDY

CHARACTERIZATION ANALYSIS:

For Your Prose Text, Analyze:

Protagonist:

1. Physical description
2. Personality traits
3. Strengths and weaknesses
4. Goals/motivations
5. Relationships with others
6. How character changes
7. Methods of characterization used

Other Major Characters:

- Role in story
- Relationship to protagonist
- Character traits
- Contribution to plot/theme

Character Relationships:

- Conflicts between characters
- Alliances and friendships
- Family dynamics
- How relationships develop

THEME ANALYSIS:

In Your Prose Text:

Identifying Themes:

1. What message is the author conveying?
2. What life lessons are taught?

- Social injustice
- Courage and determination
- Identity and belonging
- Consequences of actions
- Good vs. evil
- Love and sacrifice
- Cultural conflict

Supporting Themes with Evidence:

- Quote specific passages
- Cite events that illustrate theme
- Show how characters embody themes
- Explain how theme develops through plot

STUDY GUIDE FOR PROSE TEXT:

Character Analysis Template:

Character Name: _____

Physical Description:

- Age, appearance, clothing

Personality:

- Three main traits with examples

Role:

- Protagonist/antagonist/supporting
- Importance to plot

Development:

- How character changes
- What causes change

Relationships:

- With other characters
- Conflicts and alliances

Significance:

- What character represents
- Contribution to themes

Theme Analysis Template:

Theme: _____

Definition:

- What the theme means

Evidence:

- Events showing this theme
- Character actions related to theme
- Quotes supporting theme

Development:

- How theme appears early
- How it develops throughout
- Resolution at end

Significance:

- Why this theme matters
- What author wants us to learn

EVALUATION:

1. In your prose text: (a) Who is the protagonist? (b) Describe their personality (c) How do they change?
2. Identify two themes in your prose text with examples from the story
3. What is the difference between direct and indirect characterization? Give examples from your text
4. Describe the relationship between two major characters in your prose text
5. Explain how one theme is developed through the plot of your prose text

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read Chapters 7-9 of your prose text
2. Write a character profile (200 words) of the protagonist including: physical description, personality traits, relationships, development, significance
3. Identify three themes in your prose text. For each theme: (a) Define it (b) Give two examples from the text (c) Explain its significance
4. Compare two characters in your prose text: similarities and differences in personality, role, and development
5. Trace how one theme develops from beginning to current chapter: early signs, development, current status

WEEK 9 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɑ:/

THE LONG VOWEL /ɑ:/ (as in "car"):

Production:

- Tongue low and back
- Mouth wide open
- Long, prolonged sound
- No lip rounding

Common Spellings:

- "ar": car, far, star, arm, farm, park, hard, start, dark, smart
- "a" (before certain consonants): father, rather, class, grass, pass, bath, path, ask, last, fast (British pronunciation)
- "al": calm, palm, half

- barn /ɑ:/ - ban /æ/

Practice Words: car, far, bar, star, jar, tar, farm, harm, charm, dark, park, mark, shark, card, hard, yard, start, smart, art

Practice Sentence: "My father parked his car in the dark yard far from the large farm."

EVALUATION:

1. Produce /ɑ:/ sound correctly with 10 words
2. Differentiate /ɑ:/ from /æ/ with 5 minimal pairs
3. Identify /ɑ:/ words: (a) car (b) cat (c) heart (d) hat (e) farm
4. Write 5 sentences using /ɑ:/ words
5. List 5 words with "ar" spelling that have /ɑ:/ sound

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 25 words with /ɑ:/ sound (different spelling patterns)
2. Practice: "The smart farmer parked his car far from the barn and walked to the garden path"
3. Create 5 minimal pairs: /ɑ:/ vs /æ/ and /ɑ:/ vs /ɒ/
4. Write 10 sentences using words with /ɑ:/ sound
5. Identify the vowel sounds: father, farm, cat, calm, heart, hat, car, class, fast, fat

WEEK 9 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: PREPOSITIONS – DEFINITION, IDENTIFICATION, TYPES & FUNCTIONS

DEFINITION: A preposition is a word that shows the relationship between a noun/pronoun and another word in the sentence.

COMMON PREPOSITIONS: at, in, on, by, with, from, to, for, of, about, under, over, between, among, through, during, before, after, since, until

TYPES OF PREPOSITIONS:

1. PREPOSITIONS OF TIME: Show when something happens

- at: specific times (at 3 o'clock, at noon, at night)
- in: months, years, centuries, long periods (in June, in 2024, in the morning)
- on: days and dates (on Monday, on June 5th, on my birthday)
- Others: before, after, during, since, for, until, by

Examples:

- I wake up at 6 AM
- She was born in 2010
- The meeting is on Friday
- We arrived before noon
- He has lived here since 2020

2. PREPOSITIONS OF PLACE: Show where something is located

- at: specific points (at the door, at the bus stop, at home)

- in: enclosed spaces (in the room, in Lagos, in the box)
- on: surfaces (on the table, on the wall, on the floor)
- Others: under, over, above, below, beside, behind, in front of, between, among, near, by

Examples:

- The book is on the table
- She lives in Lagos
- The cat is under the chair
- Stand beside me
- The bank is between the school and the hospital

3. PREPOSITIONS OF DIRECTION/MOVEMENT: Show movement from one place to another

- to: toward a destination (go to school, walk to the market)
- from: starting point (come from home, travel from Lagos)
- into: entering (walk into the room)
- out of: exiting (come out of the house)
- through: passing through (walk through the gate)
- across: from one side to another (across the road)
- along: following a line (along the street)

Examples:

- I go to school daily
- She came from Abuja
- He walked into the room

- They ran across the field

4. PREPOSITIONS OF MANNER: Show how something is done

- by: method/means (by car, by train, by hand)
- with: using/accompanying (with a knife, with friends)
- in: manner/way (in a hurry, in style)

Examples:

- She travels by bus
- Cut it with a knife
- He spoke in anger

5. PREPOSITIONS OF AGENT: Show who does the action (used in passive voice)

- by: the doer of an action
- with: instrument used

Examples:

- The book was written by Achebe
- The tree was cut with an axe

FUNCTIONS OF PREPOSITIONS:

1. Show Time Relationships:

- "I'll see you at 5 PM"

2. Show Location:

- "The book is on the shelf"

3. Show Direction:

- "She went to school"

4. Show Manner:

- "He spoke with confidence"

5. Show Possession:

- "The house of my father"

6. Connect Words:

- Link nouns/pronouns to other words
- Create meaning in sentences

PREPOSITIONAL PHRASES: Preposition + noun/pronoun = prepositional phrase

Examples:

- at the door (preposition: at; object: the door)
- in the morning (preposition: in; object: the morning)
- with my friend (preposition: with; object: my friend)

COMMON MISTAKES:

Time:

- X in Monday (✓ on Monday)
- X at morning (✓ in the morning)
- X on night (✓ at night)

Place:

- X in the table (✓ on the table)
- X at Lagos (✓ in Lagos)

EVALUATION:

1. Define preposition and give 10 examples
2. List 5 prepositions of: (a) time (b) place (c) direction
3. Fill in with correct prepositions: (a) I live ____ Lagos (b) She arrives ____ Monday (c) The book is ____ the table (d) He goes ____ school ____ 7 AM
4. What is a prepositional phrase? Give 5 examples
5. Correct the errors: (a) She lives at Nigeria (b) I wake up on the morning (c) The pen is under the table (correct if wrong)

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write 20 sentences using different prepositions (at least one from each type)
2. List 15 prepositional phrases and use 10 in sentences
3. Fill in with appropriate prepositions: "I woke up ____ 6 AM ____ Monday morning. I went ____ the bathroom and took my bath. After breakfast, I walked ____ school ____ my friends. We arrived ____ school ____ 7:30 AM. Our classroom is ____ the second floor ____ the administrative block."
4. Identify all prepositions and state their types: "In the morning, she walked to school with her sister. They arrived at 8 o'clock and sat on the bench under the tree."
5. Write 5 sentences each using: (a) prepositions of time (b) prepositions of place (c) prepositions of direction

WEEK 9 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: APPLYING SQ3R TO A GIVEN PASSAGE

SQ3R TECHNIQUE (Review):

S - SURVEY: Quickly preview the material

- Read title, headings, subheadings
- Look at pictures, diagrams
- Read introduction and conclusion
- Scan first sentences of paragraphs
- Time: 2-5 minutes

Q - QUESTION: Turn headings into questions

- Use: Who? What? When? Where? Why? How?
- Create questions you want answered
- Write questions down

R - READ: Read carefully to answer questions

- Read actively, not passively
- Look for answers to your questions
- Take notes
- Highlight key points
- Time: Main reading time

R - RECITE: Recall what you read

- Look away from text
- Recite main points aloud or in writing

- Answer your questions
- Summarize in own words
- Check accuracy by looking back

R - REVIEW: Go over material again

- Review notes
- Recite main points again
- Answer questions
- Make sure you understand
- Time: 5-10 minutes

APPLYING SQ3R TO A PASSAGE:

SAMPLE PASSAGE:

Title: The Importance of Water

Water is essential for all living things. The human body is about 60% water, and we need to drink water daily to replace what we lose through breathing, sweating, and digestion.

Water has many important functions in the body. It helps transport nutrients to cells and removes waste products. Water also regulates body temperature through sweating. Without enough water, the body cannot function properly.

Experts recommend drinking at least 8 glasses of water per day. However, the exact amount needed depends on factors like age, activity level, and climate. People who exercise or live in hot climates need more water.

Dehydration occurs when the body loses more water than it takes in. Symptoms include thirst, dry mouth, tiredness, and headache. Severe dehydration can be dangerous and requires medical attention. Therefore, it is important to drink water regularly throughout the day.

STEP-BY-STEP APPLICATION:

1. SURVEY (2 minutes):

- Title: "The Importance of Water"
- 4 paragraphs
- Topics: water in body, functions, daily needs, dehydration
- Seems to explain why water is important

2. QUESTION (1 minute):

- Why is water essential?
- How much water does the body contain?
- What does water do in the body?
- How much water should we drink?
- What is dehydration?

3. READ (5 minutes): Read carefully, looking for answers:

- Body is 60% water
- Water transports nutrients, removes waste, regulates temperature
- Need 8 glasses daily (varies by person)
- Dehydration = too little water; causes thirst, tiredness, headache

4. RECITE (2 minutes): Close book and recall: "Water is essential because the body is 60% water. It transports nutrients, removes waste, and controls temperature. We need about 8 glasses daily. Without enough water, we get dehydrated, which causes thirst and tiredness."

Check for accuracy.

5. REVIEW (2 minutes):

- Main point: Water is vital for health

- Key facts: 60% body water, 8 glasses daily, multiple functions
- Can I answer my questions? Yes
- Do I understand? Yes

BENEFITS OF SQ3R:

- Improves comprehension
- Better retention (remembering)
- Active reading (not passive)
- Organized approach
- Saves time in long run

EVALUATION:

1. What does SQ3R stand for?
2. Explain the 5 steps of SQ3R briefly
3. Why is the Survey step important?
4. What happens in the Recite step?
5. Apply SQ3R to a short passage from your textbook: write what you did in each step

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Apply SQ3R to a passage from your textbook (at least 300 words). Write a report showing what you did at each step
2. Explain the difference between the Read and Recite steps
3. Why is it important to turn headings into questions in the Question step?

4. Apply SQ3R to this passage and answer: [Provide or use a passage from their textbook]
Write: (a) What you found during Survey (b) 3 questions you created (c) Main points from Reading (d) What you recited (e) Review summary
5. Create a poster or diagram showing the 5 steps of SQ3R with brief explanations

WEEK 9 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: LETTER WRITING – INTRODUCTION AND TYPES

WHAT IS A LETTER? A written message from one person to another.

PURPOSES OF LETTERS:

- Communicate with distant people
- Request information or permission
- Apply for jobs/admission

4. Write body: 3-4 paragraphs
 - Opening paragraph: State purpose

- Middle paragraphs: Details
- Closing paragraph: Conclusion, request action

5. Write closing and sign

6. Proofread: Check spelling, grammar, format

EVALUATION:

1. Define letter and state 3 purposes of letter writing
2. What are the two main types of letters? Explain the difference
3. List the parts of a formal letter in correct order
4. Write appropriate salutations for: (a) Unknown principal (b) Your friend (c) Known teacher Mr. Ojo
5. What closing is used with "Dear Sir"? What closing is used with "Dear Brother"?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Draw and label the format of: (a) a formal letter (b) an informal letter
2. List 5 types of formal letters and 5 types of informal letters
3. Write appropriate salutations and closings for letters to: (a) The Principal (b) Your mother (c) A company manager (d) Your friend (e) An unknown person
4. Explain 5 differences between formal and informal letters
5. What are the purposes of these letters: (a) Application letter (b) Thank you letter (c) Complaint letter (d) Letter to a friend (e) Request letter

WEEK 9 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: FOLKTALES

Introduction, Definition, Types; Narration of a Folktale; Recommended Drama Text – Plot & Setting

PART A: FOLKTALES

DEFINITION: Traditional stories passed down orally, teaching lessons through entertainment. Features animals or people, with moral lessons.

CHARACTERISTICS:

1. Oral tradition (told, not written)
2. Passed through generations
3. Teach moral lessons
4. Entertain
5. Simple language
6. Formulaic openings/closings ("Once upon a time..." / "That is why...")
7. Stock characters (tortoise, hare, lion)
8. Magical elements

TYPES OF FOLKTALES:

1. ANIMAL TALES: Animals as main characters, acting like humans

- Example: Tortoise and the Birds, Why Tortoise has Cracked Shell
- Lesson: Consequences of greed, trickery

2. TRICKSTER TALES: Clever character uses wit to overcome stronger opponents

- Characters: Tortoise (Ijapa), Anansi Spider, Hare
- Lesson: Intelligence over strength; but trickery has consequences

3. "WHY" STORIES (Origin Tales): Explain natural phenomena or animal characteristics

- Examples: Why Sky is Far, Why Bat Flies at Night, Why Mosquito Buzzes
- Lesson: Various moral lessons

4. MORAL TALES: Directly teach values and behavior

- Focus: Honesty, kindness, respect, hard work
- Lesson: Clear right and wrong, consequences of actions

COMMON CHARACTERS:

- Tortoise (Ijapa): Cunning, greedy, clever but often foolish
- Hare/Rabbit: Quick, witty, escapes danger
- Lion: Powerful, king of animals, sometimes proud
- Spider (Anansi): Trickster, wise, mischievous
- Elephant: Strong, wise, sometimes slow
- Hyena: Foolish, greedy, laughable

FUNCTIONS OF FOLKTALES:

1. Entertainment: Amuse audience
2. Education: Teach about life, culture
3. Moral Instruction: Right vs. wrong
4. Cultural Preservation: Maintain traditions
5. Social Control: Enforce norms

6. Community Bonding: Bring people together

SAMPLE FOLKTALE NARRATION:

Title: Why Tortoise Has a Cracked Shell

Long ago, there was a great feast in the sky. All the birds were invited. Tortoise, who loved food, wanted to go but had no wings.

Cleverly, Tortoise convinced the birds to each lend him a feather. He promised to be their spokesperson at the feast. The birds agreed.

At the feast, Tortoise asked, "Who is all this food for?" The hosts replied, "For all of you." Tortoise then announced to the birds, "My name is 'All of You,' so this food is mine!" He ate everything while the birds watched hungrily.

Angry, the birds took back their feathers. Tortoise, now wingless in the sky, asked Parrot to tell his wife to bring soft things for his landing. But Parrot told the wife to bring hard things instead.

Tortoise fell from the sky onto the hard objects. His shell broke into many pieces. A medicine man put it back together, but the cracks remain.

Moral Lesson: Greed and trickery lead to punishment. Those who deceive others will eventually suffer consequences.

PART B: DRAMA TEXT - PLOT & SETTING

PLOT IN DRAMA:

Definition: Sequence of events in the play

Plot Structure:

1. Exposition: Introduction, background, characters
2. Rising Action: Conflict develops, complications arise
3. Climax: Turning point, most intense moment

4. Falling Action: After climax, moving toward resolution
5. Resolution: Conclusion, conflicts resolved

In Your Drama Text:

- What is the main conflict?
- Who is involved in the conflict?
- What complications arise?
- What is the climax?
- How is it resolved?

SETTING IN DRAMA:

Definition: Time and place where play occurs

Elements:

1. Time Period: When (historical era, season, time of day)
2. Place: Where (country, city, specific location)
3. Social Context: Cultural, economic, political environment
4. Atmosphere: Mood created

Stage Directions Show Setting:

- [A village square in the morning]
- [Inside the palace, evening]
- [The forest, night time]

Importance:

- Influences characters and actions
- Creates mood

- Provides context
- Affects plot development

ANALYZING YOUR DRAMA TEXT:

Plot Questions:

- What happens in each act/scene?
- What is the central conflict?
- Who are the main characters involved?
- What complications develop?
- What is the climax of the play?
- How are conflicts resolved?

Setting Questions:

- When does the play take place?
- Where is it set?
- How does setting affect characters?
- What is the social/cultural context?
- How is setting established (stage directions, dialogue)?

EVALUATION:

1. Define folktale and state 4 characteristics
2. Name and explain 4 types of folktales with examples
3. What are the functions of folktales in society?
4. Narrate a folktale you know (150 words) and state the moral lesson

5. In your drama text: (a) Summarize the plot (b) Describe the setting

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a summary of 3 folktales you know (100 words each), stating the moral lesson for each
2. Explain 5 common characters in folktales and their typical traits
3. Create your own short folktale (200 words) with a clear moral lesson
4. Read Acts/Scenes _____ of your drama text. Write: (a) Plot summary (What happens?) (b) Setting description (When and where?) (c) Main conflict identified (d) Important events in this section
5. Explain how setting influences the plot in your drama text (5 examples)

WEEK 10 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɒ/

THE SHORT VOWEL /ɒ/ (as in "hot"):

Production:

- Tongue low-back position
- Lips slightly rounded
- Mouth fairly open
- Short sound

Common Spellings:

- "o": hot, pot, got, box, top, dog, shop, clock, doctor, coffee, option, problem
- "a": want, wash, watch, what, squad, quality

Minimal Pairs:

- pot /ɒ/ - port /ɔ:/
- cot /ɒ/ - caught /ɔ:/
- not /ɒ/ - nought /ɔ:/
- shot /ɒ/ - short /ɔ:/

Practice Words: hot, pot, got, lot, not, dog, fog, log, shop, stop, top, box, fox, clock, block, rock, doctor, problem

Practice Sentence: "The doctor got a hot pot from the shop and stopped at the top of the rock."

Note: British vs. American pronunciation differs for some words (e.g., "hot" - British /ɒ/, American /ɑ:/)

EVALUATION:

1. Produce /ɒ/ sound correctly with 10 words
2. Differentiate /ɒ/ from /ɔ:/ with 5 minimal pairs
3. Identify /ɒ/ words: (a) hot (b) caught (c) pot (d) port (e) dog
4. Write 5 sentences using /ɒ/ words
5. List 5 words with "o" spelling that have /ɒ/ sound

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 25 words with /ɒ/ sound
2. Practice: "The doctor got a hot dog and coffee from the shop on top of the block"
3. Create 5 minimal pairs: /ɒ/ vs /ɔ:/ and /ɒ/ vs /ʌ/
4. Write 10 sentences using words with /ɒ/ sound
5. Identify the vowel sound: hot, hut, caught, cot, pot, port, dog, door, clock, sport

WEEK 10 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: CONJUNCTIONS – DEFINITION, TYPES (SUBORDINATING & COORDINATING), FUNCTIONS

DEFINITION: A conjunction is a word that connects words, phrases, or clauses.

FUNCTIONS:

- Join words, phrases, sentences
- Show relationships between ideas
- Create complex sentences
- Make writing flow smoothly

TYPES OF CONJUNCTIONS:

1. COORDINATING CONJUNCTIONS:

Definition: Join words, phrases, or independent clauses of equal importance

The Seven: FANBOYS

- F - For (reason)
- A - And (addition)
- N - Nor (negative addition)
- B - But (contrast)
- O - Or (choice)
- Y - Yet (contrast)
- S - So (result)

Uses:

Joining Words:

- John and Mary
- Red or blue
- Smart but lazy

Joining Phrases:

- In the morning and in the evening
- Over the river and through the woods

Joining Independent Clauses:

- I studied hard, and I passed.
- She wanted to go, but she was sick.
- He must leave now, or he will be late.
- I was tired, so I slept.

Punctuation: Use comma before conjunction when joining independent clauses.

2. SUBORDINATING CONJUNCTIONS:

Definition: Join a dependent clause to an independent clause, showing relationship

Common Subordinating Conjunctions:

Time: when, while, before, after, since, until, as soon as, whenever

- "I will call you when I arrive."

Reason/Cause: because, since, as

- "She stayed home because she was sick."

Condition: if, unless, provided that, in case

- "If it rains, we will cancel."

Contrast: although, though, even though, whereas, while

- "Although he studied, he failed."

Purpose: so that, in order that

- "I study hard so that I can pass."

Manner: as, as if, as though

- "She sings as if she's on stage."

Place: where, wherever

- "Go where you like."

STRUCTURE:

Pattern 1: Independent clause + subordinating conjunction + dependent clause

- "I will wait until you come back."

Pattern 2: Subordinating conjunction + dependent clause, independent clause

- "Until you come back, I will wait."
- (Use comma after dependent clause when it comes first)

3. CORRELATIVE CONJUNCTIONS:

Definition: Work in pairs to connect equal elements

Common Pairs:

- both...and: Both John and Mary came.
- either...or: You can have either tea or coffee.
- neither...nor: Neither John nor Mary came.
- not only...but also: She is not only smart but also hardworking.

- whether...or: I don't know whether she'll come or go.

DIFFERENCES:

Coordinating

Connect equal parts

FANBOYS

Both clauses can stand alone

Comma before (for clauses)

Subordinating

Connect unequal parts

Many types

Creates dependent clause

Comma after (if dependent comes first)

COMMON MISTAKES:

1. Comma Splices:

- ✗ I went home, she stayed. (Two independent clauses, no conjunction)
- ✓ I went home, and she stayed. (Add conjunction)
- ✓ I went home. She stayed. (Separate sentences)

2. Run-on Sentences:

- ✗ I went home she stayed. (No punctuation or conjunction)
- ✓ I went home, and she stayed.

3. Comma Misuse:

- ✗ When it rains we stay indoors. (Need comma after dependent clause)
- ✓ When it rains, we stay indoors.

EVALUATION:

1. Define conjunction and state its function

2. What does FANBOYS stand for? Give an example sentence for each
3. List 5 subordinating conjunctions showing: time, reason, condition
4. Join these with appropriate conjunctions: (a) I was tired. I went to bed. (b) She studied hard. She wanted to pass. (c) You can have tea. You can have coffee.
5. Identify conjunctions and their types: "I will wait until you come, but I cannot stay long because I have work."

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write 10 sentences using different coordinating conjunctions (FANBOYS)
2. Write 10 sentences using different subordinating conjunctions (at least 2 from each category: time, reason, condition, contrast)
3. Join these sentences with appropriate conjunctions: (a) It was raining. We went out. (b) Study hard. You will fail. (c) She is smart. She is hardworking. (d) I woke up. The sun rose. (e) He didn't study. He was sick.
4. Correct these errors: (a) I went home she stayed (b) Although he was sick, but he came (c) When it rains we stay inside
5. Use these correlative conjunctions in sentences: both...and, either...or, neither...nor, not only...but also

WEEK 10 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: ASKING QUESTIONS TO COVER ALL COMPREHENSION LEVELS

(who, where, when, why, how, what)

THE 6 QUESTION WORDS:

1. WHO (Person):

- Asks about people/characters
- Literal: Who is the main character?
- Interpretation: Who do you think is responsible?
- Projection: Who would you choose to help you?

2. WHAT (Thing/Action):

- Asks about objects, events, actions
- Literal: What happened in the story?
- Interpretation: What does this event mean?
- Projection: What might happen next?

3. WHEN (Time):

- Asks about time
- Literal: When did this happen?
- Interpretation: When do you think he realized his mistake?
- Projection: When should she have acted differently?

4. WHERE (Place):

- Asks about location
- Literal: Where does the story take place?

- Interpretation: Where do you think they were going?
- Projection: Where would you go in this situation?

5. WHY (Reason):

- Asks about causes, reasons, purposes
- Literal: Why did he go? (if stated)
- Interpretation: Why do you think she acted that way? (infer)
- Projection: Why would you make that choice?

6. HOW (Manner/Process):

- Asks about method, manner, process
- Literal: How did he do it? (if described)
- Interpretation: How do you think she felt?
- Projection: How would you solve this problem?

COVERING ALL COMPREHENSION LEVELS:

LITERAL LEVEL (Easy): Information directly stated in text

- Who is the main character? (Answer in text)
- What is his name? (Stated)
- When did they arrive? (Stated)
- Where does she live? (Stated)

INTERPRETATION LEVEL (Medium): Read between the lines, infer

- Why do you think he was sad? (Not directly stated)
- What does this suggest about her character? (Infer)
- How did she feel? (Infer from clues)

- Who do you think is responsible? (Analyze)

PROJECTION LEVEL (Difficult): Beyond the text, predict, apply

- What might happen next? (Predict)
- What would you do in this situation? (Apply)
- How would you solve this problem? (Personal response)
- Why would this be important in your life? (Relate)

CREATING BALANCED QUESTIONS:

For Any Passage, Create:

- 2-3 literal questions (facts)
- 2-3 interpretation questions (analysis)
- 1-2 projection questions (application)

Use All Question Words:

- Include questions starting with who, what, when, where, why, how

PRACTICE PASSAGE:

"Tunde woke up early on Saturday morning. He had an important football match at 10 AM. He quickly ate breakfast and gathered his gear. As he left, his mother reminded him to play fairly. The match was tough, and Tunde's team was losing. In the final minutes, Tunde had a chance to cheat and win, but he remembered his mother's words. He played fairly, and though they lost, he felt proud."

Sample Questions:

Literal:

1. Who is the main character? (Tunde)

2. What day did this happen? (Saturday)
3. When was the match? (10 AM)
4. Where was Tunde going? (Football match)

Interpretation: 5. Why do you think Tunde felt proud? (He chose honesty over winning) 6.

How did his mother's advice affect his decision? (It reminded him of values) 7. What does this tell us about Tunde's character? (He is honest, has integrity)

Projection: 8. What might happen if Tunde had cheated? (He might have won but felt guilty) 9.

What would you do in Tunde's situation? (Personal response) 10. Why is playing fairly important in life? (Apply to real life)

EVALUATION:

1. List the 6 question words and what each asks about
2. Create 2 literal, 2 interpretation, and 1 projection question for this passage: "Mary found a wallet full of money. She looked around but saw no one. She thought about keeping it but decided to take it to the police station."
3. Explain the difference between asking "What happened?" (literal) and "What might happen?" (projection)
4. Why is it important to ask questions at all three comprehension levels?
5. Which question words are most common at: (a) literal level (b) interpretation level (c) projection level?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read a passage from your textbook. Create 15 questions: 5 literal, 5 interpretation, 5 projection (use all 6 question words)

2. For each comprehension level, write 2 questions starting with: Who, What, When, Where, Why, How (18 total questions)
3. Analyze this passage and create balanced questions: [Use a passage from their textbook]
4. Explain with examples: (a) What is a literal question? (b) What is an interpretation question? (c) What is a projection question?
5. Practice: Write 10 questions (mixed levels) for any short story you know

SAMPLE INFORMAL LETTER:

23, Benson Street,
Ikeja,
Lagos State.

20th November, 2024.

Dear Tunde,

How are you doing? I hope this letter meets you well. I'm writing to share some exciting news with you!

Guess what? I won the first prize in our school's debate competition last week! I still can't believe it. Remember how nervous I was when I told you about it? Well, I practiced every day just like you advised, and it really paid off. The topic was "Technology and Education," and I argued that technology has improved learning. My teachers were really impressed!

The prize was a beautiful trophy and a scholarship worth 50,000 naira. My parents are so proud, and I immediately thought of you because you always encouraged me to join the debate club. Thank you for believing in me!

How are things at your new school? Have you made new friends? I really miss having you around. Please write back soon and tell me all about your experiences.

Give my warm regards to your family. I hope we can see each other during the holidays.

Your friend,

Bola

DIFFERENCES FROM FORMAL LETTERS:

Feature	Informal	Formal
Recipient's address	Not required	Required
Salutation	Dear + first name	Dear Sir/Madam
Language	Casual, contractions OK	Formal, no contractions
Tone	Warm, friendly	Professional
Closing	Yours lovingly	Yours faithfully
Purpose	Personal matters	Official business

COMMON MISTAKES:

1. Including recipient's address (not needed in informal)
2. Using formal language (Dear Sir instead of Dear Tunde)
3. Being too stiff and formal
4. Forgetting to ask about recipient's welfare
5. Using "Yours faithfully" (that's formal!)
6. No comma after salutation
7. Too brief (should be warm and detailed)

EVALUATION:

1. List and explain 6 features of an informal letter
2. What is the difference between formal and informal letter salutations? Give 3 examples each
3. Write an appropriate opening paragraph for an informal letter to your friend
4. What closings are used in informal letters? Give 5 examples
5. What language features make a letter informal?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete informal letter (200 words) to your friend telling them about your recent school experience
2. Draw and label all parts of an informal letter format
3. Write 5 appropriate salutations and 5 appropriate closings for informal letters
4. Compare formal and informal letters: list 5 differences in a table

5. Write the body (3 paragraphs) of an informal letter to your cousin inviting them to visit during holidays

WEEK 10 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO FIGURES OF SPEECH – SIMILE, METAPHOR, IRONY

PART A: DRAMA TEXT STUDY

Continue studying your drama text focusing on:

Characters:

- Main characters and their roles
- Character development
- Relationships between characters
- Conflicts

Themes:

- Main themes in the play
- How themes are developed
- Evidence from text

Plot:

- Summary of each act/scene
- Main conflicts
- Climax and resolution

Setting:

- Time and place
- How setting affects action

PART B: FIGURES OF SPEECH

DEFINITION: Figures of speech are expressions that use words in non-literal ways to create special effects or meanings.

Purpose:

- Make language more interesting
- Create vivid images
- Express ideas creatively
- Add beauty to language
- Make writing memorable

1. SIMILE:

Definition: Direct comparison using "like" or "as"

Pattern:

- X is like Y
- X is as [adjective] as Y

Examples:

- Her smile is like sunshine
- He runs like the wind
- She is as brave as a lion
- The baby's skin is as soft as silk
- Time passes like a river flowing

Purpose:

- Show similarity
- Create vivid image

- Help reader understand by comparing to something familiar

In Sentences:

- "The classroom was as quiet as a graveyard."
- "Her voice was like music to my ears."
- "He fought like a warrior."

2. METAPHOR:

Definition: Direct comparison WITHOUT "like" or "as"; saying one thing IS another

Pattern:

- X is Y (not literally true)

Examples:

- Time is money (time = money)
- Her smile is sunshine (smile = sunshine)
- Life is a journey
- He is a lion in battle
- The classroom is a zoo

Difference from Simile:

- Simile: Her smile is like sunshine (comparison with "like")
- Metaphor: Her smile is sunshine (direct statement)

Purpose:

- Create stronger, more direct comparison
- More powerful than simile
- Makes writing vivid

In Sentences:

- "The world is a stage." (Shakespeare)
- "Knowledge is power."
- "Laughter is the best medicine."

3. IRONY:

Definition: When what happens or is said is opposite of what is expected or meant

Types:

a) Verbal Irony: Saying opposite of what you mean (like sarcasm)

- Saying "What lovely weather!" during a storm
- Calling a giant man "Tiny"
- "Oh great! I failed again" (meaning: This is not great)

b) Situational Irony: When outcome is opposite of what's expected

- A fire station burns down
- A traffic policeman gets a speeding ticket
- A swimming champion drowns
- You study wrong topics and those are the ones that appear in exam

c) Dramatic Irony: Audience knows something characters don't

- In Romeo and Juliet, we know Juliet is alive but Romeo doesn't
- Horror movie: we see the danger but character doesn't

Purpose:

- Create humor
- Show contrast

- Make point strongly
- Surprise audience

Examples:

- "How nice of you to break my phone!" (verbal irony - not really nice)
- A thief's house gets robbed (situational irony)
- In a play, character says "Nothing bad will happen" but audience knows danger is coming (dramatic irony)

COMPARISON TABLE:

Figure	Definition	Example	Uses
Simile	Comparison with like/as	She is like a rose	Like, as
Metaphor	Direct comparison (is)	She is a rose	No like/as
Irony	Opposite of expected	The fire station burned	Contrast, humor

OTHER FIGURES OF SPEECH:

Personification: Giving human qualities to non-human things

- "The wind whispered"
- "Death smiled"

Hyperbole: Exaggeration

- "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse"
- "I've told you a million times"

Alliteration: Repetition of beginning sounds

- "Peter Piper picked..."

IDENTIFYING FIGURES OF SPEECH:

In Your Drama/Prose Text:

- Look for comparisons
- Find "like" or "as" = simile
- Find "is/are" with unusual comparison = metaphor
- Look for opposite situations = irony
- Note the effect created

EVALUATION:

1. Define figures of speech and state their purpose
2. What is a simile? Give 5 examples
3. What is a metaphor? Give 5 examples
4. Explain the difference between simile and metaphor with examples
5. What is irony? Give 3 examples of different types

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Find 5 similes and 5 metaphors in your recommended texts (drama or prose). Write them down with page numbers
2. Create 10 similes and 10 metaphors of your own
3. Identify the figure of speech in each: (a) Life is a roller coaster (b) She sings like an angel (c) The stars danced in the sky (d) A fire station burned down (e) He is as strong as an ox
4. Write 5 sentences using similes and 5 using metaphors

5. Write a short paragraph (100 words) describing your school using at least 3 similes and 2 metaphors

WEEK 11 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɔ:/

THE LONG VOWEL /ɔ:/ (as in "door"):

Production:

- Tongue mid-back position
- Lips rounded and protruded
- Long, prolonged sound

Common Spellings:

- "or": door, floor, form, born, horn, torn, worn, sport, short, morning
- "au": August, author, daughter, cause, because, pause, fault
- "aw": law, draw, saw, raw, dawn, yawn, awful

Practice Words: door, floor, more, store, before, four, your, pour, born, torn, form, storm, short, sport, morning, call, tall, ball, walk, talk, law, saw, draw, bought, brought, thought

Practice Sentence: "Your daughter bought four balls and thought about sport before dawn this morning."

EVALUATION:

1. Produce /ɔ:/ sound correctly with 10 words
2. Differentiate /ɔ:/ from /ɒ/ with 5 minimal pairs
3. Identify /ɔ:/ words: (a) door (b) dog (c) caught (d) cot (e) sport
4. Write 5 sentences using /ɔ:/ words
5. List 5 different spelling patterns that produce /ɔ:/ sound with examples

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List 30 words with /ɔ:/ sound (covering different spellings: or, au, aw, ough, al)
2. Practice: "Your daughter bought four balls before dawn and thought about sport in the morning"
3. Create 5 minimal pairs: /ɔ:/ vs /ɒ/ and /ɔ:/ vs /əʊ/
4. Write 10 sentences using words with /ɔ:/ sound
5. Group these words by sound /ɔ:/ or /ɒ/: door, dog, bought, hot, sport, spot, call, doll, taught, top

WEEK 11 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: ADVERBIALS – FEATURES, FUNCTIONS, TYPES

DEFINITION: Adverbials are words, phrases, or clauses that function like adverbs, modifying verbs, adjectives, or entire sentences.

ADVERB vs. ADVERBIAL:

- Adverb: Single word (quickly, often, very)
- Adverbial: Can be word, phrase, or clause (very quickly, in the morning, when I arrived)

FEATURES OF ADVERBIALS:

1. Modify verbs, adjectives, other adverbs, or sentences
2. Answer questions: How? When? Where? Why? How often? To what extent?
3. Can be moved in sentence (flexible position)
4. Optional (not essential for grammatical correctness)
5. Various forms: single word, phrase, clause

TYPES OF ADVERBIALS:

1. ADVERBIALS OF MANNER (How?): Tell how an action is done

Forms:

- Single adverb: quickly, carefully, well
- Prepositional phrase: with care, in a hurry, in style
- Clause: as if he were angry

Examples:

- She spoke softly

- He left in a hurry
- She acted as if nothing happened

2. ADVERBIALS OF TIME (When?): Tell when an action occurs

Forms:

- Single adverb: yesterday, soon, now, today
- Prepositional phrase: in the morning, on Monday, at noon
- Clause: when I arrived, before she left

Examples:

- I will go tomorrow
- We met in the evening
- Call me when you arrive

3. ADVERBIALS OF PLACE (Where?): Tell where an action occurs

Forms:

- Single adverb: here, there, everywhere
- Prepositional phrase: in the room, at school, on the table
- Clause: where you left it

Examples:

- Come here
- She lives in Lagos
- Put it where you found it

4. ADVERBIALS OF FREQUENCY (How often?): Tell how often

Forms:

- Single adverb: always, usually, often, sometimes, rarely, never
- Prepositional phrase: every day, once a week
- Clause: whenever I can

Examples:

- I always wake up early
- We visit every Sunday
- Come whenever you want

5. ADVERBIALS OF DEGREE (To what extent?): Tell intensity or extent

Forms:

- Single adverb: very, quite, too, extremely, completely
- Prepositional phrase: to a great extent
- Clause: as much as possible

Examples:

- She is very tall
- He succeeded beyond expectations
- Try as hard as you can

6. ADVERBIALS OF REASON (Why?): Tell why something happens

Forms:

- Prepositional phrase: because of the rain, due to illness

- Clause: because he was sick, since she was tired

Examples:

- She stayed home because of the rain
- Because he was sick, he missed school

POSITION OF ADVERBIALS:

Beginning (Initial Position):

- Yesterday, I went to school
- Fortunately, nobody was hurt
- In the morning, we exercise

Middle (Medial Position):

- I often go there
- She always arrives early
- He is never late

End (Final Position):

- She spoke softly
- We will meet tomorrow
- They live in Lagos

Note: Some adverbials can move, others have fixed positions

- Adverbs of frequency usually go before main verb
- Adverbs of manner usually go after verb/object

FUNCTIONS OF ADVERBIALS:

1. Modify verbs:

- She runs quickly

2. Modify adjectives:

- He is very tall

3. Modify other adverbs:

- She spoke too quickly

4. Modify entire sentences:

- Unfortunately, we lost

5. Show relationships:

- Between actions and time/place/manner

6. Add information:

- About how, when, where, why, how often

COMMON ADVERBIAL PHRASES:

Time:

- in the morning, at night, on Monday, last week, next year

Place:

- at home, in the garden, on the table, under the tree

Manner:

- with care, in a hurry, like a professional

Frequency:

- every day, once a week, from time to time

IDENTIFYING ADVERBIALS:

Ask questions:

- How? → manner
- When? → time
- Where? → place
- Why? → reason
- How often? → frequency
- To what extent? → degree

Example Sentence: "Yesterday, I carefully walked to school because of the rain."

- Yesterday = time (When?)
- carefully = manner (How?)
- to school = place (Where?)
- because of the rain = reason (Why?)

EVALUATION:

1. Define adverbial and explain how it differs from an adverb
2. State 5 types of adverbials with 2 examples each
3. Identify the adverbials and their types: "Yesterday, she quickly ran to school because she was late."
4. Give 3 examples each of adverbials in: initial, medial, and final positions
5. What questions do adverbials answer?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write 10 sentences using different types of adverbials (at least one of each type)
2. Create adverbial phrases (not single words) for: time, place, manner, reason, frequency
3. Identify all adverbials and classify them: "Last week, my friend very carefully walked into the room because of the wet floor. She always moves slowly in such situations."
4. Rewrite these sentences, adding appropriate adverbials: (a) She spoke (b) We will meet (c) He studies (d) They arrived (e) I was happy
5. Explain the three positions where adverbials can appear in sentences with examples

WEEK 11 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: ASKING SPECIFIC QUESTIONS TO ELICIT STUDENT OPINIONS

OPINION QUESTIONS:

Definition: Questions that ask for personal views, judgments, or feelings about a topic. No single "correct" answer.

Purpose:

- Encourage critical thinking
- Personal engagement with text
- Apply to own life
- Evaluate and judge
- Express preferences

CHARACTERISTICS:

1. Subjective (based on personal view)
2. No right/wrong answer (opinions vary)
3. Require reasoning (support your opinion)
4. Based on text (but go beyond it)
5. Personal response (what YOU think)

TYPES OF OPINION QUESTIONS:

1. AGREEMENT/DISAGREEMENT: Do you agree or disagree?

Examples:

- Do you agree with the character's decision?
- Do you think the author is right?
- Should the character have acted differently?

How to Answer:

- State your position (agree/disagree)
- Give reasons
- Use examples from text
- Explain your thinking

2. EVALUATION/JUDGMENT: Judge the quality, rightness, goodness

Examples:

- Was the character's action right or wrong?
- Is this a good solution to the problem?
- Did the character make the best choice?

How to Answer:

- State your judgment
- Explain why
- Consider alternatives
- Use evidence

3. PERSONAL PREFERENCE: What do you prefer, like, favor?

Examples:

- Which character do you like best?

- What is your favorite part?
- Which solution do you prefer?

How to Answer:

- State preference clearly
- Explain reasons
- Compare options
- Give examples

4. APPLICATION TO SELF: Relate to your own life

Examples:

- What would you do in this situation?
- How would you feel?
- Have you experienced something similar?
- Would you make the same choice?

How to Answer:

- Connect to personal experience
- Explain your response
- Compare to character's action
- Be honest

5. ADVICE/RECOMMENDATION: What should be done?

Examples:

- What advice would you give the character?

- What should happen next?
- How would you solve this problem?

How to Answer:

- Give specific advice
- Explain why
- Consider consequences
- Be practical

SIGNAL WORDS FOR OPINION QUESTIONS:

- Do you think...?
- In your opinion...
- Do you agree...?
- What would you...?
- How do you feel...?
- Should...?
- Would you...?
- What is your view...?

HOW TO ANSWER OPINION QUESTIONS:

Structure:

1. State Your Opinion Clearly:

- "I think..."
- "In my opinion..."

- "I believe..."
- "I agree/disagree because..."

2. Give Reasons:

- "Firstly,..."
- "The reason is..."
- "This is because..."

3. Provide Evidence/Examples:

- From text
- From personal experience
- From general knowledge

4. Conclude:

- Restate opinion
- Sum up reasoning

SAMPLE PASSAGE:

"John found 10,000 naira on the school playground. No one was around. He thought about keeping it to buy the sneakers he wanted. But he remembered his father's teaching about honesty. He took the money to the principal's office. A week later, a poor woman came to claim it - it was all she had for her sick child's treatment."

Opinion Questions:

1. Agreement: "Do you agree with John's decision to return the money?"

Sample Answer: "Yes, I agree with John's decision. Honesty is more important than material things like sneakers. Also, the money was very important to someone else - a sick child needed it. John did the right thing by following his values."

2. Evaluation: "Was John's action right or wrong?"

Sample Answer: "John's action was absolutely right. He could have kept the money, but he chose to be honest. Because of his honesty, a sick child got the treatment needed. This shows that doing the right thing can save lives."

3. Personal Application: "What would you do in John's situation?"

Sample Answer: "I would do the same thing as John. Even though I might want something for myself, someone else's need is more important, especially if it's for medical treatment. I would feel guilty keeping money that isn't mine."

4. Advice: "What advice would you give to someone who finds money?"

Sample Answer: "I would advise them to try to find the owner or report it to authorities. Money lost could be someone's savings or emergency fund. By being honest, you help others and build good character."

TIPS FOR ANSWERING:

DO:

- State opinion clearly
- Give reasons
- Use examples
- Be honest
- Support with evidence
- Consider different views

DON'T:

- Just say "yes" or "no"
- Leave it unsupported

- Copy from text without thinking
- Be vague
- Contradict yourself

PRACTICE:

Passage: "A student saw his friend cheating during an exam. He knew his friend needed to pass to avoid repeating the class. He also knew cheating was wrong."

Opinion Questions:

1. Should the student report his friend?
2. What would you do in this situation?
3. Is it ever okay to cheat? Why or why not?
4. What advice would you give to the friend who is cheating?
5. How do you think the student felt when he saw his friend cheating?

EVALUATION:

1. What are opinion questions? How are they different from literal questions?
2. List 5 signal words/phrases that indicate opinion questions
3. Read this passage: "A girl had to choose between helping her sick grandmother or going to an important interview." Write 3 opinion questions about this passage
4. What should you include when answering an opinion question?
5. Answer this opinion question: "Do you think students should have homework every day? Why or why not?"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read any passage from your textbook. Write 5 different types of opinion questions: agreement, evaluation, preference, application, advice
2. For each opinion question you created in Q1, write a full answer (3-4 sentences) showing how to properly support your opinion
3. Explain the difference between: (a) A literal question and an opinion question (b) An interpretation question and an opinion question
4. Practice: Answer these opinion questions with full support: (a) Should students be allowed to use phones in school? (b) Is it better to have a few close friends or many acquaintances? (c) What is the most important subject in school?
5. Create 5 opinion questions about your prose or drama text and answer one of them fully

PRACTICE LETTER - SHARING NEWS:

45, Church Street,

Surulere,

Lagos State.

15th November, 2024.

Dear Amina,

How are you doing? I hope you, your parents, and your little brother are all in good health. I'm writing to share some exciting news with you!

You'll never guess what happened! I was chosen to represent our school at the inter-school debate competition next month. Remember how nervous I used to be about speaking in public? Well, I've been practicing, and our English teacher said I've improved a lot. The topic is "The Role of Youth in Nation Building," and I'm really excited about it.

Also, my elder brother got admission to study Medicine at the University of Lagos! We're all so proud of him. He's been working towards this for years, and it finally paid off. The whole family celebrated last weekend.

How are things at your school? Have you started preparing for your exams? I know you mentioned you were worried about Mathematics. If you need any help, I'd be happy to share the notes our teacher gave us.

Please give my warm regards to your parents. I miss our conversations and hope we can see each other soon. Maybe you can visit during the mid-term break?

Your best friend,

- ✓ Appropriate closing
- ✓ Natural, conversational language

COMMON MISTAKES TO AVOID:

1. Too formal:

- ✗ "I am writing this epistle to inform you..."
- ✓ "I'm writing to tell you..."

2. Too brief:

- ✗ One paragraph only
- ✓ At least 3 paragraphs

3. Forgetting to ask about recipient:

- ✗ Only talking about yourself
- ✓ Ask about their welfare and life

4. Wrong closing:

- ✗ "Yours faithfully" (that's formal!)
- ✓ "Yours lovingly," "Your friend,"

5. Including recipient's address:

- Not needed in informal letters

6. Being too stiff:

- Should sound like talking to friend

TRANSITION WORDS FOR INFORMAL LETTERS:

To add information:

- Also, Besides, By the way, Additionally

To show time:

- Recently, Last week, Yesterday, Soon, Later

To show contrast:

- However, But, Although, On the other hand

To give examples:

- For example, For instance, Like

To conclude:

- Finally, In conclusion, Anyway, So

EVALUATION:

1. List the 6 parts of an informal letter in correct order
2. Write an appropriate opening paragraph for an informal letter to your cousin
3. What are 5 common purposes of informal letters?
4. Write 3 appropriate closings for informal letters
5. What makes language in informal letters different from formal letters?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete informal letter (250 words) to your friend: (a) Sharing news about a recent school event OR (b) Inviting them to visit during holidays OR (c) Thanking them for a gift
2. Write the opening, middle, and closing paragraphs for: (a) A letter congratulating a friend on their success (b) A letter apologizing for missing their birthday (c) A letter giving advice about choosing subjects
3. Compare these two letters (one formal, one informal) and list 8 differences you observe [provide sample letters]
4. Correct these informal letter mistakes: (a) Using "Dear Sir" to address a friend (b) Writing recipient's address (c) Using "Yours faithfully" as closing (d) Too formal language throughout
5. Write 5 warm opening sentences and 5 friendly closing sentences suitable for informal letters

TOPIC: RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT; FIGURES OF SPEECH – SIMILE, METAPHOR, IRONY (CONTINUED)

PART A: DRAMA TEXT STUDY (Continued)

By Week 11, students should have covered most of the drama text.

Focus Areas:

1. COMPLETE PLOT SUMMARY:

- Act I: [Summary of events]
- Act II: [Summary of events]

- How major characters have changed
- Character relationships evolved
- Conflicts resolved or ongoing

3. THEMES:

- Main themes fully developed
- Evidence throughout play
- Author's message clear

4. DRAMATIC TECHNIQUES:

- Dialogue effectiveness
- Use of stage directions

- Dramatic irony
- Soliloquy/Aside usage
- Climax and resolution

5. SETTING SIGNIFICANCE:

- How setting affects plot
- Time period importance
- Place influence on characters

STUDY QUESTIONS FOR DRAMA TEXT:

Plot:

1. Summarize the plot in 5 sentences
2. What is the main conflict?
3. When does the climax occur?
4. How is the conflict resolved?
5. What is the most important event?

Characters:

1. Who is the protagonist and antagonist?
2. How does the protagonist change?

4. Which character do you admire? Why?
5. Which character faces the biggest challenge?

Themes:

1. What are 3 main themes?

2. How is each theme developed?
3. What is the author's message?
4. Which theme is most important?
5. How do themes relate to real life?

Dramatic Elements:

1. Give an example of dramatic irony
2. Find an important soliloquy
3. How do stage directions help understanding?
4. What is the significance of the setting?
5. How does dialogue reveal character?

REVIEW:

1. SIMILE: Comparison using like/as 2. METAPHOR: Direct comparison without like/as 3. IRONY: Opposite of what's expected

ADVANCED PRACTICE:

IDENTIFYING IN TEXTS:

From Drama/Prose: Look for:

- Comparisons (simile/metaphor)
- Unexpected outcomes (irony)
- Descriptive language
- Powerful imagery

Example from Text: "Her heart was like stone" - SIMILE "Her heart was stone" - METAPHOR
Character says "I'll never leave" but leaves immediately - IRONY

CREATING FIGURES OF SPEECH:

Simile Creation:

Formula: [subject] is like [comparison]

Examples:

- Her voice is like honey
- The classroom is as cold as ice
- He runs like the wind
- She is as gentle as a lamb

Your Turn: Create similes for:

- A busy market → "The market is like a beehive"
- A difficult exam → "The exam was as hard as climbing a mountain"
- A kind teacher → "Our teacher is like a second mother"

Metaphor Creation:

Formula: [subject] is [comparison]

Examples:

- Time is money
- She is sunshine
- The world is a stage
- Life is a journey

Your Turn: Create metaphors for:

- A book → "This book is a treasure"
- Knowledge → "Knowledge is power"
- Hope → "Hope is a light in darkness"

Irony Creation:

Think of opposites:

- What's unexpected?
- What's contradictory?
- What's surprising?

Examples:

- A doctor who is always sick (situational)
- "Oh wonderful!" when something bad happens (verbal)
- In a play, audience knows danger but character doesn't (dramatic)

ANALYZING EFFECT:

Why Authors Use These:

Simile/Metaphor:

- Make description vivid
- Help readers visualize
- Create memorable images
- Express complex ideas simply
- Add beauty to language

Irony:

- Create humor
- Show contrast
- Emphasize point
- Surprise audience
- Make readers think

FINDING FIGURES OF SPEECH:In Your Texts:*Steps:

1. Read carefully
2. Look for comparisons
3. Check for "like" or "as" (simile)
4. Check for direct comparison (metaphor)
5. Note unexpected situations (irony)
6. Record page numbers
7. Explain the effect

Recording Format:

- Quote: "Her smile was like sunshine"
- Type: Simile
- Page: 45
- Effect: Shows she has a bright, warm smile that makes others happy

PRACTICE EXERCISES:

Exercise 1: Identify the Figure of Speech:

1. "Life is a roller coaster" - METAPHOR
2. "She sings like an angel" - SIMILE
3. A fire station burns down - IRONY (situational)
4. "The stars danced in the sky" - PERSONIFICATION (bonus!)
5. "He is as brave as a lion" - SIMILE
6. "What lovely weather!" (during storm) - IRONY (verbal)
7. "The world is your oyster" - METAPHOR
8. "Her eyes were diamonds" - METAPHOR

Exercise 2: Create Your Own:

Similes for:

- Happy child → "The child was as happy as..."
- Fast car → "The car moved like..."
- Beautiful sunset → "The sunset was like..."

Metaphors for:

- Difficult problem → "This problem is..."
- Good friend → "A good friend is..."
- Busy city → "The city is..."

Exercise 3: Find in Your Text:

From your drama or prose text, find:

- 3 similes (with page numbers)
- 3 metaphors (with page numbers)
- 2 examples of irony (describe the situation)

OTHER FIGURES OF SPEECH:

PERSONIFICATION: Giving human qualities to non-human things

- "The wind whispered secrets"
- "Death knocked on his door"
- "The sun smiled down"

HYPERBOLE: Extreme exaggeration for effect

- "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse"
- "I've told you a million times"
- "She's older than the hills"

ALLITERATION: Repetition of beginning consonant sounds

- "Peter Piper picked a peck..."
- "She sells seashells..."
- "Big brown bear"

ONOMATOPOEIA: Words that sound like what they mean

- Buzz, hiss, bang, crash, meow, moo

USING FIGURES OF SPEECH IN WRITING:

Tips:

- Don't overuse (too many becomes confusing)

- Make them original (avoid clichés like "white as snow")
- Make them relevant (fit the context)
- Make them clear (readers should understand)

Good: "Her eyes sparkled like stars in the night sky" Overused: "Her eyes were as bright as stars" (cliché)

EXAM PREPARATION:

Common Questions:

1. Identify the figure of speech in this line: " ____ "
2. Explain the meaning of this metaphor/simile
3. What effect does this figure of speech create?
4. Find two examples of similes in the passage
5. Create a metaphor for [subject]

How to Answer:

- Identify correctly
- Quote if asked
- Explain the meaning
- Discuss the effect
- Give examples when asked

EVALUATION:

1. Define and give 2 examples each of: simile, metaphor, irony

2. Identify the figure of speech: (a) "Life is a journey" (b) "He runs like a cheetah" (c) A water truck runs out of water (d) "The classroom is a zoo" (e) "She is as sweet as honey"
3. From your drama/prose text, find one example each of simile and metaphor (write quote and page number)
4. Create 3 similes and 3 metaphors about school life
5. Explain the difference between simile and metaphor using examples

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Complete study of your drama text. Write: (a) Complete plot summary (300 words) (b) Analysis of protagonist (200 words) (c) Three main themes with evidence (250 words) (d) Personal response: What did you learn? (150 words)
2. Find 10 figures of speech (similes, metaphors, or irony) in your drama or prose text. For each: (a) Write the quote (b) Give page number (c) Identify the type (d) Explain the effect
3. Create 5 original similes and 5 original metaphors about:
 - Your school
 - Your favorite season
 - Friendship
 - Learning
 - Nigeria
4. Write a short paragraph (100 words) describing a market place using at least 3 similes and 2 metaphors
5. Explain these figures of speech found in literature: (a) "Her smile was sunshine" - what does this mean? What effect does it create? (b) "The classroom buzzed like a beehive" - what does this mean? Why is it effective? (c) A lifeguard drowns - what type of irony? Why is it ironic?

JSS1 ENGLISH STUDIES LESSON NOTES

SECOND TERM

WEEK 1 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUNDS /u/ AND /u:/

CONTENT:

The Short Vowel Sound /u/

- This is a short, relaxed sound produced with lips slightly rounded
- The tongue is raised towards the back of the mouth
- Examples: book, look, cook, good, foot, put, pull, full, wood, stood, hook, took, could, should, would

The Long Vowel Sound /u:/

- This is a longer sound with lips more tightly rounded
- The tongue is raised higher at the back
- Examples: food, mood, moon, soon, spoon, school, cool, pool, tool, boot, root, shoot, troop, group, soup

Key Differences:

- /u/ is SHORT and relaxed (as in "book")
- /u:/ is LONG and tense (as in "boot")
- Incorrect pronunciation can change meaning: "fool" /u:/ vs "full" /u/

Practice Pairs:

- look /u/ - Luke /u:/

- pull /u/ - pool /u:/
- soot /u/ - suit /u:/
- good /u/ - food /u:/

EVALUATION:

1. Pronounce these words correctly: book, boot, look, Luke, full, fool
2. Which vowel sound /u/ or /u:/ appears in: (a) school (b) wood (c) moon (d) foot (e) soup
3. Give five words containing the /u/ sound
4. Give five words containing the /u:/ sound
5. Pronounce and differentiate: pull/pool, look/Luke, good/food

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten words containing the /u/ sound
2. Write ten words containing the /u:/ sound
3. Write five sentences using words with /u/ sound
4. Write five sentences using words with /u:/ sound
5. Create five word pairs that show the difference between /u/ and /u:/ sounds

WEEK 1 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: ADVERBIALS – FREQUENCY AND MANNER

Adverbials of Frequency These tell us HOW OFTEN an action happens.

Common Adverbials of Frequency:

- Always (100%)
- Usually/Normally/Generally (90%)
- Often/Frequently (70%)
- Sometimes/Occasionally (50%)
- Seldom/Rarely (10%)
- Never (0%)
- Daily, weekly, monthly, yearly
- Once, twice, three times (a day/week/month)

Position in Sentences:

- Usually before the main verb: "She always comes early"
- After the verb 'to be': "He is always late"
- At the beginning or end for emphasis: "Sometimes I walk to school"

Examples:

- I always do my homework
- They usually play football on Saturdays
- We rarely go to the cinema
- She is never absent from school
- He visits his grandmother twice a month

Adverbials of Manner These tell us HOW an action is performed.

Formation: Most are formed by adding -ly to adjectives

- Quick → quickly
- Careful → carefully
- Beautiful → beautifully
- Quiet → quietly

Irregular Forms:

- Good → well
- Fast → fast
- Hard → hard
- Late → late

Position in Sentences:

- Usually after the verb or object: "She speaks English fluently"
- Can come at the beginning for emphasis: "Carefully, he opened the door"

Examples:

- The boy ran quickly
- She sings beautifully
- He answered the question correctly
- They worked hard on the project
- The baby sleeps peacefully

EVALUATION:

1. Define adverbials of frequency and give five examples

2. Arrange in order from most frequent to least frequent: rarely, always, sometimes, never, often
3. Form adverbs of manner from: slow, happy, bad, good, easy
4. Write three sentences using adverbials of frequency
5. Write three sentences using adverbials of manner

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List ten adverbials of frequency
2. List ten adverbials of manner
3. Write five sentences using both adverbials of frequency and manner in each sentence
4. Identify the adverbials in these sentences and state their types: (a) She always sings beautifully (b) They rarely speak loudly (c) He often works hard
5. Rewrite these sentences adding appropriate adverbials: (a) I go to church (b) She completed the task (c) They play football

WEEK 1 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: ASKING SPECIFIC QUESTIONS REQUIRING CONCLUSIONS

What are Conclusion Questions? These are questions that require you to:

- Make inferences from the passage
- Draw logical conclusions based on given information
- Go beyond what is directly stated
- Use reasoning and evidence from the text

Types of Conclusion Questions:

1. "What can we conclude/infer from the passage?"
2. "The passage suggests that..."
3. "Based on the information, we can say that..."
4. "Why do you think...?" (requiring reasoning)
5. "What is the main idea/lesson/message?"

How to Answer Conclusion Questions:

Step 1: Read the passage carefully Step 2: Identify key facts and details Step 3: Look for patterns, causes, and effects Step 4: Think about what the facts suggest Step 5: Make logical connections Step 6: Support your conclusion with evidence from the text

Sample Passage: "Amina woke up at 5:30 AM every morning. She studied for two hours before breakfast. During break time at school, while others played, she revised her notes. Her teachers often praised her. At the end of term, she received the Best Student Award."

Direct Question: When did Amina wake up? Answer: 5:30 AM (stated directly)

Conclusion Questions:

1. What can we conclude about Amina's character?

- Answer: She is hardworking, dedicated, and disciplined (we infer this from her actions)

2. Why do you think Amina received the Best Student Award?

- Answer: Because she was committed to her studies and made sacrifices to excel (we conclude from the evidence)

Key Signal Words in Conclusion Questions:

- Infer, conclude, suggest, imply
- Probably, likely, presumably
- Why, how, what caused
- Main idea, purpose, lesson

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

- Making wild guesses without evidence
- Including personal opinions unrelated to the text
- Copying direct statements instead of inferring
- Ignoring important details in the passage

EVALUATION: Read the passage and answer the questions:

"The village marketplace was empty. The shops were closed, and no traders displayed their goods. Streets that usually buzzed with activity were silent. Only a few people hurried past, their faces covered. The town crier's bell had announced the news at dawn."

1. What can we conclude about what happened in the village?
2. Why do you think people's faces were covered?
3. What does "the town crier's bell had announced the news at dawn" suggest?
4. How would you describe the atmosphere in the village? Give reasons from the passage.

5. Explain the difference between a direct question and a conclusion question using examples from the passage.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read any short story or article of your choice (200-300 words)
2. Write three direct questions and their answers from the passage
3. Write three conclusion questions and their answers from the passage
4. Explain how you arrived at your conclusions for question 3
5. State three signal words that help identify conclusion questions

Dear Ma,

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO ATTEND MY SISTER'S WEDDING

I write to request permission to be absent from school on Friday, 25th October, 2025.

My elder sister's wedding ceremony has been scheduled for that date. As a member of the family, my presence is important and required. The ceremony will take place in our hometown in Ibadan, Oyo State.

I promise to collect notes from my classmates and make up for any work missed during my absence. I will also ensure that I catch up with all lessons taught on that day.

I hope you will grant my request. Thank you for your understanding.

Yours faithfully,

WEEK 1 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: FOLKTALES – AFRICAN TALES (FEATURES: DIDACTIC, ENTERTAINMENT, MAGICAL); RECOMMENDED PROSE TEXT

CONTENT:

What are Folktales? Folktales are traditional stories passed down orally from generation to generation. They are part of the cultural heritage of a people and teach important lessons about life, values, and society.

Origin of African Folktales:

- Told by elders to children
- Performed around evening fires
- Passed from parents to children
- Part of African oral tradition
- Preserve history, culture, and values

Features of African Folktales:

1. DIDACTIC (Teaching Moral Lessons)

- Every folktale teaches a lesson
- Lessons about good behavior, honesty, kindness, hard work, respect
- Shows consequences of bad behavior
- Examples of lessons:
 - "Honesty is the best policy"
 - "Greed leads to destruction"

- "Pride comes before a fall"
- "Kindness is rewarded"

2. ENTERTAINMENT

- Told to amuse and entertain
- Use of humor and interesting characters
- Exciting plots and adventures
- Call and response patterns
- Songs and chants included
- Dramatic performances

3. MAGICAL ELEMENTS

- Animals talk and behave like humans
- Supernatural powers and events
- Magical transformations
- Use of charms and spells
- Extraordinary happenings
- Mythical creatures

Other Features:

- Simple Language: Easy to understand
- Repetition: Phrases and events repeated for emphasis
- Stock Characters: Tortoise (cunning), Lion (brave), Spider (trickster)
- Formulaic Opening: "Once upon a time..." "Long, long ago..."
- Formulaic Ending: "That is why..." "And that is the end of the story"

Common Characters in African Folktales:

- Tortoise (Ijapa): Cunning, clever, greedy, sometimes foolish
- Spider (Anansi): Trickster, wise, clever
- Hare: Quick, witty, small but smart
- Lion: King, brave, powerful
- Hyena: Foolish, greedy, laughable
- Humans: Kings, farmers, hunters, beautiful maidens

Types of African Folktales:

1. Animal Tales: Stories where animals are main characters
2. Trickster Tales: Stories about clever characters who outwit others
3. Origin Tales: Stories that explain why things are the way they are
4. Moral Tales: Stories that directly teach lessons

Example Summary - "Why Tortoise Has a Cracked Shell": Long ago, Tortoise was invited to a feast in the sky. He borrowed feathers from birds to fly. At the feast, he tricked the birds and ate all the food. Angry, the birds took back their feathers. Tortoise fell from the sky and his shell cracked into pieces. That is why tortoise has a cracked shell today.

Lessons: Greed is punished; Trickery has consequences

Elements Present:

- Didactic: Teaches against greed
- Entertainment: Humorous and interesting
- Magical: Animals talk, tortoise flies, feast in the sky

Functions of Folktales:

- Educate children about morals and values
- Preserve cultural traditions
- Entertain and bond communities
- Explain natural phenomena
- Pass down history and wisdom
- Develop imagination and creativity

EVALUATION:

1. Define folktales and explain their origin in African culture
2. Explain the three main features of African folktales with examples
3. List five common characters in African folktales and describe their traits
4. Why are folktales important in African society? Give three reasons

- Fruit juice is good for you
- Who knew the truth about the clue?

Exceptions (words that look like /u:/ but are not):

- book, look, cook, good, foot = /ʊ/ (short sound)
- flood, blood = /ʌ/ (different sound)

Articulation Tips:

- Round your lips tightly as if whistling
- Keep the sound long and steady
- Raise the back of your tongue
- The sound should feel tense, not relaxed

EVALUATION:

1. Produce the /u:/ sound and give ten words containing this sound
2. Identify the spelling pattern of /u:/ in these words: (a) blue (b) food (c) grew (d) fruit (e) rule
3. Which of these words contain the /u:/ sound: book, boot, moon, good, juice, foot?
4. Write five sentences using words with the /u:/ sound
5. Explain the difference between /u/ and /u:/ sounds using examples

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List ten words with "oo" spelling that produce the /u:/ sound
2. List five words each with "ew," "ue," and "ui" spellings that produce /u:/ sound
3. Write ten sentences using different words with /u:/ sound
4. Identify words with /u:/ sound in this sentence: "The rude youth threw his blue shoe through the school room"
5. Practice reading this passage aloud, paying attention to /u:/ sounds: "In June, the new student knew the rules. He would choose fruit juice at noon and move to his room to do his school work."

WEEK 2 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: TENSES – SIMPLE PRESENT TENSE

What is the Simple Present Tense? The Simple Present Tense is used to describe actions that happen regularly, facts, habits, general truths, and permanent situations.

Formation of Simple Present Tense:

For Regular Verbs:

- I/You/We/They + base form of verb
 - I play, You eat, We run, They sing
- He/She/It + base form + s/es
 - He plays, She eats, It runs, Mary sings

Rules for Adding -s or -es:

1. Add -s to most verbs:
 - work → works, play → plays, eat → eats, sleep → sleeps
2. Add -es to verbs ending in -s, -sh, -ch, -x, -z, -o:
 - wash → washes, teach → teaches, go → goes, fix → fixes, buzz → buzzes
3. For verbs ending in consonant + y, change y to i and add -es:
 - cry → cries, fly → flies, try → tries, study → studies
4. For verbs ending in vowel + y, just add -s:
 - play → plays, enjoy → enjoys, say → says

Uses of Simple Present Tense:

1. Habits and Routines:
 - I wake up at 6 AM every day

- She brushes her teeth twice daily
- They go to church on Sundays

2. General Truths and Facts:

- The sun rises in the east
- Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius
- Birds fly in the sky
- Nigeria is in West Africa

3. Permanent Situations:

- I live in Lagos
- My father works in a bank
- She speaks three languages

4. Scheduled Events:

- The train leaves at 8 PM
- School starts at 7:30 AM
- The match begins at 4 PM

Negative Form:

- I/You/We/They + do not (don't) + base verb
 - I don't like rice
 - They don't play football
- He/She/It + does not (doesn't) + base verb
 - He doesn't eat meat
 - She doesn't live here

Question Form:

- Do + I/you/we/they + base verb?
 - Do you speak English?
 - Do they go to school?
- Does + he/she/it + base verb?
 - Does he play tennis?
 - Does she know you?

Time Expressions Used with Simple Present:

- Always, usually, often, sometimes, rarely, never
- Every day/week/month/year
- On Mondays/Tuesdays, etc.
- In the morning/afternoon/evening
- At night

Examples:

- I study English every day
- My mother cooks delicious food
- The teacher explains the lesson clearly
- Dogs bark at strangers
- He doesn't smoke
- Do you understand the question?

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

- ✗ He go to school (Correct: He goes to school)
- ✗ She don't like it (Correct: She doesn't like it)

- ✗ Do he play? (Correct: Does he play?)

WEEK 2 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: ASKING PROJECTION QUESTIONS; VOCABULARY – THE LIBRARY

PART A: ASKING PROJECTION QUESTIONS

What are Projection Questions? Projection questions require readers to predict, imagine, or extend beyond the given text. They ask "What might happen next?" or "What would happen if...?"

Types of Projection Questions:

1. Prediction Questions:

- What do you think will happen next?
- How will the story end?
- What might the character do?

2. Hypothetical Questions:

- What would happen if...?
- How would you feel if...?
- What would you do in this situation?

3. Extension Questions:

- What might happen after the story ends?
- How could this situation be different?
- What other solutions are possible?

4. Personal Connection Questions:

- Have you experienced something similar?
- How would you react in this situation?
- What would you do differently?

How to Answer Projection Questions:

- Base predictions on clues in the text
- Use logical reasoning
- Consider character traits and motivations
- Think about cause and effect
- Use your imagination while staying realistic
- Support your answer with evidence from the passage

Sample Passage: "Tunde had studied for only one hour the night before the examination. His friends had studied for weeks. As he sat in the examination hall looking at the questions, his hands began to shake. The questions looked unfamiliar."

Projection Questions & Answers:

1. What do you think will happen to Tunde in the exam?
 - Answer: Tunde will likely perform poorly because he didn't prepare adequately, unlike his friends who studied for weeks.
2. What might Tunde do differently next time?
 - Answer: He might start studying earlier and prepare more thoroughly for his examinations.
3. What would you do if you were in Tunde's situation?
 - Answer: I would try to stay calm, answer the questions I know, and learn from this experience to prepare better next time.

Signal Words for Projection Questions:

- What might/could/would...?
- Predict, imagine, suppose
- If..., then...?

- What do you think...?
- How would...?

Sample Letter 1: Request for Facilities

12, Benson Street,
Surulere,
Lagos State.
20th October, 2025.

The Principal,
Kings College,
Surulere,
Lagos State.

Dear Sir,

REQUEST FOR LIBRARY EXTENSION HOURS

I write on behalf of the students of JSS 1 to request for extension of the library opening hours.

Currently, the library closes at 3 PM, which is the same time our lessons end. This does not give us adequate time to use the library facilities for research and private study. Many students wish to spend more time reading and doing assignments in the library.

We respectfully request that the library hours be extended to 5 PM on weekdays. This will enable students to benefit more from the library resources and improve our academic performance.

We hope you will consider this request favorably. Thank you for your attention.

Yours faithfully,

[Signature]

Adebayo Oluwaseun

Library Prefect, JSS 1

Sample Letter 2: Complaint Letter

22, Unity Road,

Kano,

Kano State.

20th October, 2025.

The Vice Principal (Administration),

Government Secondary School,

Kano,

Kano State.

Dear Ma,

COMPLAINT ABOUT DAMAGED CLASSROOM WINDOWS

I wish to bring to your attention the poor condition of windows in our classroom, JSS 1C.

Several windows in the classroom are broken and have been in this state for two months. During rainy days, water enters the classroom and damages our books and notes. The broken windows also allow dust and insects into the classroom, making learning uncomfortable.

We request that the windows be repaired as soon as possible to provide a conducive learning environment for students.

Thank you for your understanding and anticipated prompt action.

Yours faithfully,

[Signature]

Maryam Ibrahim

Class Captain, JSS 1C

Points to Remember:

- State your purpose clearly in the first paragraph
- Provide necessary details in the middle
- Be respectful even when complaining

- Suggest solutions where possible
- Keep it brief (3-4 paragraphs)
- Use "Yours faithfully" for formal titles (Principal, Vice Principal)
- Include your class if you're a student
- Check for errors before submitting

Common Topics:

- Request to organize an excursion
- Complaint about cafeteria services
- Request for sports equipment
- Permission to use school hall for event
- Request for extra classes
- Complaint about broken furniture
- Request for improved sanitation

EVALUATION:

1. List four types of letters you can write to school authority
2. Write out the proper format for addressing a letter to your school Principal
3. What is the appropriate complimentary close for a letter to "The Principal"?
4. Give three examples of topics you might write to school authority about
5. Rewrite this sentence formally: "Please sir, I want you to fix our class chairs because they are all spoilt"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a formal letter to your Principal requesting permission to organize a debate competition in your school
2. Write a formal letter to the Vice Principal complaining about the lack of water in the school toilets
3. List five phrases commonly used to open formal letters to school authority
4. List five phrases commonly used to close formal letters politely
5. Explain why it is important to be respectful when writing complaint letters to school authority

WEEK 2 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO POETRY – DEFINITION, FEATURES (CONCISE, UNIQUE, ETC.)

CONTENT:

What is Poetry? Poetry is a type of literature that uses carefully chosen words, rhythm, and imagery to express feelings, ideas, and experiences in a creative and artistic way. It appeals to emotions and imagination.

Differences Between Poetry and Prose:

Poetry:

- Written in lines and stanzas
- Uses rhythm and sometimes rhyme
- More compact and concentrated
- Uses figurative language heavily
- Often emotional and imaginative
- Can be read aloud with musical quality

Prose:

- Written in sentences and paragraphs
- No specific rhythm pattern
- More straightforward
- Less figurative language
- Can be fiction or non-fiction

- Everyday language

Features of Poetry:

1. CONCISE (Brief and Compact)

- Poetry uses few words to express big ideas
- Every word is carefully chosen
- No unnecessary words
- Compact expression of thoughts and feelings
- Example: "The sun smiles" (instead of "The sun is shining brightly and looks happy")

2. UNIQUE/CREATIVE USE OF LANGUAGE

- Poets use words in special ways
- Creative word arrangements
- Fresh and original expressions
- Unexpected word combinations
- Plays with meaning and sound

3. LINES AND STANZAS

- Line: A single row of words in a poem
- Stanza: A group of lines forming a unit (like a paragraph)
- Poems are divided into stanzas, not paragraphs
- Line breaks are meaningful

4. RHYTHM AND METER

- Rhythm: Pattern of stressed and unstressed syllables
- Creates musical quality

- Makes poetry pleasant to hear
- Can be regular or free

5. RHYME

- Rhyme: Similar sounds at the end of lines
- Examples: cat/hat, moon/soon, day/way
- Not all poems rhyme
- Rhyme scheme: Pattern of rhyme (AABB, ABAB, etc.)

6. FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE

- Simile: Comparison using "like" or "as" (Her smile is like sunshine)
- Metaphor: Direct comparison (Her smile is sunshine)
- Personification: Giving human qualities to non-human things (The wind whispered)
- Imagery: Descriptive language appealing to senses

7. EMOTIONAL AND IMAGINATIVE

- Expresses feelings (love, joy, sadness, anger)
- Appeals to imagination
- Creates mental pictures
- Touches the heart

8. THEME

- Central message or idea
- What the poem is about
- Common themes: love, nature, death, freedom, childhood

Types of Poetry:

1. Narrative Poetry:

- Tells a story
- Has characters and plot
- Example: Epics, ballads

2. Lyric Poetry:

- Expresses personal feelings
- Musical quality
- Example: Odes, sonnets

3. Descriptive Poetry:

- Describes scenes, people, things
- Rich in imagery

4. Free Verse:

- No regular rhythm or rhyme
- Modern style
- Flexible form

Sample Poem:

THE RAIN

By Anonymous

The rain falls softly on the roof,

Pitter-patter, gentle and aloof,

Washing the earth with loving care,

Bringing freshness everywhere.

Plants dance in joyful celebration,

Children run in happy recreation,

The rain brings life to all around,

What a beautiful, soothing sound!

Analysis:

- Concise: Uses simple words to paint a picture
- Lines and Stanzas: Two stanzas of four lines each
- Rhyme: roof/aloof, care/everywhere (AABB pattern)
- Rhythm: Regular beat throughout
- Figurative Language: "Plants dance" (personification), "washing the earth with loving care" (personification)
- Imagery: We can hear and see the rain
- Theme: Rain brings life and joy

How to Read Poetry:

- Read slowly
- Pay attention to word choice
- Notice rhythm and sound
- Look for imagery and figurative language
- Think about feelings and emotions

- Read aloud to hear the musical quality
- Don't worry if you don't understand everything at first

Elements to Look for When Reading Poems:

- Title (gives clues about the poem)
- Speaker (who is talking?)
- Tone (mood of the poem)
- Setting (where and when?)
- Theme (main message)
- Poetic devices used

EVALUATION:

1. Define poetry and state three ways it differs from prose
2. Explain five features of poetry with examples
3. What is the difference between a line and a stanza in poetry?
4. Identify the figurative language in these expressions: (a) The stars danced in the sky (b) Her voice is as sweet as honey (c) Time is money
5. Read the sample poem "The Rain" and identify: (a) the rhyme scheme (b) one example of personification (c) the theme

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a simple four-line poem about your school with a clear rhyme scheme

2. Define these poetic terms with examples: (a) simile (b) metaphor (c) personification (d) imagery (e) stanza
3. Identify three features of poetry in any poem you have read
4. Explain why poetry is described as "concise" and "unique"
5. State the title, author, and brief summary (5 sentences) of your recommended prose text for this term

WEEK 3 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɑ:/

The Long Vowel Sound /ɑ:/

- This is a long, open vowel sound produced at the back of the mouth
- The mouth is wide open
- The tongue is low and flat
- The lips are not rounded
- It is similar to the sound a doctor asks you to make when examining your throat: "Ahhh"

Spelling Patterns for /ɑ:/ Sound:

1. "ar" spelling (most common):

- car, far, bar, jar, tar, star, scar
- arm, farm, harm, charm, alarm
- art, part, cart, start, heart, smart
- dark, park, mark, bark, shark
- card, hard, yard, guard, regard
- March, arch, starch
- large, charge, barge

2. "a" spelling (before certain consonants):

- father, rather
- bath, path, class, grass, pass, glass, task, ask, cast, fast, last, past, master

3. "al" spelling:

- calm, palm, balm, psalm
- half, calf

4. "ear" spelling:

- heart

5. "au/a" spelling (rare):

- aunt, laugh

British vs. American Pronunciation: Note: Some words have /ɑ:/ in British English but /æ/ in American English:

- bath, path, grass, class, dance, chance, plant

Common Words with /ɑ:/ Sound:

- afternoon, army, argue, article, artist
- banana (second 'a'), tomato (second 'a')
- barber, carpet, garden, market, party
- carve, starve, marble

Practice Sentences:

- The car is parked in the dark yard
- My father is a smart artist
- The shark swims far in the large water
- Martha's heart was calm at the party
- The guard marched past the farm

Words That Look Similar But Sound Different:

- war, warm, ward = /ɔ:/ sound (NOT /ɑ:/)
- carry, marry, Harry = /æ/ sound (NOT /ɑ:/)

Articulation Tips:

- Open your mouth wide
- Keep tongue flat and low
- Don't round your lips
- Make the sound long and clear
- Think of the sound when you're at the doctor

Practice Pairs:

- had /æ/ - hard /ɑ:/
- cap /æ/ - carp /ɑ:/
- mad /æ/ - marred /ɑ:/
- cat /æ/ - cart /ɑ:/

EVALUATION:

1. Produce the /ɑ:/ sound correctly and explain how it is articulated
2. Give ten words containing the /ɑ:/ sound using "ar" spelling
3. Identify which words contain /ɑ:/ sound: (a) car (b) carry (c) dark (d) war (e) farm (f) warm (g) part (h) party
4. Write the /ɑ:/ sound words from this sentence: "The farmer's smart daughter walked to the large market in the dark"
5. Explain the difference in pronunciation between: (a) had/hard (b) cat/cart (c) pat/part

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List fifteen words with "ar" spelling that contain the /ɑ:/ sound

2. List five words each with "a" and "al" spellings that produce the /ɑ:/ sound
3. Write ten sentences using words with /ɑ:/ sound, underlining the words
4. Read aloud and practice: "Martha's father is a barber at the market. He starts work before dark and parks his car in the yard"
5. Identify and correct the pronunciation errors in these words if mispronounced with wrong vowel sounds: farm, warm, class, carry, march

WEEK 3 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: TENSES – SIMPLE PAST TENSE

What is the Simple Past Tense? The Simple Past Tense is used to describe actions that happened and were completed in the past. It shows that something started and finished at a specific time in the past.

Formation of Simple Past Tense:

Regular Verbs: Base form + ed

Rules for Adding -ed:

1. Most verbs - add -ed:

- walk → walked
- play → played
- talk → talked
- work → worked
- listen → listened

2. Verbs ending in -e - add only -d:

- live → lived
- move → moved
- dance → danced
- arrive → arrived
- hope → hoped

3. Verbs ending in consonant + y - change y to i and add -ed:

- cry → cried
- study → studied

- try → tried
- carry → carried
- worry → worried

4. Verbs ending in vowel + y - just add -ed:

- play → played
- enjoy → enjoyed
- stay → stayed
- pray → prayed

5. One-syllable verbs ending in consonant-vowel-consonant - double the final consonant and add -ed:

- stop → stopped
- plan → planned
- drop → dropped
- shop → shopped
- clap → clapped

Irregular Verbs: These verbs do not follow the -ed rule. They have special past tense forms that must be memorized:

- go → went
- come → came
- see → saw
- eat → ate
- drink → drank

- run → ran
- sit → sat
- stand → stood
- write → wrote
- read → read (pronunciation changes)
- buy → bought
- bring → brought
- teach → taught
- catch → caught
- think → thought
- take → took
- make → made
- give → gave
- get → got
- have/has → had
- do/does → did
- is/am/are → was/were
- say → said
- tell → told
- sleep → slept
- leave → left
- meet → met
- find → found

- lose → lost
- break → broke
- speak → spoke
- drive → drove
- fly → flew
- know → knew
- grow → grew
- begin → began
- sing → sang
- swim → swam
- drink → drank

Uses of Simple Past Tense:

1. Completed actions in the past:

- I visited my grandmother yesterday
- She finished her homework last night
- They traveled to Abuja last month

2. Past habits (no longer true):

- I lived in Lagos when I was young
- He played football every weekend
- We went to the beach every summer

3. Series of completed actions:

- I woke up, brushed my teeth, and went to school

- She entered the room, greeted everyone, and sat down

Negative Form:

- Subject + did not (didn't) + base verb
 - I didn't go to school yesterday
 - She didn't eat lunch
 - They didn't see the movie
 - He didn't finish his work

Note: Use the base form of the verb after "didn't," not the past tense.

- ✓ I didn't go (Correct)
- ✗ I didn't went (Wrong)

Question Form:

- Did + subject + base verb...?
 - Did you see him?
 - Did she finish the book?
 - Did they arrive on time?
 - Did he play football?

Time Expressions Used with Simple Past:

- Yesterday
- Last (night/week/month/year/Monday, etc.)
- Ago (two days ago, a week ago)

- In 2020, in 1999 (specific past years)
- When I was young
- During my childhood
- This morning (if morning is over)
- Just now

Examples:

- I played football yesterday
- She visited the museum last week
- They lived in Kano two years ago
- My father bought a car in 2023
- We didn't go to church last Sunday
- Did you see the accident?
- The teacher taught us English this morning
- I met my friend at the market

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

- ✗ I goed to school (Correct: I went)
- ✗ She didn't came (Correct: She didn't come)
- ✗ Did you went? (Correct: Did you go?)
- ✗ He don't go yesterday (Correct: He didn't go)
- ✗ They was happy (Correct: They were happy)

EVALUATION:

1. Define Simple Past Tense and state three uses with examples
2. Write the past tense form of these verbs: (a) study (b) run (c) stop (d) enjoy (e) see (f) teach (g) buy (h) carry (i) write (j) have
3. Change to Simple Past Tense: (a) I go to school (b) She eats rice (c) They play football (d) He reads books (e) We are happy
4. Change to negative: (a) I saw him yesterday (b) She came to school (c) They finished the work (d) He bought a new book (e) We went to the market
5. Change to questions: (a) You visited your uncle (b) She cooked rice yesterday (c) They arrived early (d) He played well (e) It rained last night

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write twenty irregular verbs and their past tense forms
2. Write a paragraph (10 sentences) about what you did last Sunday using Simple Past Tense
3. Fill in the blanks with the correct past tense form: (a) I _____ (go) to the market yesterday (b) She _____ (not/come) to school last week (c) They _____ (play) football last Saturday (d) _____ you _____ (see) the accident? (e) We _____ (be) happy at the party
4. Correct the errors: (a) I goed home (b) She didn't came (c) Did he went? (d) They was late (e) He don't finish yesterday
5. Change this passage from Present to Past Tense: "I wake up early. I brush my teeth and take my bath. I eat breakfast and go to school. I meet my friends and we play together."

WEEK 3 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: ASKING RECALL QUESTIONS; VOCABULARY – MARRIAGE-RELATED WORDS

PART A: ASKING RECALL QUESTIONS

What are Recall Questions? Recall questions are questions that require readers to remember and retrieve specific information directly stated in the passage. The answers are found word-for-word or very clearly in the text.

Characteristics of Recall Questions:

- Answers are explicitly stated in the text
- No inference or interpretation needed
- Test your memory of what you read
- Have clear, definite answers
- Focus on facts, details, and specific information

Types of Recall Questions:

1. Who Questions:

- Who is the main character?
- Who did...?
- Who said...?

2. What Questions:

- What happened?
- What did the character do?
- What is the name of...?

3. When Questions:

- When did the event occur?
- When did the character...?

4. Where Questions:

- Where did the story take place?
- Where was...?

5. How Many/How Much Questions:

- How many people...?
- How much did it cost?

6. Why Questions (for stated reasons):

- Why did he go? (if reason is given)

Signal Words in Recall Questions:

- Name, list, identify, state
- According to the passage
- The passage states/says
- What is the name of...?
- How many...?
- When exactly...?

How to Answer Recall Questions:

Step 1: Read the question carefully Step 2: Identify key words in the question Step 3: Scan the passage for those key words Step 4: Read the relevant section carefully Step 5: Write the answer using words from the passage Step 6: Check that your answer directly addresses the question

Sample Passage:

"Amina Bello is a 12-year-old student at Government Secondary School, Lagos. She lives at 23 Benson Street with her parents and two younger brothers. Every morning, she wakes up at 5:30 AM to prepare for school. Her favorite subject is Mathematics, and she wants to become an engineer. Last term, she scored 95% in her Mathematics examination and received the Best Student Award in her class, JSS 1B."

Recall Questions and Answers:

1. What is the full name of the student?

- Answer: Amina Bello

2. Where does Amina live?

- Answer: 23 Benson Street (or: She lives at 23 Benson Street with her parents)

3. What time does she wake up every morning?

- Answer: 5:30 AM

4. What is her favorite subject?

- Answer: Mathematics

5. What percentage did she score in Mathematics last term?

- Answer: 95%

6. How many brothers does she have?

- Answer: Two younger brothers

7. What does she want to become?

- Answer: An engineer

8. Which class is she in?

- Answer: JSS 1B

Difference Between Recall and Other Question Types:

Recall Question: What award did Amina receive? (Answer is in the text: Best Student Award)

Inference Question: Why do you think Amina received the award? (Requires reasoning: Because she works hard and scored high marks)

Projection Question: What might Amina become in the future? (Requires prediction: She might become a successful engineer)

SAMPLE GUIDED COMPOSITION:

THE FEDERAL ROAD SAFETY COMMISSION

The Federal Road Safety Commission, popularly known as FRSC, is a Nigerian government agency responsible for ensuring safety on our roads. It was established by Decree Number 45 of 1988 and became operational on February 18, 1988. The commission was created to address the increasing number of road accidents and deaths on Nigerian roads. Its motto is "Safety First," which reminds everyone that nothing is more important than staying safe on the road.

The FRSC has many important functions. It prevents and reduces road traffic accidents through enforcement of traffic rules and public education. The commission issues driver's licenses to qualified drivers and registers vehicles. FRSC officers patrol highways and roads to ensure motorists obey traffic laws. They also provide first aid and rescue services during accidents, clear obstructions on highways, and educate motorists and other road users about safe driving practices. Additionally, they make recommendations to the government on road safety measures.

There are many important road safety rules that the FRSC enforces. All drivers and passengers must wear seat belts while in a moving vehicle. Drivers must not use mobile phones while driving, as this causes distractions. Every driver must have a valid driver's license and ensure their vehicle is properly registered and insured. Speed limits must be obeyed at all times. Vehicles should not be overloaded beyond their capacity. Drinking and driving is strictly prohibited as it impairs judgment. All vehicle lights, indicators, and safety features must be in good working condition.

The Federal Road Safety Commission plays a vital role in protecting lives and property on Nigerian roads. Everyone must cooperate with FRSC officers and obey all traffic rules and regulations. By following road safety measures, we can reduce accidents and make our roads safer for all users. Remember, safety first!

Writing Tips:

- Use formal language
- Organize information logically
- Write in complete sentences
- Use proper paragraphing
- Connect ideas smoothly
- Include relevant details
- Stay focused on the topic
- Proofread your work

Useful Linking Words:

- Additionally, furthermore, moreover (to add information)

Characteristics:

1. Text-Based:

- Written down and published
- Read silently or aloud
- Permanent and fixed form
- Can be analyzed and studied

2. Individual Authorship:

- Created by known poets
- Original compositions
- Copyright protected
- Attributed to specific authors

3. Literary Context:

- Found in books, magazines, journals
- Studied in schools
- Part of literary tradition
- Subject to literary criticism

4. Stylistic Features:

- Complex language and imagery
- Sophisticated techniques
- Visual arrangement on page
- Line breaks and stanzas matter
- May use unusual punctuation
- Appeals to eye as well as ear

5. Types of Written Poetry:

- Sonnets, odes, elegies

- Free verse
- Haiku
- Concrete/shape poetry
- Modern experimental poetry

COMPARISON TABLE

Aspect	Oral Poetry	Written Poetry
Transmission	Spoken/performed	Written/printed
Authorship	Often anonymous	Known author
Preservation	Memory	Books/documents
Performance	Live with audience	Read individually
Change	May vary over time	Fixed text
Language	Simple, repetitive	Can be complex
Purpose	Community function	Artistic expression

Relationship Between Oral and Written:

- Many written poems draw from oral traditions
- Some oral poems have been written down
- Both use similar poetic devices
- Both express human experiences
- Modern poets often blend both traditions

African Context:

- Rich tradition of oral poetry

- Oral poetry predates written forms
- Many African languages have strong oral poetry traditions
- Contemporary African poets combine oral and written traditions
- Examples: Wole Soyinka, Chinua Achebe, Niyi Osundare use oral elements in written poetry

EVALUATION:

1. Define epic poetry and state four of its features
2. Explain the difference between lyric poetry and narrative poetry with examples
3. What is oral poetry? List five characteristics of oral poetry
4. Compare oral poetry and written poetry, stating three differences
5. Name three types of lyric poetry and briefly describe each

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Explain four types of poetry studied in class with one example each
2. Write a short lyric poem (8 lines) expressing your feelings about school, nature, or friendship
3. List five examples of oral poetry found in your culture or community
4. Explain five functions of oral poetry in African society
5. State five differences between oral and written poetry in a table format

WEEK 4 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ɜ:/

The Long Vowel Sound /ɜ:/

- This is a long, central vowel sound produced in the middle of the mouth
- The tongue is in the center, neither high nor low
- The lips are slightly spread, not rounded
- It is a tense, prolonged sound
- Similar to the sound when hesitating: "Er..."

Spelling Patterns for /ɜ:/ Sound:

1. "ir" spelling:

- bird, girl, first, shirt, skirt, third, thirst, birthday
- dirt, firm, fir, sir, stir, whirl, twirl
- circle, circus, confirm, dirty, thirty, thirteen

2. "er" spelling:

- her, term, serve, verb, nerve, herb
- certain, person, perfect, merchant, verse
- teacher, mother, father, sister, brother (unstressed syllables)
- prefer, refer, infer, defer, confer

3. "ur" spelling:

- turn, burn, church, hurt, nurse, purse, turkey
- fur, blur, pur, spur, slur
- disturb, furniture, purple, purpose, curtain

- Thursday, surname, burden, murder

4. "ear" spelling:

- learn, earth, early, earn, earnest, search, pearl
- heard, rehearse

5. "or" spelling (after 'w'):

- word, work, world, worm, worth, worship
- worse, worst

6. "our" spelling:

- journey, journal, courtesy, courtesy

Common Words with /ɜ:/ Sound:

- return, concern, urgent, service, surface
- german, perfect, merchant, deserve
- burden, curtain, murder, turkey
- circular, emergency, commercial

Practice Sentences:

- The girl with the purple shirt was first
- My sister is a nurse at the church
- The merchant returned early from his journey
- I heard the birds chirping on Thursday
- Her thirst for learning is perfect

Words That Look Similar But Sound Different:

- her /ɜ:/ - here /ɪə/ (different sound)
- were /ɜ:/ - where /eə/ (different sound)
- for /ɔ:/ - fur /ɜ:/ (different sounds)

Articulation Tips:

- Position your tongue in the center of your mouth
- Don't raise or lower it too much
- Keep lips slightly spread and relaxed
- Make the sound long and steady
- Don't round your lips

Practice Pairs:

- bad /æ/ - bird /ɜ:/
- bun /ʌ/ - burn /ɜ:/
- hot /ɒ/ - hurt /ɜ:/
- word /ɜ:/ - ward /ɔ:/

Common Mistakes: Many speakers confuse /ɜ:/ with /ɔ:/ or /ʌ/

- fur /ɜ:/ NOT for /ɔ:/
- burn /ɜ:/ NOT born /ɔ:/
- hurt /ɜ:/ NOT heart /ɑ:/

EVALUATION:

1. Produce the /ɜ:/ sound correctly and describe how your tongue and lips are positioned
2. Give fifteen words containing the /ɜ:/ sound using different spelling patterns

3. Identify which words contain /ɜ:/ sound: (a) bird (b) board (c) turn (d) town (e) word (f) world (g) worm (h) warm
4. Write five sentences using words with /ɜ:/ sound, underlining the words
5. Explain the difference in pronunciation between: (a) fur/for (b) burn/born (c) word/ward (d) hurt/heart

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List ten words each with "ir," "er," and "ur" spellings that contain the /ɜ:/ sound
2. List five words with "ear" and "or" (after w) spellings that produce /ɜ:/ sound
3. Write ten sentences using different words with /ɜ:/ sound
4. Practice reading aloud: "The nurse in the purple shirt served turkey at the church on Thursday. She heard the birds singing early in the morning and learned a new verse"
5. Group these words by their vowel sounds - /ɜ:/, /ɔ:/, or /ɑ:/: bird, board, burn, born, cart, curl, first, force, farm, fur, for, father

WEEK 4 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: TENSES – PRESENT CONTINUOUS TENSE

What is the Present Continuous Tense? The Present Continuous Tense (also called Present Progressive Tense) describes actions that are happening now, at this moment, or around this time. It shows ongoing or temporary actions.

Formation of Present Continuous Tense:

Structure: Subject + am/is/are + verb-ing

Using am/is/are:

- I + am (I'm)
- He/She/It + is (He's/She's/It's)
- You/We/They + are (You're/We're/They're)

Examples:

- I am reading
- She is cooking
- They are playing
- We are studying

Rules for Adding -ing:

1. Most verbs - add -ing directly:

- play → playing
- read → reading
- cook → cooking
- sing → singing

- talk → talking

2. Verbs ending in -e - drop the -e and add -ing:

- write → writing
- make → making
- come → coming
- dance → dancing
- take → taking
- have → having
- NOTE: Exceptions: be → being, see → seeing, agree → agreeing

3. One-syllable verbs ending in consonant-vowel-consonant - double the final consonant:

- run → running
- sit → sitting
- stop → stopping
- swim → swimming
- cut → cutting
- put → putting
- get → getting

4. Two-syllable verbs with stress on second syllable - double the final consonant:

- begin → beginning
- forget → forgetting
- prefer → preferring
- admit → admitting

5. Verbs ending in -ie - change -ie to -y and add -ing:

- lie → lying
- die → dying
- tie → tying

Uses of Present Continuous Tense:

1. Actions happening now (at the moment of speaking):

- I am writing a letter now
- She is eating lunch at the moment
- They are watching TV right now
- Look! The baby is crying
- Listen! Someone is knocking at the door

2. Temporary actions (happening around this time but not necessarily right now):

- I am reading a novel these days
- She is staying with her aunt this week
- He is working in Lagos this month
- We are studying English this term

3. Changing or developing situations:

- The weather is getting colder
- My English is improving
- The population is increasing
- Technology is advancing rapidly

4. Planned future arrangements:

- I am traveling to Abuja tomorrow

- We are having a party next week
- She is visiting her grandmother on Sunday
- They are starting school on Monday

5. Annoying habits (with 'always'):

- He is always complaining
- She is always arriving late
- You are always losing your keys
- They are always making noise

Negative Form:

- Subject + am/is/are + not + verb-ing

Examples:

- I am not sleeping
- She is not (isn't) coming today
- They are not (aren't) playing football
- We are not (aren't) watching TV

Question Form:

- Am/Is/Are + subject + verb-ing...?

Examples:

- Am I disturbing you?
- Is she cooking dinner?
- Are they playing outside?
- Are you listening to me?

Wh- Questions:

- What/Where/Why/Who/How + am/is/are + subject + verb-ing?

Examples:

- What are you doing?
- Where is he going?
- Why are they crying?
- Who is she calling?
- How are you feeling?

Time Expressions Used with Present Continuous:

- Now, right now, at the moment, at present
- Today, this week, this month, this year, this term
- Currently, presently
- Look! Listen! (to draw attention)
- Still (for ongoing action: He is still sleeping)

Verbs NOT Usually Used in Continuous Tenses: Some verbs describe states, not actions, and are rarely used in continuous form:

Thinking/Feeling:

- know, believe, understand, remember, forget, prefer, want, need, like, love, hate, seem

Possession:

- have (meaning possess), own, belong, possess

Senses:

- see, hear, smell, taste (when describing ability, not action)

Others:

- be, exist, contain, consist, depend, matter, mean

Use Simple Present instead:

- ✓ I know the answer (Correct)
- ✗ I am knowing the answer (Wrong)
- ✓ She loves chocolate (Correct)
- ✗ She is loving chocolate (Wrong)

Present Continuous vs Simple Present:

Present Continuous:

- Temporary: I am living in Lagos (temporarily)
- Now: She is eating (at this moment)
- Changing: The weather is getting cold

Simple Present:

- Permanent: I live in Lagos (permanent home)
- Habitual: She eats breakfast at 7 AM (routine)
- General truth: The weather is cold in December

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

- ✗ I am knowing (Correct: I know)
- ✗ She is haveing a car (Correct: She has a car)
- ✗ They runing now (Correct: They are running)
- ✗ Is you coming? (Correct: Are you coming?)
- ✗ He working now (Correct: He is working now)

EVALUATION:

1. Define Present Continuous Tense and state four uses with examples
2. Write the -ing form of these verbs: (a) run (b) write (c) study (d) lie (e) stop (f) begin (g) dance (h) get (i) prefer (j) have
3. Change to Present Continuous Tense: (a) I write a letter (b) She reads a book (c) They play football (d) He eats rice (e) We go to school
4. Change to negative: (a) I am sleeping (b) She is coming today (c) They are watching TV (d) He is working now (e) We are studying
5. Change to questions: (a) You are listening (b) She is cooking (c) They are playing (d) He is reading (e) It is raining

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Explain the difference between Present Continuous and Simple Present Tense with five examples each
2. Write ten sentences about what is happening in your classroom right now using Present Continuous Tense
3. Fill in the blanks with the correct form: (a) I _____ (read) a book now (b) She _____ (not/sleep) at the moment (c) _____ they _____ (come) today? (d) What _____ you _____ (do) now? (e) The baby _____ (cry)
4. Correct the errors: (a) He running now (b) I am knowing the answer (c) Is you coming? (d) They are haveing lunch (e) She am studying
5. Rewrite this paragraph in Present Continuous Tense: "The students write in their books. The teacher explains the lesson. Some students ask questions. One boy sleeps. The girls laugh."

WEEK 4 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING TO UNDERSTAND AUTHOR'S MOOD (ANGER, DOUBT, JOY, ETC.)

CONTENT:

What is Author's Mood? The author's mood (or tone) is the feeling or attitude the writer expresses toward the subject or audience through their choice of words, style, and the way they present information.

Why Understanding Mood is Important:

- Helps you understand the author's purpose
- Gives deeper meaning to the text
- Helps you interpret the message correctly
- Enhances your reading comprehension
- Allows you to respond appropriately to the text

Common Moods/Tones in Writing:

1. HAPPY/JOYFUL MOOD:

- Words: delightful, wonderful, exciting, cheerful, pleased, thrilled, overjoyed, elated, glad
- Tone: Enthusiastic, positive, optimistic, celebratory
- Indicators: Exclamation marks, positive adjectives, pleasant descriptions

Example Passage: "What a wonderful day it was! The sun shone brilliantly, birds sang melodiously, and everyone walked with smiles on their faces. The atmosphere was filled with laughter and joy."

2. SAD/SORROWFUL MOOD:

- Words: unfortunate, tragic, devastating, heartbreaking, miserable, gloomy, depressing
- Tone: Melancholic, mournful, sympathetic, regretful
- Indicators: Negative descriptions, expressions of loss, emotional language

Example Passage: "The village was engulfed in deep sorrow. Tears flowed freely as people mourned the loss of their beloved leader. The once lively streets were now silent and empty, reflecting the heavy hearts of the people."

3. ANGRY/FURIOUS MOOD:

- Words: outrageous, unacceptable, disgusting, infuriating, intolerable, ridiculous, absurd
- Tone: Hostile, indignant, bitter, resentful, critical
- Indicators: Strong accusations, harsh words, rhetorical questions, exclamation marks

Example Passage: "This is absolutely unacceptable! How dare they treat us with such disrespect! It is outrageous that they continue to ignore our complaints. We will not tolerate this injustice any longer!"

4. FEARFUL/ANXIOUS MOOD:

- Words: terrifying, frightening, worried, nervous, uneasy, concerned, alarmed, dangerous
- Tone: Apprehensive, tense, uncertain, cautious
- Indicators: Descriptions of danger, uncertainty, tension-building language

Example Passage: "The dark forest loomed ahead. Strange sounds echoed in the distance, making her heart pound rapidly. Every shadow seemed threatening. She hesitated, uncertain whether to proceed or turn back."

5. DOUBTFUL/SKEPTICAL MOOD:

- Words: questionable, uncertain, supposedly, allegedly, claims, dubious, unclear
- Tone: Questioning, suspicious, unconvinced, hesitant
- Indicators: Question marks, words like "perhaps," "maybe," "supposedly," "if"

Example Passage: "The official claims the project will be completed in six months, but many doubt this promise. Previous projects were delayed for years. Is it realistic to believe this one will be different? Perhaps, but history suggests otherwise."

6. HOPEFUL/OPTIMISTIC MOOD:

- Words: promising, encouraging, positive, bright, potential, opportunity, possible, confident
- Tone: Encouraging, positive, forward-looking
- Indicators: Future-focused language, positive predictions, encouraging words

Example Passage: "Despite the challenges, there is reason for hope. New opportunities are emerging, and the future looks promising. With determination and hard work, success is certainly achievable. Better days lie ahead."

7. SERIOUS/FORMAL MOOD:

- Words: important, significant, crucial, essential, vital, critical, necessary
- Tone: Professional, objective, matter-of-fact, authoritative
- Indicators: Formal language, no emotional expressions, factual presentation

Example Passage: "The research indicates significant findings. It is essential that immediate action be taken to address these issues. The data clearly demonstrates the need for policy reform in this area."

8. HUMOROUS/PLAYFUL MOOD:

- Words: funny, amusing, hilarious, comical, entertaining, ridiculous (in a funny way)
- Tone: Light-hearted, witty, sarcastic (positively), joking
- Indicators: Jokes, exaggerations for effect, funny descriptions, wordplay

Example Passage: "My cat thinks he's the king of the house. He struts around like royalty, demanding meals at precisely 6 AM, and gives me that look of utter disdain if I'm late. Who's the owner here, really?"

How to Identify Author's Mood:

1. Look at Word Choice (Diction):

- Positive words suggest positive mood
- Negative words suggest negative mood
- Strong words suggest intense emotion

2. Notice Punctuation:

- Exclamation marks (!) = excitement, anger, emphasis
- Question marks (?) = doubt, inquiry, uncertainty
- Ellipsis (...) = hesitation, uncertainty, trailing thought

3. Observe Sentence Structure:

- Short, abrupt sentences = tension, anger, urgency
- Long, flowing sentences = calmness, description, reflection
- Incomplete sentences = confusion, hesitation

4. Consider the Context:

- What is the subject matter?
- What is the author's purpose?
- Who is the intended audience?

5. Look for Direct Emotional Expressions:

- "I am delighted to announce..."
- "It is with deep regret that..."
- "I strongly disagree with..."

6. Identify Figurative Language:

- Metaphors and similes reveal feelings
- Imagery creates mood
- Personification adds emotion

Practice Identifying Mood:

Passage 1: "The examination results were excellent. Out of 50 students, 48 passed with flying colors. The principal praised the teachers and students for their outstanding performance. It was indeed a moment of celebration."

Mood: Joyful/Proud

Clue Words: excellent, flying colors, praised, outstanding, celebration

Passage 2: "Corruption continues to plague our society. Officials steal public funds with impunity while citizens suffer. This shameful behavior must stop immediately. We demand accountability and justice!"

Mood: Angry/Indignant

Clue Words: plague, steal, impunity, shameful, demand, exclamation mark

Passage 3: "The storm approached rapidly. Dark clouds gathered overhead, and thunder rumbled ominously. The villagers watched nervously, wondering if their homes could withstand the coming tempest."

Mood: Fearful/Anxious

Clue Words: storm, dark, ominously, nervously, wondering

Multiple Moods: Sometimes an author may express different moods in different parts of a passage. Always consider the overall dominant mood and any shifts in tone.

EVALUATION:

1. Define author's mood and explain why it is important to identify it when reading
2. List and explain five different moods an author can express in writing
3. Read this passage and identify the mood: "The team celebrated wildly as the final whistle blew. They had won! Jumping, cheering, and hugging each other, they could hardly contain their excitement. What a glorious victory!" Explain your answer with evidence from the passage
4. What clues help readers identify an author's mood? List five
5. Write two short paragraphs (4 sentences each): one showing an angry mood and another showing a joyful mood

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Identify the mood in each of these passages and give reasons: (a) "The abandoned house stood in ruins. Broken windows stared like empty eyes. Weeds choked the pathway, and silence hung heavily in the air." (b) "Can we really believe these promises? They have failed us before. What guarantee do we have that this time will be different?" (c) "Success is within reach! With dedication and perseverance, we can achieve our goals. The future is bright with possibilities."

2. Write a paragraph (80 words) expressing a sad mood about a lost pet
3. Write a paragraph (80 words) expressing an excited mood about a school excursion
4. List ten words associated with: (a) angry mood (b) happy mood
5. Rewrite this neutral sentence in three different moods: "The government announced a new policy." (a) Angry mood (b) Happy mood (c) Doubtful mood

WEEK 4 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: NARRATIVE ESSAY – THE MOST MEMORABLE DAY OF MY LIFE

What is a Narrative Essay? A narrative essay is a type of writing that tells a story about a personal experience. It has characters (usually including yourself), a setting, a plot with a beginning, middle, and end, and often teaches a lesson or leaves an impression.

Features of a Narrative Essay:

1. First-Person Point of View:

- Uses "I," "me," "my," "we"
- Tells your personal experience
- Shares your thoughts and feelings

2. Chronological Order:

- Events arranged in time sequence
- What happened first, next, then, finally
- Clear progression of events

3. Descriptive Details:

- Tears of joy filled my eyes
- A wave of happiness washed over me

Descriptive Adjectives:

- Wonderful, amazing, incredible, unforgettable

- Spectacular, magnificent, extraordinary
- Thrilling, exciting, nerve-wracking
- Surprising, unexpected, shocking

SAMPLE NARRATIVE ESSAY:

THE MOST MEMORABLE DAY OF MY LIFE

The 10th of December, 2024, is a date permanently etched in my memory. It was the day I won first prize in the National Mathematics Competition, and it remains the most memorable day of my life. That day brought me joy, pride, and a sense of achievement I had never experienced before.

The day began like any other Saturday morning. I woke up early, feeling nervous and excited about the competition. My mother prepared my favorite breakfast, jollof rice and chicken, hoping it would calm my nerves. As we drove to the National Stadium where the competition was being held, I kept reviewing formulas in my head. The stadium was packed with students from all over Nigeria, and the atmosphere was electric with anticipation.

The competition started at 10 AM sharp. I sat at my designated seat, my hands trembling slightly as I received the question paper. The first few questions were challenging, but I took a deep breath and focused. Time seemed to fly as I worked through each problem carefully. Some questions were extremely difficult, and I could see other students struggling as well. During the break, I met a girl from Kano who was equally nervous, and we encouraged each other. When the final round began, I gave it my absolute best, double-checking every answer before submitting my paper.

The most thrilling moment came during the award ceremony. As the judges announced the third and second positions, my heart pounded so loudly I thought everyone could hear it. Then I heard my name called for first position! I couldn't believe my ears. I walked to the stage in a daze, my legs feeling weak with excitement. As I received the trophy and a scholarship certificate worth two million naira, I looked into the crowd and saw my parents. My mother was crying with joy, and my father had the biggest smile on his face. The applause was deafening, and at that moment, I felt like I was on top of the world.

That evening, our house was filled with relatives and friends who came to celebrate. Everyone congratulated me, and I felt so proud and grateful. As I lay in bed that night, holding my trophy, I reflected on the months of hard work and sacrifice that had led to this moment. That memorable day taught me that dedication and perseverance truly pay off. It boosted my confidence and confirmed my dream of becoming a mathematician. Years from now, when I look back on my life, I know December 10th, 2024, will always shine brightly in my memory as the day that changed my life forever.

WRITING TIPS:

DO:

- Choose a truly memorable experience
- Include specific details and descriptions
- Show emotions, don't just tell them
- Use dialogue to bring scenes alive
- Write in past tense
- Maintain chronological order
- Make your conclusion meaningful
- Proofread for errors

DON'T:

- Rush through important moments
- Use vague descriptions
- Jump around in time confusingly

- Forget to explain why it was memorable
- Make it too long or too short (aim for 250-350 words for JSS1)
- Copy someone else's experience
- Exaggerate unrealistically

Possible Topics for Practice:

- My first day at secondary school
- The day I won a competition
- When I received unexpected good news
- A special birthday celebration
- The day I overcame my fear
- Meeting someone important
- A family reunion or celebration
- An accident or scary experience
- The day I learned an important lesson
- A surprise that changed everything

EVALUATION:

1. Define a narrative essay and list five features of narrative writing
2. Explain the structure of a narrative essay (introduction, body, conclusion) and what each part should contain
3. List ten time connectors used in narrative writing
4. Why is it important to include descriptive details and emotions in a narrative essay?

5. What is the difference between narrative and formal letter writing?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete narrative essay (250-300 words) titled "The Most Memorable Day of My Life"
2. Identify the introduction, body paragraphs, and conclusion in your essay by labeling them
3. List ten descriptive adjectives you could use to make a narrative essay more interesting
4. Write the opening paragraph (introduction) for a narrative essay titled "The Day I Learned an Important Lesson"
5. Explain three things you should avoid when writing a narrative essay

WEEK 4 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: DRAMA – FEATURES (THEME, COSTUMES, AUDIENCE, ETC.);

IDENTIFYING FEATURES OF DRAMA IN A TEXT

What is Drama? Drama is a type of literature written to be performed by actors on a stage before an audience. It tells a story through dialogue and action rather than narrative description.

Differences Between Drama and Other Literary Forms:

Drama	Prose	Poetry
Written to be performed	Written to be read	Written to be read/recited
Uses dialogue and action	Uses narration and description	Uses verse and imagery
Divided into acts and scenes	Divided into chapters/paragraphs	Divided into lines/stanzas
Needs actors and stage	Needs only a reader	Can be read or performed

FEATURES OF DRAMA:

1. THEME

Definition: The central idea, message, or lesson that the play conveys.

Common Themes in Drama:

- Love and relationships
- Conflict (internal or external)
- Good vs. evil
- Revenge and justice
- Ambition and power
- Betrayal and loyalty
- Social issues (corruption, poverty, discrimination)

- Family relationships
- Coming of age/growing up
- Death and mortality

Examples:

- In Macbeth, the theme is unchecked ambition leads to destruction
- In Romeo and Juliet, the theme is the power of love and the tragedy of family feuds

Multiple themes: Most plays have more than one theme.

2. PLOT

Definition: The sequence of events in the play; the story being told.

Structure of Plot:

- Exposition: Introduction of characters, setting, and background
- Rising Action: Complications and conflicts develop
- Climax: The turning point; most intense moment
- Falling Action: Events after the climax
- Resolution/Denouement: Conclusion; conflicts resolved

3. CHARACTERS

Definition: The people (or sometimes animals/objects) who perform the actions in the play.

Types of Characters:

- Protagonist: Main character; hero
- Antagonist: Character opposing the protagonist; villain
- Supporting characters: Help tell the story

- Minor characters: Brief appearances

Character Development:

- Revealed through dialogue
- Revealed through actions
- Revealed through stage directions
- Revealed through interaction with others

4. DIALOGUE

Definition: Conversations between characters; the words they speak.

Purpose of Dialogue:

- Advances the plot
- Reveals character personalities
- Creates conflict
- Provides information
- Shows relationships

Types:

- Dialogue: Conversation between two or more characters
- Monologue: Long speech by one character to others
- Soliloquy: Character speaks thoughts aloud when alone
- Aside: Character speaks to audience; other characters can't hear

5. STAGE DIRECTIONS

Definition: Instructions in the script telling actors how to move, speak, and behave; describing the setting and atmosphere.

Written in: Italics or brackets [like this]

Types of Information:

- Character entrances and exits
- Movements and gestures
- Tone of voice and emotions
- Setting descriptions
- Props and lighting
- Sound effects

Examples:

- [Enter Lady Macbeth]
- [He speaks angrily]
- [Aside]
- [Thunder and lightning]
- [Exit]

6. ACT AND SCENE

Act: Major division of a play (like chapters in a book)

- Most plays have 1-5 acts
- Each act may contain multiple scenes

Scene: Smaller division within an act

- Usually represents a change in time or location

- Indicated as Scene 1, Scene 2, etc.

Format:

- Act I, Scene 1
- Act II, Scene 3

7. SETTING

Definition: Where and when the play takes place.

Includes:

- Time period (past, present, future)
- Location (country, city, specific place)
- Physical environment (palace, village, school)
- Atmosphere/mood

Revealed through:

- Stage directions
- Dialogue
- Props and scenery

8. CONFLICT

Definition: The struggle or problem that drives the plot.

Types of Conflict:

- Man vs. Man: Character against another character
- Man vs. Self: Internal struggle; character's own doubts/fears
- Man vs. Society: Character against social norms/rules

- Man vs. Nature: Character against natural forces
- Man vs. Fate/Supernatural: Character against destiny or supernatural forces

9. COSTUMES

Definition: Clothing worn by actors to represent their characters.

Purpose:

- Shows character's social status
- Indicates time period
- Reveals personality
- Distinguishes characters
- Shows profession or role
- Creates visual impact

Examples:

- Royal characters wear crowns and robes
- Soldiers wear uniforms
- Traditional plays use cultural attire

10. PROPS (Properties)

Definition: Objects used by actors during the performance.

Examples:

- Furniture (chairs, tables)
- Hand props (swords, books, cups)
- Decorative items (paintings, curtains)

Purpose:

- Make scenes realistic
- Help tell the story
- Reveal character information

11. AUDIENCE

Definition: The people watching the performance.

Importance:

- Drama is incomplete without an audience
- Actors perform for the audience
- Audience reactions affect performance
- Drama aims to entertain, educate, or move the audience

Audience Roles:

- Watch and listen
- Respond with emotions (laugh, cry, applaud)
- Interpret the message
- Appreciate the performance

12. LIGHTING AND SOUNDLighting:

- Creates mood and atmosphere
- Indicates time of day
- Focuses attention

- Suggests weather

Sound:

- Music and songs
- Sound effects (thunder, bells, footsteps)
- Background noises
- Creates atmosphere

IDENTIFYING DRAMA IN A TEXT:

Textual Indicators:

1. Character Names Before Dialogue:

JOHN: Good morning, Mary!

MARY: Good morning! How are you?

2. Stage Directions in Brackets or Italics:

JOHN: [Walking toward her] I've been looking for you.

3. Act and Scene Divisions:

ACT I

SCENE 1

[A classroom in Government Secondary School]

4. No Narrative Description:

- Drama shows, doesn't tell
- No "he said" or "she thought"

- Everything revealed through dialogue and action

5. List of Characters (Dramatis Personae):

- Usually at the beginning
- Names and brief descriptions

SAMPLE DRAMA EXTRACT:

THE WISE DECISION

A One-Act Play

CHARACTERS:

CHIEF ADEBAYO - A wealthy village chief (60s)

AMINA - His daughter (16)

TAIWO - A poor but honest young man (20)

KUNLE - A rich but dishonest merchant (35)

ACT I

SCENE 1

[Chief Adebayo's compound. Morning. The Chief sits on a stool under a tree. Enter KUNLE with gifts]

KUNLE: [Bowing low] Great Chief! I bring gifts to honor you.

CHIEF ADEBAYO: [Looking at the gifts] You are generous, Kunle. What brings you here?

KUNLE: I wish to marry your daughter, Amina. I am wealthy and can give her everything.

CHIEF ADEBAYO: [Thoughtfully] Amina must choose for herself.

[Enter TAIWO, empty-handed but confident]

TAIWO: Good morning, Chief. I've come to ask for Amina's hand in marriage.

KUNLE: [Laughing mockingly] You? You have nothing!

TAIWO: [Calmly] I have honesty, hard work, and true love for Amina.

CHIEF ADEBAYO: [Standing] Let Amina decide. [Calling] Amina!

[Enter AMINA]

AMINA: [Looking at both men] Father, I choose Taiwo. Wealth can be lost, but character lasts forever.

CHIEF ADEBAYO: [Smiling] You have chosen wisely, my daughter.

[KUNLE exits angrily. TAIWO and AMINA embrace.]

[CURTAIN]

Features Identified:

- ✓ Character names before dialogue (KUNLE:, CHIEF:, etc.)
- ✓ Stage directions [in brackets]
- ✓ Act and Scene divisions
- ✓ Setting description
- ✓ List of characters
- ✓ Theme: True love and character over wealth
- ✓ Conflict: Taiwo vs. Kunle (Man vs. Man)
- ✓ Props: Gifts, stool
- ✓ Plot: Beginning, middle, end

- ✓ Costumes: Mentioned (Chief's traditional attire)

EVALUATION:

1. Define drama and state three ways it differs from prose and poetry
2. Explain five features of drama with examples
3. What are stage directions and why are they important in drama?
4. Identify the features of drama in this extract:

TEACHER: [Entering the classroom] Good morning, class!

STUDENTS: [Standing] Good morning, sir!

TEACHER: [Opening a book] Today we'll study verbs. Who can give an example?

BOLA: [Raising her hand] "Run" is a verb, sir.

5. Explain the difference between dialogue, monologue, and soliloquy

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short drama (one scene) with at least three characters, showing all the features of drama studied
2. Define and give examples of: (a) protagonist (b) antagonist (c) aside (d) soliloquy (e) act
3. Explain five types of conflict in drama with examples from any play you know
4. List ten props that might be used in a drama set in: (a) a palace (b) a school (c) a marketplace
5. Why are costumes, lighting, and sound important in drama performance? Give three reasons for each

WEEK 6 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL SOUND /ə/

The Schwa Sound /ə/

- The schwa /ə/ is the most common vowel sound in English
- It is a weak, unstressed, neutral vowel sound
- Pronounced with the mouth in a relaxed position
- The tongue is in the center of the mouth
- It sounds like a very short "uh" sound
- It ONLY occurs in unstressed syllables

Characteristics of the Schwa:

- Always found in unstressed syllables
- Very short and weak
- Neutral position of lips and tongue
- Many different letter combinations can produce this sound
- Native speakers often use it without realizing

Spelling Patterns for /ə/ Sound:

1. Letter "a" in unstressed syllables:

- about, above, again, ago, alone, along, away, awake
- China, drama, sofa, pizza, camera, banana (last 'a')
- woman, human, postman, policeman
- breakfast, elephant, elegant

2. Letter "e" in unstressed syllables:

- the, open, happen, golden, chicken, garden
- become, before, believe, beside
- moment, different, children, problem
- teacher, mother, father, brother, sister

3. Letter "i" in unstressed syllables:

- animal, definite, family, holiday
- pencil, fossil, pupil
- terrible, possible, horrible

4. Letter "o" in unstressed syllables:

- today, tomorrow, tonight, police, potato
- person, melon, lemon, pardon, lesson
- bacon, bottom, problem, freedom
- doctor, actor, sailor, visitor

5. Letter "u" in unstressed syllables:

- upon, suppose, support, success
- minus, circus, focus, campus
- difficult, particular, popular

6. Letter combinations:

- "ous" endings: famous, dangerous, nervous, curious
- "ion" endings: nation, action, question, position (first syllable)
- "er/or/ar" endings: teacher, doctor, sugar, collar

Important Rules:

The schwa appears in:

1. Unstressed syllables in multi-syllable words:

- a-GAIN (first 'a' is schwa)
- ba-NA-na (first and last 'a' are schwa)
- CAM-er-a (second and third vowels are schwa)

2. Function words (when unstressed in sentences):

- a, an, the, of, to, from, for, and, but
- Example: "a cup of tea" - both 'a' and 'o' in 'of' are schwa

3. Unstressed grammatical endings:

- -er: teacher, worker
- -or: actor, doctor
- -ar: sugar, collar

NOT Schwa When Stressed: When a syllable is stressed, the vowel is NOT pronounced as schwa:

- about /ə-BOUT/ (first 'a' is schwa, second is /au/)
- banana /bə-NA-nə/ (middle 'a' is NOT schwa because it's stressed)

Practice Words - Identifying Schwa Position:

Two-syllable words:

- a-BOUT (first vowel = schwa)
- A-go (first vowel = schwa)
- to-DAY (first vowel = schwa)

- teach-ER (second vowel = schwa)
- doc-TOR (second vowel = schwa)

Three-syllable words:

- ba-NA-na (1st and 3rd = schwa)
- CAM-er-a (2nd and 3rd = schwa)
- el-e-PHANT (1st and 2nd = schwa)
- choc-o-LATE (2nd = schwa)
- to-MOR-row (1st and 3rd = schwa)

Function Words with Schwa: In connected speech, these small words often have schwa:

- a: "a book" /ə bʊk/
- the: "the man" /ðə mæn/ (before consonants)
- to: "to school" /tə sku:l/
- of: "cup of tea" /kʌp əv ti:/
- for: "for you" /fə ju:/
- from: "from home" /frəm həʊm/
- and: "fish and chips" /fɪʃ ən tʃɪps/

Common Mistakes: Students often pronounce unstressed syllables too clearly:

- ✗ cam-ER-a (pronouncing 'e' as /e/)
- ✓ CAM-ər-ə (using schwa)
- ✗ choc-O-late (pronouncing 'o' as /o/)

- ✓ CHOC-ə-lət (using schwa)

Why Schwa is Important:

- Makes English sound natural and fluent
- Distinguishes stressed from unstressed syllables
- Essential for understanding native speakers
- Improves listening comprehension
- Makes your English pronunciation more authentic

Practice Sentences: (Schwa sounds underlined)

- A cup of tea and a piece of bread
- The teacher asked a question about the lesson
- My mother is a doctor at the hospital
- Children love chocolate and banana
- The police arrived in the afternoon

Articulation Tips:

- Relax your mouth completely
- Don't make any special shape with your lips
- Keep the sound very short and weak
- Don't stress the syllable
- Think of it as a very lazy vowel sound

EVALUATION:

1. What is the schwa sound /ə/ and where does it occur in words?
2. Identify the schwa sound(s) in these words: (a) banana (b) teacher (c) about (d) elephant (e) camera
3. Why is the schwa sound important in English pronunciation?
4. Write ten words containing the schwa sound and mark where it appears
5. Explain why these vowels are NOT schwa sounds: (a) the 'i' in "machine" (b) the 'a' in "father" (c) the middle 'a' in "banana"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List twenty words containing the schwa sound and indicate which syllable(s) contain schwa
2. Practice pronouncing these words with correct schwa placement: about, again, today, police, problem, family, animal, chocolate, different, banana
3. Identify all the schwa sounds in this sentence: "The teacher gave a lesson about the history of Africa"
4. Explain the difference between stressed and unstressed syllables using five examples
5. Write five sentences using at least three words with schwa sounds in each sentence, underlining the words with schwa

WEEK 6 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: TENSES – PAST CONTINUOUS TENSE

What is the Past Continuous Tense? The Past Continuous Tense (also called Past Progressive Tense) describes actions that were in progress at a specific time in the past, or actions that were happening when another action interrupted them.

Formation of Past Continuous Tense:

Structure: Subject + was/were + verb-ing

Using was/were:

- I/He/She/It + was
- You/We/They + were

Examples:

- I was reading
- She was cooking
- They were playing
- We were studying

Forming the -ing Verb: (Same rules as Present Continuous)

1. Most verbs - add -ing: play → playing, read → reading
2. Verbs ending in -e - drop -e, add -ing: write → writing, make → making
3. One-syllable CVC verbs - double final consonant: run → running, sit → sitting
4. Verbs ending in -ie - change to -y: lie → lying, die → dying

Uses of Past Continuous Tense:

1. Actions in progress at a specific time in the past:

- I was sleeping at 10 PM last night
- They were studying at 7 AM yesterday
- She was cooking at 5 o'clock
- What were you doing at noon?

2. When one action interrupted another (with Simple Past):

- Structure: Past Continuous + when + Simple Past
- OR: Simple Past + while + Past Continuous

Examples:

- I was reading when the phone rang
- She was cooking when her friend arrived
- They were playing football when it started to rain
- While I was sleeping, someone knocked on the door
- He was driving when he saw the accident

Pattern:

- Longer action (background) = Past Continuous
- Shorter action (interruption) = Simple Past

3. Two or more simultaneous actions in the past:

- Structure: Past Continuous + while + Past Continuous

Examples:

- I was reading while she was cooking
- They were playing while we were studying
- He was watching TV while his sister was doing homework
- The children were singing while their teacher was playing the piano

4. Describing the scene/atmosphere in a story:

- The sun was shining brightly
- Birds were singing in the trees
- People were walking in the park
- A gentle breeze was blowing

5. Repeated actions in the past (showing annoyance with 'always'):

- He was always complaining about something
- She was always arriving late
- They were always fighting

Negative Form:

- Subject + was/were + not + verb-ing

Examples:

- I was not (wasn't) sleeping
- She was not (wasn't) cooking
- They were not (weren't) playing
- We were not (weren't) studying

Question Form:

- Was/Were + subject + verb-ing...?

Examples:

- Was I disturbing you?
- Was she cooking?
- Were they playing?

- Were you studying?

Wh- Questions:

- What/Where/Why/Who/How + was/were + subject + verb-ing?

Examples:

- What were you doing?
- Where was he going?
- Why were they crying?
- Who was she calling?
- How were you feeling?

Time Expressions Used with Past Continuous:

- At that time, at that moment
- At 5 o'clock yesterday, at noon
- All day yesterday, all morning, all night
- When, while, as
- This time last week/month/year
- Then, at the time

Past Continuous vs Simple Past:

Simple Past:

- Completed action: I read a book (finished)
- Short action: The phone rang
- Sequence: I woke up, brushed my teeth, and left

Past Continuous:

- Action in progress: I was reading a book (not finished, was doing)
- Longer background action: I was reading when the phone rang
- Simultaneous actions: I was reading while she was cooking

Common Combinations:

Past Continuous + when + Simple Past:

- I was walking when I met John
- They were eating when the power went off
- She was studying when her mother called

While + Past Continuous + Simple Past:

- While I was watching TV, the phone rang
- While they were playing, it started to rain

While + Past Continuous + Past Continuous:

- While I was cooking, she was cleaning
- While he was reading, they were playing

Verbs NOT Usually Used in Continuous Form: (Same as Present Continuous)

- State verbs: know, believe, understand, like, love, hate, want, need
- Possession verbs: have (possess), own, belong
- Sense verbs: see, hear, smell, taste (ability)

Use Simple Past instead:

- ✓ I knew the answer (Correct)
- ✗ I was knowing the answer (Wrong)
- ✓ She loved him (Correct)
- ✗ She was loving him (Wrong)

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

- ✗ I was went home (Correct: I was going home)
- ✗ She was cook (Correct: She was cooking)
- ✗ They was playing (Correct: They were playing)
- ✗ While I studied, he came (Correct: While I was studying, he came)
- ✗ I was knowing him (Correct: I knew him)

EVALUATION:

1. Define Past Continuous Tense and state four uses with examples
2. Write the Past Continuous form of these verbs: (a) I (read) (b) She (cook) (c) They (play) (d) He (write) (e) We (study)
3. Combine these sentences using 'when': (a) I was sleeping. The phone rang. (b) She was cooking. Her friend arrived. (c) They were playing. It rained.
4. Change to negative: (a) I was working (b) She was singing (c) They were dancing (d) He was eating (e) We were watching TV
5. Change to questions: (a) You were listening (b) She was reading (c) They were playing (d) He was sleeping (e) It was raining

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Explain the difference between Simple Past and Past Continuous Tense with five examples each
2. Write ten sentences using Past Continuous Tense to describe what was happening in your house yesterday evening
3. Combine these pairs using 'when' or 'while': (a) I (walk) to school. I (see) my teacher. (b) She (read). Her sister (watch) TV. (c) They (play) football. It (start) raining. (d) He (drive). He (hear) a loud noise. (e) We (have) dinner. The lights (go) off.
4. Fill in the blanks with correct forms: (a) At 8 PM yesterday, I _____ (watch) TV. (b) While she _____ (cook), I _____ (clean) the house. (c) What _____ you _____ (do) when I called? (d) They _____ (not/sleep) at midnight. (e) _____ it _____ (rain) when you left?
5. Correct the errors: (a) I was went to school (b) She was cook dinner (c) They was playing (d) While I study, he came (e) Was you sleeping?

WEEK 6 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING BETWEEN THE LINES TO DETECT AUTHOR'S ATTITUDE; VOCABULARY – CHILD LABOUR/TRAFFICKING

PART A: READING BETWEEN THE LINES TO DETECT AUTHOR'S ATTITUDE

What is Author's Attitude? Author's attitude is the writer's feelings, opinions, or stance toward the subject matter or audience. It goes beyond mood (emotional tone) to reveal the author's position—whether they support, oppose, question, or remain neutral about a topic.

Why Detect Author's Attitude?

- Helps identify bias or objectivity
- Reveals the author's purpose
- Helps evaluate credibility
- Enables critical reading
- Shows whether information is factual or opinion-based

Common Author Attitudes:

1. SUPPORTIVE/FAVORABLE:

- Author approves or agrees with the subject
- Uses positive language
- Highlights benefits and advantages
- Minimizes or ignores drawbacks

Word Clues: beneficial, excellent, commendable, admirable, impressive, effective, successful, valuable, worthwhile

Example: "The new education policy is commendable. It addresses key challenges and provides practical solutions that will benefit millions of students. The government deserves praise for this progressive step."

Attitude: Supportive/Positive toward the policy

2. CRITICAL/OPPOSING:

- Author disagrees or disapproves
- Points out flaws and problems
- Uses negative language
- Questions effectiveness

Word Clues: problematic, flawed, inadequate, disappointing, questionable, unfortunate, concerning, alarming, unacceptable

Example: "The new education policy is deeply flawed. It fails to address fundamental issues and creates more problems than it solves. The government's approach is disappointing and shows lack of proper consultation."

Attitude: Critical/Negative toward the policy

3. NEUTRAL/OBJECTIVE:

- Author presents information without taking sides
- Balanced presentation of facts
- No obvious emotional language
- Shows multiple perspectives

Word Clues: however, on the other hand, according to, statistics show, research indicates, reports suggest

Example: "The new education policy includes several provisions. According to officials, it aims to improve quality. Critics, however, question its implementation strategy. Time will reveal its effectiveness."

Attitude: Neutral/Objective

4. SARCASTIC/MOCKING:

- Author ridicules or makes fun of the subject
- Says the opposite of what is meant
- Uses irony and exaggeration
- Dismissive tone

Word Clues: supposedly, allegedly, so-called, claims, apparently, of course (used ironically)

Example: "Of course, our 'efficient' government completed the project on time—only five years late! The 'quality' work speaks for itself: the bridge collapsed within a week. Truly impressive!"

Attitude: Sarcastic/Mocking

5. CONCERNED/WORRIED:

- Author expresses worry about consequences
- Highlights potential dangers
- Urges caution or action
- Shows care about the issue

Word Clues: unfortunately, worrying, concerning, alarming, dangerous, risky, threatening, urgent

Example: "The alarming increase in deforestation is deeply concerning. If urgent action is not taken, the consequences will be devastating for future generations. We must act now before it's too late."

Attitude: Concerned/Worried

6. SKEPTICAL/DOUBTFUL:

- Author questions truth or validity
- Expresses uncertainty
- Challenges claims
- Demands evidence

Word Clues: allegedly, supposedly, claims, questionable, unclear, doubtful, unproven, debatable

Example: "The company claims their product is '100% natural,' but this assertion is questionable. No independent testing has verified these claims. Consumers should be skeptical of such unproven marketing statements."

Attitude: Skeptical/Doubtful

How to Detect Author's Attitude:

1. Analyze Word Choice (Diction):

- Positive vs. negative words
- Strong vs. mild words
- Objective vs. subjective language

2. Look for Qualifying Words:

- "Supposedly," "allegedly" = skepticism
- "Obviously," "clearly" = strong conviction
- "Perhaps," "possibly" = uncertainty

3. Examine What's Emphasized:

- What points get most attention?
- What is minimized or ignored?

- What examples are chosen?

4. Note Facts vs. Opinions:

- Objective: presents facts without judgment
- Subjective: includes personal views

5. Consider Omissions:

- What information is left out?
- Which perspectives are ignored?
- What questions remain unanswered?

6. Identify Rhetorical Devices:

- Questions (suggest doubt or engagement)
- Repetition (emphasizes importance)
- Comparisons (show preference)

Practice Passage:

"Child labour continues to rob millions of children of their childhood, education, and future. While some argue it helps poor families survive, this view ignores the severe physical and psychological harm inflicted on innocent children. How can any society justify exploiting its most vulnerable members? The practice must be condemned unequivocally and eliminated immediately."

Analysis:

- Attitude: Strongly opposed/Critical
- Clues:
 - "rob," "harm inflicted," "exploiting" (negative words)
 - "must be condemned," "eliminated immediately" (strong stance)

- Rhetorical question shows disapproval
- Dismisses opposing view ("this view ignores")
- Emotional appeal ("innocent children")

PART B: VOCABULARY – CHILD LABOUR/TRAFFICKING

Definitions:

Child Labour: The exploitation of children through any form of work that deprives them of childhood, education, and dignity, and is harmful to their physical and mental development.

Child Trafficking: The recruitment, transportation, transfer, or harboring of children for exploitation, including forced labor, sexual exploitation, or illegal activities.

KEY VOCABULARY:

Related to Child Labour:

1. General Terms:

- Exploitation: Unfair treatment for someone's benefit
- Minor: Person under 18 years old
- Hazardous work: Dangerous jobs harmful to children
- Forced labour: Work done against one's will
- Bonded labour: Work to repay a debt
- Domestic servitude: Working as house help in harsh conditions
- Street vending: Selling goods on streets
- Agriculture work: Farming, fishing, plantation work
- Manufacturing: Factory work, production

- Child labourer: Child who works inappropriately

2. Effects on Children:

- Deprivation: Being denied basic needs/rights
- Abuse: Physical, emotional, or sexual mistreatment
- Malnutrition: Poor nutrition, hunger
- Illiteracy: Inability to read or write
- Trauma: Deep psychological injury
- Exploitation: Being used unfairly for others' gain
- Vulnerability: Being easily hurt or influenced
- Stunted growth: Impaired physical development

3. Rights Violations:

- Right to education: Learning opportunity denied
- Right to play: Childhood activities denied
- Right to protection: Safety not provided
- Right to health: Medical care denied
- Child rights: Legal entitlements of children
- Violation: Breaking of rules/rights

Related to Child Trafficking:

1. Process Terms:

- Recruitment: Finding and engaging victims
- Transportation: Moving victims from one place to another
- Harboring: Hiding or sheltering victims

- Trafficker: Person who trafficks children
- Victim: Person trafficked
- Syndicate: Criminal organization
- Network: Connected group of traffickers

2. Types of Exploitation:

- Sexual exploitation: Forcing into prostitution/pornography
- Forced begging: Making children beg for money
- Organ trafficking: Stealing body organs
- Drug trafficking: Using children to transport drugs
- Armed conflict: Forcing children to fight
- Slavery: Ownership and control of a person
- Servitude: Being a servant/slave

3. Prevention & Protection:

- Awareness: Knowledge about the problem
- Prevention: Stopping before it happens
- Rescue: Saving victims
- Rehabilitation: Helping victims recover
- Prosecution: Legal action against traffickers
- Legislation: Laws against trafficking
- NGO (Non-Governmental Organization): Groups helping victims
- UNICEF: UN Children's Fund

- Helpline: Phone number for reporting/getting help

4. Legal Terms:

- Illegal: Against the law
- Criminal: Person who breaks the law
- Prosecution: Taking legal action
- Penalty: Punishment for crime
- Imprisonment: Jail sentence
- Fine: Money paid as punishment
- Conviction: Finding guilty in court

Warning Signs of Child Trafficking:

- Child living with non-relatives
- Working excessive hours
- Signs of abuse or fear
- Not attending school
- Restricted movement
- Malnourished or poorly clothed
- No possession of documents

Organizations Fighting Child Labour/Trafficking:

- UNICEF
- ILO (International Labour Organization)

- Save the Children
- NAPTIP (National Agency for the Prohibition of Trafficking in Persons) - Nigeria
- Anti-Slavery International
- Child Rights International Network

Important Statistics/Facts:

- Minimum working age in most countries: 14-16 years
- Millions of children worldwide affected
- More prevalent in developing countries
- Girls and boys both affected
- Often linked to poverty

EVALUATION:

1. Explain what "author's attitude" means and why it's important to detect it when reading
2. Read this passage and identify the author's attitude with evidence: "Technology has revolutionized education in remarkable ways. Students now have access to unlimited information, interactive learning tools, and global collaboration opportunities. These advances deserve celebration."
3. Define child labour and child trafficking, stating three differences between them
4. List five harmful effects of child labour on children
5. Explain five vocabulary terms related to child trafficking

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read this passage and answer the questions: "Some business owners claim child labour is necessary for survival. What a convenient excuse for exploitation! These 'employers' conveniently ignore international laws and children's rights. Meanwhile, innocent children suffer daily, deprived of education and childhood. The situation is unacceptable." Questions: (a) What is the author's attitude? (b) Identify three words/phrases that reveal this attitude (c) What rhetorical device does the author use? (d) Is the author objective or subjective? (e) Does the author support or oppose child labour?

2. Write a paragraph (100 words) expressing a critical attitude toward child trafficking
3. Match these terms with their meanings: (a) Exploitation (b) Rehabilitation (c) Prosecution (d) Trafficking (e) Vulnerability
4. List ten vocabulary words related to child labour and use each in a sentence
5. Design a poster with five warning signs of child trafficking and three helpline actions

WEEK 6 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY – ROAD TRANSPORTATION IS SAFER THAN AIR

What is an Argumentative Essay? An argumentative essay is a type of writing where you take a position on a topic and support it with reasons, evidence, and examples to convince readers that your viewpoint is correct or valid. You also address opposing views and explain why your position is better.

Characteristics of Argumentative Essay:

1. Clear Position/Thesis:

- States your stand clearly
- Usually in the introduction
- Tells readers what you believe

2. Logical Arguments:

- Presents reasons supporting your position
- Uses facts, statistics, examples
- Each paragraph develops one main point

3. Evidence and Examples:

- Concrete proof supporting claims
- Real-life examples
- Statistics, expert opinions, research
- Personal experiences (if relevant)

4. Counter-Arguments:

- Acknowledges opposing views
- Shows you've considered other perspectives

- Refutes (argues against) them with evidence

5. Persuasive Language:

- Convincing tone
- Strong vocabulary
- Logical connectors
- Confident but respectful

6. Formal Tone:

- Objective language
- Third person (mostly)
- Professional vocabulary
- No slang or contractions

Structure of Argumentative Essay:

INTRODUCTION (Paragraph 1):

- Hook: Attention-grabbing opening
- Background: Brief context about the topic
- Thesis Statement: Your clear position
- Preview: Mention main arguments briefly

BODY PARAGRAPHS (3-4 paragraphs):

Paragraph 2 - First Argument:

- Topic sentence stating your first point
- Explanation and elaboration
- Evidence/examples supporting it
- Concluding sentence linking to thesis

Paragraph 3 - Second Argument:

- Topic sentence stating your second point
- Explanation and elaboration
- Evidence/examples supporting it
- Concluding sentence

Paragraph 4 - Third Argument:

- Topic sentence stating your third point
- Explanation and elaboration
- Evidence/examples supporting it
- Concluding sentence

Paragraph 5 - Counter-Argument & Refutation:

- Acknowledge opposing view
- Present it fairly
- Refute it with evidence
- Show why your position is stronger

CONCLUSION (Final Paragraph):

- Restate thesis (in different words)
- Summarize main arguments
- Final thought or call to action
- Strong closing statement

USEFUL LANGUAGE FOR ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAYS:

Stating Your Position:

- I strongly believe that...
- It is evident that...
- There is no doubt that...
- This essay argues that...
- The evidence clearly shows...

Introducing Arguments:

- First/Firstly, To begin with, First of all
- Second/Secondly, Furthermore, Moreover, Additionally
- Third/Thirdly, Finally, Lastly
- Another reason is...
- Most importantly...

Providing Evidence:

- For example, For instance
- According to research/statistics...
- Studies show that...
- Evidence suggests...
- This is illustrated by...
- Consider the case of...

Introducing Counter-Arguments:

- Some people argue/believe that...
- Opponents claim that...
- Critics suggest that...
- It may be argued that...

- On the other hand...
- Admittedly...
- While it is true that...

Refuting Counter-Arguments:

- However, this view fails to consider...
- Nevertheless, this argument is flawed because...
- Despite this claim, evidence shows...
- This overlooks the fact that...
- While this may be partially true, ...
- On the contrary...

Concluding:

- In conclusion, To conclude, To sum up
- Therefore, Thus, Hence
- It is clear that...
- Based on the evidence presented...
- For these reasons...

SAMPLE ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY:

ROAD TRANSPORTATION IS SAFER THAN AIR TRANSPORTATION

When planning a journey, the question of safety often arises. While many consider air travel the safest mode of transportation, a closer examination reveals that road transportation offers superior safety advantages. Road travel provides better control, accessibility to emergency services, and survivability in accidents. This essay argues that road transportation is safer than air transportation based on practical, statistical, and logical considerations.

Firstly, road transportation offers greater personal control and immediate response to danger. When traveling by road, drivers can stop instantly if they notice a problem, change routes to avoid hazards, or pull over during emergencies. If a vehicle develops mechanical issues, the driver can safely park and seek help. In contrast, airplane passengers are entirely dependent on pilots and have no control over the aircraft. If problems occur mid-flight, there is limited room for maneuvering or emergency stops. For example, if a car's brakes fail, the driver can use the handbrake and gradually reduce speed. However, if an aircraft experiences engine failure at high altitude, the consequences are far more severe with limited options for immediate intervention.

Secondly, road accidents are more survivable than air crashes. Statistics show that passengers involved in road accidents have a much higher survival rate compared to aviation accidents. Most road accidents occur at relatively low speeds within cities, allowing passengers to survive with injuries that can be treated. Modern cars are equipped with safety features such as airbags, seatbelts, and crumple zones designed to protect occupants during collisions. When road accidents happen, emergency services can quickly reach the scene to provide medical assistance. Conversely, airplane crashes typically occur from great heights at high speeds, leaving little chance of survival. Even with safety protocols, the impact of an aircraft hitting the ground from thousands of feet is usually catastrophic. Furthermore, rescue operations for plane crashes are complicated by remote locations, fire hazards, and the difficulty of accessing survivors quickly.

Moreover, road transportation provides better access to emergency assistance and medical care. If someone falls ill while traveling by road, the vehicle can immediately divert to the nearest hospital. Emergency vehicles can reach road accident victims within minutes in most areas, significantly improving survival chances. Ambulances, fire services, and police can respond quickly to road incidents. On the other hand, if a medical emergency occurs during a flight, passengers must wait until the plane lands, which could take hours depending on the flight duration and availability of nearby airports. The limited medical equipment on board aircraft cannot match the resources available at hospitals. In remote areas where planes may crash, rescue teams may take hours or even days to reach survivors, if any.

Admittedly, some argue that air travel has fewer accidents per mile traveled and that modern aircraft technology makes flying extremely safe. Statistics show that flying has a lower accident rate compared to driving. However, this argument fails to consider the severity and survivability of accidents. While airplane accidents may be rarer, they are almost always fatal when they occur. A person may be involved in several minor road accidents during their lifetime and survive them all, whereas a single plane crash is likely to be fatal. Furthermore, road safety continues to improve with better vehicle technology, improved road infrastructure, and stricter traffic laws. The mere fact that airplane accidents are less frequent does not make them safer when we consider the devastating outcomes and lack of survival chances.

In conclusion, road transportation is safer than air transportation when considering control, survivability, and access to emergency services. The ability to stop immediately, higher survival rates in accidents, and quick access to medical help make road travel the safer option. While air travel may have statistical advantages in accident frequency, the catastrophic nature of plane crashes and limited survival possibilities cannot be ignored. For these reasons, road transportation remains the safer choice for travelers who prioritize survival and immediate access to assistance in emergencies. When safety is measured not just by accident frequency but by survivability and control, the evidence clearly favors road transportation.

KEY POINTS FOR THIS TOPIC:

Arguments Supporting Road Transportation:

1. Greater control (can stop, change routes, respond to danger)
2. Higher survival rates in accidents
3. Better access to emergency services
4. Modern safety features (airbags, seatbelts)
5. Lower-speed collisions (more survivable)
6. Immediate medical assistance available
7. Can avoid dangerous situations
8. Ability to escape quickly from vehicles

Arguments Supporting Air Transportation (Counter-arguments):

1. Fewer accidents per mile traveled
2. Highly trained pilots
3. Strict safety regulations
4. Advanced technology
5. Regular maintenance checks
6. Statistics show it's statistically safer

How to Refute Air Transportation Arguments:

1. While accidents are rare, they're almost always fatal
2. Technology failures still occur with devastating effects
3. No control for passengers in emergencies
4. Difficult rescue operations
5. High-altitude crashes are non-survivable
6. Statistics don't account for severity

WRITING TIPS:

DO:

- State your position clearly in the introduction
- Use strong, convincing evidence
- Address counter-arguments fairly
- Use formal language
- Provide specific examples

- Connect paragraphs logically
- Conclude powerfully
- Proofread carefully

DON'T:

- Use emotional language without evidence
- Ignore opposing viewpoints
- Make unsupported claims
- Use informal language or slang
- Write in first person excessively
- Make personal attacks
- Contradict yourself
- Leave arguments unsupported

Other Possible Topics for Practice:

- School uniforms should be compulsory
- Social media does more harm than good
- Homework should be abolished
- Sports are more important than academics
- Television is harmful to children
- Boarding schools are better than day schools

EVALUATION:

1. Define argumentative essay and state five characteristics
2. Explain the structure of an argumentative essay (introduction, body, conclusion) and what each part should contain
3. What is a counter-argument and why is it important in argumentative writing?
4. List five useful phrases for: (a) stating your position (b) introducing counter-arguments
5. What is the difference between argumentative and narrative essays?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete argumentative essay (300-350 words) on the topic: "Road Transportation is Safer than Air Transportation"
2. Identify and label: (a) thesis statement (b) three main arguments (c) counter-argument (d) refutation (e) conclusion in your essay
3. Write the introduction paragraph for an argumentative essay on: "Students Should Wear School Uniforms"
4. List five arguments supporting air transportation and explain how you would refute each one
5. Explain why evidence and examples are important in argumentative writing. Give three reasons.

WEEK 6 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: RECOMMENDED PROSE TEXT

What is a Prose Text? Prose is writing that is structured in sentences and paragraphs, following natural speech patterns. Unlike poetry (which uses verses) or drama (which uses dialogue and stage directions), prose tells stories through continuous narrative.

Types of Prose:

1. Fiction (Imaginative/Made-up stories):

- Novels (long stories)
- Novellas (medium-length stories)
- Short stories (brief stories)

2. Non-Fiction (True/Factual):

- Biographies
- Autobiographies
- Essays
- Articles

For JSS1, recommended prose texts are usually:

- Short novels or novellas
- Collection of short stories
- Young adult fiction
- African literature
- Adventure/moral stories

COMMON RECOMMENDED PROSE TEXTS FOR JSS1:

1. "The Drummer Boy" by Cyprian Ekwensi
2. "The Passport of Mallam Ilia" by Cyprian Ekwensi
3. "Tales from the Forest" by Eno Okoko
4. "Chike and the River" by Chinua Achebe
5. "The Last Days at Forcados High School" by A.H. Mohammed
6. "Mr. Johnson" by Joyce Cary
7. African Folktales Collection
8. "Beautiful Feathers" by Cyprian Ekwensi

(Note: The specific text varies by school and state. Students should use the text assigned by their school.)

HOW TO STUDY A PROSE TEXT:

1. UNDERSTAND THE STORY:

Plot:

- What happens in the story?
- Beginning (exposition)
- Middle (rising action and climax)
- End (resolution)
- Main events in chronological order

Setting:

- Where does the story take place? (location)
- When does it happen? (time period)

- What is the physical and social environment?

2. KNOW THE CHARACTERS:

Main Characters:

- Who is the protagonist (hero)?
- Who is the antagonist (villain/opponent)?
- What are their personalities?
- What motivates them?
- How do they change?

Character Types:

- Round characters: Complex, realistic, develop
- Flat characters: Simple, one-dimensional, don't change
- Dynamic characters: Change throughout the story
- Static characters: Remain the same

Character Analysis Questions:

- Physical appearance?
- Personality traits?
- Relationships with others?
- Role in the story?
- What they want/desire?
- Strengths and weaknesses?

3. IDENTIFY THEMES:

Theme: Central message or lesson

Common Themes in Prose:

- Good vs. evil
- Growing up/coming of age
- Courage and bravery
- Honesty and integrity
- Friendship and loyalty
- Family relationships
- Overcoming challenges
- Justice and injustice
- Love and sacrifice
- Tradition vs. modernity
- Corruption
- Ambition

Questions to Find Theme:

- What lesson does the story teach?
- What is the author trying to say about life?
- What universal truths are explored?
- What message is conveyed?

4. UNDERSTAND THE CONFLICT:

Types of Conflict:

- Man vs. Man: Character against another character

- Man vs. Self: Internal struggle within character
- Man vs. Society: Character against social norms/rules
- Man vs. Nature: Character against natural forces
- Man vs. Fate/Supernatural: Character against destiny or supernatural forces

5. ANALYZE STYLE:

Point of View:

- First Person: "I" narrator (character tells story)
- Third Person Limited: Narrator knows one character's thoughts
- Third Person Omniscient: Narrator knows everything
- Second Person: "You" (rare)

Language:

- Simple or complex?
- Descriptive or straightforward?
- Use of dialogue?
- Figurative language?

Tone:

- Serious, humorous, sad, hopeful?
- Author's attitude toward subject?

6. EXAMINE LITERARY DEVICES:

Common devices in prose:

- Foreshadowing: Hints about future events

- Flashback: Scene from the past
- Symbolism: Objects representing ideas
- Irony: Opposite of what's expected
- Imagery: Descriptive language appealing to senses
- Metaphor/Simile: Comparisons

HOW TO WRITE ABOUT YOUR PROSE TEXT:

Character Question Example: "Describe the character of [name] in the novel."

Answer Structure:

1. Introduction: Who is the character?
2. Physical description
3. Personality traits with examples
4. Role in the story
5. Relationships with others
6. Character development/change
7. Conclusion: Significance

Theme Question Example: "What is the main theme of the novel?"

Answer Structure:

1. State the theme clearly
2. Explain what it means
3. Give examples from the story
4. Show how different events relate to theme
5. Explain the lesson/message

6. Conclusion: Why it's important

Plot Question Example: "Narrate the story/Give the plot summary."

Answer Structure:

1. Introduction: Title, author, brief overview
2. Beginning: Introduce characters, setting, initial situation
3. Middle: Main events, complications, conflicts
4. Climax: Turning point, most exciting moment
5. End: Resolution, how conflicts are resolved
6. Conclusion: Final situation

Relationship Question Example: "Discuss the relationship between [Character A] and [Character B]."

Answer Structure:

1. Introduction: Who are they?
2. How they meet/know each other
3. Nature of relationship (friends, enemies, family)
4. How they interact
5. Conflicts or harmony between them
6. How relationship develops/changes
7. Conclusion: Significance of relationship

STUDY TIPS:

Reading the Text:

1. Read the entire text at least twice

2. Take notes while reading
3. Mark important passages
4. Note unfamiliar words and find meanings
5. Pay attention to chapter titles
6. Identify turning points

Character Study:

1. Create character charts
2. Note physical descriptions
3. Track character actions
4. Quote significant dialogues
5. Trace character development

Plot Study:

1. Create plot timeline
2. Identify cause-and-effect relationships
3. Note chapter summaries
4. Identify key events
5. Understand story structure

Theme Study:

1. Identify recurring ideas
2. Note moral lessons
3. Connect events to themes
4. Understand author's message
5. Relate themes to real life

Exam Preparation:

1. Read sample questions
2. Practice essay answers
3. Memorize key quotes
4. Understand major events
5. Know character names and spellings
6. Review chapter by chapter
7. Discuss with classmates
8. Create study guides

COMMON EXAM QUESTIONS ON PROSE:Plot/Summary Questions:

- Give an account of...
- Narrate the story of...
- What happened when...?
- Describe the events leading to...

Character Questions:

- Describe the character of...
- Compare and contrast [two characters]
- Discuss the role of...
- How does [character] change?

Theme Questions:

- What is the main theme?

- Discuss the theme of...
- What lessons are taught?
- What message does the author convey?

Relationship Questions:

- Discuss the relationship between...
- How do [characters] interact?
- Describe the friendship/conflict between...

Literary Device Questions:

- Identify examples of...
- Discuss the author's use of...
- How does the author create suspense?

Personal Response Questions:

- What did you learn from...?
- Which character do you admire? Why?
- What is your favorite part?
- How would you have handled...?

EVALUATION:

1. Define prose and state three differences between prose, poetry, and drama
2. List five elements you should study when reading a prose text
3. Explain what theme means and give three examples of common themes in literature
4. What are the five types of conflict? Give an example of each

5. State the title and author of your recommended prose text. Write a brief summary (5-6 sentences)

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read the first three chapters of your recommended prose text
2. Write a character profile of the main character including: (a) Physical description (b) Personality traits (c) Role in the story (d) Relationships with others (e) One significant action
3. Identify and explain the setting of your prose text (time and place)
4. List five major events from the beginning of your prose text in chronological order
5. What is one theme you have identified so far in your prose text? Explain with examples from what you've read

WEEK 8 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: VOWEL CONTRASTS: /ɒ/ VS /ɔ:/ (HOT/PORT); /ɑ:/ VS /æ/ (BAG/PART)

CONTRAST 1: /ɒ/ vs /ɔ:/

Short Vowel /ɒ/ (as in "hot"):

- Short, quick sound
- Lips slightly rounded
- Jaw moderately open
- Examples: hot, pot, got, box, top, dog, shop, clock, doctor, coffee

Long Vowel /ɔ:/ (as in "port"):

- Long, prolonged sound
- Lips more rounded and protruded
- Jaw less open
- Examples: port, ought, thought, bought, caught, ball, call, tall, warn, morning

Practice Pairs:

- cot /ɒ/ - caught /ɔ:/
- not /ɒ/ - nought /ɔ:/
- spot /ɒ/ - sport /ɔ:/
- pot /ɒ/ - port /ɔ:/
- shot /ɒ/ - short /ɔ:/

Key Difference: /ɒ/ is SHORT with relaxed lips; /ɔ:/ is LONG with rounded, protruded lips.

CONTRAST 2: /ɑ:/ vs /æ/

Long Vowel /ɑ:/ (as in "part"):

- Long, open sound
- Mouth wide open
- Tongue low and flat
- Examples: part, car, far, hard, start, father, class, grass, past, heart

Short Vowel /æ/ (as in "bag"):

- Short sound
- Mouth moderately open
- Tongue higher than /ɑ:/
- Examples: bag, cat, hat, man, hand, bad, sad, apple, happy, family

Practice Pairs:

- cap /æ/ - carp /ɑ:/
- hat /æ/ - heart /ɑ:/
- bad /æ/ - bard /ɑ:/
- pat /æ/ - part /ɑ:/
- mad /æ/ - marred /ɑ:/

Key Difference: /ɑ:/ is LONG with wide-open mouth; /æ/ is SHORT with less mouth opening.

Common Mistakes:

- Confusing "hot" /ɒ/ with "heart" /ɑ:/
- Pronouncing "bad" /æ/ like "bard" /ɑ:/
- Using /ɒ/ when /ɔ:/ is needed: "caught" not "cot"

EVALUATION:

1. Explain the difference between /ɒ/ and /ɔ:/ sounds with three examples each

2. Pronounce and identify the correct vowel sound: (a) hot (b) port (c) shot (d) caught (e) spot
3. Explain the difference between /ɑ:/ and /æ/ sounds with three examples each
4. Write five word pairs showing /ɑ:/ vs /æ/ contrast
5. Correct the pronunciation: A student says "I bought a hot dog" but pronounces both words with /ɒ/. Which word should use /ɔ:/?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List ten words each for: (a) /ɒ/ sound (b) /ɔ:/ sound (c) /ɑ:/ sound (d) /æ/ sound
2. Write five sentences using word pairs that contrast /ɒ/ and /ɔ:/
3. Write five sentences using word pairs that contrast /ɑ:/ and /æ/
4. Practice reading aloud: "The hot pot was caught in the short spot. My father had a bad heart, so he parked his car far from the grass."
5. Create a chart showing the four vowel sounds with their characteristics (mouth position, length, lip shape)

WEEK 8 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: MAKING SENTENCES WITH SIMPLE PRESENT & SIMPLE PAST TENSES

REVIEW: SIMPLE PRESENT TENSE

Form: Subject + base verb (+ s/es for he/she/it)

Uses:

1. Habits/Routines: I wake up at 6 AM
2. General truths: The sun rises in the east
3. Permanent situations: She lives in Lagos

Time Markers: always, usually, often, sometimes, every day/week

REVIEW: SIMPLE PAST TENSE

Form: Subject + past verb (regular: -ed; irregular: special forms)

Uses:

1. Completed past actions: I visited Abuja yesterday
2. Past habits: He played football every Saturday (when young)
3. Series of past actions: She woke up, ate, and left

Time Markers: yesterday, last week/month/year, ago, in 2020

MAKING CORRECT SENTENCES:

Simple Present Examples:

- My sister teaches Mathematics
- We go to church every Sunday
- The train leaves at 8 PM

- He doesn't eat meat
- Do you speak French?

Simple Past Examples:

- My sister taught Mathematics last year
- We went to church last Sunday
- The train left at 8 PM yesterday
- He didn't eat meat
- Did you speak to him?

COMMON ERRORS TO AVOID:

Error 1 - Mixing Tenses:

- ✗ Yesterday, I go to school (mixing time marker with wrong tense)
- ✓ Yesterday, I went to school

Error 2 - Wrong Verb Forms:

- ✗ She don't go (wrong auxiliary with third person)
- ✓ She doesn't go
- ✗ He goed (wrong past form)
- ✓ He went

Error 3 - Forgetting -s/-es in Present:

- ✗ He go to school
- ✓ He goes to school

Error 4 - Using Past Form in Negatives/Questions:

- ✗ Did you went? / He didn't came
- ✓ Did you go? / He didn't come

SENTENCE PATTERNS:

Affirmative:

- Present: Subject + verb(s/es)
- Past: Subject + past verb

Negative:

- Present: Subject + don't/doesn't + base verb
- Past: Subject + didn't + base verb

Interrogative:

- Present: Do/Does + subject + base verb?
- Past: Did + subject + base verb?

PRACTICE TRANSFORMATIONS:

Present to Past:

- I eat rice → I ate rice yesterday
- She plays tennis → She played tennis last week
- They are happy → They were happy

Past to Present:

- I went to school → I go to school every day
- She wrote a letter → She writes letters often

- They were students → They are students

TIME SIGNAL MATCHING:

Present Signals: now, every day, always, usually, on Mondays Past Signals: yesterday, last night, ago, in 1999, this morning (if past)

Correct Usage:

- I always wake up early (present - habit)
- I woke up early yesterday (past - completed)

EVALUATION:

1. Write five sentences in Simple Present Tense about your daily routine
2. Convert these to Simple Past Tense: (a) I play football (b) She eats rice (c) They go to school (d) He is happy (e) We have a car
3. Correct the errors: (a) Yesterday I go home (b) She don't like it (c) Did he went there? (d) He teach every day (e) They was happy
4. Fill in with correct tense: (a) Every Sunday, we _____ (go) to church. (b) Last Sunday, we _____ (go) to church. (c) She _____ (not/eat) meat now. (d) She _____ (not/eat) meat yesterday.
5. Write sentences matching these time signals: (a) always (b) yesterday (c) every morning (d) last week (e) usually

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten sentences in Simple Present Tense using different subjects and verbs
2. Write ten sentences in Simple Past Tense about what you did last weekend

3. Transform: Change these present sentences to past (add appropriate time signals): (a) I study English (b) She cooks dinner (c) They play games (d) We watch TV (e) He goes to work
4. Create sentences using: (a) always + present (b) yesterday + past (c) every day + present (d) last year + past (e) usually + present
5. Write a short paragraph (8 sentences) mixing Simple Present (your habits) and Simple Past (what you did yesterday)

WEEK 8 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING TO IDENTIFY OVERALL IMPRESSION FROM AUTHOR'S STYLE

What is Author's Style? Author's style is the unique way a writer uses language, structure, and literary techniques to express ideas. It creates an overall impression or feeling in the reader.

ELEMENTS OF AUTHOR'S STYLE:

1. WORD CHOICE (Diction):

- Simple/Plain: Common, everyday words - easy to understand
 - Example: "The man was sad"
- Complex/Elevated: Difficult, sophisticated words - formal
 - Example: "The gentleman was melancholic"
- Informal/Colloquial: Casual, conversational language
 - Example: "The guy was really down"

2. SENTENCE STRUCTURE:

- Short sentences: Create tension, urgency, simplicity
 - Example: "He ran. The door slammed. Silence."
- Long sentences: Create flow, detail, complexity
 - Example: "He ran swiftly through the winding streets, his heart pounding loudly as the door slammed behind him, leaving only eerie silence."

3. TONE:

- Formal vs. Informal
- Serious vs. Humorous
- Objective vs. Subjective

- Optimistic vs. Pessimistic

4. FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE:

- Heavy use: Poetic, imaginative style
- Minimal use: Straightforward, direct style
- Types: Metaphors, similes, personification, imagery

5. DESCRIPTIVE DETAIL:

- Highly descriptive: Rich imagery, sensory details
- Minimally descriptive: Focuses on action, dialogue

6. NARRATIVE TECHNIQUE:

- First person (I): Personal, intimate
- Third person (he/she): Distant, objective
- Present tense: Immediate, urgent
- Past tense: Reflective, storytelling

OVERALL IMPRESSIONS FROM STYLE:

Example 1 - Simple, Direct Style: "The boy walked to school. He was late. His teacher was angry. He sat down quietly."

Impression: Straightforward, childlike, factual, no-nonsense

Example 2 - Descriptive, Flowery Style: "The young lad strolled leisurely along the winding path to the magnificent educational institution, his heart heavy with the knowledge of his tardiness. The stern educator, her countenance displaying unmistakable displeasure, cast a disapproving glance as he settled into his seat with cautious movements."

Impression: Formal, elaborate, sophisticated, slow-paced

Example 3 - Emotional, Dramatic Style: "The boy's heart pounded as he raced toward school. Late again! What would the teacher say? Her face, twisted with anger, made him freeze. He crept to his seat, trembling."

Impression: Tense, emotional, suspenseful, engaging

Example 4 - Humorous, Casual Style: "So there I was, sprinting to school like my life depended on it—spoiler alert: it kinda did. The teacher's face? Picture a volcano about to erupt. I slithered into my seat, trying to become invisible."

Impression: Funny, relatable, conversational, lighthearted

HOW TO IDENTIFY OVERALL IMPRESSION:

Step 1: Read the entire passage Step 2: Notice word choices (simple/complex?) Step 3: Observe sentence length (short/long?) Step 4: Identify tone (serious/funny/sad?) Step 5: Check for figurative language Step 6: Consider the feeling it creates Step 7: Summarize the overall impression

PRACTICE PASSAGE:

"The forest whispered ancient secrets. Shadows danced between towering trees as moonlight filtered through emerald leaves. A gentle breeze carried the sweet scent of jasmine, while distant owls sang their haunting melodies. In this magical realm, time seemed to stand still."

Style Analysis:

- Diction: Poetic, descriptive words (whispered, ancient, towering, haunting)
- Sentences: Flowing, moderate length
- Figurative Language: Personification (forest whispered, shadows danced)

- Imagery: Strong sensory details (sight, smell, sound)
- Overall Impression: Magical, peaceful, mysterious, dreamlike, enchanting

DIFFERENT STYLES FOR DIFFERENT PURPOSES:

Scientific/Technical Writing:

- Clear, precise, objective
- Formal vocabulary
- Factual presentation
- Example: "Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius at sea level."

Literary/Creative Writing:

- Imaginative, expressive
- Figurative language
- Emotional appeal
- Example: "The water danced and bubbled joyously over the flames."

Journalistic Writing:

- Informative, concise
- Active voice
- Factual with some opinion
- Example: "The water reached boiling point during the experiment."

EVALUATION:

1. Define author's style and list five elements that contribute to it

2. Read this passage and identify the overall impression: "Thunder roared. Lightning struck. The child screamed. Rain poured. Darkness everywhere."
3. What impression does this style create? "The magnificent sunset painted the sky in brilliant hues of orange, pink, and purple, while gentle waves whispered softly against the golden shore."
4. Explain how sentence structure affects the overall impression of a text
5. Compare these two sentences and explain which creates a more formal impression: (a) "He went home" (b) "The gentleman proceeded to his residence"

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Rewrite this sentence in three different styles (simple, formal, dramatic): "The girl cried when she lost her bag"
2. Read any short story or article and identify: (a) Type of diction used (b) Sentence structure pattern (c) Tone (d) Use of figurative language (e) Overall impression created
3. Write two paragraphs (5 sentences each) about a rainy day: First paragraph - simple, direct style; Second paragraph - descriptive, emotional style
4. Analyze this passage for style: "Bang! The door flew open. A stranger stood there. Nobody moved. Everyone stared." What impression does it create?
5. Explain how an author's word choice affects the reader's overall impression. Give three examples.

WEEK 8 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: EXPOSITORY ESSAY – HIV/AIDS

What is an Expository Essay? An expository essay explains, informs, or describes a topic clearly and factually. It presents information objectively without trying to persuade or tell a story.

Purpose: To educate the reader about a subject

Characteristics:

- Factual and informative
- Clear and logical organization
- Objective tone (no personal opinions)
- Uses facts, statistics, examples
- Third-person point of view
- Formal language

STRUCTURE:

INTRODUCTION:

- Hook (interesting opening)
- Background information
- Thesis statement (main idea)

BODY (3-4 paragraphs):

- Each paragraph covers one main point
- Topic sentence
- Supporting details, facts, examples
- Smooth transitions

CONCLUSION:

- Restate main points
- Summary
- Final thought

TOPIC: HIV/AIDS

Key Information to Include:

Definition:

- HIV: Human Immunodeficiency Virus (virus that attacks immune system)
- AIDS: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (advanced stage of HIV)

How HIV is Transmitted:

- Unprotected sexual contact
- Sharing needles/syringes
- Mother to child (pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding)
- Blood transfusion (with infected blood)
- Contact with infected blood/body fluids

How HIV is NOT Transmitted:

- Casual contact (hugging, shaking hands)
- Sharing food, utensils
- Mosquito bites
- Toilet seats
- Swimming pools
- Airborne transmission

Symptoms:

- Early: Flu-like illness, fever, fatigue, swollen glands
- Later: Weight loss, persistent cough, night sweats
- AIDS stage: Severe infections, opportunistic diseases

Prevention:

- Abstinence
- Safe sex (condom use)
- Avoid sharing needles
- Screen blood before transfusion
- Antiretroviral drugs for pregnant women
- Avoid contact with infected blood

Treatment:

- Antiretroviral Therapy (ART)
- No cure, but treatment controls virus
- Regular medical monitoring
- Healthy lifestyle

Effects:

- Weakened immune system
- Susceptibility to infections
- Social stigma
- Economic burden
- Psychological impact

Important Facts:

- HIV can remain undetected for years
- Anyone can be infected
- People with HIV can live long, healthy lives with treatment
- Stigma and discrimination are wrong
- Testing is important

USEFUL VOCABULARY:

- Immune system, virus, infection, transmission
- Antiretroviral therapy (ART), treatment, prevention
- Symptoms, diagnosis, testing, screening
- Stigma, discrimination, awareness
- Counseling, support, care

TRANSITIONS FOR EXPOSITORY WRITING:

- First, Second, Third, Finally
- Additionally, Furthermore, Moreover
- For example, For instance, Such as
- In addition, Also, As well as
- Therefore, Consequently, As a result
- In conclusion, To summarize, In summary

SAMPLE EXPOSITORY ESSAY:

HIV/AIDS: UNDERSTANDING THE DISEASE

HIV/AIDS is one of the most serious health challenges facing the world today. Understanding this disease is crucial for prevention and reducing stigma. HIV (Human Immunodeficiency Virus) is a virus that attacks the body's immune system, while AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) is the advanced stage of HIV infection. This essay examines the transmission, prevention, and treatment of HIV/AIDS.

HIV is transmitted through specific body fluids including blood, semen, vaginal fluids, and breast milk. The primary modes of transmission are unprotected sexual contact with an infected person, sharing needles or syringes, mother-to-child transmission during pregnancy or breastfeeding, and transfusion of infected blood. However, it is important to understand that HIV cannot be transmitted through casual contact such as hugging, shaking hands, sharing food, or using the same toilet. Mosquitoes also cannot transmit the virus. This knowledge helps reduce unnecessary fear and discrimination.

Prevention of HIV/AIDS involves several strategies. The most effective method is abstinence from sexual activity. For those who are sexually active, consistent and correct use of condoms significantly reduces transmission risk. Avoiding the sharing of needles and ensuring blood is screened before transfusion are also critical preventive measures. Pregnant women living with HIV can take antiretroviral drugs to prevent transmission to their babies. Additionally, regular testing allows for early detection and treatment, preventing further spread.

Although there is no cure for HIV/AIDS, treatment has advanced significantly. Antiretroviral Therapy (ART) helps people living with HIV control the virus, maintain their immune system, and live long, healthy lives. With proper treatment and medical care, HIV-positive individuals can prevent progression to AIDS. Treatment also reduces the risk of transmitting the virus to others. Regular medical monitoring, adherence to medication, and a healthy lifestyle are essential components of HIV management.

In conclusion, HIV/AIDS is a serious but manageable disease. Understanding how it is transmitted helps in prevention efforts, while knowing about available treatment offers hope to those affected. Society must combat stigma and discrimination through education and awareness. With continued research, prevention efforts, and compassionate support, we can work toward reducing the impact of HIV/AIDS on individuals and communities worldwide.

WRITING TIPS:

DO:

- Use factual, accurate information
- Organize ideas logically
- Use formal, objective language
- Include specific details and examples
- Use transitions between paragraphs
- Cite sources if using statistics
- Proofread carefully

DON'T:

- Include personal opinions or arguments
- Use emotional or biased language
- Write in first person (I, we)
- Include unverified information
- Make judgmental statements
- Use informal language
- Deviate from the main topic

EVALUATION:

1. Define expository essay and state four characteristics that distinguish it from other essay types
2. What is the difference between HIV and AIDS?

3. List five ways HIV can be transmitted and five ways it CANNOT be transmitted
4. Explain the structure of an expository essay (introduction, body, conclusion)
5. Why is objective tone important in expository writing?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a complete expository essay (300-350 words) on the topic: "HIV/AIDS: Understanding the Disease"
2. Create an outline for an expository essay about HIV/AIDS with: (a) Thesis statement (b) Three main body points (c) Conclusion summary
3. List ten facts about HIV/AIDS that should be included in an expository essay
4. Write the introduction paragraph for an expository essay titled "Preventing HIV/AIDS"
5. Explain three differences between expository essay and argumentative essay

WEEK 8 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: MYTHS AND LEGENDS – COMPARING MYTHS AND LEGENDS; RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT

PART A: MYTHS AND LEGENDS

DEFINITIONS:

Myth: A traditional story explaining natural phenomena, religious beliefs, or the origins of a people/culture. Features gods, supernatural beings, and creation stories. Often considered sacred.

Legend: A traditional story about real or believed-to-be-real people and historical events, passed down through generations. May have some basis in fact but includes exaggerated or fictional elements.

KEY DIFFERENCES:

Aspect	Myth	Legend
Main Characters	Gods, deities, supernatural beings	Heroes, historical figures, humans
Setting	Distant past, before time began	Specific historical period/place
Purpose	Explain origins, natural phenomena	Celebrate heroes, teach lessons
Truth Status	Sacred, symbolic truth	May have historical basis
Time	Timeless, ancient past	Identifiable time period
Focus	Creation, cosmic events	Heroic deeds, adventures

CHARACTERISTICS OF MYTHS:

1. Features:

- Gods and goddesses as main characters

- Explains creation of world/humans
- Explains natural phenomena (thunder, rain, seasons)
- Religious/spiritual significance
- Set in primordial time
- Supernatural powers and magic

2. Common Themes:

- Creation of the universe
- Origin of death
- Why things are the way they are
- Relationship between gods and humans
- Good vs. evil

3. Examples:

- Greek: Zeus, Prometheus, Pandora's Box
- African: How Death Came to the World, Olodumare and creation
- Egyptian: Ra (sun god), Osiris and Isis
- Norse: Odin, Thor, creation of Yggdrasil

4. Purpose:

- Explain mysteries of life
- Teach religious beliefs
- Provide moral guidance
- Establish cultural identity

CHARACTERISTICS OF LEGENDS:

1. Features:

- Heroes and warriors as main characters
- Based on historical events (exaggerated)
- Set in identifiable times/places
- Contains some factual elements
- Extraordinary human achievements
- May include some supernatural elements

2. Common Themes:

- Heroic deeds and bravery
- Good triumphing over evil
- Love and sacrifice
- Founding of nations/cities
- Great battles and conquests

3. Examples:

- African: Sundiata (Mali), Queen Amina of Zaria, Shaka Zulu, Moremi of Ile-Ife
- European: King Arthur, Robin Hood, El Cid
- Asian: Mulan, Rama and Sita
- American: Johnny Appleseed, Paul Bunyan

4. Purpose:

- Preserve history (embellished)
- Inspire heroism
- Build national/cultural pride
- Teach values and courage

SIMILARITIES BETWEEN MYTHS AND LEGENDS:

1. Both are traditional stories passed orally
2. Both teach moral lessons
3. Both may include supernatural elements
4. Both preserve culture and heritage
5. Both feature extraordinary events
6. Both reflect values of their society
7. Both have been retold over generations
8. Both can be found in all cultures

AFRICAN EXAMPLES:

Myths:

- How the first man and woman were created
- Why the sky is far from earth
- Origin of death (Mawu-Lisa story)
- Why animals don't speak anymore
- The creation story of Olodumare (Yoruba)

Legends:

- Sundiata Keita (founder of Mali Empire)
- Queen Moremi of Ile-Ife (saved her people)
- Queen Amina of Zaria (warrior queen)
- Shaka Zulu (great warrior king)

- Bayajida and the founding of Hausa states

SAMPLE COMPARISON:

Myth Example: "The Creation of Humans"

- Gods molded humans from clay
- Breathed life into them
- Gave them intelligence
- Set rules for them to follow
- Analysis: Explains origin of humanity, features gods, no historical basis

Legend Example: "Queen Moremi"

- Real ruler of Ile-Ife
- Sacrificed herself to save her people
- Discovered enemy secrets
- Became a hero
- Analysis: Historical figure, identifiable place/time, heroic deeds

PART B: RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT

Common Recommended Drama Texts for JSS1:

1. "The Gods Are Not to Blame" by Ola Rotimi
2. "Our Husband Has Gone Mad Again" by Ola Rotimi
3. "The Lion and the Jewel" by Wole Soyinka
4. "Wedlock of the Gods" by Zulu Sofola
5. "The Trials of Brother Jero" by Wole Soyinka

6. African drama anthologies

(Note: Use the specific text assigned by your school)

STUDYING YOUR DRAMA TEXT:

1. Plot:

- What happens in each act/scene?
- Conflict and resolution
- Climax and turning points

2. Characters:

- Protagonist and antagonist
- Character traits and development
- Relationships and motivations

3. Themes:

- Main messages
- Moral lessons
- Social issues addressed

4. Setting:

- Time and place
- Social/cultural context
- Atmosphere

5. Dramatic Elements:

- Dialogue and language
- Stage directions

- Symbols and motifs
- Conflict types

6. Performance Aspects:

- Costumes, props, lighting
- Audience impact
- Acting techniques

KEY QUESTIONS FOR DRAMA STUDY:

Plot Questions:

- Summarize Act I/II/III
- What is the main conflict?
- How is the conflict resolved?

Character Questions:

- Describe the protagonist
- Compare two characters
- How does [character] change?

Theme Questions:

- What is the main theme?
- What lessons are taught?
- How is [theme] developed?

Technical Questions:

- Identify stage directions in Scene X
- What props are important?

- Describe the setting of Act II

EVALUATION:

1. Define myth and legend, stating three differences between them
2. Give three examples each of African myths and African legends
3. What are the main purposes of: (a) myths (b) legends?
4. Compare myths and legends in terms of: (a) characters (b) setting (c) purpose
5. State the title and author of your recommended drama text. Name three main characters.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a comparison table showing five differences between myths and legends with examples
2. Write a short summary (150 words) of one African myth and one African legend you know
3. Explain why both myths and legends are important for preserving culture (5 sentences)
4. Read Act I of your recommended drama text and write: (a) Brief summary (b) List of characters introduced (c) Setting description (d) Main conflict identified
5. Identify whether these are myths or legends and explain why: (a) Story of how thunder was created (b) Story of Queen Amina's battles (c) Story of the first humans (d) Story of King Arthur (e) Story explaining why the moon follows the sun

TOPIC: VOWEL CONTRASTS: /e/ VS /ɜ:/ (EGG/BURN, PET/SHIRT)

Short Vowel /e/ (as in "egg"):

- Short, quick sound
- Tongue in mid position
- Lips spread slightly
- Jaw moderately open
- Examples: egg, pen, bed, red, pet, set, get, end, men, best, desk, help, tell, fetch

Long Vowel /ɜ:/ (as in "burn"):

- Long, prolonged sound
- Tongue in central position
- Lips slightly spread
- Tense sound
- Examples: burn, turn, bird, word, hurt, first, learn, earth, girl, work, heard, church, serve, term

KEY DIFFERENCE:

- /e/ is SHORT with mid-tongue position
- /ɜ:/ is LONG with central tongue position, more tense

PRACTICE PAIRS:

- bed /e/ - bird /ɜ:/
- pen /e/ - burn /ɜ:/
- pet /e/ - pert /ɜ:/

- get /e/ - girt /ɜ:/
- end /e/ - earned /ɜ:/
- debt /e/ - dirt /ɜ:/
- dead /e/ - dread /e/ - third /ɜ:/

Practice Sentences:

- The pet bird hurt its head
- Get the first pen from the desk
- The girl in the red shirt learned well
- Ten men worked on the earth
- The nurse kept the medicine on the bed

Articulation Tips:

For /e/:

- Keep sound short
- Relax jaw moderately
- Don't prolong the sound

For /ɜ:/:

- Prolong the sound
- Keep tongue in center
- Make it tense and steady

Common Mistakes:

- Pronouncing "bird" as "bed"
- Using /e/ when /ɜ:/ is needed in "work" → sounds like "weck"
- Saying "girl" with /e/ instead of /ɜ:/

EVALUATION:

1. Explain the difference between /e/ and /ɜ:/ sounds with their characteristics
2. Identify the vowel sounds: (a) pen (b) burn (c) pet (d) shirt (e) get (f) first
3. Write five word pairs contrasting /e/ and /ɜ:/ sounds
4. Which sound is used in these words: (a) help (b) turn (c) desk (d) church (e) end?
5. Pronounce and differentiate: bed/bird, pen/burn, get/girl, end/earned

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List fifteen words each containing: (a) /e/ sound (b) /ɜ:/ sound
2. Write ten sentences using word pairs that contrast /e/ and /ɜ:/
3. Practice reading aloud: "The nurse in the red dress served ten men. She kept the first pen on the desk and learned her lesson well"
4. Circle words with /ɜ:/ sound: bed, word, pet, girl, help, turn, desk, heard, fetch, church
5. Explain why correct pronunciation of these contrasts is important in communication

WEEK 9 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: FUTURE TENSE – SIMPLE FUTURE (WILL, SHALL)

WHAT IS SIMPLE FUTURE TENSE?

Simple Future Tense expresses actions that will happen in the future.

FORMATION:

Structure: Subject + will/shall + base verb

Using Will and Shall:

Modern Usage:

- Will: Used for all persons (I, you, he, she, it, we, they)
- Shall: Rarely used in modern English, mainly with I/we in formal contexts

Examples:

- I will go / I shall go
- You will come
- He/She/It will arrive
- We will study / We shall study
- They will play

USES OF SIMPLE FUTURE:

1. Predictions about the future:

- It will rain tomorrow
- She will become a doctor
- They will win the match
- Nigeria will develop

2. Spontaneous decisions (made at the moment of speaking):

- I'm thirsty. I'll get some water
- The phone is ringing. I'll answer it
- I'll help you with that

3. Promises:

- I will help you tomorrow
- We will come to your party
- He will pay you back

4. Offers:

- I'll carry your bag
- Shall I open the window?
- Will you have some tea?

5. Threats/Warnings:

- You will regret this
- I'll report you to the principal
- They will punish you

6. Facts about the future:

- The sun will rise tomorrow
- She will be sixteen next year
- School will resume in September

NEGATIVE FORM:

Structure: Subject + will not (won't) / shall not (shan't) + base verb

Examples:

- I will not (won't) go
- She will not eat meat
- They won't come tomorrow
- We shall not (shan't) forget (formal)

QUESTION FORM:

Structure: Will/Shall + subject + base verb...?

Examples:

- Will you come tomorrow?
- Will she pass the exam?
- Shall we go now? (suggestion)
- Shall I help you? (offer)
- Will they arrive on time?

Wh- Questions:

- What will you do tomorrow?
- Where will she go?
- When will they arrive?
- Who will help us?
- How will you travel?

TIME EXPRESSIONS USED WITH FUTURE:

- Tomorrow, tonight

- Next (week/month/year/Monday)
- In the future, someday, soon
- Later, eventually
- In + time period (in two days, in a month)
- This evening/weekend

CONTRACTIONS:

- I will = I'll
- You will = You'll
- He will = He'll
- She will = She'll
- We will = We'll
- They will = They'll
- Will not = Won't
- Shall not = Shan't (rare)

DIFFERENCE: WILL vs SHALL

Traditional Rules (less common now):

- Shall with I/we for simple future: I shall go
- Will with you/he/she/it/they: They will come
- Will with I/we for determination: I will succeed (promise)
- Shall with you/he/she/it/they for commands: You shall obey

Modern Usage:

- Will is used for all persons in most contexts
- Shall is mainly used in:
 - Formal British English
 - Questions for suggestions: Shall we dance?
 - Legal/official documents
 - Offers: Shall I help you?

COMMON MISTAKES:

Error 1 - Using base verb alone:

- ✗ I go tomorrow
- ✓ I will go tomorrow

Error 2 - Adding -s/-es to verb:

- ✗ She will goes
- ✓ She will go

Error 3 - Using past form:

- ✗ He will went
- ✓ He will go

Error 4 - Double future markers:

- ✗ I will going to come
- ✓ I will come / I'm going to come

Error 5 - Wrong negative form:

- ✗ He will not goes

- ✓ He will not go

BE GOING TO vs WILL:

Be going to:

- Planned intentions: I'm going to study medicine
- Evidence-based predictions: Look at those clouds! It's going to rain

Will:

- Spontaneous decisions: I'll have tea (deciding now)
- Uncertain predictions: It will probably rain
- Promises: I'll call you tomorrow

PRACTICE EXAMPLES:

Affirmative:

- I will visit my grandmother next week
- She will write the exam tomorrow
- They will travel to Abuja soon

Negative:

- I won't forget your birthday
- He won't come to the party
- We won't be late

Interrogative:

- Will you help me?

- When will they arrive?
- Shall we start the meeting?

EVALUATION:

1. Define Simple Future Tense and explain how it is formed
2. Write five sentences in Simple Future Tense about your plans for next week
3. Change to negative: (a) I will go (b) She will help (c) They will come (d) He will study (e) We will travel
4. Change to questions: (a) You will attend (b) She will cook (c) They will play (d) It will rain (e) He will arrive
5. Correct the errors: (a) I will goes (b) She will went (c) Will he comes? (d) They will not comes (e) I go tomorrow

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten sentences using Simple Future Tense with different subjects and verbs
2. Write five predictions about the future using "will"
3. Write five promises or offers using "will" or "shall"
4. Fill in with correct future forms: (a) Tomorrow, I _____ (visit) my friend. (b) She _____ (not/come) to school. (c) _____ you _____ (help) me? (d) What _____ they _____ (do) next? (e) We _____ (travel) next month.
5. Change these Present Tense sentences to Future Tense: (a) I study English (b) She cooks dinner (c) They play football (d) He goes to school (e) We watch TV

WEEK 9 - READING AND COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: READING TO INTERPRET DIAGRAMS, MAPS, SKETCHES; VOCABULARY – WORD FORMATION (PREFIXES)

PART A: INTERPRETING DIAGRAMS, MAPS, AND SKETCHES

WHY INTERPRET VISUAL INFORMATION?

- Not all information is in text form
- Visual aids summarize complex data
- Maps show locations and directions
- Diagrams explain processes/relationships
- Sketches illustrate concepts

1. READING DIAGRAMS

What is a Diagram? A visual representation showing how something works, relationships between parts, or a process.

Types:

- Flow charts (show processes/steps)
- Venn diagrams (show relationships/comparisons)
- Labeled diagrams (show parts of objects)
- Pie charts (show percentages/proportions)
- Bar graphs (compare quantities)
- Tree diagrams (show hierarchies/classifications)

How to Read Diagrams:

1. Read the title/heading

2. Identify what is being shown
3. Look at labels and keys
4. Follow arrows or connecting lines
5. Understand relationships between parts
6. Check for legends or explanations
7. Draw conclusions from the information

Example - Simple Flow Chart:

Start → Wake up → Brush teeth → Bath → Breakfast → Go to school → End

Questions from this diagram:

- What is the first activity? (Wake up)
- What comes after brushing teeth? (Bath)
- What is the final activity? (Go to school)

2. READING MAPS

What is a Map? A visual representation of an area showing locations, directions, distances, and features.

Map Components:

- Title: What area is shown
- Key/Legend: Symbols and their meanings
- Scale: Distance representation
- Compass/Direction: N, S, E, W
- Labels: Names of places
- Symbols: Icons representing features

Common Map Symbols:

- Roads (lines)
- Rivers (wavy blue lines)
- Buildings (rectangles/squares)
- Trees/Forests (green areas)
- Mountains (triangles/brown areas)
- Hospitals (H or +)
- Schools (flag/building symbol)

How to Read Maps:

1. Check the title
2. Find the key/legend
3. Identify cardinal directions (N, S, E, W)
4. Locate specific places
5. Determine relationships (distance, direction)
6. Use scale to estimate distances

Sample Questions from Maps:

- What is located north of the school?
- How many roads lead to the market?
- What is the symbol for hospital?
- Which direction is the river from the church?
- What is between the market and school?

3. READING SKETCHES

What is a Sketch? A simple, quick drawing showing basic features of an object, place, or person.

Types:

- Object sketches (show items)
- Scene sketches (show places/events)
- Layout sketches (show arrangements)
- Anatomical sketches (show body parts)

How to Read Sketches:

1. Identify what is drawn
2. Look for labels
3. Note important features
4. Understand proportions/sizes
5. Identify relationships between parts

TIPS FOR INTERPRETING VISUALS:

Before Reading:

- Read the title first
- Check for instructions
- Look at the whole visual

During Reading:

- Pay attention to labels
- Follow arrows and lines
- Note colors and symbols

- Read all text provided

After Reading:

- Summarize what you learned
- Answer questions carefully
- Check your understanding

PART B: WORD FORMATION - PREFIXES

What is a Prefix? A group of letters added to the BEGINNING of a word to change its meaning or create a new word.

Structure: Prefix + Root Word = New Word

COMMON PREFIXES AND MEANINGS:

1. UN- (not, opposite of):

- happy → unhappy (not happy)
- lucky → unlucky (not lucky)
- able → unable (not able)
- fair → unfair (not fair)
- Other examples: untrue, unkind, uncertain, unfold, unlock, unwrap

2. RE- (again, back):

- write → rewrite (write again)
- read → reread (read again)
- build → rebuild (build again)
- turn → return (turn back)

- Other examples: replay, retell, review, redo, refill, reconsider

3. DIS- (not, opposite of, reverse):

- agree → disagree (not agree)
- like → dislike (not like)
- appear → disappear (not appear)
- obey → disobey (not obey)
- Other examples: dishonest, discomfort, disconnect, discover, disqualify

4. MIS- (wrongly, badly):

- use → misuse (use wrongly)
- spell → misspell (spell wrongly)
- understand → misunderstand (understand wrongly)
- lead → mislead (lead wrongly)
- Other examples: misplace, misbehave, miscount, misjudge, misread

5. PRE- (before):

- view → preview (view before)
- pay → prepay (pay before)
- school → preschool (before school)
- fix → prefix (fix before)
- Other examples: prehistoric, preview, precaution, predict, prepare

6. POST- (after):

- war → postwar (after war)
- pone → postpone (put after)
- date → postdate (date after)

- Other examples: postgraduate, postscript, postpone

7. OVER- (too much, excessive):

- eat → overeat (eat too much)
- work → overwork (work too much)
- sleep → oversleep (sleep too much)
- charge → overcharge (charge too much)
- Other examples: overflow, overload, overcome, overlook, overseas

8. UNDER- (too little, below):

- pay → underpay (pay too little)
- estimate → underestimate (estimate too low)
- stand → understand (stand under → comprehend)
- Other examples: underground, underwater, underline, undergraduate

9. SUB- (under, below):

- marine → submarine (under sea)
- way → subway (underground way)
- title → subtitle (title below)
- Other examples: subway, subheading, subdivide, substandard

10. INTER- (between, among):

- national → international (between nations)
- act → interact (act between)
- change → interchange (change between)
- Other examples: internet, interview, interrupt, intermediate

11. TRANS- (across, beyond):

- port → transport (carry across)
- late → translate (carry meaning across languages)
- Other examples: transfer, transform, transmit, transparent

12. BI- (two):

- cycle → bicycle (two wheels)
- lingual → bilingual (two languages)
- weekly → bi-weekly (every two weeks)
- Other examples: bilateral, biannual

13. TRI- (three):

- angle → triangle (three angles)
- cycle → tricycle (three wheels)
- Other examples: tripod, trilogy, triple

14. MULTI- (many):

- colored → multicolored (many colors)
- purpose → multipurpose (many purposes)
- Other examples: multiply, multimedia, multinational

15. ANTI- (against):

- social → antisocial (against social)
- clockwise → anticlockwise (against clockwise)
- Other examples: antibiotic, antiseptic, anti-war

FORMING NEW WORDS:

Example Process:

- Base word: happy
- Add prefix un-: unhappy (not happy)
- Can add suffix too: unhappiness (state of not being happy)

Practice:

- appear → disappear → disappearance
- use → misuse → misused
- do → redo → redone

PREFIX RULES:

1. Prefix changes meaning, not word class
 - happy (adjective) → unhappy (adjective)
 - Some exceptions exist
2. No spelling changes usually
 - un + necessary = unnecessary (double n)
 - dis + satisfied = dissatisfied (double s)
3. Some prefixes have hyphens
 - ex-president, self-made, co-operate (sometimes)

EVALUATION:

1. Explain what diagrams, maps, and sketches are and why we need to interpret them
2. List five components of a map and explain their purposes
3. Define prefix and give five examples with their meanings

4. Form new words by adding appropriate prefixes to: (a) happy (b) write (c) agree (d) understand (e) national
5. Using the prefix "un-", "re-", or "dis-", create three words each and use them in sentences

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Draw a simple map of your school compound showing at least five locations. Include a title, key, and direction indicator
2. Look at any diagram in your textbook and write five sentences explaining what it shows
3. Complete this table:

Prefix	Meaning	Example	New Word Meaning
un-	not	happy	not happy
re-dis-
mis-
pre-

4. Add prefixes to these words and use the new words in sentences: (a) view (b) pay (c) place (d) behave (e) historic
5. Create a simple flow chart showing the steps you take to prepare for school in the morning (at least 6 steps)

WEEK 9 - COMPOSITION

ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY: ARRANGING IDEAS IN LOGICAL SEQUENCE

WHAT IS AN ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY?

An argumentative essay presents a position on a topic with reasons and evidence to convince readers.

Basic Structure:

- Introduction (thesis statement)
- Body paragraphs (arguments with evidence)
- Counter-argument and refutation
- Conclusion

WHY LOGICAL SEQUENCE MATTERS

- Makes essay easy to follow
- Strengthens arguments
- Convinces readers effectively
- Prevents confusion

Remember: Poor Sequence = Weak Essay | Good Sequence = Strong Essay

METHODS OF ARRANGING IDEAS

1. ORDER OF IMPORTANCE

Climactic (Weakest to Strongest) - Most common

- Build up to strongest argument
- Save best for last
- Creates memorable ending

Example: "School Uniforms Should Be Compulsory"

1. Saves time in morning (weakest)
2. Reduces peer pressure (medium)
3. Promotes equality (strongest)

2. CHRONOLOGICAL ORDER

Arrange by time sequence for historical topics or processes.

3. PROBLEM-SOLUTION ORDER

- Present problem
- Explain seriousness
- Propose solution
- Explain benefits

4. CAUSE-AND-EFFECT ORDER

Show what leads to what, or start with result and trace back to causes.

5. COMPARE-AND-CONTRAST ORDER

- Block Method: Discuss all of A, then all of B
- Point-by-Point: Compare A and B for each point

BODY PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE

Each paragraph should:

1. Have ONE main idea
2. Start with topic sentence
3. Provide evidence
4. Explain how evidence supports argument
5. Link to next paragraph

IMPORTANT TRANSITION WORDS

Adding: Additionally, Furthermore, Moreover, Also

Order: First, Second, Third, Finally, Next

Importance: Most importantly, Significantly, Above all

Contrast: However, Nevertheless, On the other hand, Although

Cause/Effect: Therefore, Thus, Consequently, As a result

Examples: For example, For instance, Such as

Concluding: In conclusion, To summarize, Finally, Overall

STEPS TO ARRANGE IDEAS

1. BRAINSTORM: List all arguments and evidence
2. EVALUATE: Identify strongest arguments, remove weak ones
3. ORDER: Arrange (usually climactic order is best)
4. OUTLINE: Create detailed outline
5. CONNECT: Add transitions for smooth flow

SAMPLE OUTLINE

Topic: "Students Should Wear School Uniforms"

I. Introduction: Thesis statement

II. Argument 1 (Weakest): Save time

III. Argument 2 (Medium): Reduce peer pressure

IV. Argument 3 (Strongest): Promote equality

V. Counter-argument: Address opposing view

VI. Conclusion: Restate thesis and summarize

COMMON MISTAKES TO AVOID

- ✗ Jumping between topics randomly
- ✗ Placing strongest argument first (usually)
- ✗ No transitions between ideas
- ✗ Multiple ideas in one paragraph
- ✗ Misplaced counter-argument
- ✓ Follow logical progression
- ✓ Build to strongest point
- ✓ Use smooth transitions
- ✓ One paragraph = one point
- ✓ Counter-argument before conclusion

EVALUATION

1. Why is logical sequence important in argumentative essays?
2. Describe climactic and problem-solution arrangements
3. When do you use climactic vs anticlimactic order?
4. List five transition words and their functions
5. Create an outline for "Mobile Phones Should Be Banned in Schools"

ASSIGNMENT

1. Arrange in climactic order: (a) Improves vocabulary (b) Develops imagination (c) Increases knowledge (d) Enhances critical thinking. Explain your choice.

2. Write an outline for "Sports Are More Important Than Academics" with thesis, three arguments, counter-argument, and conclusion.
3. Add transitions: "School uniforms are beneficial. They save money. Parents don't buy expensive clothes. Uniforms promote equality. Rich and poor students look the same."
4. Identify the arrangement method: Problem introduction → effects → solutions → benefits.
5. Create a 5-point checklist for reviewing logical sequence in your essay.

WEEK 9 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

MYTHS AND LEGENDS: FEATURES (MAGIC, SUPERSTITION, ETC.); DRAMA TEXT

PART A: FEATURES OF MYTHS AND LEGENDS

FEATURES OF MYTHS

1. SUPERNATURAL BEINGS

- Gods and goddesses with special powers
- Immortal characters controlling natural forces
- Examples: Zeus (Greek), Olodumare (Yoruba), Ra (Egyptian)

2. MAGIC AND SUPERNATURAL POWERS

- Transformation/shape-shifting
- Flying, invisibility, creating from nothing
- Controlling weather, healing, immortality

3. CREATION AND ORIGINS

- Explains how world/humans were created
- Origin of natural phenomena (thunder, rain, day/night)
- How death came to the world

4. TIMELESSNESS

- Set in ancient/primordial times
- "In the beginning," "Long before time"
- No specific dates

5. SACRED/RELIGIOUS SIGNIFICANCE

- Explains religious beliefs
- Moral and spiritual lessons
- Basis for rituals and ceremonies

6. UNIVERSAL THEMES

- Good vs. evil
- Creation and destruction
- Life, death, and rebirth
- Punishment and reward

7. SYMBOLIC ELEMENTS

- Objects representing ideas (tree of life)
- Animals symbolizing qualities
- Significant numbers and colors

8. EXPLANATORY PURPOSE

- Answers "why" questions
- Explains mysteries of existence
- Gives meaning to natural phenomena

FEATURES OF LEGENDS

1. HEROIC CHARACTERS

- Brave warriors and leaders
- Exceptional human abilities
- Historical or believed-to-be-real people
- Examples: Sundiata, Queen Amina, Shaka Zulu

2. HISTORICAL BASIS

- Connected to real events
- Identifiable time periods and places
- Exaggerated but rooted in fact

3. EXTRAORDINARY DEEDS

- Impossible achievements
- Superhuman strength or intelligence
- Founding cities/nations, defeating enemies

4. EXAGGERATION

- Feats enlarged beyond reality
- Numbers inflated (killed 1000 enemies)
- Makes heroes larger than life

5. MORAL LESSONS

- Teaches courage, loyalty, honesty
- Shows consequences of actions
- Warns against vices

6. CULTURAL PRIDE

- Celebrates national heroes
- Preserves historical memory
- Builds identity and unity

7. SOME SUPERNATURAL ELEMENTS

- Magic weapons or objects
- Prophetic dreams

- Divine assistance (less than myths)

8. ORAL TRANSMISSION

- Passed through storytelling
- Multiple versions exist
- Performed by griots/storytellers

SHARED FEATURES (Myths & Legends)

- Oral tradition passed down through generations
- Teach moral, social, cultural values
- Cultural preservation
- Archetypal characters (heroes, villains, helpers)
- Symbolic meaning
- Dramatic structure
- Entertainment value

SUPERSTITION IN MYTHS AND LEGENDS

Definition: Beliefs in supernatural causation, magic, and forces beyond scientific explanation.

Common Elements:

1. Omens and Signs: Animal behavior, dreams, natural signs predicting events
2. Taboos: Forbidden actions with supernatural consequences
3. Charms and Amulets: Magical objects for protection
4. Curses and Blessings: Words with magical power
5. Magical Rituals: Ceremonies, sacrifices, incantations

6. Supernatural Creatures: Spirits, ghosts, demons, shape-shifters

MAGIC IN MYTHS AND LEGENDS

Types of Magic:

1. Transformation Magic: Changing form, size, nature of objects
2. Elemental Magic: Controlling fire, water, earth, air
3. Healing/Harmful Magic: Curing diseases, causing illness, love potions
4. Divination: Seeing the future, reading omens, prophetic visions
5. Protective Magic: Shields, invisibility, invulnerability, charms

African Examples:

- Myths: Anansi stories, Tortoise tales, Mami Wata
- Legends: Moremi of Ife, Sundiata, Shango

PART B: DRAMA TEXT ANALYSIS

KEY ELEMENTS TO ANALYZE

1. PLOT ANALYSIS

- Exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, resolution

2. CHARACTER ANALYSIS

- Protagonist's goals and obstacles
- Character development and relationships
- Static vs. dynamic characters

3. THEME IDENTIFICATION

- Central message revealed through dialogue, actions, conflicts

4. DRAMATIC TECHNIQUES

- Dialogue, stage directions, soliloquies, asides
- Dramatic irony, symbolism

5. SETTING AND ATMOSPHERE

- Time period and location significance
- Mood created

6. CONFLICT TYPES

- Internal (within character)
- External (with others, society, nature)

STUDY QUESTIONS FOR DRAMA

Plot: Summarize acts/scenes, identify main conflict, climax, resolution

Character: Describe main characters, their changes, motivations

Theme: Identify central theme, lessons taught, author's development

Technical: Stage directions, props, dialogue significance, title meaning

EVALUATION

1. List and explain five features of myths
2. List and explain five features of legends
3. What role does magic play in myths and legends? Give three examples
4. Define superstition and give five examples in African myths/legends
5. State your drama text title/author and describe one conflict

ASSIGNMENT

1. Create a comparison table: Myths vs. Legends (characters, magic, purpose, time setting, historical basis)
2. Write a short myth (150 words) explaining a natural phenomenon. Include magical elements.
3. List ten superstitious beliefs from your/African culture with explanations
4. Read Act II of your drama text and write:
 - Summary
 - Main conflict
 - Character development
 - One important quote and its significance
5. Explain how magic and superstition in myths/legends reflect cultural beliefs and values (10 sentences)

WEEK 10 - SPEECH WORK: INTRODUCTION TO DIPHTHONGS

WHAT IS A DIPHTHONG?

A vowel sound that glides from one vowel to another within the same syllable.

Characteristics:

- Two vowel sounds in one syllable
- Tongue/lips move during pronunciation
- First sound is longer and stronger
- Creates a gliding effect

THE EIGHT ENGLISH DIPHTHONGS

1. /eɪ/ (day): make, rain, they, eight, play
2. /aɪ/ (my): fly, time, like, high, night
3. /ɔɪ/ (boy): toy, oil, coin, noise, choice
4. /aʊ/ (now): how, house, town, cloud, sound
5. /əʊ/ (go): no, boat, show, hope, home
6. /ɪə/ (here): near, ear, fear, clear, year
7. /eə/ (hair): care, chair, fair, bear, wear
8. /ʊə/ (pure): sure, tour, poor, cure (disappearing in modern English)

GROUPING DIPHTHONGS

Closing Diphthongs (glide to /ɪ/ or /ʊ/):

- /eɪ/, /aɪ/, /ɔɪ/ → glide to /ɪ/
- /aʊ/, /əʊ/ → glide to /ʊ/

Centering Diphthongs (glide to /ə/):

- /ɪə/, /eə/, /ʊə/ → glide to schwa

DIPHTHONGS VS PURE VOWELS

Pure Vowel: Single sound, no movement (e.g., /i:/ in "see") Diphthong: Two sounds blended, tongue/lips move (e.g., /eɪ/ in "say")

- /eɪ/: a_e (make), ai (rain), ay (day), ey (they)
- /aɪ/: i_e (like), igh (high), y (my), ie (tie)
- /ɔɪ/: oy (boy), oi (coin)
- /aʊ/: ou (house), ow (now)
- /əʊ/: o_e (home), oa (boat), ow (show)

ARTICULATION TIPS

✓ Start clearly with first vowel ✓ Glide smoothly to second sound ✓ Don't pause between sounds ✓ First sound stronger/longer ✓ Keep within one syllable

Common Mistakes:

- Pronouncing as two separate sounds
- Making both sounds equally strong
- Confusing similar diphthongs

EVALUATION

1. Define diphthong and explain difference from pure vowel
2. List eight English diphthongs with examples
3. Identify diphthongs in: time, boat, boy, house, hair
4. Write five sentences using at least two different diphthongs

ASSIGNMENT

1. Create table: phonetic symbol, example word, spelling patterns for all eight diphthongs
2. List ten words each for /eɪ/, /aɪ/, /ɔɪ/
3. Identify diphthongs in: "My friend and I like to play near the house."
4. Explain difference between monophthongs and diphthongs with examples

WEEK 10 - GRAMMAR: SIMPLE PAST TENSE SENTENCES

AFFIRMATIVE SENTENCES

Structure: Subject + Past Verb + Object

Regular Verbs:

- I walked to school yesterday
- She cooked rice last night
- They played football last Saturday

Irregular Verbs:

- I went to Lagos last month
- She ate breakfast early
- We had a party on Friday

NEGATIVE SENTENCES

Structure: Subject + did not (didn't) + base verb

Examples:

- I didn't go to school yesterday
- She didn't cook dinner
- They didn't play football

Common Errors:

- ✗ I didn't went → ✓ I didn't go
- ✗ She didn't cooked → ✓ She didn't cook

INTERROGATIVE SENTENCES

Structure: Did + subject + base verb...?

Examples:

- Did you go to school yesterday?
- Did she cook rice?
- Did they play football?

Short Answers: Yes, I did. / No, I didn't.

WH- QUESTIONS

Structure: Wh-word + did + subject + base verb...?

Examples:

- What did you do yesterday?
- Where did she go last week?
- When did they arrive?
- Why did he leave early?

Special Case: Who came? (NOT: Who did come?)

COMBINING IDEAS

Using Conjunctions:

- I went to school and played football
- She studied hard but failed the exam
- They didn't come because they were sick

Time Clauses:

- When I arrived, they had left
- After she ate, she slept
- While I studied, he played

COMMON IRREGULAR VERBS

- go → went, come → came, see → saw
- eat → ate, drink → drank, write → wrote
- take → took, make → made, give → gave
- buy → bought, say → said, think → thought

EVALUATION

1. Write five affirmative sentences about last weekend
2. Change to negative: (a) I went to school (b) She ate breakfast (c) They played well
3. Change to questions: (a) You saw the film (b) She cooked dinner (c) They came early
4. Make Wh-questions: He went to Lagos (Where...?)
5. Correct errors: (a) I didn't went (b) Did she came? (c) He didn't ate

ASSIGNMENT

1. Write paragraph (10 sentences) about your last birthday in past tense
2. Write five compound sentences using: and, but, or, so, because
3. Transform to past, negative, then question: (i) I play football (ii) She reads books
4. Complete with past tense: Yesterday, I ____ (wake) up early. I ____ (brush) my teeth...
5. Write five sentences using: saw, bought, went, ate, wrote

WEEK 10 - READING: HOW DIAGRAMS/MAPS CLARIFY TEXT

WHY USE DIAGRAMS AND MAPS?

- Make complex information easier to understand
- Show relationships and connections
- Help locate information quickly
- Support written explanations
- Appeal to visual learners

HOW DIAGRAMS CLARIFY TEXT

1. SHOW PROCESSES

- Arrows connecting steps
- Visual cycle easier to remember
- Example: Water cycle diagram

2. ILLUSTRATE STRUCTURES

- Show location of parts
- Display relative sizes
- Example: Parts of a flower

3. COMPARE AND CONTRAST

- Venn diagrams show similarities/differences
- Clear visual comparison

4. SHOW RELATIONSHIPS

- Organizational charts show hierarchy
- Chain of command visible

5. DISPLAY DATA

- Bar graphs/pie charts
- Easy comparison of numbers

HOW MAPS CLARIFY TEXT

1. SHOW LOCATIONS

- Exact positions
- Spatial relationships
- Distances between places

2. ILLUSTRATE ROUTES

- Visual path to follow
- Landmarks along the way

3. SHOW GEOGRAPHICAL FEATURES

- Topographical features
- Size and extent
- Use of symbols and colors

STEPS TO READ TEXT WITH DIAGRAMS/MAPS

1. Preview Both: Read titles, scan content
2. Read Text First: Understand main ideas
3. Study Diagram/Map: Examine all parts, labels, key
4. Cross-Reference: Match text to visual
5. Integrate Understanding: Combine both sources

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

In Diagrams:

- Labels and arrows
- Scale and key
- Relationships between parts
- Direction of flow

In Maps:

- Compass/direction
- Scale for distance
- Symbols and legend
- Starting/ending points

EVALUATION

1. Explain three ways diagrams clarify text
2. What five elements to look for in diagrams/maps?
3. Describe steps for reading text with diagrams
4. How does a map clarify written directions?
5. How would a labeled diagram clarify plant parts?

ASSIGNMENT

1. Draw map from house to school. Write directions (5 sentences). Explain how map clarifies.

2. Create flow chart for morning routine. Explain how it clarifies (3 sentences).
3. Find diagram in textbook. Explain what text and diagram show, how they work together.
4. Explain why these need diagrams: (a) solar system (b) food chain (c) math problem
5. Create Venn diagram comparing two animals. Explain what it shows.

WEEK 10 - COMPOSITION: GUIDED COMPOSITION - A FESTIVAL

WHAT IS GUIDED COMPOSITION?

Writing based on given points/guidelines. Organize provided ideas into complete, structured paragraphs.

STRUCTURE FOR "A FESTIVAL IN MY VILLAGE"

Paragraph 1 - Introduction:

- Name and type of festival
- When celebrated
- Brief background/origin
- Importance

Paragraph 2 - Preparations:

- Cleaning homes
- Cooking special foods
- Buying new clothes
- Organizing committees

Paragraph 3 - Main Events:

- Traditional dances/music
- Processions/parades
- Masquerade displays
- Cultural performances

Paragraph 4 - Food and People:

- Special dishes prepared

- Who participates
- Community involvement

Paragraph 5 - Conclusion:

- Significance of festival
- Personal reflection
- Benefits to community

USEFUL VOCABULARY

Festival Words: celebration, ceremony, ritual, procession, masquerade, festivities

Action Verbs: celebrate, honor, perform, display, participate, feast

Descriptive: colorful, vibrant, joyous, traditional, cultural, abundant

TRANSITIONAL PHRASES

Between Paragraphs: On the festival day..., During celebrations..., More importantly...

Within Paragraphs: First, Additionally, Meanwhile, For example, Therefore

WRITING TIPS

DO:

- Follow guided points
- Expand points into full sentences
- Use descriptive language
- Connect with transitions
- Include specific details

DON'T:

- Deviate from given points
- Write single-sentence paragraphs
- Use informal language
- Make paragraphs too long/short

EVALUATION

1. What is guided composition?
2. List five types of festivals in Nigeria
3. Outline structure for "A Festival in My Village"
4. List ten festival-related vocabulary words
5. Why are festivals important? (three reasons)

ASSIGNMENT

1. Write complete composition (250-300 words) on "A Festival in My Village"
2. Create outline: Introduction, three body paragraphs, conclusion
3. List ten special foods during festivals
4. Describe three traditional festival activities (5 sentences each)
5. Write introduction paragraph for any festival

WEEK 10 - LITERATURE: DRAMATIZATION & TEXT REVIEW

PART A: DRAMATIZATION

WHAT IS DRAMATIZATION? Acting out scenes from a play through dialogue, movement, gestures, and emotions.

STEPS TO PREPARE

1. SELECT SCENE

- Manageable length (5-10 minutes)
- Important dialogue
- Contains conflict
- Suitable number of characters

2. ANALYZE SCENE

- What happens?
- Who are the characters?
- What is the conflict?
- What is the mood?

3. ASSIGN ROLES

- Match actors to characters
- Assign director, props coordinator
- Assign prompter

4. MEMORIZE LINES

- Read multiple times
- Understand meaning

- Practice with emotion
- Rehearse with partners

5. DEVELOP CHARACTERIZATION

Voice: Tone, volume, pace, pitch

Body Language: Facial expressions, gestures, posture, movement

Emotions: Show feelings believably

6. BLOCKING (Stage Movement)

- Where actors stand/sit
- When/where they move
- Entrances and exits
- Face audience when speaking

7. PROPS AND COSTUMES

Props: Objects actors use (book, letter, crown)

Costumes: Simple but representative of character

8. REHEARSE

1. First reading with scripts
2. Blocking rehearsal (add movements)
3. Line rehearsal (memorization)
4. Character rehearsal (emotions)
5. Technical rehearsal (props/costumes)
6. Dress rehearsal (full performance)

9. PERFORM

During Performance:

- Project your voice
- Face audience
- Stay in character
- Listen to other actors
- Show energy and enthusiasm

COMMON MISTAKES TO AVOID

- Speaking too softly
- Rushing lines
- Turning back to audience
- Breaking character
- Standing still
- Over-acting
- Not listening to cues

PART B: REVIEW OF TEXTS

PROSE TEXT REVIEW

- 1. PLOT: Beginning, rising action, climax, resolution
- 2. CHARACTERS: Protagonist, antagonist, supporting characters; their traits and development
- 3. SETTING: Time, place, social environment
- 4. THEMES: Central messages, moral lessons (honesty, courage, family)
- 5. LITERARY DEVICES: Foreshadowing, flashback, symbolism, irony

DRAMA TEXT REVIEW

- 1. STRUCTURE: Acts and scenes, plot development
- 2. DIALOGUE: Character revelation through speech
- 3. STAGE DIRECTIONS: Instructions for actors, setting descriptions
- 4. DRAMATIC TECHNIQUES: Aside, soliloquy, dramatic irony
- 5. THEMES: Social issues, moral lessons

MYTHS AND LEGENDS REVIEW

Myths: Gods, supernatural beings, explain creation, timeless

Legends: Heroes, historical basis, exaggerated deeds, cultural pride

Common Features: Magic, moral lessons, oral tradition

STUDY TIPS

1. Create summary notes (plot timeline, character charts)
2. Practice questions
3. Reread key sections
4. Make connections to real life
5. Test yourself without notes

EVALUATION

1. List five steps in preparing scene for dramatization
2. Difference between props and costumes? Give examples
3. State title/author of your drama text. Choose scene to dramatize and explain why

4. Review prose text: summarize plot, describe main character, state theme
5. Three common dramatization mistakes to avoid

ASSIGNMENT

1. Choose short scene from drama text. Prepare by: analyzing, listing characters, describing emotions, planning movements, identifying props
2. Write character profiles for three main characters: physical description, personality, role, quote
3. Create plot timeline: exposition, three main events, climax, resolution
4. List themes in texts. Explain one from each in detail
5. Design costume and list props for one character. Explain choices

JSS1 ENGLISH STUDIES LESSON NOTES

THIRD TERM

WEEK 1 - SPEECH WORK: DIPHTHONGS

A diphthong is a complex vowel sound that begins with one vowel sound and glides into another within the same syllable. Unlike pure vowels (monophthongs), diphthongs involve continuous tongue movement during pronunciation, creating a smooth glide between two vowel qualities.

The eight English diphthongs are:

- /eɪ/ as in place, make, day, eight, gate, remain
- /əʊ/ as in home, go, boat, phone, stone, although
- /aʊ/ as in mouse, house, now, found, cloud, coward
- /ɪə/ as in clear, hear, beer, fear, near, sincere
- /eə/ as in care, hair, bear, wear, chair, staircase
- /ɔɪ/ as in boy, coin, noise, join, voice, exploit
- /aɪ/ as in find, time, like, fight, sky, describe
- /ʊə/ as in tour, poor, sure, pure, mature, allure

Key Points:

- Diphthongs differ from two separate vowels because they form a single syllable
- The first vowel sound is typically longer and receives more stress
- The glide to the second sound is smooth and continuous
- Incorrect pronunciation of diphthongs can lead to communication errors
- Regional accents may influence diphthong pronunciation

EVALUATION:

1. Define a diphthong and explain how it differs from a pure vowel sound.
2. Pronounce five words containing the diphthong /eɪ/ and five words containing /aɪ/.
3. Identify the diphthongs in these words: "noise," "tour," "home," "fear," "mouth."
4. Why is the first vowel sound in a diphthong usually stronger than the second?
5. Write two sentences using at least three different diphthongs, then circle the words containing diphthongs.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Create a list of ten words for each of these diphthongs: /əʊ/, /aʊ/, and /ɔɪ/.
2. Record yourself (or practice with a partner) pronouncing all eight diphthongs with example words.
3. Find five words in your recommended prose text that contain diphthongs and identify which diphthong each contains.
4. Write a short paragraph (5-7 sentences) about your school, deliberately using words with at least five different diphthongs. Underline these words.
5. Explain in your own words why learning correct diphthong pronunciation is important for effective communication.

WEEK 1 - GRAMMAR: INTRODUCTION TO ACTIVE AND PASSIVE VOICE

Voice in grammar refers to the relationship between the subject of a sentence and the action expressed by the verb. There are two voices in English: active voice and passive voice.

Active Voice: In active voice, the subject performs the action expressed by the verb. The focus is on who or what is doing the action.

Structure: Subject + Verb + Object

Examples:

- The teacher teaches English grammar. (Subject: teacher performs the action)
- Students write essays every week. (Students perform the action)
- The chef prepared a delicious meal. (Chef performs the action)
- My brother painted the fence yesterday. (Brother performs the action)
- The committee will announce the results tomorrow. (Committee performs the action)

Passive Voice: In passive voice, the subject receives the action expressed by the verb. The focus shifts from the doer to the receiver of the action.

Structure: Subject + Form of "be" + Past Participle (+ by + Agent)

Examples:

- English grammar is taught by the teacher. (English grammar receives the action)
- Essays are written by students every week. (Essays receive the action)
- A delicious meal was prepared by the chef. (Meal receives the action)
- The fence was painted by my brother yesterday. (Fence receives the action)
- The results will be announced by the committee tomorrow. (Results receive the action)

Formation of Passive Voice:

1. Identify the object of the active sentence
2. Make the object the subject of the passive sentence
3. Use the appropriate tense of the verb "to be"
4. Add the past participle of the main verb
5. Optionally, add "by + agent" (the original subject)

When to Use Passive Voice:

- When the doer is unknown: "My bicycle was stolen last night."
- When the action is more important than the doer: "The bridge was completed in 2020."
- When the doer is obvious: "The suspect has been arrested."
- In formal or scientific writing: "The experiment was conducted under controlled conditions."
- To maintain focus on a particular subject throughout a text

When to Use Active Voice:

- For clear, direct, and concise writing
- When the doer of the action is important
- In most everyday communication
- To make writing more engaging and dynamic

Key Points:

- Active voice is generally preferred for clarity and directness
- Passive voice can make sentences wordier
- The agent (by + doer) can be omitted in passive voice
- Not all verbs can be made passive (intransitive verbs cannot)

EVALUATION:

1. Explain the difference between active and passive voice with one example of each.
2. Convert these active sentences to passive: (a) "The dog bit the man." (b) "She will complete the project tomorrow."
3. Identify whether these sentences are in active or passive voice: (a) "The letter was
4. delivered by the postman." (b) "The children are playing football."
5. Why might a writer choose to use passive voice instead of active voice?
6. Rewrite this passive sentence in active voice: "The school was built by the government in 1995."

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences in active voice about activities in your school.
2. Convert all five sentences from question 1 to passive voice.
3. Find three examples of passive voice sentences in your recommended prose text and rewrite them in active voice.
4. Write a short paragraph (6-8 sentences) describing what happens in your school cafeteria during lunchtime. Use both active and passive voice sentences, then label each sentence as A (active) or P (passive).
5. Explain in your own words when it is appropriate to use passive voice in writing.

WEEK 1 - READING & COMPREHENSION: READING TO MAKE MEANING FROM SPATIAL DESCRIPTION

Spatial description refers to the method of describing the physical location, arrangement, position, and relationship of objects, people, or places in space. Understanding spatial descriptions is crucial for comprehending settings in texts, following directions, and visualizing scenes accurately.

ELEMENTS OF SPATIAL DESCRIPTION:

1. Position and Location Words:

- Above, below, beneath, under, over, on top of
- Beside, next to, adjacent to, alongside
- Between, among, amid, amidst
- In front of, behind, in back of
- Inside, outside, within, without
- Near, close to, far from, distant from
- Opposite, across from, facing

2. Directional Words:

- Toward, away from, to, from
- Into, out of, onto, off of
- Through, across, along, past
- Up, down, upward, downward
- North, south, east, west (cardinal directions)
- Left, right, straight ahead
- Forward, backward, sideways

3. Relative Position: Writers often describe locations relative to known landmarks or reference points. Example: "The library is located between the science lab and the cafeteria, directly opposite the main administrative block."

4. Layered Description: Effective spatial descriptions often work from general to specific (or vice versa), helping readers build a complete mental picture. Example: "The airport is a massive structure. In the center stands the main terminal building. To its left, three hangars house aircraft under maintenance. The control tower rises prominently on the right side, overseeing the runways that stretch out before it."

Vocabulary - Air Transport:

- Aircraft/Airplane: A powered vehicle designed for air travel
- Runway: A long strip of ground where aircraft take off and land
- Terminal: The building where passengers check in, board, and collect luggage
- Hangar: A large building where aircraft are stored and maintained
- Control Tower: The tall building from which air traffic is monitored and directed
- Cockpit: The area where the pilot and co-pilot operate the aircraft
- Fuselage: The main body of an aircraft
- Wings: The flat surfaces that provide lift for the aircraft
- Tarmac/Apron: The paved area where aircraft park, load, and unload
- Boarding Pass: A document that allows a passenger to board an aircraft
- Check-in Counter: Where passengers register and receive boarding passes
- Baggage Claim: The area where passengers collect their luggage after a flight
- Immigration: The process of entering or leaving a country
- Customs: Where officials check goods being brought into a country
- Flight Attendant: Crew members who ensure passenger safety and comfort

- Pilot/Captain: The person who flies the aircraft
- Passenger: A person traveling in an aircraft
- Cargo: Goods transported by aircraft
- Altitude: The height of an aircraft above sea level
- Turbulence: Irregular air movements that cause bumpy flights

Reading Strategy: When reading spatial descriptions:

1. Identify the main reference point or central location
2. Note directional and positional words
3. Visualize the scene mentally or sketch it
4. Pay attention to distances and relationships between objects
5. Consider the perspective (bird's eye view, ground level, etc.)

EVALUATION:

1. What is spatial description and why is it important in reading comprehension?
2. List five position words and five directional words used in spatial descriptions.
3. Read this passage and draw a simple diagram of the airport layout: "Murtala Muhammed International Airport in Lagos has two terminals. The international terminal is on the western side, while the domestic terminal sits on the eastern side. Between them lies a large parking area. The control tower stands prominently behind the international terminal, overlooking the three parallel runways that stretch northward."
4. Define the following air transport terms: runway, hangar, terminal, cockpit.
5. Using spatial description words, describe the location of your classroom within your school building in four sentences.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a detailed paragraph (8-10 sentences) describing the layout of your home using at least ten different spatial description words. Underline the spatial words.
2. Create a vocabulary list of fifteen additional words related to air transport beyond those provided in the lesson.
3. Read the first chapter of your prose text and identify at least three examples of spatial descriptions used by the author. Write them out and underline the spatial words.
4. Draw and label a diagram of an airport, including at least eight different components (terminal, runway, control tower, etc.).
5. Write five sentences describing the route from your classroom to the school library using directional and positional words.

WEEK 1 - COMPOSITION: INTRODUCTION TO EXPOSITORY ESSAY

An expository essay is a type of writing that explains, informs, describes, or clarifies a topic to the reader using facts, statistics, examples, and logical explanations. The word "expository" comes from "expose," meaning to reveal or explain. Unlike narrative essays (which tell stories) or persuasive essays (which argue a point), expository essays focus on providing clear, objective information.

Purpose of Expository Essays:

- To explain a process or concept
- To inform readers about a topic
- To describe something in detail
- To analyze a situation or idea
- To present facts without personal opinions

Characteristics of Expository Essays:

1. Objective Tone: Written in third person, avoiding personal opinions
2. Clear Thesis Statement: States the main topic that will be explained
3. Factual Information: Uses facts, examples, statistics, and evidence
4. Logical Organization: Information presented in a clear, systematic manner
5. Formal Language: Uses standard English without slang or colloquialisms
6. Transitions: Uses connecting words to link ideas smoothly

STRUCTURE OF AN EXPOSITORY ESSAY:

1. Introduction (Opening Paragraph):

- Hook: An interesting opening sentence to grab attention (question, fact, or quote)
- Background Information: Brief context about the topic

- Thesis Statement: A clear statement explaining what the essay will explain

Example: "Have you ever wondered how airplanes stay in the sky? Air travel has revolutionized global transportation since the Wright brothers' first flight in 1903. This essay will explain the basic principles that allow aircraft to fly safely through the atmosphere."

2. Body Paragraphs (Usually 3-5 paragraphs): Each body paragraph should:

- Begin with a topic sentence introducing the main point
- Provide supporting details, facts, examples, or explanations
- Use transition words to connect ideas
- End with a concluding sentence that relates back to the thesis

Example Topic Sentences:

- "The first principle of flight is lift, created by air flowing over the aircraft's wings."
- "In addition to lift, thrust from the engines propels the aircraft forward."
- "Understanding drag and gravity helps explain how pilots control aircraft movement."

3. Conclusion (Closing Paragraph):

- Restate the thesis in different words
- Summarize main points briefly
- Leave the reader with a final thought or implication
- Do NOT introduce new information

Example: "Understanding these four forces—lift, thrust, drag, and gravity—reveals how aircraft achieve and maintain flight. Modern aviation depends on balancing these forces effectively. As technology advances, engineers continue to refine these principles to make air travel safer and more efficient."

TYPES OF EXPOSITORY ESSAYS:

1. Process Essay: Explains how to do something or how something works
2. Descriptive Essay: Describes characteristics of a person, place, or thing
3. Compare and Contrast Essay: Shows similarities and differences
4. Cause and Effect Essay: Explains reasons and results
5. Problem and Solution Essay: Identifies a problem and proposes solutions
6. Classification Essay: Divides a topic into categories

Language Features:

- Present tense (mostly)
- Third person (he, she, it, they)
- Technical or specific vocabulary related to the topic
- Transition words: firstly, secondly, furthermore, moreover, however, therefore, in conclusion
- Definition of key terms
- Examples and illustrations

Writing Tips:

- Research your topic thoroughly before writing
- Organize information logically
- Use specific, concrete examples
- Define technical terms for readers
- Avoid personal pronouns (I, we, you) unless appropriate
- Write in clear, straightforward sentences

- Proofread for clarity and accuracy

EVALUATION:

1. Define an expository essay and explain its main purpose.
2. What are three key characteristics that distinguish expository essays from other essay types?
3. Outline the three main parts of an expository essay and briefly explain what each part should contain.
4. Why is it important to use facts and examples rather than personal opinions in expository writing?
5. Write a thesis statement for an expository essay on "How Students Can Improve Their Reading Skills."

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Choose one of these topics and write a complete introduction paragraph (4-6 sentences) with a clear thesis statement: (a) How to Prepare for Examinations (b) The Importance of Clean Water (c) How Mobile Phones Work.
2. Write three topic sentences for body paragraphs that could follow your introduction in question 1.
3. List ten transition words commonly used in expository writing and use five of them in complete sentences.
4. Read an article from your textbook or a newspaper and identify whether it is expository writing. Explain your answer by identifying three features of expository writing in the article.
5. Write a conclusion paragraph (4-5 sentences) for an expository essay on "The Process of Photosynthesis in Plants."

WEEK 1 - LITERATURE: THEMES AND CHARACTERIZATION IN PROSE

THEMES: A theme is the central idea, message, or underlying meaning that runs throughout a literary work. It is the author's insight about life, human nature, or society that the reader can extract from the story. Themes are universal truths or observations that transcend the specific story being told.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN TOPIC AND THEME:

- Topic: What the story is about (love, war, friendship)
- Theme: What the story says about that topic (love requires sacrifice; war destroys innocence; true friendship overcomes obstacles)

Types of Themes:

1. Major/Central Theme: The most important message running throughout the work
2. Minor Theme: Secondary ideas that support or complement the major theme

Common Universal Themes in Literature:

- Good versus evil
- Coming of age/loss of innocence
- The power of love
- Individual versus society
- Courage and heroism
- The corruption of power
- Survival and resilience
- Betrayal and loyalty
- Appearance versus reality
- The search for identity
- Justice and injustice

- The effects of war
- Family relationships
- Death and mortality
- Tradition versus change

How to Identify Themes:

1. Consider the title—it often hints at the theme
2. Examine what characters learn or how they change
3. Look for repeated ideas, symbols, or motifs
4. Analyze conflicts and how they are resolved
5. Consider the author's message or purpose
6. Note important statements made by characters
7. Think about the story's outcome and its implications

Expressing Themes: Themes should be stated as complete sentences expressing an idea, not just as single words.

Weak: "Friendship" (This is just a topic) Strong: "True friendship requires honesty and sacrifice." (This is a theme)

Weak: "War" Strong: "War destroys the innocence of those who fight in it."

CHARACTERIZATION: Characterization is the process by which an author creates, develops, and reveals the personalities, traits, and qualities of characters in a story. It helps readers understand why characters behave the way they do and makes them believable.

Types of Characters:

1. By Role:

- Protagonist: The main character around whom the story revolves

- Antagonist: The character or force opposing the protagonist
- Supporting Characters: Minor characters who help develop the plot
- Foil: A character who contrasts with another to highlight particular qualities

2. By Development:

- Round Characters: Complex, multi-dimensional characters with many traits
- Flat Characters: Simple, one-dimensional characters with few traits
- Dynamic Characters: Characters who change significantly throughout the story
- Static Characters: Characters who remain essentially the same throughout

Methods of Characterization:

1. Direct Characterization: The author explicitly tells readers about a character's traits.

Example: "John was a brave and honest young man who never told lies."

2. Indirect Characterization (STEAL Method): The author shows character traits through:

S - Speech: What the character says and how they say it

- Dialogue reveals personality, education, emotions, and attitudes
- Example: A character who speaks rudely shows disrespect

T - Thoughts: What the character thinks, feels, and believes

- Internal monologue reveals motivations and values
- Example: A character constantly worrying about others shows compassion

E - Effect on Others: How other characters react to and speak about the character

- Other characters' opinions provide insight
- Example: If everyone respects a character, they likely possess admirable qualities

A - Actions: What the character does; their behavior and choices

- Actions often speak louder than words

- Example: A character who shares food with the poor demonstrates generosity

L - Looks: The character's physical appearance and how they present themselves

- Physical descriptions can reflect personality or social status
- Example: A character always dressed neatly suggests discipline and self-respect

Character Traits: These are the distinctive qualities and characteristics that define a character's personality:

- Physical traits: tall, short, strong, weak, beautiful, scarred
- Personality traits: brave, cowardly, kind, cruel, honest, deceitful
- Emotional traits: calm, anxious, cheerful, melancholy
- Intellectual traits: intelligent, foolish, wise, naive
- Moral traits: good, evil, virtuous, corrupt

Analyzing Characters: When analyzing characters, consider:

1. Their role in the story (protagonist, antagonist, etc.)
2. Their physical description and significance
3. Their personality traits and how they're revealed
4. Their relationships with other characters
5. Their motivations and goals
6. How they change or develop (or don't)
7. What they represent symbolically
8. Their contribution to the theme

Relationship Between Theme and Characterization: Characters often embody or learn the themes of a story. Their development and the choices they make frequently illustrate the author's message. For example, a character who learns to value honesty despite consequences might illustrate the theme "Integrity is more important than personal gain."

EVALUATION:

1. Define theme and explain the difference between a topic and a theme. Give one example.
2. What is characterization? Describe the two main types of characterization with examples.
3. Explain the STEAL method of indirect characterization and give one example for each letter.
4. Identify one major theme in your recommended prose text and explain how it is developed through the story.
5. Choose one character from your prose text. Is this character round or flat? Dynamic or static? Explain your answer with evidence from the text.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Identify three themes in your recommended prose text. Write each theme as a complete sentence and provide evidence from the story that supports each theme.
2. Select the protagonist from your prose text and write a detailed character analysis (one paragraph of 8-10 sentences) describing their personality, motivations, and role in the story.
3. Find three examples of indirect characterization in your prose text. For each example, identify which STEAL method is being used and explain what it reveals about the character.
4. Create a character profile for one character in your prose text including: name, physical description, personality traits, role in the story, relationships with other characters, and one important action they perform.
5. Write a paragraph (6-8 sentences) explaining how one character in your prose text helps to develop or illustrate one of the story's major themes.

WEEK 2 - SPEECH WORK: IDENTIFICATION OF DIPHTHONGS IN WORDS

This lesson focuses on recognizing and pronouncing diphthongs /eə/ and /ɔɪ/ in words.

Diphthong /eə/ (as in "air"): Glides from /e/ to /ə/. Common spellings: "air," "are," "ear," "ere," "eir"

Examples:

- Mary, care, fair, hair, pair, stair, chair, dare, rare, spare
- Bear, pear, wear, swear, tear (rip)
- There, where, their, prayer, layer, mayor
- Square, aware, declare, parent, apparent

Diphthong /ɔɪ/ (as in "boy"): Glides from /ɔ/ to /ɪ/. Common spellings: "oi," "oy"

Examples:

- Boy, toy, joy, employ, destroy, enjoy, annoy
- Boil, coil, foil, oil, soil, spoil, toil
- Coin, join, point, joint, appoint
- Noise, voice, choice, rejoice
- Avoid, loyal, royal, voyage

Identification Strategies:

1. Learn spelling patterns (air, oi, oy)
2. Listen for the gliding quality between two vowel sounds
3. Feel tongue movement during pronunciation
4. Practice minimal pairs: bear/beer, boil/bile, care/car

Common Errors:

- Pronouncing /eə/ as pure /e/
- Confusing /eə/ with /eɪ/ (Mary vs. merry)

- Pronouncing /ɔɪ/ as two syllables
- Confusing /ɔɪ/ with /aɪ/ (boil vs. bile)

EVALUATION:

1. Identify the diphthong in these words: chair, loyal, repair, destroy, aware.
2. Provide five words containing /eə/ and five containing /ɔɪ/.
3. Explain the pronunciation difference between: bear/beer, boil/bile.
4. Underline words with diphthongs in this sentence: "The boy's hair was fair, and he enjoyed playing near the stairs."
5. Why is correct diphthong pronunciation important? Give two examples.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List ten words with /eə/ and ten with /ɔɪ/, organized by spelling patterns.
2. Write five sentences using words with /eə/ or /ɔɪ/. Underline the diphthong words.
3. Find eight words containing /eə/ or /ɔɪ/ in your prose text. Note the page numbers.
4. Practice these minimal pairs: bear/beer, care/car, fair/fear, boil/bile, boy/buy.
5. Write a paragraph (6 sentences) using at least six different words with /eə/ or /ɔɪ/.

WEEK 2 - GRAMMAR: HIGHLIGHTING ACTIVE VOICE

Active voice occurs when the subject performs the action. It creates clear, direct, and effective sentences.

Structure: Subject + Verb + Object

Why Use Active Voice:

1. Clarity: Makes it clear who does what
 - Active: "The teacher explained the lesson."
 - Passive: "The lesson was explained."
2. Directness: Straightforward and easy to understand
 - Active: "The committee made a decision."
 - Passive: "A decision was made by the committee."
3. Brevity: Uses fewer words
 - Active: "Lightning struck the tree." (4 words)
 - Passive: "The tree was struck by lightning." (6 words)
4. Engagement: Creates dynamic writing
 - Active: "The detective solved the mystery."
5. Accountability: Shows who is responsible
 - Active: "The company increased prices."

Identifying Active Voice:

- Subject comes before verb
- Subject performs the action
- Answers "Who did what?"
- No "be" + past participle

Examples Across Tenses:

Simple Present:

- Students write essays.
- The sun rises in the east.
- Dogs bark at strangers.

Simple Past:

- The chef cooked a meal.
- She finished her homework.
- They built a new school.

Present Continuous:

- The children are playing football.
- I am reading a novel.

Present Perfect:

- She has completed the project.
- We have visited the museum.

Future Tense:

- The school will announce results tomorrow.
- I will finish the assignment tonight.

When Active Voice is Most Effective:

- Everyday communication and conversation
- News reports and journalism
- Academic writing (in many cases)
- Business correspondence
- Instructions and directions
- Narrative and creative writing
- When the doer is important

Practice Identifying Active Voice: Identify which sentences are active:

1. "The farmer planted corn." (Active)
2. "The cake was baked by Mary." (Passive)
3. "John rides his bicycle daily." (Active)
4. "The letter was delivered yesterday." (Passive)

EVALUATION:

1. Define active voice and explain why it is preferred in most writing.
2. Write five sentences in active voice using these verbs: teach, play, build, write, cook.
3. Identify whether these sentences are active or passive: (a) "The boy kicked the ball." (b) "The ball was kicked by the boy." (c) "Mother prepared breakfast."
4. Rewrite these passive sentences in active voice: (a) "The book was read by Sarah." (b) "The house was painted by workers."
5. Explain three benefits of using active voice in writing.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten sentences in active voice about daily activities at home and school.
2. Identify five active voice sentences in your prose text. Write them out with page numbers.
3. Create five sentences in each of these tenses using active voice: simple present, simple past, present continuous.
4. Find three passive voice sentences in a newspaper or textbook and rewrite them in active voice.
5. Write a short paragraph (7-8 sentences) describing your journey to school using only active voice.

WEEK 2 - READING & COMPREHENSION: APPROPRIATE INTRODUCTIONS AND CONCLUSIONS; FISHING VOCABULARY

A. INTRODUCTIONS

An introduction is the opening paragraph that presents the topic and captures the reader's attention.

Functions:

- Grab reader's attention
- Introduce the topic
- Provide background information
- Present the thesis/main idea
- Set the tone

Types of Introductions:

1. Question: "Have you ever wondered why fish can breathe underwater?"
2. Fact/Statistic: "Over 70% of the Earth's surface is covered by water, making fishing one of humanity's oldest professions."
3. Quotation: "Benjamin Franklin once said, 'Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day; teach a man to fish and you feed him for a lifetime.'"
4. Anecdote: "Last summer, I watched a fisherman patiently cast his net into the river at dawn."
5. Definition: "Fishing is the activity of catching fish from seas, rivers, or lakes for food or sport."
6. Bold Statement: "Fishing has sustained human civilization for thousands of years."

Structure: Hook (1 sentence) → Context (2-3 sentences) → Thesis Statement (1 sentence)

Example: "Have you ever wondered how fish end up on your dinner plate? Fishing is one of the world's oldest industries, providing food and employment for millions. From small river fishermen to large ocean trawlers, fishing methods have evolved over centuries. This essay explores the various methods of fishing and their importance to human society."

Characteristics of Good Introductions:

- Brief and focused (4-6 sentences)
- Relevant and engaging
- Clear thesis statement
- Appropriate tone
- No unnecessary details

B. CONCLUSIONS

A conclusion is the closing paragraph that summarizes main points and leaves a final impression.

Functions:

- Signal the end
- Restate the main idea
- Summarize key points
- Provide final thoughts
- Leave lasting impression

Types of Conclusions:

1. Summary: "In conclusion, fishing provides food, employment, and economic benefits to communities worldwide."
2. Call to Action: "We must all work together to prevent overfishing and protect marine life for future generations."
3. Prediction: "As technology advances, fishing methods will become more efficient and sustainable."
4. Question: "Will we manage our fish resources wisely, or will future generations face empty oceans?"

5. Recommendation: "Governments should enforce fishing regulations to ensure sustainable practices."

Structure: Transition word → Thesis restatement → Summary (2-3 sentences) → Final thought

Example: "In conclusion, fishing remains vital to human survival and economic development. Traditional and modern methods each have advantages, from simple nets to advanced sonar technology. Sustainable practices ensure fish populations for future generations. By balancing human needs with environmental protection, fishing can continue to nourish humanity for centuries to come."

Characteristics of Good Conclusions:

- Brief (4-6 sentences)
- No new information
- Clear ending
- Connects to introduction
- Appropriate tone

Common Mistakes to Avoid:

Introductions: Starting too broadly, lacking clear thesis, using clichés, being too long

Conclusions: Introducing new ideas, repeating introduction word-for-word, apologizing, being too abrupt

C. VOCABULARY - FISHING WORDS

General Terms:

- Fishing: Catching fish
- Fisherman/Fisher: Person who catches fish
- Angler: Fishes with rod and line
- Catch: Fish caught
- Bait: Food to attract fish

- Hook: Sharp curved device for catching fish
- Line: Cord attached to rod
- Rod: Long flexible stick for fishing
- Reel: Device for winding line
- Net: Mesh for catching fish

Types of Fishing:

- Trawling: Dragging large nets through water
- Angling: Fishing with rod, line, and hook
- Spear fishing: Using sharp pointed weapon
- Netting: Using nets
- Ice fishing: Fishing through holes in frozen water

Equipment:

- Trawler: Large fishing boat
- Canoe: Small narrow boat
- Tackle: Fishing equipment
- Lure: Artificial bait
- Sinker: Weight to sink line
- Float/Bobber: Shows when fish bites
- Creel: Basket for caught fish
- Trap: Device for catching fish

Locations:

- River: Flowing watercourse
- Stream: Small river
- Lake: Large still water body
- Pond: Small still water body
- Ocean/Sea: Large salt water body
- Shore: Land along water's edge

- Bank: Sloping land beside river

Fish and Marine Life:

- School: Group of fish swimming together
- Spawn: Lay eggs (reproduction)
- Fry: Young fish
- Scale: Protective plates on fish
- Gill: Breathing organ
- Fin: Extension for swimming

Actions:

- Cast: Throw line into water
- Reel in: Pull line back
- Bite: When fish takes bait
- Land: Bring fish to shore
- Release: Return fish to water

EVALUATION:

1. What are three functions of an introduction?
2. Identify this introduction type: "Over 3 billion people depend on fish as their primary source of protein."
3. Write a 4-sentence introduction for "The Importance of Rivers."
4. List three elements a good conclusion should include.
5. Define: bait, trawling, angler, creel, spawn.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write three introductions for "Modern Fishing Methods" using: (a) question (b) statistic (c) anecdote.
2. Write two different conclusions for "Traditional Fishing in Nigerian Communities."

3. Read an article in your textbook. Analyze its introduction and conclusion, identifying strengths.
4. Create a list of fifteen additional fishing words with definitions.
5. Write a complete essay (introduction, two body paragraphs, conclusion) on "A Visit to a Fishing Village" with a clear hook, thesis, and effective conclusion.

WEEK 2 - COMPOSITION: ELEMENTS OF WRITING (CONTINUED)

THE FIVE ELEMENTS:

1. PURPOSE: Why you're writing

- To inform (expository)
- To persuade (argumentative)
- To entertain (creative)
- To describe (descriptive)
- To narrate (narrative)

2. AUDIENCE: Who will read it

- Consider: age, knowledge level, interests, culture
- Adjust language and complexity accordingly

3. TONE: Attitude conveyed

- Formal: Professional, serious
- Informal: Casual, friendly
- Others: optimistic, serious, humorous, respectful

4. ORGANIZATION: Logical arrangement

- Chronological: Time sequence
- Spatial: By location
- Order of importance: Most to least

- Comparison/contrast: Similarities/differences
- Problem-solution
- Cause-effect

5. CLARITY: Easy to understand

- Use simple language
- Write complete sentences
- Be specific
- Avoid ambiguity
- Use transitions
- Stay focused
- Define technical terms

Additional Elements:

- Unity: All sentences support one main idea
- Coherence: Ideas flow smoothly

EVALUATION:

1. List and explain the five main elements of writing.
2. How does knowing your audience affect writing? Give two examples.
3. Differentiate formal and informal tone with examples.
4. Explain three ways to achieve clarity.
5. Which pattern for: (a) "How to Prepare Jollof Rice" (b) "My Bedroom"?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write two paragraphs on "Benefits of Reading" for: (a) classmates (b) parents.
2. Improve clarity: (a) "The thing was very nice." (b) "He went to the place."
3. Write a paragraph on "My School" using one organizational pattern. Label it.
4. Identify purpose, audience, and tone in a passage from your prose text.
5. Write 10-12 sentences on "A Market Scene" demonstrating all five elements. Label them.

WEEK 2 - LITERATURE: SETTING AND PLOT IN PROSE

A. SETTING

Setting refers to the time and place where a story occurs.

Components of Setting:

1. Place/Location:

- Geographical: Country, city, village, building
- Physical Environment: Indoors/outdoors, natural/urban
- Atmosphere: Weather, lighting, sounds, smells

Examples: "A small fishing village on the coast of Lagos" / "The dark, dusty attic filled with old trunks"

2. Time:

- Historical Period: Past, present, future, specific era
- Season: Summer, rainy season, harmattan
- Time of Day: Morning, noon, night, dawn, dusk
- Duration: One day, several years

Examples: "During the Nigerian Civil War in the late 1960s" / "One hot afternoon in July"

3. Social/Cultural Environment:

- Customs and traditions
- Social class structure
- Political climate
- Religious beliefs
- Economic conditions

Examples: "A traditional Igbo community where elders hold authority" / "A wealthy urban neighborhood in modern Lagos"

Importance of Setting:

1. Creates Mood: Dark night = suspense; sunny day = happiness
2. Influences Characters: Village character may be more traditional than city character
3. Advances Plot: Storm prevents characters from reaching destination
4. Reveals Theme: Decaying mansion symbolizes moral corruption
5. Provides Authenticity: Makes story believable

Types of Setting:

- Integral Setting: Essential; story couldn't happen elsewhere (pearl divers need ocean)
- Backdrop Setting: Less important; could occur anywhere (friendship story in any school)

B. PLOT

Plot is the sequence of events that make up a story.

Five Elements of Plot Structure:

1. EXPOSITION (Introduction):

- Introduces characters
- Establishes setting
- Provides background
- Presents initial situation

Example: "Okonkwo was a wealthy farmer in Umuofia village, known for his strength."

2. RISING ACTION (Complication):

- Conflict develops

- Tension builds
- Characters face challenges
- Suspense increases

Example: "When Okonkwo accidentally kills a clansman, he must flee for seven years."

3. CLIMAX (Turning Point):

- Highest point of tension
- Most intense moment
- Main conflict peaks
- Point of no return

Example: "Okonkwo kills the messenger, realizing his people will not fight the colonizers."

4. FALLING ACTION:

- Events after climax
- Tension decreases
- Consequences unfold
- Loose ends tie up

Example: "Okonkwo realizes he stands alone. Colonial officials come looking for him."

5. RESOLUTION (Denouement):

- Conclusion
- Conflicts resolved
- Final outcome revealed
- Story ends

Example: "The District Commissioner finds Okonkwo has taken his own life."

Types of Conflict:

- Man vs. Man: Character against another character
- Man vs. Self: Internal struggle
- Man vs. Society: Against social norms/rules
- Man vs. Nature: Against natural forces
- Man vs. Fate/Supernatural: Against destiny or supernatural

Plot Devices:

- Foreshadowing: Hints about future ("Dark clouds suggested trouble ahead")
- Flashback: Return to past events
- Suspense: Creates uncertainty
- Surprise/Twist: Unexpected turn

Characteristics of Good Plot:

- Causality (cause and effect)
- Unity (all events contribute)
- Plausibility (believable)
- Suspense (keeps interest)
- Conflict (provides tension)

Relationship between Setting and Plot:

- Setting creates conflict (harsh environment challenges characters)
- Plot events change setting (character moves)
- Time setting affects possibilities (technology, social norms)
- Place setting limits or enables actions

EVALUATION:

1. Define setting and list its three main components.
2. Explain how setting can influence plot with one example.
3. List and briefly describe the five plot elements.
4. Identify conflict type: (a) Character surviving a hurricane (b) Student fighting unfair school rule.
5. Describe the setting (time and place) of your prose text.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a detailed description of your prose text's setting covering place, time, and social/cultural environment (8-10 sentences).
2. Identify and describe the five plot elements in your prose text with specific examples.
3. Draw a plot diagram for your prose text, labeling all five elements and key events.
4. Explain how setting influences plot in your prose text (three specific examples).
5. Choose one chapter: identify (a) setting details (b) main conflict (c) how events contribute to overall plot.

WEEK 3 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: INTRODUCTION TO CONSONANT SOUNDS

Meaning of Consonant Sounds:

Consonant sounds are speech sounds produced when the flow of air from the lungs is partly or completely blocked by the tongue, teeth, or lips. In English, there are 24 consonant sounds represented by different letters or combinations of letters.

Consonant sounds are categorized according to place of articulation (where the sound is made in the mouth) and manner of articulation (how the sound is made).

Classification of English Consonant Sounds:

1. Plosives (Stops): Air is completely blocked and suddenly released.

Examples: /p/, /b/, /t/, /d/, /k/, /g/

- Examples in words: pen, ball, table, dog, cat, goat.

2. Fricatives: Air passes through a narrow opening causing friction.

Examples: /f/, /v/, /θ/, /ð/, /s/, /z/, /ʃ/, /ʒ/, /h/

- Examples in words: fish, van, thin, this, sun, zoo, shoe, vision, hat.

3. Affricates: A combination of a plosive and a fricative sound.

Examples: /tʃ/, /dʒ/

- Examples in words: church, judge.

4. Nasals: Air passes through the nose while the mouth is closed.

Examples: /m/, /n/, /ŋ/

- Examples in words: man, nine, song.

5. Lateral: The air passes along the sides of the tongue.

Example: /l/

- Examples in words: love, bell.

6. Approximants (Semi-vowels): Produced with little obstruction of air.

Examples: /r/, /w/, /j/

- Examples in words: red, window, yes.

Importance of Consonant Sounds:

- They help in correct pronunciation.
- They differentiate meaning between words (e.g., fan vs van).
- They contribute to rhythm and clarity in speech.

EVALUATION:

1. Define consonant sounds.
2. How many consonant sounds are there in English?
3. Mention three types of consonant sounds and give one example each.
4. Differentiate between /p/ and /b/ sounds with examples.
5. Explain why consonant sounds are important in speech.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. List all 24 English consonant sounds and write two example words for each.
2. Identify the consonant sounds in the following words: goat, fish, man, shoe, judge.
3. Write five pairs of words that differ by one consonant sound (e.g., fan–van, pat–bat).

WEEK 3 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: USE OF PASSIVE VOICE WITH EXAMPLE

The passive voice is used when the subject of the sentence receives the action instead of performing it. The focus is on the action or the object rather than the doer.

Structure:

Object + Verb (be + past participle) + by + Subject

Example:

- Active: The boy kicked the ball.
- Passive: The ball was kicked by the boy.

Formation of Passive Voice:

To form the passive, the verb “to be” is combined with the past participle of the main verb.

- is/are + past participle (present tense)
 - Active: They clean the room.
 - Passive: The room is cleaned.
- was/were + past participle (past tense)
 - Active: They wrote the letter.
 - Passive: The letter was written.

Uses of the Passive Voice:

1. When the doer of the action is unknown:
 - The window was broken last night.
2. When the action is more important than the doer:
 - The new bridge was opened yesterday.
3. In formal or scientific writing:
 - The experiment was conducted in a laboratory.

More Examples:

- Active: The teacher marked the scripts.
Passive: The scripts were marked by the teacher.
- Active: A mechanic repaired the car.
Passive: The car was repaired by a mechanic.

EVALUATION:

1. What is the passive voice?
2. Write the structure of a sentence in the passive voice.
3. Change these sentences to passive voice:
 - a. The boy ate the mango.
 - b. The nurse treated the patient.
4. State two reasons for using passive voice.
5. Convert: They will build a new school. to passive.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences in the active voice and change each to the passive voice.
2. Identify the tense used in each sentence after conversion.
3. Explain the difference in meaning or focus between the active and passive forms.

WEEK 3 – READING & COMPREHENSION

TOPIC: IDENTIFYING KEYWORDS IN PASSAGES THAT SIGNAL DIRECTION; VOCABULARY – KITCHEN WORDS

Understanding Keywords in Directional Passages:

When reading a passage that gives directions or describes movement, certain keywords help the reader to follow the movement or arrangement of things. These are known as directional words or prepositions of movement and place.

Examples of Keywords That Signal Direction:

- Prepositions: in, on, under, between, behind, beside, near, through, across, along, around, opposite, behind.
- Directional Words: left, right, north, south, forward, backward, inside, outside, top, bottom.

Example Passage:

From the main gate, walk straight ahead until you reach the roundabout. Turn right and continue until you see a tall building with a green roof. The kitchen is behind that building, next to the dining hall.

Explanation:

The words straight ahead, right, behind, next to are keywords that show direction and help the reader visualize the path described.

VOCABULARY – KITCHEN WORDS:

Kitchen utensils and tools are used in food preparation and cooking. Examples include:

- Spoon, fork, knife, plate, pot, frying pan, gas cooker, stove, cup, bowl, kettle, tray, blender, chopping board, grater.

EVALUATION:

1. What are directional keywords?
2. Mention five examples of words that signal direction.
3. In the passage, where is the kitchen located?
4. Explain the importance of identifying directional words in a passage.
5. Write five vocabulary items found in the kitchen.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Describe how to move from your classroom to the school kitchen using at least five directional words.
2. Use ten kitchen words in correct sentences.
3. Write a short passage describing your kitchen at home.

WEEK 3 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: EXPOSITORY ESSAY – THE EBOLA VIRUS

Meaning of Expository Essay:

An expository essay explains, informs, or describes a topic in a clear and logical manner. The writer gives facts, examples, and explanations without expressing personal opinion or argument.

Features of an Expository Essay:

1. Introduction that states the topic clearly.
2. Logical presentation of facts.
3. Use of examples and illustrations.
4. Conclusion that summarizes the main points.

Topic: The Ebola Virus

The Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) is a severe and contagious illness that affects humans and some animals. It was first discovered in the Democratic Republic of Congo near the Ebola River in 1976.

Causes:

- The disease is caused by the Ebola virus, which is transmitted from infected animals like fruit bats, monkeys, and chimpanzees to humans.
- It also spreads through direct contact with blood, body fluids, or contaminated materials of an infected person.

Symptoms:

- Fever, headache, muscle pain, sore throat, vomiting, diarrhea, internal bleeding, and rash.

Prevention:

- Avoid contact with infected people or animals.
- Wash hands regularly with soap and water.

- Use gloves and protective clothing when caring for the sick.
- Avoid eating bush meat.
- Report any suspected case to health authorities immediately.

EVALUATION:

1. What is an expository essay?
2. What causes the Ebola Virus Disease?
3. Mention four symptoms of Ebola.
4. List three ways of preventing Ebola.
5. Why is the Ebola Virus dangerous?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write an expository essay of about 200 words on “The Ebola Virus.”
2. Include introduction, body, and conclusion in your essay.
3. Suggest two ways the government can help prevent the spread of Ebola.

WEEK 3 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: POETRY – IDENTIFYING LANGUAGE IN A SELECTED POEM

Meaning of Poetry:

Poetry is a type of literary work written in lines and stanzas to express feelings, ideas, or experiences through rhythm, imagery, and sound. Poets use special language called poetic language to make their poems more expressive and beautiful.

Language in Poetry:

Poetic language includes figures of speech, sound devices, and imagery that create musicality and emotion.

Features of Poetic Language:

1. Figures of Speech:

- Simile: comparison using “like” or “as.”
Example: Her smile is as bright as the morning sun.
- Metaphor: comparison without using “like” or “as.”
Example: Time is a thief.
- Personification: giving human qualities to non-human things.
Example: The wind whispered through the trees.

2. Sound Devices:

- Rhyme: repetition of similar sounds at the end of lines.
Example: The sun is high / up in the sky.
- Alliteration: repetition of initial consonant sounds.
Example: Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.

3. Imagery:

- Words that appeal to the senses (sight, sound, smell, touch, taste).
Example: The fragrant roses danced under the soft moonlight.

Example Poem:

“The Sun”

The golden sun climbs up the hill,
Warming the earth so calm and still.
Birds sing sweet songs to greet the day,
As children laugh and run to play.

Language Analysis:

- Rhyme: hill / still and day / play
- Personification: The sun climbs (as if it were human).
- Imagery: golden sun, warm earth, birds sing — appeals to sight and sound.

EVALUATION:

1. What is poetry?
2. Mention three features of poetic language.
3. Identify two figures of speech used in the poem above.
4. Explain one example of imagery from the poem.
5. Why do poets use poetic language?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Select any short poem and identify three figures of speech used in it.
2. Explain how the poet uses sound devices to create beauty in the poem.
3. Write your own four-line poem using rhyme and imagery.

WEEK 4 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: SYLLABLES – WORDS OF TWO, THREE, AND FOUR SYLLABLES

A syllable is a single, uninterrupted sound of a spoken word. It is the smallest unit of pronunciation containing one vowel sound, with or without surrounding consonants. Every English word is made up of one or more syllables.

How to Identify Syllables:

1. Clapping or tapping method: Each time you clap when pronouncing a word, you hear one syllable.
 - Example: teacher (tea/cher) – two claps → two syllables.
2. Listening for vowel sounds: Count the number of vowel sounds (not letters) in the word. Each vowel sound represents a syllable.
 - Example: important (im/por/tant) – three vowel sounds → three syllables.
3. Using pronunciation stress patterns: Long words can be divided into syllables based on where natural pauses or stress occur.

Examples of Words According to Syllable Count:

- Two-syllable words: mother, father, table, garden, pencil.
- Three-syllable words: beautiful, remember, hospital, tomorrow, exciting.
- Four-syllable words: electricity, calculator, opportunity, motivation, celebration.

Importance of Syllable Division:

- It helps in accurate pronunciation and spelling.
- It aids in word stress and rhythm in speech.
- It assists in poetic meter and musical rhythm in language.

EVALUATION:

1. Define a syllable.
2. State two methods of identifying syllables in words.
3. Classify these words by the number of syllables: computer, doctor, opportunity, banana, education.
4. Explain two reasons why syllable identification is important.
5. Write down three words each for two-, three-, and four-syllable categories.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten English words and divide them into syllables.
2. Identify the stressed syllable in the following words: teacher, banana, celebration, tomorrow, electricity.
3. Write five four-syllable words and use each in a sentence to show their meaning.

WEEK 4 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: EXERCISES ON ACTIVE VOICE

The active voice is used when the subject of a sentence performs the action expressed by the verb. The focus is on the doer of the action rather than the receiver.

Structure:

Subject + Verb + Object

- Example: The boy (subject) kicked (verb) the ball (object).

In contrast, the passive voice focuses on the receiver of the action:

- The ball was kicked by the boy.

Features of the Active Voice:

1. The subject performs the action.
2. The verb form is usually simple and direct.
3. The sentence sounds stronger and clearer.
4. It makes writing more engaging.

Examples:

- Ngozi baked a cake. (Active)
- A cake was baked by Ngozi. (Passive)
- The driver repaired the car. (Active)
- The car was repaired by the driver. (Passive)

Importance of Using Active Voice:

- It creates clearer and more concise sentences.
- It improves communication by showing responsibility for actions.

- It enhances reader engagement.

EVALUATION:

1. What is the active voice?
2. Mention two features of the active voice.
3. Change these sentences to active voice:
 - a. The prize was won by the pupil.
 - b. The song was sung by the choir.
4. Construct two original sentences in active voice.
5. State one reason why the active voice is preferred in speech and writing.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences in the active voice.
2. Convert each into the passive voice.
3. Identify the subject, verb, and object in each sentence.

WEEK 4 – READING

TOPIC: MAKING MEANING FROM SPATIAL DESCRIPTION; VOCABULARY – WORDS FROM THE SICK BAY

Spatial Description means describing where things, people, or objects are located in a particular space. It helps the reader to visualize or picture a place in their mind.

Key Words Used in Spatial Description:

- Prepositions of place: in, on, under, beside, between, behind, near, above, below, around.
- Directional words: north, south, east, west, left, right, front, back, opposite.

Example Passage:

When I entered the sick bay, I noticed two white beds placed on the left side of the room. Between the beds stood a small table with a water jug and a glass on it. On the right side, there was a large cupboard where medicine bottles were neatly arranged. The nurse sat behind her desk near the window, and a patient lay quietly on one of the beds.

Making Meaning:

From the passage, we can picture how the room looks based on the arrangement of objects and their positions. The use of words like on the left, between, behind, near, and on the right helps us create a mental image.

Vocabulary – Words from the Sick Bay:

Doctor, nurse, thermometer, injection, medicine, patient, stretcher, syringe, plaster, bandage, prescription, tablet.

EVALUATION:

1. What is spatial description?
2. Mention four prepositions used in describing position.

3. From the passage, where was the nurse sitting?
4. Explain how spatial description helps a reader understand a passage.
5. Give the meanings of these words: thermometer, stretcher, plaster.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short paragraph describing your classroom using spatial description.
2. Underline all the prepositions of place used in your paragraph.
3. List ten vocabulary words related to health or the sick bay.

WEEK 4 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY – TRIBALISM IS A LESSER EVIL THAN CULTISM

Meaning of Argumentative Essay:

An argumentative essay is a form of writing in which the writer expresses opinions for or against a given topic. The aim is to convince the reader to agree with your point of view using logical reasoning and evidence.

Features of an Argumentative Essay:

1. Introduction: States the topic and the side you are supporting.
2. Body Paragraphs: Present your arguments with examples and evidence.
3. Opposing Viewpoint: Acknowledge the opposite side and refute it.
4. Conclusion: Summarize your arguments and restate your stand.

Topic Discussion: Tribalism is a Lesser Evil than Cultism

- For the Motion (Agreeing):
 - Tribalism, though wrong, mainly shows preference for one's tribe; it rarely leads to crime or violence.
 - Cultism involves killings, drug abuse, and destruction in schools and society.
 - Tribalism can be corrected through education and unity campaigns.
- Against the Motion (Disagreeing):
 - Tribalism destroys national unity and peace.
 - It promotes hatred and discrimination in employment and leadership.
 - Cultism affects mostly individuals, but tribalism divides a nation.

EVALUATION:

1. What is an argumentative essay?
2. List three features of an argumentative essay.
3. Mention two arguments for the motion.
4. Mention two arguments against the motion.
5. What should be included in the conclusion of an argumentative essay?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write an argumentative essay of about 250 words either for or against the motion
“Tribalism is a lesser evil than cultism.”
2. Highlight the topic sentence of each paragraph.
3. Identify and label the introduction and conclusion of your essay.

WEEK 4 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: MYTHS/LEGENDS – IDENTIFYING MORAL LESSONS; RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT

Meaning of Myths:

Myths are ancient traditional stories that explain natural or supernatural events. They often involve gods, spirits, or ancestors and are used to explain the origin of life, customs, or phenomena.

Meaning of Legends:

Legends are old stories about real people who performed extraordinary deeds. They are partly historical and partly imaginative.

FEATURES OF MYTHS AND LEGENDS:

1. They are passed down orally from generation to generation.
2. They involve supernatural beings or heroes with special powers.
3. They explain natural events or historical happenings.
4. They usually teach moral lessons or reflect the values of a community.

Examples:

- Myth: The story of Sango, the Yoruba god of thunder, teaches that pride and anger can lead to destruction.
- Legend: The story of Queen Amina of Zazzau teaches courage, leadership, and patriotism.
- Myth: The Igbo story of The Tortoise and the Birds teaches against greed and deceit.

IDENTIFYING MORAL LESSONS IN MYTHS AND LEGENDS:

- Good triumphs over evil.

- Greed and pride lead to downfall.
- Honesty and hard work bring success.
- Disobedience leads to punishment.

Recommended Drama Text (Example):

In a play such as The Gods Are Not to Blame by Ola Rotimi, moral lessons are conveyed through the fate of characters who disobey divine instruction, showing that destiny and pride can bring tragedy.

EVALUATION:

1. Define myth and legend.
2. Mention three features of myths or legends.
3. State three moral lessons common to myths.
4. Mention one myth or legend from your culture and its moral lesson.
5. Explain one moral lesson from your recommended drama text.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short myth or legend from your culture and state two moral lessons it teaches.
2. Identify any character from your recommended drama text who learned a moral lesson and explain it.
3. List three ways myths and legends are useful to society today.

WEEK 6 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: SYLLABLES (CONTINUED)

A syllable is the smallest unit of pronunciation in a word. It usually contains a single vowel sound, with or without surrounding consonants. Every word in English has at least one syllable.

In this lesson, we continue our study of syllables with a focus on word stress and syllable division in longer words.

1. Word Stress:

In English, not all syllables are pronounced with equal strength. One syllable in a word is said more strongly or loudly than the others — this is the stressed syllable. The others are unstressed.

- Examples:
 - Table – the first syllable is stressed.
 - beGIN – the second syllable is stressed.
 - comPUter – the second syllable is stressed.
 - eLECtricity – the third syllable is stressed.

Rules for Stress Placement (General Guide):

1. Two-syllable nouns – stress the first syllable.
 - Table, WINdow, DOCTOR
2. Two-syllable verbs – stress the second syllable.
 - beGIN, reLAX, aRRIVE
3. Longer words (3+ syllables) – stress often falls on the third syllable from the end.
 - eDUcation, opPORtunity, comPUter.

2. Dividing Words into Syllables:

Divide long words based on vowel sounds and pronunciation patterns.

- Information → in/for/ma/tion (4 syllables)
- Hospital → hos/pi/tal (3 syllables)
- Electricity → e/lec/tri/ci/ty (5 syllables)

Importance of Syllable Awareness:

- It improves pronunciation and spelling.
- It helps in correct stress placement.
- It aids rhythm and fluency in speech.

EVALUATION:

1. What is a syllable?
2. Define word stress.
3. Identify the stressed syllable in these words: banana, begin, teacher, important, opportunity.
4. Mention two rules for placing stress in words.
5. Divide these words into syllables: hospital, education, wonderful, electricity, table.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten English words of three or more syllables and mark the stressed syllable in each.
2. Explain how stress affects the meaning of words (e.g., record as a noun vs record as a verb).
3. Write five two-syllable nouns and five two-syllable verbs.

WEEK 6 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: EXERCISES ON PASSIVE VOICE

The passive voice is used when the focus is on the receiver of the action, not the doer. It is formed by combining the verb “to be” with the past participle of the main verb.

Structure:

Object + be (is/are/was/were) + Past Participle + by + Subject (optional)

Example:

- Active: The teacher praised the student.
- Passive: The student was praised (by the teacher).

Step-by-Step Conversion:

1. Identify the subject, verb, and object.
 - The boy (subject) kicked (verb) the ball (object).
2. Move the object to the front to make it the new subject.
3. Add the correct form of be (is, are, was, were, etc.).
4. Use the past participle of the main verb.
5. Add the original subject (if needed) after by.
 - The ball was kicked by the boy.

Examples in Different Tenses:

- Present tense: They clean the room → The room is cleaned.
- Past tense: They built the house → The house was built.
- Future tense: They will open the shop → The shop will be opened.
- Present perfect: They have written the test → The test has been written.

Reasons for Using Passive Voice:

1. When the doer of the action is unknown or unimportant.
 - The letter was posted yesterday.
2. To emphasize the action or result rather than the doer.
 - The bridge was completed last year.
3. In formal or scientific writing.
 - The data were collected and analyzed.

EVALUATION:

1. What is the passive voice?
2. Write the structure of the passive voice.
3. Convert the following to passive voice:
 - a. The tailor sewed the dress.
 - b. The students answered the questions.
4. State two uses of the passive voice.
5. Change this sentence to active: The car was repaired by the mechanic.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences in the active voice and change them to the passive voice.
2. Identify the tense in each passive sentence.
3. Explain one situation where the passive voice is preferred in writing.

WEEK 6 - READING

TOPIC: READING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE; VOCABULARY – COOKING WORDS

Reading Comprehension Practice involves understanding, interpreting, and answering questions based on a given passage. It requires identifying main ideas, supporting details, cause and effect, and vocabulary meanings from context.

Example Passage (Excerpt):

Cooking is an important daily activity in every home. It involves preparing food to make it safe and enjoyable to eat. In the kitchen, different tools such as pots, frying pans, spoons, and knives are used. Good cooking requires patience, cleanliness, and knowledge of ingredients. A person who cooks well is respected in the family because food brings people together.

Comprehension Focus:

- Main Idea: The importance and process of cooking in homes.
- Supporting Details: Cooking involves patience, cleanliness, and use of utensils.
- Moral Lesson: Cooking is both a skill and a responsibility.

Vocabulary – Cooking Words:

1. Utensils: tools used in cooking, e.g., spoon, pot, knife.
2. Ingredients: materials used to prepare a meal, e.g., salt, pepper, oil, tomatoes.
3. Boil: to heat a liquid until it bubbles.
4. Fry: to cook in hot oil.
5. Stew: a dish made by cooking meat or vegetables slowly in liquid.
6. Simmer: to cook just below boiling point.
7. Recipe: a set of instructions for preparing a dish.

EVALUATION:

1. State the main idea of the passage.
2. Mention three qualities of a good cook.
3. Define the word “ingredient.”
4. Explain the difference between “boil” and “fry.”
5. Write two moral lessons you learned from the passage.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read any short comprehension passage about “Food and Health” and answer five questions from it.
2. Write ten cooking-related words and use each in a sentence.
3. Write a paragraph describing how to cook your favorite meal.

WEEK 6 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY – CULTISM ERODES TRADITIONAL VALUES

Meaning of Argumentative Essay:

An argumentative essay presents two opposing opinions about a topic. The writer must choose one side and support it with reasons, examples, and evidence.

Topic Discussion: Cultism Erodes Traditional Values

FOR THE MOTION (Agreeing):

1. Cultism destroys respect for elders and authority. In many schools, cult members disobey teachers and parents.
2. It promotes violence and hatred. Traditional values such as peace, unity, and love are replaced by rivalry and fear.
3. Cultism encourages immorality. Members engage in evil acts like fighting, stealing, and drug use, contrary to traditional discipline.
4. It breaks community harmony. Traditional societies valued togetherness, but cultism divides students and groups.

AGAINST THE MOTION (Disagreeing):

1. Traditional values are already declining due to modernization, not cultism alone.
2. Some people join cults to seek protection or belonging, not to destroy values.
3. The real problem lies in poor moral upbringing and lack of parental guidance.

Features of an Argumentative Essay:

1. Introduction stating your stand.
2. Logical arguments supported by examples.
3. Counter-arguments and rebuttals.
4. Conclusion restating your position.

EVALUATION:

1. Define an argumentative essay.
2. Mention three features of an argumentative essay.
3. Give two points for the motion.
4. Give two points against the motion.
5. What should be included in the conclusion?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write an essay of about 250 words arguing for or against the motion “Cultism erodes traditional values.”
2. Underline your topic sentence in each paragraph.
3. Highlight one argument you consider your strongest and explain why.

WEEK 6 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: POETRY – MEANING OF SELECTED POEM; IDENTIFICATION OF FIGURES OF SPEECH

Meaning of Poetry:

Poetry is a form of literary expression that uses carefully chosen words arranged in lines and stanzas to convey emotions, ideas, or experiences. Poets often use figures of speech, imagery, and sound devices to make their poems more expressive and musical.

Meaning of a Poem:

To find the meaning of a poem, readers must understand:

- The subject matter (what the poem is about).
- The theme (the central idea or message).
- The tone (the poet's feeling or attitude).

Selected Poem (Example):

"Peace"

Peace is like a gentle dove,
Flying softly high above.
It calms the hearts of those who fight,
And fills the world with shining light.

Meaning of the Poem:

The poem describes peace as a gentle and precious quality that brings calmness and unity to the world. The poet uses the image of a dove, which symbolizes love, purity, and harmony.

Identification of Figures of Speech:

1. Simile: Peace is like a gentle dove – compares peace to a dove using "like."
2. Personification: It calms the hearts of those who fight – peace is given human qualities.
3. Imagery: shining light – appeals to the sense of sight.

4. Rhyme: dove/above and fight/light create musicality.

Themes Found in the Poem:

- The value of peace in society.
- The power of love and unity.
- The hope for a better world.

EVALUATION:

1. What is poetry?
2. State the theme of the poem “Peace.”
3. Identify two figures of speech used in the poem.
4. Explain the imagery used in the poem.
5. Why is rhyme important in poetry?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Select any short poem and write out its central theme.
2. Identify three figures of speech used in your selected poem.
3. Write a short four-line poem about “Peace” or “Unity” using at least one figure of speech.

WEEK 8 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: CONSONANT CLUSTERS (ASKS, SCHOOL, THRIVE, PLEASE, RESPECT)

A consonant cluster is a group of two or more consonant sounds that appear together in a word without any vowel sound between them. These clusters can occur at the beginning, middle, or end of words.

1. Definition:

A consonant cluster is a combination of consonant sounds pronounced closely together, such that each sound is heard distinctly.

2. Types of Consonant Clusters:

- Initial clusters: occur at the beginning of a word.
 - Examples: school (sk), thrive (thr), please (pl), respect (sp), blue (bl), drive (dr).
- Medial clusters: occur in the middle of a word.
 - Examples: respect (sp), transport (ns), complain (mpl).
- Final clusters: occur at the end of a word.
 - Examples: asks (sks), helps (lps), camps (mps), months (nθs).

3. Pronunciation Practice:

Students should pronounce each consonant distinctly but smoothly without inserting extra vowels.

- Asks → /æskz/ (not /askiz/)
- School → /sku:l/
- Thrive → /θraɪv/
- Please → /pli:z/
- Respect → /rɪ'spekt/

4. Common Difficulties:

Learners often insert vowels between consonants, especially in clusters like str-, spl-, thr-, skr-, etc.

For instance:

- School (not “iskool”)
- Thrive (not “tirive”)
- Respect (not “irespect”).

5. Importance of Learning Clusters:

- It improves pronunciation and fluency.
- It enhances spelling accuracy.
- It helps in correct reading of English words.

EVALUATION:

1. What is a consonant cluster?
2. Identify the cluster in each of these words: school, thrive, respect, blue, asks.
3. Give two examples of initial and final consonant clusters.
4. Explain one pronunciation challenge of clusters.
5. Pronounce these words correctly: please, thrive, scream, camps, months.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten English words containing consonant clusters and underline the clusters.
2. Record yourself pronouncing the words school, respect, thrive, helps, and asks for self-assessment.
3. State three reasons why learning consonant clusters is important in speech.

WEEK 8 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: STATEMENTS AND TAG QUESTIONS

A statement is a sentence that expresses a fact, opinion, or idea. It usually ends with a full stop.

A tag question is a short question added to the end of a statement, often to seek agreement or confirmation.

1. Examples of Statements:

- She is a teacher.
- They play football every evening.
- The weather is hot today.

2. Structure of Tag Questions:

A tag question consists of an auxiliary verb and a pronoun that refers to the subject of the main sentence.

Basic Rules:

1. If the statement is positive, the tag is negative.
 - She is a teacher, isn't she?
 - They play football, don't they?
2. If the statement is negative, the tag is positive.
 - She isn't here, is she?
 - They don't like rice, do they?
3. The auxiliary verb in the tag must agree with the tense of the main verb.
 - He was at school, wasn't he?
 - They will come, won't they?

3. Uses of Tag Questions:

- To confirm information: You're coming, aren't you?
- To show politeness: It's a lovely day, isn't it?
- To express doubt or surprise: You didn't see him, did you?

4. Common Errors:

- Using the wrong auxiliary verb: He can swim, isn't he? ✗ → He can swim, can't he? ✓
- Using the wrong pronoun: Mary is kind, isn't it? ✗ → Mary is kind, isn't she? ✓

EVALUATION:

1. What is a statement?
2. Define a tag question.
3. Change these into tag questions:
 - a. She is very tall.
 - b. They have gone home.
 - c. He cannot drive.
4. Mention two uses of tag questions.
5. Correct this error: They will come, isn't it?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five statements and attach correct tag questions.
2. Explain the rule for forming negative tags.
3. Write two reasons why people use tag questions in speech.

WEEK 8 - READING

TOPIC: IDENTIFYING TOPIC SENTENCES; VOCABULARY – TEACHING WORDS

A topic sentence expresses the main idea of a paragraph. It tells what the paragraph is about. It can appear at the beginning, middle, or end of a paragraph.

1. Characteristics of a Good Topic Sentence:

- It states one main idea clearly.
- It is general enough to allow for supporting details.
- It gives direction to the paragraph.

Example:

- Teaching is one of the most important professions in the world.
Supporting details may then explain why teaching is important.

2. Identifying Topic Sentences:

To identify a topic sentence, look for:

- The sentence that captures the main idea.
- Sentences that other sentences explain or support.

Example Paragraph:

Teachers play an important role in the development of every nation. They prepare students for future leadership by teaching knowledge and values. Without teachers, society cannot progress.

- Topic Sentence: “Teachers play an important role in the development of every nation.”

3. Vocabulary – Teaching Words:

Word	Meaning	Example
Teacher	A person who educates students	The teacher explained the lesson clearly.
Lesson	A period of instruction	The first lesson is on Mathematics.
Classroom	A room where students learn	Our classroom is clean and bright.

Subject	A branch of learning	English is my favorite subject.
Homework	Work assigned to be done at home	We submitted our homework this morning.
Pupil/Student	A learner in a school	The pupils listened attentively.

EVALUATION:

1. What is a topic sentence?
2. Identify the topic sentence in this paragraph: Education shapes the future of every child. It teaches discipline and knowledge. It helps individuals become useful citizens.
3. Write three features of a good topic sentence.
4. Mention three teaching-related words and their meanings.
5. Use “teacher” and “lesson” in meaningful sentences.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short paragraph on “My Best Teacher” and underline the topic sentence.
2. List five teaching-related words and use each in a sentence.
3. Explain why identifying topic sentences is important in reading comprehension.

WEEK 8 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ARGUMENTATIVE AND EXPOSITORY ESSAYS

Both argumentative and expository essays aim to inform, but they differ in purpose, tone, and method.

1. Argumentative Essay:

- The writer takes a stand on an issue (for or against).
- It involves persuasion using reasons, facts, and examples.
- The writer presents both sides but supports one.

Example Topic: School uniforms should be abolished.

- For: Uniforms limit freedom.
- Against: Uniforms promote equality.

2. Expository Essay:

- The writer explains or describes something.
- It gives information without taking sides.
- It uses facts, definitions, and examples.

Example Topic: The Importance of Good Eating Habits.

- Explains what good eating habits are and their benefits.

3. Key Differences Between Argumentative and Expository Essays:

Feature	Argumentative Essay	Expository Essay
Purpose	To argue or persuade	To explain or describe
Tone	Subjective and persuasive	Objective and informative
Structure	Presents two sides of an issue	Explains one topic logically
Language	Uses emotional and logical appeal	Uses clear, factual language

Examples	For/Against Capitalism, Capital Punishment	How Rain Is Formed, The Effects of Pollution
-----------------	--	--

EVALUATION:

1. Define an argumentative essay.
2. Define an expository essay.
3. Mention two differences between both types of essays.
4. Write one topic suitable for each essay type.
5. Why is an argumentative essay persuasive in nature?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write an expository essay on “How to Prevent Malaria.”
2. Write an argumentative essay on “Television does more harm than good.”
3. List four major differences between argumentative and expository essays.

WEEK 8 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT – WRITE A SHORT PLAY OR STORY

Meaning of Drama:

Drama is a story written to be performed by actors on stage. It involves characters, dialogue, actions, and conflict.

1. Elements of Drama:

- Characters: The people in the play.
- Setting: Where and when the story happens.
- Dialogue: The words spoken by the characters.
- Plot: The sequence of events.
- Theme: The main idea or message of the play.

2. Writing a Short Play:

When writing a short play, include the following:

- Title: e.g., Respect for Elders
- Characters: e.g., Father, Mother, Bayo, Teacher.
- Setting: In a school compound.
- Dialogue Example:

Sample Scene:

Title: Respect for Elders

Characters: Teacher, Bayo, Mother

Teacher: Bayo, why did you walk away when your mother called you?

Bayo: I was in a hurry, sir.

Mother: You must learn to respect elders, my son.

Bayo: I'm sorry, mother. I won't do that again.

Teacher: Good. Respect brings peace to the home and society.

Theme: The importance of respect and good manners.

3. Features of a Good Play:

- Short and clear dialogue.
- Teaches moral lessons.
- Realistic actions and characters.

EVALUATION:

1. Define drama.
2. Mention four elements of a play.
3. State the theme of the sample play above.
4. Write two lines of dialogue between a teacher and a student.
5. Why is dialogue important in a play?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write a short three-character play titled "Honesty Pays."
2. Identify the theme of your play.
3. Mention two lessons that readers can learn from it.

WEEK 9 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: WORD BOUNDARIES – LINKING SOUNDS (MATTER OF FACT, BREAD AND BUTTER, POOR AND BLIND)

In connected speech, English speakers often link words together to make speech flow smoothly. This is known as linking sounds or connected speech. The boundaries between words are not always clearly heard; instead, one word runs into the next.

1. Meaning of Word Boundaries:

Word boundaries are the places where one word ends and another begins in speech. When we speak naturally, we do not pause between every word; instead, we link the final sound of one word with the beginning sound of the next.

2. Linking Sounds:

Linking happens when the final consonant of one word is joined with the initial vowel sound of the next word.

Examples:

- Matter of fact → /'mætər əv fækt/ (sounds like matər əv fækt)
- Bread and butter → /bred ən bʌtər/ (sounds like bredən bʌtər)
- Poor and blind → /pɔːr ən blaɪnd/ (sounds like pooran blaɪnd)

3. Types of Linking:

- Consonant to Vowel Linking:
 - Look at it → /luk æt ɪt/
 - Go on → /gəʊ wɒn/
- Vowel to Vowel Linking (with /j/ or /w/ sound):
 - He is → /hiː jɪz/
 - Go out → /gəʊ waʊt/

4. Why Linking Is Important:

- It makes speech sound natural and fluent.
- It improves listening comprehension.
- It reduces unnatural pauses between words.

EVALUATION:

1. What are word boundaries?
2. Define linking sounds.
3. Identify the linking sounds in: bread and butter, matter of fact, poor and blind.
4. Mention two benefits of linking sounds.
5. Give two examples of consonant-to-vowel linking.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five examples of linked expressions in English.
2. Record and listen to yourself pronouncing bread and butter, matter of fact, poor and blind.
3. Explain why word boundaries are important in fluent speech.

WEEK 9 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: DIFFERENTIATING BETWEEN POLAR AND TAG QUESTIONS

1. Meaning of Questions:

Questions are sentences used to ask for information. English questions can be grouped into polar questions and tag questions.

2. Polar Questions:

These are questions that require only two possible answers — Yes or No.

- Examples:
 - Are you coming?
 - Did she pass the test?
 - Will it rain today?
 - Has he eaten?

Features of Polar Questions:

- Begin with auxiliary verbs (is, are, do, did, will, have, etc.).
- Expect short answers like Yes, I am or No, I'm not.
- Used for confirmation, inquiry, or curiosity.

3. Tag Questions:

A tag question is a short question added at the end of a statement to seek agreement or confirmation.

- She is a nurse, isn't she?
- They didn't come, did they?
- You can drive, can't you?

4. Differences Between Polar and Tag Questions:

Feature	Polar Question	Tag Question
Form	Begins a sentence	Comes at the end of a statement
Answer Type	Yes/No	Agreement/Confirmation
Example	Is he ready?	He is ready, isn't he?
Use	To ask for information	To confirm or agree

EVALUATION:

1. Define a polar question.
2. Define a tag question.
3. Give two examples of each.
4. State two differences between polar and tag questions.
5. Complete this: You were there yesterday, ____?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write three polar questions and their expected answers.
2. Convert these to tag questions:
 - a. You are happy.
 - b. She can sing.
 - c. They didn't come.
3. Explain why tag questions are used in conversation.

WEEK 9 - READING

TOPIC: READING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE; VOCABULARY – SPELLING DRILLS

1. Reading Comprehension Practice:

Comprehension passages test understanding of ideas, vocabulary, tone, and inferences. Students should read carefully to identify:

- Main idea
- Supporting details
- Meaning of new words

Sample Passage (Excerpt):

Tree planting is one of the best ways to protect the environment. Trees provide oxygen, shade, and prevent erosion. They also make the air fresh and reduce heat. Without trees, the earth would become too hot for living things.

Questions:

1. What is the main idea of the passage?
2. Mention two benefits of trees.
3. What would happen without trees?

2. Vocabulary – Spelling Drills:

Correct spelling helps improve writing and pronunciation.

Commonly Misspelled Words:

- receive, separate, believe, environment, beginning, tomorrow, occurred, necessary, government, beautiful.

Tips for Correct Spelling:

- Use syllable division: en-vi-ron-ment.

- Remember spelling rules: “i before e except after c.” (believe, receive)
- Practice regularly.

EVALUATION:

1. What is the main idea of the passage on tree planting?
2. Mention two benefits of trees.
3. Spell correctly: recieve, enviroment, tommorow, goverment.
4. State two reasons why correct spelling is important.
5. What does the rule “i before e except after c” mean?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Copy and correctly spell ten common English words often misspelled.
2. Write a short passage about “Why We Should Plant Trees.”
3. Read a comprehension passage in your textbook and answer five questions from it.

WEEK 9 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: EXPOSITORY ESSAY – HOW TO PLANT TREES

Meaning of Expository Essay:

An expository essay explains how something works or how something is done. It gives clear information without trying to argue.

Example Topic: How to Plant Trees

Outline:

1. Introduction – Importance of tree planting.
2. Steps in planting trees.
3. Benefits of tree planting.
4. Conclusion – Encourage everyone to plant trees.

Sample Essay:

Tree planting helps protect the environment and beautify the surroundings. To plant a tree, first, choose good soil and dig a hole about one foot deep. Next, place the young plant in the hole and cover it with soil. Water the plant regularly and protect it from animals. Trees provide shade, prevent erosion, and produce oxygen. Everyone should plant at least one tree to make the world a better place.

EVALUATION:

1. Define an expository essay.
2. State three steps involved in planting trees.
3. Mention two benefits of tree planting.
4. What is the purpose of an expository essay?
5. Write one sentence from the essay that shows conclusion.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write an essay titled How to Keep the Environment Clean.
2. List four steps in tree planting.
3. Write two sentences explaining why trees are important.

WEEK 9 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: RECOMMENDED DRAMA TEXT – USING SIMILES AND METAPHORS IN SENTENCES

1. Revision of Figures of Speech:

- Simile: A direct comparison using like or as.
 - He is as brave as a lion.
- Metaphor: An indirect comparison without like or as.
 - He is a lion in battle.

2. Application in Drama:

Writers use similes and metaphors to make dialogue more vivid.

Examples in Dialogue:

- Mother: “My son works like a machine!” (Simile)
- Teacher: “Knowledge is light.” (Metaphor)

3. Exercises:

Convert similes to metaphors and vice versa:

- As white as snow → Snow-white (metaphor).
- He is a rock → He is as strong as a rock.

EVALUATION:

1. Define simile.
2. Define metaphor.
3. Give two examples of each.

4. Convert these similes to metaphors:
 - a. As wise as an owl.
 - b. As busy as a bee.
5. Why do writers use these figures of speech?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five similes and five metaphors.
2. Create a short dialogue using at least two similes.
3. Convert three of your similes to metaphors.

WEEK 10 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: CONTRASTING DIPHTHONGS /eɪ/ VS /ɪə/ (DATE/HERE), (LATE/CHEER)

A diphthong is a vowel sound formed by the combination of two different vowel sounds within one syllable. The tongue glides from one position to another while pronouncing it.

1. /eɪ/ Sound:

- Glide from /e/ to /ɪ/
- Found in words like: date, late, make, name, face, rain, play, day.

Examples in Sentences:

- I will play with my mate.
- The rain came late.

2. /ɪə/ Sound:

- Glide from /ɪ/ to /ə/
- Found in words like: here, cheer, fear, near, appear, career, idea.

Examples in Sentences:

- We sat near the window.
- She felt fear in the dark.

3. Contrasting the Two:

/eɪ/	/ɪə/
date	dear
late	leer
gate	gear
male	mere

fade	fear
------	------

EVALUATION:

1. What is a diphthong?
2. Give three examples of words with /eɪ/.
3. Give three examples of words with /ɪə/.
4. Differentiate between /eɪ/ and /ɪə/.
5. Pronounce these pairs: date/dear, late/leer, play/peer.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five word pairs contrasting /eɪ/ and /ɪə/.
2. Use three of them in sentences.
3. Record and listen to yourself pronouncing both sounds.

WEEK 10 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: EXERCISE ON ADVERBIALS

1. Meaning of Adverbials

An adverbial is a word, phrase, or clause that gives more information about a verb, an adjective, or another adverb. It tells us how, when, where, or why something happens.

Adverbials perform the function of adverbs in sentences, but unlike single-word adverbs, adverbials can be phrases or clauses.

Examples:

- She sings beautifully. (adverb)
- She sings with great passion. (adverbial phrase)
- She sings because she is happy. (adverbial clause)

2. Types of Adverbials

There are four main types of adverbials according to the kind of information they give:

1. Adverbials of Time – tell when something happens.
 - Examples: yesterday, last week, soon, in the morning, after dinner.
 - Sentence examples:
 - We shall travel tomorrow.
 - He arrived in the evening.
2. Adverbials of Place – tell where something happens.
 - Examples: here, there, everywhere, at home, in the market, to school.
 - Sentence examples:
 - The children are playing outside.
 - She lives in Lagos.
3. Adverbials of Manner – tell how something happens.

- Examples: quickly, slowly, carefully, with joy, in anger.
- Sentence examples:
 - The boy ran quickly.
 - She spoke with confidence.

4. Adverbials of Reason or Purpose – tell why something happens.

- Examples: because of hunger, to get food, in order to learn.
- Sentence examples:
 - He left early to catch the bus.
 - She is crying because she lost her book.

Other subtypes include:

- Adverbials of Frequency: always, often, seldom, rarely, sometimes.
- Adverbials of Degree: very, quite, almost, too, rather.

3. Forms of Adverbials

Form	Example	Sentence
Single-word adverb	quickly, slowly	He ran quickly.
Adverbial phrase	in the morning, with care	She reads in the morning.
Adverbial clause	because he was late	He ran because he was late.

4. Position of Adverbials in Sentences

Adverbials can appear:

- At the beginning: Yesterday, we went to the zoo.
- In the middle: We usually eat rice on Sundays.
- At the end: She danced gracefully.

Notes:

- Adverbials of manner, place, and time often come at the end of sentences.

Example: She sang sweetly at the concert yesterday.

- When there is more than one adverbial, the usual order is:

Manner → Place → Time

Example: She danced gracefully (manner) in the hall (place) yesterday (time).

5. Common Errors with Adverbials

- Misplacing the adverbial in a sentence.
 - ✗ He quickly speaks English.
 - ✓ He speaks English quickly.
- Using double negatives with adverbials of frequency.
 - ✗ He doesn't go nowhere.
 - ✓ He doesn't go anywhere.
- Confusing manner and reason adverbials.
 - ✗ She left carefully she was tired.
 - ✓ She left because she was tired.

6. Exercises on Adverbials

A. Identify the adverbials and state their types:

1. She will return next week.
2. The dog slept under the table.
3. He smiled with joy.
4. They waited because the teacher was coming.
5. We go to church every Sunday.

B. Fill in the blanks with suitable adverbials:

1. He reads his Bible _____.
2. They are working _____ the classroom.
3. The meeting started _____.
4. The girl danced _____ the music stopped.
5. The children shouted _____ the teacher entered.

C. Combine these sentences using adverbials:

1. She cried. She lost her book.
→ She cried because she lost her book.
2. He walked. He was in a hurry.
→ He walked quickly.
3. The students are learning. They are in the library.
→ The students are learning in the library.

EVALUATION:

1. Define an adverbial.
2. State four main types of adverbials and give two examples of each.
3. Differentiate between an adverb and an adverbial.
4. Identify the adverbials in this sentence: The boy ran quickly to school yesterday.
5. Arrange the adverbials in correct order of manner, place, and time.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write ten sentences using at least one adverbial in each. Underline the adverbials.
2. Write three sentences using adverbial phrases and three using adverbial clauses.
3. Explain why correct placement of adverbials is important in English sentences.

WEEK 10 - READING

TOPIC: READING COMPREHENSION PRACTICE; VOCABULARY – SPELLING DRILLS (CONTINUED)

1. Reading Comprehension Practice

Meaning of Comprehension:

Comprehension means understanding what is read. It is the ability to make meaning from written text by identifying the main ideas, supporting details, and the writer's intention. Reading comprehension develops vocabulary, thinking ability, and general knowledge.

Purpose of Reading Comprehension:

- To understand the meaning of a text.
- To answer questions based on what is read.
- To develop the ability to infer or draw conclusions.
- To improve spelling, grammar, and general language use.

Skills Involved in Reading Comprehension:

1. Skimming: Reading quickly to get the general idea of a passage.
2. Scanning: Reading quickly to locate specific information.
3. Detailed Reading: Reading carefully to understand all ideas and information.
4. Inferring: Drawing conclusions or hidden meanings from what is read.
5. Summarizing: Giving a brief statement of the main points in a passage.

Steps in Answering Comprehension Questions:

1. Read the passage carefully at least twice.

2. Identify the main idea and key details.
3. Note unfamiliar words and their meanings from context.
4. Read the questions thoroughly and understand what is asked.
5. Answer in complete sentences, using your own words where possible.
6. Check for correct spelling, grammar, and punctuation.

Example Practice Passage (Excerpt):

The government of Nigeria has continued to encourage tree planting across the nation. Trees help to prevent erosion, provide shade, and improve the quality of air. In schools and communities, pupils are encouraged to plant and nurture trees as part of environmental awareness campaigns.

Sample Questions:

1. What does the passage say about tree planting?
2. Mention two benefits of trees according to the passage.
3. Why does the government encourage pupils to plant trees?
4. Find the meaning of “nurture” as used in the passage.
5. Suggest a suitable title for this passage.

Tips for Effective Comprehension Reading:

- Read in a quiet environment.
- Avoid reading word by word—read in sense groups.
- Keep a dictionary nearby to learn new words.

- Read different types of texts: stories, articles, letters, and reports.

2. Vocabulary – Spelling Drills (Continued)

Meaning of Vocabulary:

Vocabulary refers to the total number of words a person knows and uses correctly in speech and writing. A rich vocabulary helps students express themselves more clearly and understand texts better.

Meaning of Spelling:

Spelling is the correct arrangement of letters in a word. Spelling drills are exercises that help learners master the accurate spelling of words.

Importance of Good Spelling:

- It improves written communication.
- It prevents misunderstanding in writing.
- It increases confidence in reading and writing.
- It helps in word pronunciation and vocabulary building.

Commonly Misspelled Words (Revision and Continuation):

Wrong Spelling	Correct Spelling	Meaning
recieve	receive	to get something
occured	occurred	happened
enviroment	environment	surroundings
beleive	believe	to accept as true
goverment	government	system of ruling
definate	definite	certain, clear
seperate	separate	divide or set apart

accomodate	accommodate	to provide lodging
neccessary	necessary	required, needed
tommorow	tomorrow	the next day

Techniques for Improving Spelling:

1. Look, Say, Cover, Write, and Check Method:

- Look at the word carefully.
- Say it aloud.
- Cover it.
- Write it from memory.
- Check your spelling.

2. Use the word in a sentence to help remember its meaning.

3. Break words into syllables for easier memorization.

- Example: ac-com-mo-date, sep-a-rate.

4. Write difficult words repeatedly until correct spelling is mastered.

5. Keep a personal spelling book of words you find challenging.

Spelling Drill Practice:

- Write each of the following words correctly three times: environment, occurred, government, necessary, believe.
- Use each of these words in a sentence of your own.

WEEK 10 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: ORAL COMPOSITION – SCHOOL RULES

Oral composition involves speaking clearly, fluently, and confidently on a given topic. It helps to develop public speaking and communication skills.

Topic Discussion – School Rules

Every school has rules to guide students' behavior. These rules promote order, discipline, and safety. Examples of common school rules include:

- Students must be punctual.
- Uniforms must be neat.
- No fighting or bullying.
- Respect teachers and prefects.
- Keep the school clean.

Speaking Tips:

1. Speak loudly and clearly.
2. Use correct grammar and simple words.
3. Maintain eye contact with your audience.
4. Organize your ideas in order.

EVALUATION:

1. Define oral composition.
2. Mention three common school rules.
3. Why are school rules important?
4. State two qualities of a good speaker.

5. Mention one way oral composition improves communication.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Prepare a 1-minute oral presentation on “Why I Obey School Rules.”
2. Write five rules you would make if you were a prefect.
3. Record and listen to your presentation for clarity and fluency.

WEEK 10 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: DRAMATIZATION OF SCENES FROM DRAMA TEXT; TURNING SIMILES TO METAPHORS AND VICE VERSA

1. Dramatization:

Dramatization means acting out parts of a story or play. It helps students understand character roles, tone, and expression.

Example Scene:

From a play about honesty:

Teacher: Who took the missing money?

Student: It was me, sir. I'm sorry.

Teacher: I forgive you. Always tell the truth.

Theme: Honesty and forgiveness.

2. Turning Similes to Metaphors and Vice Versa:

- As brave as a lion → He is a lion in battle.
- As gentle as a dove → She is a dove.
- He is a rock → He is as strong as a rock.
- The world is a stage → Life is like a play.

EVALUATION:

1. What is dramatization?
2. Mention one benefit of dramatization.
3. Convert these:
 - a. As fast as lightning → _____
 - b. He is a tiger → _____

4. What lesson is learned from dramatization?
5. State one difference between a simile and a metaphor.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Act out a short play about “Truthfulness.”
2. Write five pairs of similes and metaphors.
3. Identify the theme in your play.

WEEK 11 - SPEECH WORK

TOPIC: CONTRASTING /ʊə/ VS /oʊ/ (TOUR/POLE)

A diphthong is a combination of two vowel sounds pronounced together in one syllable, where the tongue glides from one position to another. In this lesson, we focus on the contrast between /ʊə/ and /oʊ/.

1. The /ʊə/ Sound:

- This sound begins with /ʊ/ and glides to /ə/.
- It is commonly found in words spelt with “our”, “oor”, “ure”, or “ure.”
- It occurs in British English, but in American English, /ʊə/ is often replaced with a pure vowel /ɔ:/ or /ʊr/.

Examples:

- tour /tʊə/
- sure /ʃʊə/
- poor /pʊə/
- cure /kjʊə/
- endure /ɪn'dʒʊə/

2. The /oʊ/ Sound:

- This sound begins with /o/ and glides to /ʊ/.
- It is heard in words with spellings like “o”, “oa”, “ow”, “oe”, “old.”
- It is common in both British and American English.

Examples:

- pole /pou/
- go /gou/

- home /hoom/
- boat /bout/
- window /'windo/

3. Contrast Between /ʊə/ and /oo/:

/ʊə/	/oo/
tour	toe
poor	pole
sure	show
cure	coat
pure	pole

4. Pronunciation Tips:

- /ʊə/: The lips are rounded, then relaxed.
- /oo/: The lips start mid-rounded and become more rounded.
- Practice slowly, then increase fluency.

EVALUATION:

1. Define a diphthong.
2. Differentiate between /ʊə/ and /oo/ in pronunciation.
3. Give three examples of words with /ʊə/.
4. Give three examples of words with /oo/.
5. Pronounce these pairs: tour/toe, sure/show, cure/coat.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five pairs of words contrasting /ʊə/ and /oo/.
2. Use three pairs in short sentences.
3. Record yourself pronouncing all examples correctly.

WEEK 11 - GRAMMAR

TOPIC: REVISION – NOUNS, PRONOUNS, VERBS, ADJECTIVES

This revision covers four key parts of speech previously taught.

1. Nouns:

A noun is a name of a person, place, animal, thing, or idea.

Types of Nouns:

- Proper Nouns: Names of specific people or places (Nigeria, Musa, Abuja).
- Common Nouns: General names (boy, city, car).
- Abstract Nouns: Names of ideas (love, truth, beauty).
- Collective Nouns: Names of groups (flock, team, class).

Examples in Sentences:

- Musa lives in Abuja. (Proper Noun)
- The team won the match. (Collective Noun)

2. Pronouns:

Pronouns are words used instead of nouns to avoid repetition.

Types:

- Personal Pronouns: I, you, he, she, it, we, they
- Possessive Pronouns: mine, yours, hers, ours, theirs
- Reflexive Pronouns: myself, himself, herself
- Relative Pronouns: who, which, that

Example:

- John said he was tired. (“he” replaces “John”)

3. Verbs:

A verb shows action or state of being.

- Action Verbs: run, jump, write
- Linking Verbs: is, seem, appear
- Auxiliary Verbs: have, do, will, can

Examples:

- She runs every morning.
- He is a teacher.

4. Adjectives:

Adjectives describe nouns or pronouns.

They tell quality, quantity, number, size, or color.

Examples:

- A tall man.
- Three girls came late.
- The red car is fast.

EVALUATION:

1. What is a noun? Give two examples.
2. Mention three types of pronouns.
3. State two kinds of verbs.
4. What is an adjective? Give two examples.
5. Identify the adjectives in this sentence: The old man bought three large bags.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences showing the use of nouns, pronouns, verbs, and adjectives.
2. Underline all verbs in your sentences.
3. Classify each noun in your sentences as common, proper, or abstract.

WEEK 11 - READING

TOPIC: READING FOR EVALUATION

1. Meaning of Reading for Evaluation:

Reading for evaluation means reading a passage critically to judge the ideas, arguments, and opinions expressed. The reader must identify what is good, bad, or questionable in the text.

2. Purpose of Reading for Evaluation:

- To form opinions based on facts.
- To identify bias or exaggeration.
- To judge the logic or reasonableness of ideas.

3. Steps to Reading for Evaluation:

1. Read carefully and understand the author's viewpoint.
2. Identify evidence or examples used.
3. Decide whether the argument is balanced or one-sided.
4. Form your own opinion and support it with reasons.

4. Example Passage (Excerpt):

"Television has both advantages and disadvantages. It educates, informs, and entertains. However, too much television can lead to laziness and poor academic performance."

Sample Evaluation:

The writer presents both good and bad sides, showing a balanced argument. The passage is reasonable because it warns against excessive watching while recognizing its benefits.

EVALUATION:

1. What is reading for evaluation?
2. Mention two purposes of reading for evaluation.

3. List three steps in evaluating a passage.
4. What is the author's opinion in the passage about television?
5. Do you agree or disagree with the writer's point? Why?

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Read a passage on "The Use of Mobile Phones by Students" and write whether you agree or disagree with the writer.
2. State two benefits and two disadvantages of mobile phones.
3. Identify one example of bias in the passage, if any.

WEEK 11 - COMPOSITION

TOPIC: REVISION OF ALL ESSAY TYPES

1. Major Types of Essays:

- Narrative Essay: Tells a story.
Example: The Day I Got Lost.
- Descriptive Essay: Describes a person, place, or thing.
Example: My Best Friend.
- Expository Essay: Explains or gives information.
Example: How to Prepare for an Examination.
- Argumentative Essay: Argues for or against a point of view.
Example: Boarding Schools Are Better Than Day Schools.

2. Differences Between Essay Types:

Type	Purpose	Example
Narrative	To tell a story	My First Day in School
Descriptive	To describe vividly	My Village
Expository	To explain	How to Stay Healthy
Argumentative	To convince	Phones Should Be Banned in Class

3. Essay Writing Tips:

- Begin with a clear introduction.
- Use paragraphs for organization.
- Include examples or evidence.
- Conclude neatly.
- Check grammar and spelling.

EVALUATION:

1. Mention four main types of essays.
2. What is the main purpose of an argumentative essay?
3. State two features of an expository essay.
4. Give one example each of narrative and descriptive essay topics.
5. List three tips for good essay writing.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write one paragraph each on the four types of essays.
2. Write an expository essay titled How to Manage Time.
3. Identify the essay type used in your English textbook passage.

WEEK 11 - LITERATURE IN ENGLISH

TOPIC: FIGURES OF SPEECH – EUPHEMISM AND PUN

1. Euphemism:

Euphemism is a mild or polite expression used in place of a harsh or unpleasant one. It helps to soften sensitive messages.

Examples:

- He passed away (instead of He died).
- She is expecting a baby (instead of She is pregnant).
- They are economically disadvantaged (instead of They are poor).

Functions of Euphemism:

- To show respect and politeness.
- To reduce the emotional effect of unpleasant information.
- To maintain social harmony.

2. Pun:

A pun is a play on words that have similar sounds but different meanings, often used to create humor or wit.

Examples:

- I used to be a banker but I lost interest.
- Time flies like an arrow; fruit flies like a banana.
- The tallest building in town is the library — it has the most stories.

Differences Between Euphemism and Pun:

Feature	Euphemism	Pun
Purpose	To be polite or gentle	To be humorous or witty

Example	“He passed on.”	“I lost interest (in banking).”
---------	-----------------	---------------------------------

EVALUATION:

1. What is a euphemism?
2. Give three examples of euphemism.
3. What is a pun?
4. Give two examples of puns.
5. State one difference between euphemism and pun.

ASSIGNMENT:

1. Write five sentences using euphemisms.
2. Create three short jokes or puns.
3. Explain why writers use euphemisms and puns in literature.
