WEEK 1: WORDS USED IN THE CLASSROOM

In French, as in every language, there are specific words and expressions used in the classroom to give instructions, communicate expectations, and interact politely with teachers and fellow students. These expressions are essential for effective learning and help students respond appropriately to commands in French.

Classroom Instructions and Expressions

Classroom expressions in French can be categorized based on the actions they refer to. The following are common expressions that students are expected to understand and use:

1. Sit Down / Stand Up

- Asseyez-vous – Sit down (used when addressing one or more students formally or politely).

- Lève-toi – Stand up (used when addressing one student informally).
- Levez-vous – Stand up (used formally or to address multiple students).

These phrases help maintain order and ensure that students respond to teachers' instructions promptly. Proper use also demonstrates respect and understanding of classroom etiquette.

2. Open / Close Your Book

- Ouvrez vos livres – Open your books (plural or formal).
- Ouvre ton livre – Open your book (singular, informal).
- Fermez vos livres – Close your books (plural or formal).
- Ferme ton livre – Close your book (singular, informal).

Using these expressions correctly ensures that students can follow lessons efficiently, participate actively in reading activities, and respond correctly to classroom exercises.

3. Listen / Repeat / Speak

- Écoutez – Listen (formal or plural).
- Écoute – Listen (informal singular).
- Répétez après moi – Repeat after me (plural or formal).
- Répète après moi – Repeat after me (informal singular).
- Parlez – Speak (formal or plural).
- Parle – Speak (informal singular).

These expressions encourage active participation in lessons. Listening attentively, repeating, and speaking are essential skills for acquiring proficiency in French.

4. Other Useful Classroom Expressions

- Levez la main – Raise your hand.
- Asseyez-vous tranquillement – Sit quietly.

- Écrivez dans vos cahiers – Write in your notebooks.
- Lisez le texte – Read the text.

Students should also understand polite classroom expressions, such as:

- Merci – Thank you
- S'il vous plaît – Please (formal)
- S'il te plaît – Please (informal)

Mastering these words and expressions helps students interact confidently in the French classroom, follow instructions accurately, and participate actively in all learning activities. Teachers should encourage students to practice these expressions regularly through repetition, role-play, and classroom activities.

EVALUATION

1. Translate the following instructions into French:
 - a) Sit down
 - b) Stand up
 - c) Open your book
 - d) Close your book
2. Give the French expressions for:
 - a) Listen
 - b) Repeat after me
 - c) Speak
3. Explain the difference between Écoute and Écoutez.

ASSIGNMENT

1. Write ten classroom instructions in French and their English meanings.

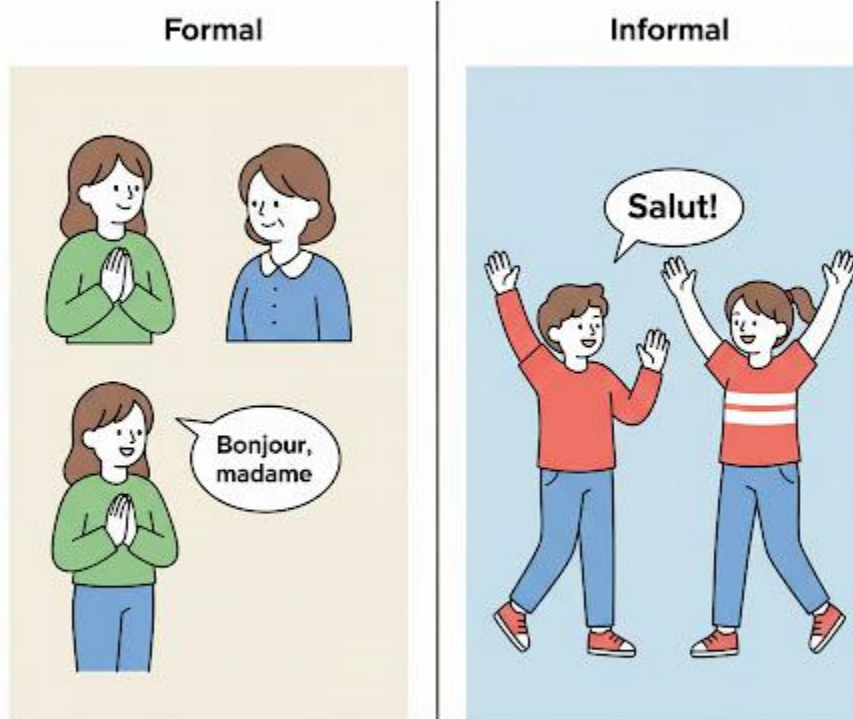

2. Practice with a classmate by giving and following five classroom commands in French.

WEEK 2: SALUER (GREETING)

In every language and culture, greeting is one of the most important forms of communication. Greetings show respect, friendliness, and create a good relationship between people. In French, as in English and Nigerian languages, there are various ways of greeting depending on the situation, the time of the day, and the level of formality. Some greetings are formal, used when addressing elders, strangers, teachers, or in official situations, while others are informal, used with friends, family, and close relations.

Learning greetings in French is very important because it is the first step in learning to communicate with people in everyday situations. It helps students begin conversations, respond politely, and build confidence in speaking the language.

Forms of Greetings in French

1. Formal Greetings

These are polite and respectful greetings used in official settings or when addressing elders, teachers, strangers, or people in authority. Some common formal greetings are:

- Bonjour – Good morning / Good day (used until evening).
- Bonsoir – Good evening (used in the evening hours).
- Bonne nuit – Good night (used when going to bed or leaving at night).
- Comment allez-vous ? – How are you? (formal way of asking about someone's well-being).
- Enchanté(e) – Pleased to meet you (said when introduced to someone).

2. Informal Greetings

These are casual greetings used with friends, classmates, siblings, and people of the same age group. Examples include:

- Salut – Hi / Hello.
- Coucou – Hey! (very casual, often used with close friends or children).
- Ça va ? – How are you? (informal).
- Ça roule ? – What's up? / How's it going? (slang, very informal).

Responses to Greetings

When greeted, it is polite to respond appropriately. In French, responses depend on whether the greeting is formal or informal.

- Bonjour, monsieur/madame. → Bonjour.
- Bonsoir, mademoiselle. → Bonsoir.
- Bonne nuit. → Bonne nuit.

- Comment allez-vous ? → Je vais bien, merci. Et vous ? (I am fine, thank you. And you?)
- Salut ! → Salut !
- Ça va ? → Ça va bien, merci. Et toi ? (I am fine, thank you. And you?)
- Enchanté. → Enchanté.

Polite Expressions in French

Politeness is very important in the French language. Just like in English, words such as “please,” “thank you,” and “sorry” are often used. Some common polite expressions are:

- S'il vous plaît – Please (formal).
- S'il te plaît – Please (informal).
- Merci – Thank you.
- Merci beaucoup – Thank you very much.
- De rien – You're welcome.
- Excusez-moi – Excuse me (formal).
- Excuse-moi – Excuse me (informal).
- Pardon – Sorry / Pardon.

By using greetings and polite expressions correctly, students show respect, build good relationships, and communicate effectively in French.

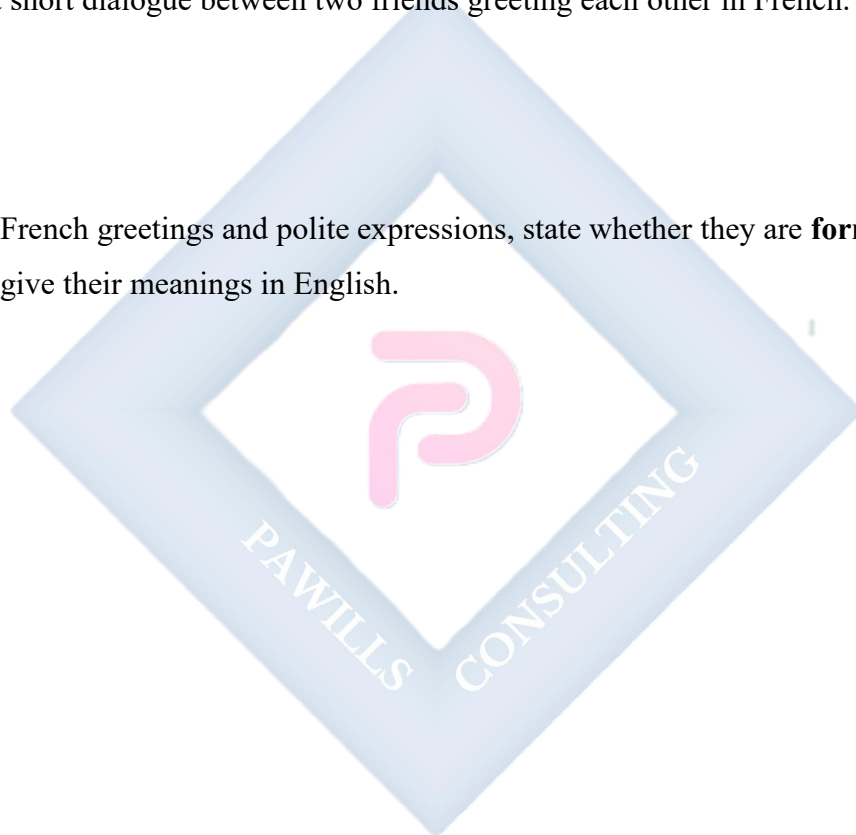

Evaluation

1. Differentiate between formal and informal greetings in French with examples.
2. Write the appropriate responses to the following greetings:
 - a. Bonjour, madame.
 - b. Salut !

- c. Comment allez-vous ?
 - d. Bonne nuit.
3. Translate the following into French:
- a. Please
 - b. Thank you very much
 - c. Sorry
 - d. You are welcome
4. Write a short dialogue between two friends greeting each other in French.

Assignment

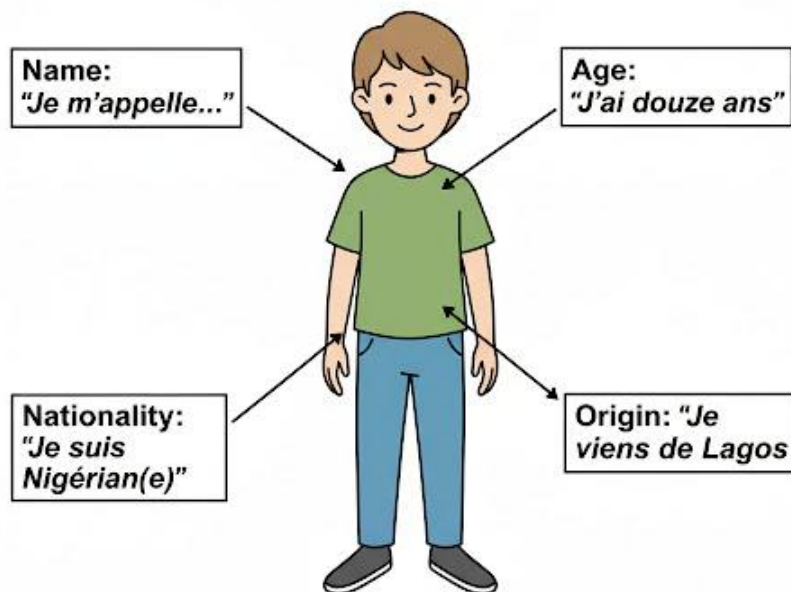

Write ten (10) French greetings and polite expressions, state whether they are formal or informal, and give their meanings in English.

WEEK 3: SE PRÉSENTER (INTRODUCING ONESELF)

In learning French, one of the very first and most important skills is the ability to introduce oneself. Introducing oneself means providing basic personal information that allows another person to know who you are. It is a polite and social way of beginning a conversation. In French, self-introduction is expressed in simple sentences, and it covers essential details such as one's name, age, nationality, and origin.

When introducing yourself in French, you often begin with greetings such as Bonjour (Good morning/Good day) or Bonsoir (Good evening), depending on the time of the day. After greeting, you proceed to state your name, age, nationality, and where you come from. It is important to note that in French, the structure of sentences and the use of verbs follow specific rules that must be mastered to communicate correctly.

Giving Personal Information in French

1. Name (Nom)

To say your name in French, you can use the expression:

- Je m'appelle ... → "My name is ..."

Example: Je m'appelle Chinedu. → My name is Chinedu.

Another way is:

- Mon nom est ... → "My name is ..."

Example: Mon nom est Aisha. → My name is Aisha.

2. Age (Âge)

In French, age is expressed using the verb avoir (to have), not être (to be) as in English.

- J'ai ... ans. → "I am ... years old."

Example: J'ai douze ans. → I am twelve years old.

3. Nationality (Nationalité)

To state your nationality, you use the verb être (to be). Note that nationality adjectives agree with the gender of the person.

- Je suis Nigérian. (masculine) → I am Nigerian.

- Je suis Nigériane. (feminine) → I am Nigerian.

Examples:

- Je suis Français. → I am French (male).

- Je suis Française. → I am French (female).

4. Origin (Origine / Ville d'origine)

To say where you are from, you can use expressions like:

- Je viens de ... → "I come from ..."

Example: Je viens de Lagos. → I come from Lagos.

- Je suis de ... → “I am from ...”

Example: Je suis d’Abuja. → I am from Abuja.

You can also combine this with nationality for a fuller introduction.

Example: Je suis Nigérian. Je viens de Port Harcourt. → I am Nigerian. I come from Port Harcourt.

Sample Self-Introduction in French

Bonjour! Je m’appelle Grace. J’ai onze ans. Je suis Nigériane. Je viens d’Enugu.

(Good day! My name is Grace. I am eleven years old. I am Nigerian. I come from Enugu.)

This simple structure can be adapted depending on the information needed.

Evaluation

1. Translate into French:
 - a. My name is Musa.
 - b. I am thirteen years old.
 - c. I am Nigerian (female).
 - d. I come from Kano.
2. Explain the difference between Je m’appelle and Mon nom est.
3. State the French expression for age and give one example with your real age.
4. Write two correct sentences introducing your nationality in French (male and female forms).
5. Construct four complete sentences to introduce yourself in French.

Assignment

Write a short paragraph in French (6–8 sentences) introducing yourself. Include your name, age, nationality, town of origin, and one extra detail such as your hobby (J’aime le football, J’aime lire, etc.). Translate your paragraph into English.

WEEK 4: ÉPELER UN MOT / ÉCRIRE UN MOT ÉPELÉ

The ability to spell and write words correctly is one of the first skills needed when learning French. In French, spelling (épeler) means pronouncing or identifying the letters of a word one after the other. This helps students to recognize the alphabet, spell their names, and write simple words correctly. Writing a dictated word (écrire un mot épelé) means listening carefully as a word is spelt and then writing it down without mistakes.

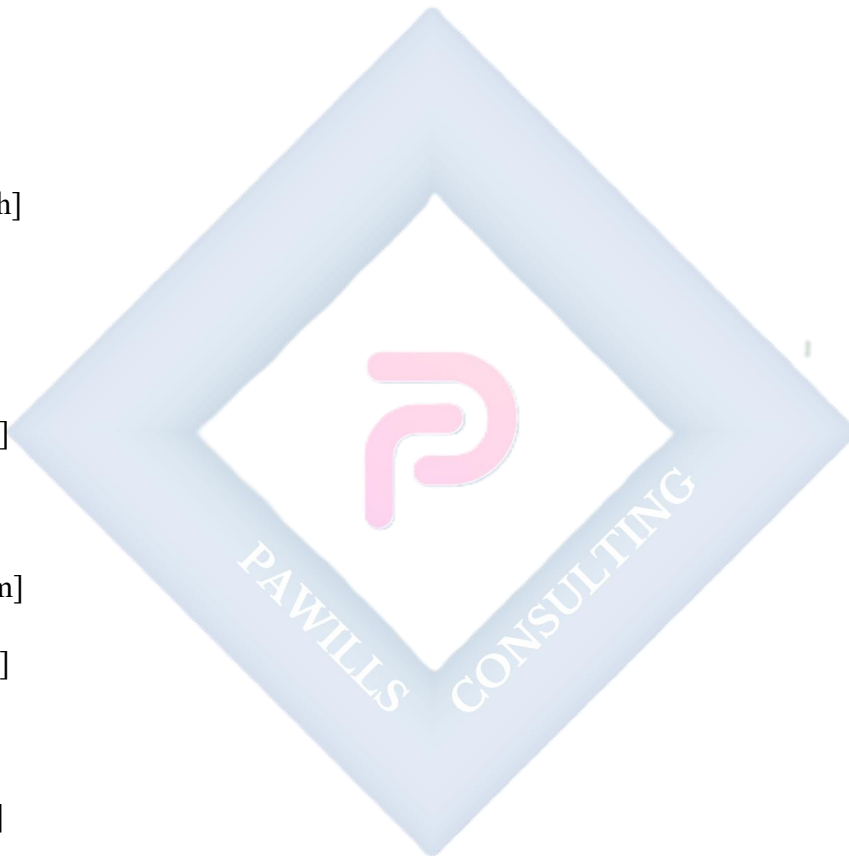

To understand spelling in French, one must first master the alphabet (l'alphabet français). The French alphabet has the same 26 letters as the English alphabet, but some letters are pronounced differently.

L'alphabet français

A	[a	Bé	Ce	Fé	[ef
G	[gé	H ash	[ka	I	[i
M	[em	N en	L i	O	R èr
S	[es	Té	[té	X u	[ks
Y	[i grec]	W [doublé vè	Z	[zèd

L'alphabet français (The French Alphabet)

- A – [a]
- B – [bé]
- C – [cé]
- D – [dé]
- E – [eu]
- F – [èf]
- G – [jé]
- H – [ash]
- I – [i]
- J – [ji]
- K – [ka]
- L – [èl]
- M – [èm]
- N – [èn]
- O – [o]
- P – [pé]
- Q – [ku]
- R – [èr]
- S – [ès]
- T – [té]
- U – [u]
- V – [vé]

- W – [dubl   v  ]
- X – [iks]
- Y – [i grec]
- Z – [z  d]

It is important to repeat and practice the alphabet aloud in order to pronounce each letter correctly. This helps in spelling names, words, and sentences in French.

Spelling Names (  peler les noms)

When asked to spell a name in French, each letter must be pronounced clearly according to the French alphabet. For example:

- Paul → P (p  ), A (a), U (u), L (  l) → P-A-U-L
- Marie → M (  m), A (a), R (  r), I (i), E (eu) → M-A-R-I-E
- Uyo → U (u), Y (i grec), O (o) → U-Y-O

This practice helps students to identify letters quickly and correctly.

Spelling Common Words (  peler des mots courants)

Common classroom words or objects can be spelt to reinforce learning. Examples:

- Livre (book) → L-I-V-R-E
- Table (table) → T-A-B-L-E
-   cole (school) →   -C-O-L-E
- Cahier (exercise book) → C-A-H-I-E-R
- Stylo (pen) → S-T-Y-L-O

Through repeated practice, students become familiar with spelling in French and can recognize words both orally and in writing.

Writing Dictated Words (Écrire des mots dictés)

Dictation (la dictée) is an important classroom exercise in learning French. The teacher spells out a word slowly, and the students write it down. This develops listening, concentration, and writing skills.

For example:

- Teacher: “S – T – Y – L – O” → Students write: stylo
- Teacher: “É – C – O – L – E” → Students write: école
- Teacher: “L – I – V – R – E” → Students write: livre

With constant practice, learners will improve their spelling accuracy and writing ability.

Evaluation

1. Write the French alphabet and pronounce each letter correctly.
2. Spell your name in French using the French alphabet.
3. Spell three common objects found in your classroom in French.
4. Listen as the teacher spells the following words and write them down: cahier, école, table.
5. Why is it important to learn how to spell in French?

Assignment

1. Write down the French alphabet in your notebook.
2. Spell five names of your classmates in French and write them down.

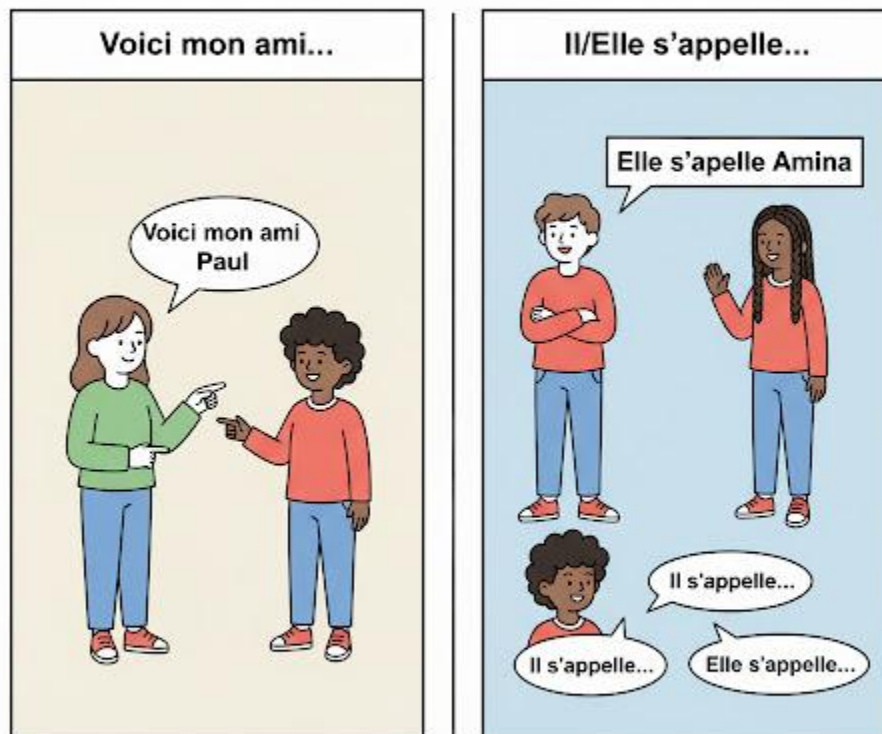

3. Write correctly the following words after spelling them aloud:

- Livre
- Cahier
- Stylo
- Table
- École

WEEK 6: PRÉSENTER QUELQU'UN

In French, being able to introduce someone is an important social skill. It allows us to present friends, family members, or colleagues politely in conversations. Just like in English, where we say, “This is...” or “His/Her name is...”, in French we use specific expressions to introduce someone.

Introducing Someone Using “VOICI”

The word “voici” means “here is” or “this is”. It is used when you want to present or show someone to another person.

Examples:

- Voici mon ami Paul. (Here is my friend Paul.)

- Voici ma sœur, Marie. (This is my sister, Marie.)
- Voici Monsieur Okon, mon professeur. (Here is Mr. Okon, my teacher.)

When using “voici”, you may add polite remarks to make the introduction formal:

- Voici mon père, Monsieur Ade. Enchanté de vous rencontrer. (Here is my father, Mr. Ade. Nice to meet you.)

Introducing Someone Using “IL/ELLE S’APPELLE”

When you want to tell someone the name of the person you are introducing, you use “il s’appelle” for males and “elle s’appelle” for females. This means “His name is” or “Her name is”.

Examples:

- Il s’appelle Jean. (His name is Jean.)
- Elle s’appelle Amina. (Her name is Amina.)
- Voici mon cousin. Il s’appelle Tunde. (Here is my cousin. His name is Tunde.)
- Voici ma tante. Elle s’appelle Grace. (This is my aunt. Her name is Grace.)

Notice that “il” = he/him and “elle” = she/her.

Polite Forms When Introducing Someone

Politeness is very important in French culture, especially when introducing someone to an adult or a stranger. Some polite expressions include:

- Enchanté(e). – Pleased to meet you. (Add “e” for a female speaker.)
- Ravi(e) de faire votre connaissance. – Delighted to meet you.
- Comment allez-vous ? – How are you? (formal)
- Je vous présente... – I present to you... / May I introduce...

Examples in use:

- Je vous présente ma mère, Madame Yusuf. (May I introduce my mother, Mrs. Yusuf.)
- Voici mon ami, Peter. Enchanté de vous rencontrer. (This is my friend, Peter. Nice to meet you.)
- Il s'appelle Ahmed. Ravi de faire votre connaissance. (His name is Ahmed. Delighted to meet you.)

Sample Dialogue

A: Bonjour, Fatima. Je te présente mon frère.
(Hello, Fatima. I present my brother to you.)

B: Bonjour! Comment il s'appelle ?
(Hello! What is his name?)

A: Il s'appelle Samuel.
(His name is Samuel.)

B: Enchantée, Samuel.
(Pleased to meet you, Samuel.)

Samuel: Enchanté.
(Pleased to meet you.)

This dialogue shows how to introduce someone informally (using te for “you”) and respond politely.

EVALUATION:

1. Translate the following into French:
 - a) Here is my teacher.
 - b) His name is Joseph.
 - c) This is my sister. Her name is Ngozi.

2. Complete the sentence: Il s'appelle _____.
3. Differentiate between il s'appelle and elle s'appelle with examples.
4. Write two polite expressions you can use when introducing someone.
5. Construct a short dialogue (3–4 lines) introducing your friend to your teacher in French.

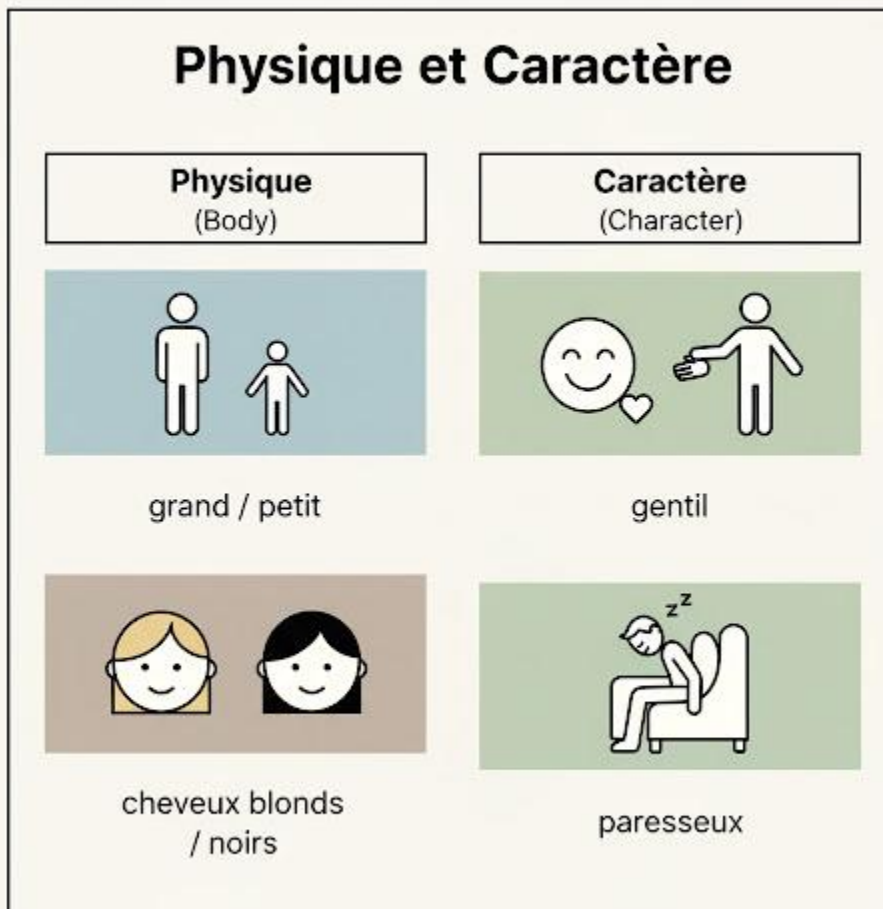

ASSIGNMENT:

Write ten sentences in French introducing five different people (male and female) using voici, il/elle s'appelle, and at least one polite expression in each introduction.

WEEK 8: DÉCRIRE QUELQU'UN

In French, describing someone involves talking about both their physical appearance and their character traits. Being able to describe a person accurately is an important skill in everyday conversation, as it allows one to share information about people, identify them, and express opinions about their qualities.

Physical Description

Physical description focuses on observable characteristics such as height, body build, hair color, eye color, and overall appearance. In French, some common expressions and vocabulary include:

- Height: “grand” (tall), “petit” (short), “de taille moyenne” (medium height)

- Body build: “mince” (slim), “fort” or “musclé” (strong/muscular), “gros” (fat)
- Hair color and style: “les cheveux blonds/bruns/noirs/roux” (blond/brown/black/red hair), “longs/courts/ondulés/raides” (long/short/wavy/straight)
- Eye color: “les yeux bleus/verts/marron/noisette” (blue/green/brown/hazel eyes)
- General appearance: “beau/belle” (handsome/beautiful), “joli/jolie” (pretty), “laid/laid” (ugly)

For example:

- “Il est grand et mince, avec les cheveux bruns et les yeux verts.”
- “Elle est petite et jolie, avec de longs cheveux blonds.”

Character Traits

Character traits describe the personality or temperament of a person. They allow us to convey how someone behaves or the type of person they are. Common French vocabulary for character traits includes:

- Positive traits: “gentil/gentille” (kind), “intelligent/intelligente” (intelligent), “sympathique” (friendly), “travailleur/travailleuse” (hardworking), “honnête” (honest)
- Negative traits: “méchant/méchante” (mean), “paresseux/paresseuse” (lazy), “timide” (shy), “impatience/impatiente” (impatient), “rude” (rude)

For example:

- “Mon frère est très travailleur et intelligent.”
- “Ma sœur est gentille et sympathique, mais parfois timide.”

When describing someone, it is common to combine physical and character descriptions in a single sentence to provide a complete picture of the person:

- “Il est grand et musclé, avec les cheveux noirs et les yeux marron. Il est aussi très gentil et honnête.”

Using both aspects ensures that the listener or reader can understand not only what the person looks like but also who they are as an individual. Mastering these expressions helps students to communicate effectively and participate in conversations about people.

Evaluation

1. Translate the following sentence into French: “She is small, with long blond hair and blue eyes.”
2. Describe your best friend in French, including at least two physical features and two character traits.
3. List five French adjectives used to describe physical appearance.
4. Give three French adjectives that describe personality traits.
5. Combine both physical and character description to describe a family member in French in one paragraph.

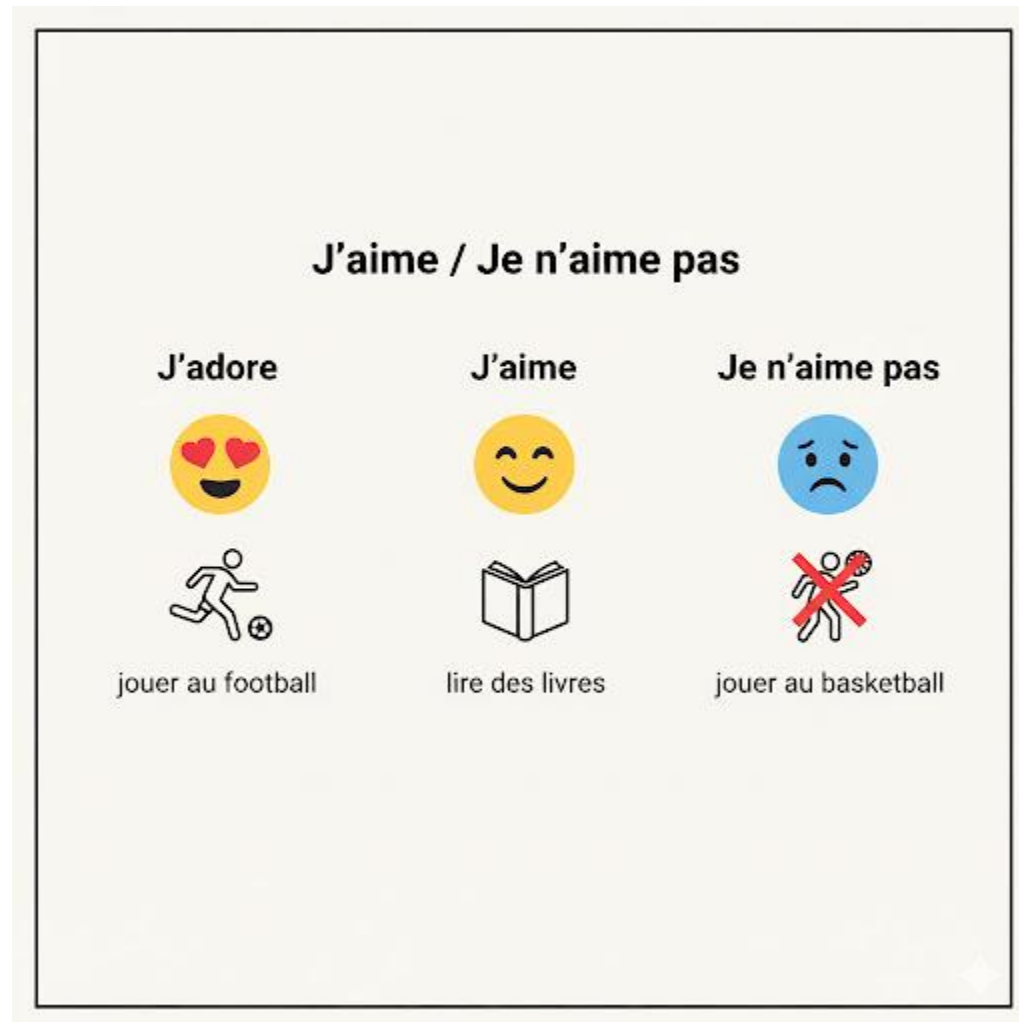

Assignment

Write a short paragraph in French describing a classmate. Include their height, hair color, eye color, and at least three character traits. Your paragraph should be at least five sentences long.

WEEK 9: PARLER DE SES LOISIRS

Talking about hobbies, leisure activities, likes and dislikes

Leisure activities and hobbies are things people do during their free time for relaxation, enjoyment, and personal development. In French, it is very important to learn how to talk about one's hobbies, what one likes (aimer), and what one dislikes (ne pas aimer). This makes communication richer and allows us to share personal interests with friends.

Talking about Hobbies and Leisure Activities

In French, when we want to talk about what we do in our free time, we often use the verbs “aimer” (to like), “adorer” (to love), “préférer” (to prefer), and “détester” (to dislike/hate).

These verbs are usually followed by another verb in the infinitive form (for example, jouer, danser, lire).

Examples:

- J'aime lire. → I like reading.
- J'adore jouer au football. → I love playing football.
- Je préfère regarder la télévision. → I prefer watching television.
- Je déteste chanter. → I hate singing.

Some common hobbies and leisure activities include:

- Jouer au football → to play football
- Jouer au basket → to play basketball
- Lire des livres → to read books
- Regarder la télévision → to watch television
- Écouter de la musique → to listen to music
- Danser → to dance
- Voyager → to travel
- Faire du sport → to do sports
- Écrire → to write
- Cuisiner → to cook

Expressing Likes and Dislikes

To express what you like, use:

- J'aime ... (I like ...)
- J'adore ... (I love ...)

To express what you dislike, use:

- Je n'aime pas ... (I don't like ...)
- Je déteste ... (I hate ...)

Examples:

- J'aime écouter de la musique.
- Je n'aime pas jouer au tennis.
- J'adore danser avec mes amis.
- Je déteste faire du sport.

Dialogue Example

Below is a short dialogue in French showing how two friends can talk about their hobbies:

- Amina: Bonjour, Chidi. Quels sont tes loisirs?
- Chidi: Bonjour, Amina. J'aime jouer au football et écouter de la musique. Et toi?
- Amina: Moi, j'adore lire des livres et regarder des films. Mais je déteste jouer au basket.
- Chidi: Moi aussi, je n'aime pas jouer au basket.

(Translation:

- Amina: Hello, Chidi. What are your hobbies?
- Chidi: Hello, Amina. I like playing football and listening to music. And you?
- Amina: I love reading books and watching films. But I hate playing basketball.
- Chidi: Me too, I don't like playing basketball.)

This shows how students can practically use French vocabulary and expressions to talk about their leisure activities, likes, and dislikes.

Evaluation

1. Translate into English:
 - a. J'adore jouer au football.
 - b. Je n'aime pas regarder la télévision.
2. Mention four leisure activities in French and their English meanings.
3. Construct three sentences in French showing hobbies you like.
4. Construct two sentences in French showing activities you dislike.
5. Write a short dialogue (4 exchanges) with a friend, asking and answering questions about hobbies in French.

Assignment

Write ten sentences in French about your hobbies and leisure activities. In your sentences, include at least:

- Three things you like.
- Two things you love.
- Three things you do not like.
- Two things you hate.

WEEK 10: EXPRIMER SES GOÛTS ET PRÉFÉRENCES (EXPRESSING LIKES AND PREFERENCES)

In communication, it is important to know how to express what we like, what we dislike, and what we prefer. In French, expressions such as J'aime... (I like...), Je n'aime pas... (I don't like...), and Je préfère... (I prefer...) are commonly used to communicate personal tastes and preferences. These structures allow us to talk about food, hobbies, school subjects, sports, music, or daily activities.

1. Exprimer ce qu'on aime (Expressing what we like):

The verb aimer (to like/love) is used to talk about things we enjoy. When conjugated in the first person singular, it becomes J'aime meaning "I like." It is followed by a noun or a verb in the infinitive form.

- J'aime le football. (I like football.)
- J'aime danser. (I like to dance.)
- J'aime les fruits. (I like fruits.)

2. Exprimer ce qu'on n'aime pas (Expressing what we dislike):

To say what we do not like, we use the negative form Je n'aime pas... (I do not like...). This shows dislike or lack of interest.

- Je n'aime pas les araignées. (I don't like spiders.)
- Je n'aime pas chanter. (I don't like singing.)
- Je n'aime pas le riz froid. (I don't like cold rice.)

3. Exprimer ses préférences (Expressing preferences):

Sometimes, we may like two things but prefer one over the other. The verb préférer (to prefer) is used in such cases. In the first person singular, it becomes Je préfère... (I prefer...).

- Je préfère le thé au café. (I prefer tea to coffee.)
- Je préfère lire des livres. (I prefer reading books.)

- Je préfère jouer au basket. (I prefer playing basketball.)

4. Différence entre “J’aime” et “Je préfère”:

While J’aime expresses general likes, Je préfère shows choice between two or more options. For example:

- J’aime le jus. (I like juice.)
- Je préfère l’eau. (I prefer water.)

5. Utilisation en conversation:

When interacting with others, these expressions are useful in answering questions such as:

- Qu’est-ce que tu aimes? (What do you like?)
- Qu’est-ce que tu n’aimes pas? (What don’t you like?)
- Qu’est-ce que tu préfères? (What do you prefer?)

Sample responses:

- J’aime le chocolat. (I like chocolate.)
- Je n’aime pas les serpents. (I don’t like snakes.)
- Je préfère le football au tennis. (I prefer football to tennis.)

These structures are essential in everyday conversations because they help students to talk about their tastes, establish friendships, and interact meaningfully with others in French.

Evaluation:

1. Translate into French: “I like music.”
2. Translate into French: “I don’t like mathematics.”
3. How do you say “I prefer rice” in French?
4. Differentiate between J’aime and Je préfère with examples.
5. Give two examples each of sentences using J’aime, Je n’aime pas, and Je préfère.

Assignment:

Write ten sentences in French about your likes, dislikes, and preferences. Use J'aime..., Je n'aime pas..., and Je préfère... to describe your favourite food, subjects, hobbies, and other interests.

- Carré / Carrée – Square
- Rectangulaire – Rectangular

- Triangle / Triangulaire – Triangle / Triangular
- Ovale – Oval

Examples:

- Le ballon est rond. – The ball is round.
- La table est rectangulaire. – The table is rectangular.

Describing Objects by Texture

Texture refers to how an object feels to the touch. Some descriptive words in French include:

- Doux / Douce – Soft
- Dur / Dure – Hard
- Lisse – Smooth
- Rugueux / Rugueuse – Rough

Examples:

- Le coussin est doux. – The cushion is soft.
- La pierre est dure. – The stone is hard.

Students are encouraged to combine these properties to describe objects more fully. For instance:

- La balle est petite, rouge et ronde. – The ball is small, red, and round.
- Le tapis est grand, vert et rugueux. – The carpet is large, green, and rough.

Using adjectives correctly also involves matching them with the gender and number of the nouns. Masculine nouns usually take the masculine form of adjectives (grand, rouge, doux), while feminine nouns take the feminine form (grande, rouge, douce).

Teachers should encourage students to practice by describing classroom objects, everyday items at home, or pictures, thereby improving vocabulary, observation, and sentence construction skills in French.

EVALUATION

1. Describe the following objects in French:
 - a) A small, yellow pencil
 - b) A large, round, red ball
2. Translate these French sentences into English:
 - a) La chaise est grande et bleue.
 - b) Le livre est petit et rouge.
3. Explain the importance of matching adjectives with nouns in French.

ASSIGNMENT

1. Make a list of ten classroom objects and describe each using at least two properties (size, color, shape, or texture) in French.
2. Pair up with a classmate and take turns describing objects in the classroom in French, using full sentences.

WEEK 2: DEMANDER QUELQUE CHOSE À QUELQU'UN

In everyday life, people often need to ask politely for things, services, or assistance. In French, just like in English, there are specific expressions used to make polite requests. These expressions show courtesy and respect, which are very important in French culture. Using polite language makes communication smoother and leaves a good impression.

This topic focuses on how to:

1. Make polite requests in French.
2. Ask to see someone politely.

Making Polite Requests in French

To make requests, the French language commonly uses expressions with:

- “Je voudrais ...” – I would like ...
- “S’il vous plaît ...” – Please (formal).
- “S’il te plaît ...” – Please (informal).
- “Est-ce que je peux ... ?” – Can I ... ?
- “Pouvez-vous ... ?” – Can you ... ? (formal).
- “Peux-tu ... ?” – Can you ... ? (informal).

Examples:

- Je voudrais un verre d’eau, s’il vous plaît. → I would like a glass of water, please.
- Est-ce que je peux emprunter votre stylo ? → Can I borrow your pen?
- Pouvez-vous fermer la fenêtre, s’il vous plaît ? → Can you close the window, please?
- Peux-tu m’aider avec mes devoirs ? → Can you help me with my homework?

Using merci (thank you) after receiving what you asked for is equally important, and the reply is usually de rien (you’re welcome).

Asking to See Someone

Sometimes, you may want to politely ask to see a person, whether in school, at the office, or at home. In French, such requests usually begin with expressions like:

- “Je voudrais voir ...” – I would like to see ...
- “Est-ce que je peux voir ... ?” – May I see ... ?
- “Puis-je voir ... ?” – May I see ... ? (very formal).

Examples:

- Je voudrais voir le directeur. → I would like to see the principal.

- Est-ce que je peux voir mon ami, s'il vous plaît ? → May I see my friend, please?
- Puis-je voir monsieur Paul ? → May I see Mr. Paul?

In polite conversation, it is also common to add greetings before making the request. For example:

- Bonjour, monsieur. Je voudrais voir le médecin. → Good morning, sir. I would like to see the doctor.

Key Polite Words to Remember

- Bonjour → Good morning / Good day
- Bonsoir → Good evening
- S'il vous plaît → Please (formal)
- Merci → Thank you
- De rien → You're welcome
- Excusez-moi → Excuse me

Evaluation

1. Translate the following into French:
 - a. Can I borrow your book, please?
 - b. I would like to see my teacher.
 - c. May I see the principal?
 - d. Can you help me with my homework?
2. Write three French expressions you can use when making a polite request.
3. Write a short dialogue in French between a student and the school secretary where the student asks politely to see the principal.
4. Differentiate between “s'il vous plaît” and “s'il te plaît.”

Assignment

Write ten (10) sentences in French where you make polite requests, and another five (5) sentences where you politely ask to see someone. Translate each sentence into English.

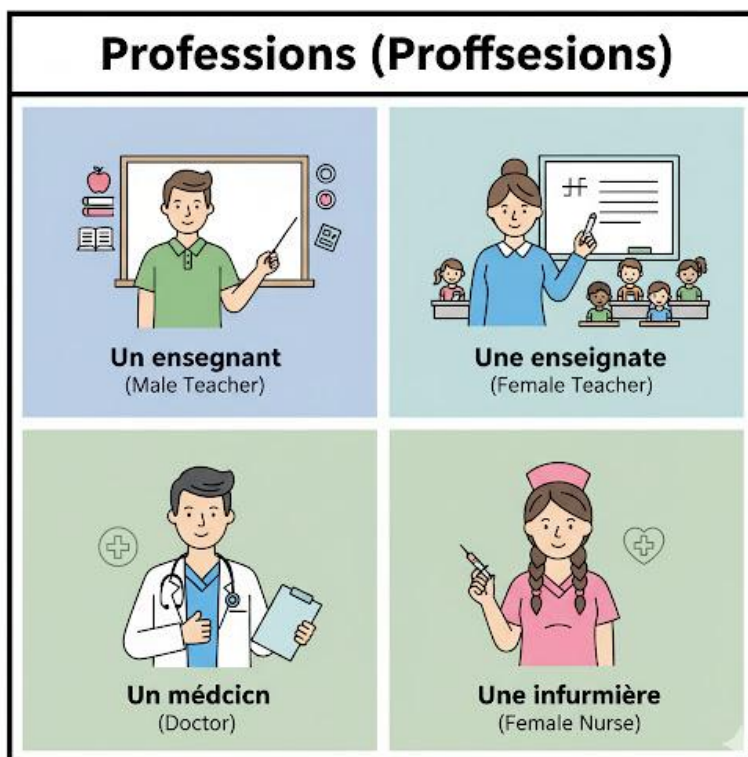

WEEK 3: DÉCRIRE LES PROFESSIONS (DESCRIBING PROFESSIONS)

Professions are the different types of jobs or occupations that people do in order to earn a living and contribute to society. In French, just like in English, it is important to learn the names of common professions and how to describe what people do. This helps in daily conversations, in introducing others, and in talking about future ambitions.

When describing professions in French, two things must be noted:

1. Many job titles change form depending on whether the person is male (masculine) or female (feminine). For example:
 - un enseignant (male teacher), une enseignante (female teacher).
 - un médecin (doctor, masculine form, but can also be used for females).
2. The verb most often used when talking about professions is être (to be). For example:
 - Je suis étudiant. → I am a student (male).
 - Elle est infirmière. → She is a nurse.

Common Professions in French

Below are some common professions with their English meanings:

- un enseignant / une enseignante – a teacher
- un élève / une élève – a pupil
- un étudiant / une étudiante – a student
- un médecin – a doctor
- un infirmier / une infirmière – a nurse
- un avocat / une avocate – a lawyer
- un ingénieur / une ingénieure – an engineer
- un journaliste / une journaliste – a journalist
- un commerçant / une commerçante – a trader
- un chauffeur – a driver
- un fermier / une fermière – a farmer
- un policier / une policière – a police officer
- un soldat – a soldier
- un tailleur – a tailor
- un couturier / une couturière – a fashion designer / dressmaker
- un mécanicien – a mechanic

Describing What People Do

To describe what people do in French, we make sentences using the verb être (to be) or travailler (to work).

Examples:

- Mon père est médecin. Il soigne les malades. → My father is a doctor. He treats sick people.
- Ma mère est enseignante. Elle travaille dans une école. → My mother is a teacher. She works in a school.
- Je suis élève. J'étudie au collège. → I am a pupil. I study in secondary school.
- Mon oncle est fermier. Il cultive les champs. → My uncle is a farmer. He cultivates the fields.
- Mon frère est chauffeur. Il conduit une voiture. → My brother is a driver. He drives a car.

These examples show how to introduce a person's job and then briefly explain what they do. This makes the description clear and meaningful.

Evaluation

1. Give the French words for the following professions: teacher (female), farmer (male), nurse (female), soldier, tailor.
2. Translate into French:
 - a. My father is a lawyer.
 - b. My mother is a trader.
 - c. I am a student.
3. Explain how the verb être is used when describing professions.
4. Write two sentences in French describing what a doctor and a teacher do.
5. Differentiate between un élève and un étudiant in French.

Assignment

Write a short paragraph in French (6–8 sentences) describing the professions of members of your family. Mention their names, their jobs, and what they do. Translate your work into English.

WEEK 4: DEMANDER ET DONNER L'HEURE

Time (l'heure) is very important in daily life. It helps us to organize our activities and be punctual. In French, telling and asking the time is one of the basic communication skills learners must acquire. It allows us to ask questions such as “What time is it?” and to answer correctly by stating the time. It also enables us to link different daily activities to the correct hour of the day.

Asking the Time (Demander l'heure)

The most common way to ask for the time in French is:

- Quelle heure est-il ? → What time is it?

Other polite forms include:

- S'il vous plaît, quelle heure est-il ? → Please, what time is it?
- Excusez-moi, vous avez l'heure ? → Excuse me, do you have the time?

Giving the Time (Donner l'heure)

When giving the time in French, the expression always begins with Il est ... followed by the hour.

Examples:

- Il est une heure. → It is one o'clock.
- Il est deux heures. → It is two o'clock.
- Il est trois heures. → It is three o'clock.
- Il est midi. → It is noon.
- Il est minuit. → It is midnight.

For minutes after the hour, we add the number of minutes:

- Il est deux heures dix. → It is 2:10.
- Il est quatre heures vingt. → It is 4:20.
- Il est sept heures trente. → It is 7:30.

Special expressions:

- ... et quart = quarter past → Il est trois heures et quart (3:15).
- ... et demie = half past → Il est cinq heures et demie (5:30).
- ... moins le quart = quarter to → Il est huit heures moins le quart (7:45).

Daily Activities Linked to Time (Les activités quotidiennes et l'heure)

Time is connected to what we do every day. Knowing how to state the time in French allows us to describe our daily routine.

Examples:

- Je me réveille à six heures. → I wake up at 6:00.
- Je prends mon petit déjeuner à sept heures. → I take my breakfast at 7:00.
- J'arrive à l'école à huit heures. → I arrive at school at 8:00.
- Nous déjeunons à une heure. → We have lunch at 1:00.
- Je fais mes devoirs à quatre heures. → I do my homework at 4:00.
- Je dîne à huit heures. → I eat dinner at 8:00.
- Je me couche à dix heures. → I go to bed at 10:00.

By linking daily activities with the correct hour, learners can talk about their timetable and routine in French.

Evaluation

1. How do you ask for the time in French? Give two examples.
2. Translate into French:
 - It is 6:30.
 - It is quarter past four.
 - It is 9:45.
3. Write in French the time you wake up, go to school, eat lunch, and go to bed.
4. What is the French expression for:
 - Noon
 - Midnight

- Quarter to seven
5. Why is it important to learn how to tell time in French?

Assignment

1. Write in French the exact time for five of your daily activities (e.g., waking up, eating, studying, playing, sleeping).
2. Translate the following into French:
 - It is 2:15.
 - It is 7:30.
 - It is 10:45.
3. Prepare a short dialogue in French between two friends asking and telling the time.
Example:
 - A: Quelle heure est-il ?
 - B: Il est cinq heures.

WEEK 6: EXPLIQUER CE QUE L'ON FAIT À CERTAINES HEURES DE LA JOURNÉE

In French, describing daily routines and explaining what one does at certain hours of the day is an essential skill in communication. It helps us to talk about our personal schedules, habits, and activities throughout the day. To do this, we use time expressions (l'heure) and verbs in the present tense to indicate the actions performed.

Ma Routine Quotidienne (My Daily Routine)

6:00 AM 	7:00 AM 	8:00 AM 	4:00 PM
se réveiller (wake up)	prendre son petit-déjeuner (eat breakfast)	aller à l'école (go to school)	faire les devoirs

Time Expressions (L'heure)

To talk about daily activities, we first need to express time in French. French uses the 24-hour clock in formal situations but also the 12-hour format in informal speech.

Examples of expressing time:

- Il est six heures. – It is six o'clock.
- Il est sept heures et demie. – It is half past seven (7:30).
- Il est huit heures moins le quart. – It is a quarter to eight (7:45).
- Il est midi. – It is noon (12:00 pm).
- Il est minuit. – It is midnight (12:00 am).

Time expressions are usually followed by the activity you do at that hour.

Common Daily Activities (Les activités quotidiennes)

Here are some activities people do at various times of the day, with their French verbs:

- se réveiller – to wake up
- se lever – to get up
- se laver – to wash oneself
- prendre son petit-déjeuner – to have breakfast
- aller à l'école – to go to school
- étudier / travailler – to study / to work
- déjeuner – to have lunch
- jouer – to play
- regarder la télévision – to watch TV
- dîner – to have dinner
- se coucher – to go to bed

Describing Daily Routines at Certain Hours

When explaining what you do at a specific time, you combine the time with the activity using the present tense of the verb.

Examples:

- Je me réveille à six heures. – I wake up at six o'clock.
- Je prends mon petit-déjeuner à sept heures. – I have breakfast at seven o'clock.
- Je vais à l'école à huit heures. – I go to school at eight o'clock.
- Nous déjeunons à treize heures. – We have lunch at 1:00 pm.
- Je fais mes devoirs à seize heures. – I do my homework at 4:00 pm.
- Je me couche à vingt et une heures. – I go to bed at 9:00 pm.

Notice that in French, the verb agrees with the subject (je, tu, il, nous, etc.).

Sample Paragraph Describing a Daily Routine:

Je me réveille à six heures du matin. Je me lave et je prends mon petit-déjeuner à sept heures. À huit heures, je vais à l'école. Je rentre à la maison à quinze heures et je déjeune. Après, je fais mes devoirs à seize heures. Le soir, je dîne avec ma famille à vingt heures et je me couche à vingt et une heures trente.

(Translation: I wake up at six in the morning. I wash and have breakfast at seven o'clock. At eight o'clock, I go to school. I return home at three o'clock and have lunch. Afterwards, I do my homework at four o'clock. In the evening, I have dinner with my family at eight o'clock and go to bed at 9:30.)

This paragraph shows how to link time expressions with daily activities to form a complete description of a day.

EVALUATION:

1. Write the French words for:
 - a) to wake up
 - b) to go to school
 - c) to have lunch
 - d) to go to bed
2. Translate into French:
 - a) I wake up at six o'clock.
 - b) We have dinner at 8:00 pm.
3. Construct five sentences describing your daily routine using different times of the day.
4. What is the difference between midi and minuit in French?
5. Conjugate the verb se laver in the present tense for je, tu, il, nous.

ASSIGNMENT:

Write a short essay (8–10 sentences) in French describing your daily routine from morning till night, using at least five different times of the day.

WEEK 8: DIRE LES DATES

In French, expressing dates is an essential skill that allows one to communicate clearly about birthdays, appointments, historical events, or schedules. This involves using the days of the week, months of the year, and numbers to indicate specific dates.

Les Jours de la Semaine	Les Mois de l'Année
Lundi	Janvier
Mardi	Mars
Mardi	Avril
Mécredi	Juin
Jeudi	Aôt
Vendedi	Septembre
Samedi	Notvembre
Dinanicen	Décembre

Le premier janvier*

Use "le" for dates and single days of the week.

Days of the Week

The seven days in French are:

- Lundi – Monday
- Mardi – Tuesday
- Mercredi – Wednesday

- Jeudi – Thursday
- Vendredi – Friday
- Samedi – Saturday
- Dimanche – Sunday

Each day of the week is usually preceded by “le” when referring to a specific day. For example:

- “Le lundi, je vais à l’école.” (On Monday, I go to school.)
- “Ma fête est le samedi.” (My celebration is on Saturday.)

Months of the Year

The twelve months in French are:

- Janvier – January
- Février – February
- Mars – March
- Avril – April
- Mai – May
- Juin – June
- Juillet – July
- Août – August
- Septembre – September
- Octobre – October
- Novembre – November
- Décembre – December

When indicating a month, it is common to use the preposition “en”:

- “Je pars en juillet.” (I am leaving in July.)

- “Nous avons des vacances en décembre.” (We have holidays in December.)

Giving Dates

To give a full date in French, the typical format is “day + month + year.” Ordinal numbers are often used for the first day of the month, while cardinal numbers are used for other days.

Examples include:

- “Le premier janvier” – 1st of January
- “Le deux février” – 2nd of February
- “Le quinze août” – 15th of August

A complete sentence giving a date could be:

- “Mon anniversaire est le dix juillet.” (My birthday is on the 10th of July.)
- “Nous célébrons la fête nationale le premier octobre.” (We celebrate the national holiday on October 1st.)

When stating the year, simply add it after the date:

- “Je suis né le cinq mai 2010.” (I was born on May 5th, 2010.)

Practice Tips

Students are encouraged to practice saying dates aloud, writing down important events in French, and using them in sentences. Familiarity with the days and months will help in daily conversations, school activities, and cultural events. Combining the day, month, and year in proper order ensures accurate communication.

Evaluation

1. Write the French names of all the days of the week.
2. Write the French names of all the months of the year.
3. Translate the following sentence into French: “My birthday is on the 12th of March.”
4. Give the full date in French for: October 1st, 2000.
5. Say in French: “School starts on Monday, January 8th.”

Assignment

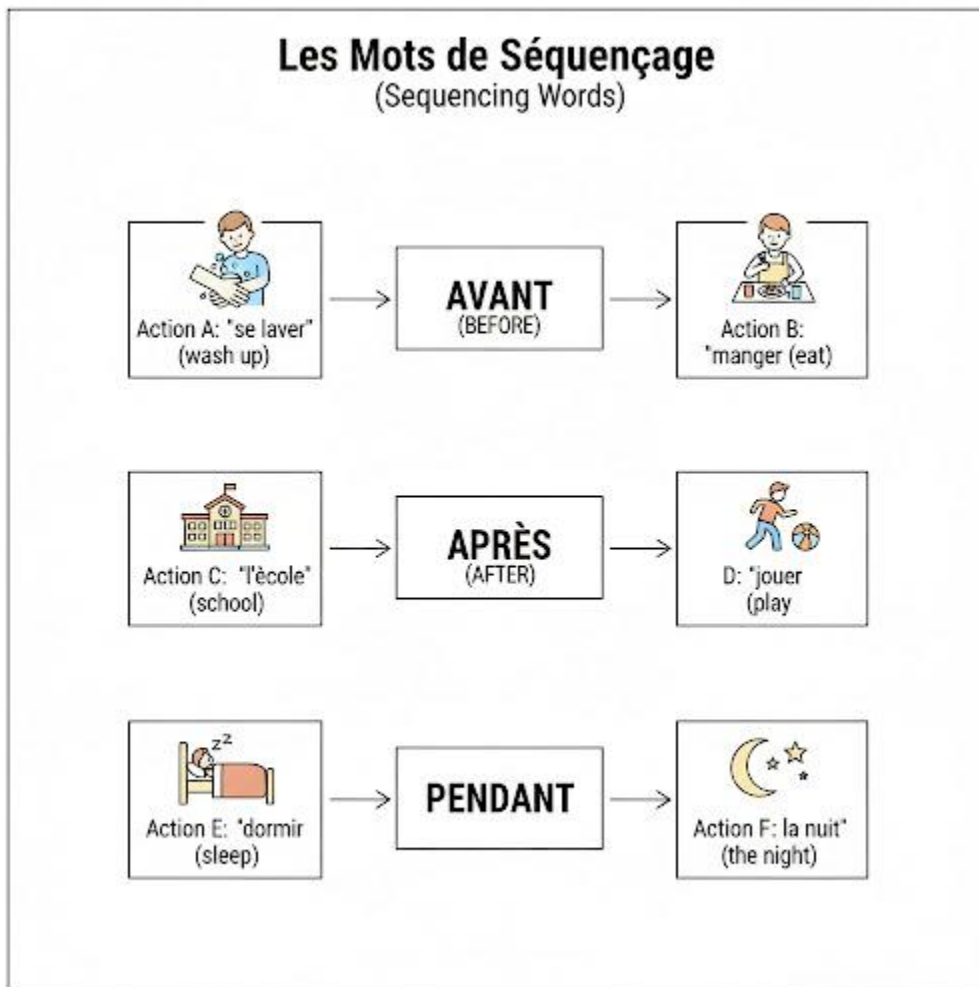

Write a paragraph in French about three important dates in your life, such as birthdays or holidays. Include the day, month, and year for each event. Your paragraph should be at least five sentences long.

WEEK 9: SITUER UN ÉVÉNEMENT PAR RAPPORT À UN AUTRE

Sequencing Events, Using “avant”, “après”, “pendant”

When we speak or write in French, it is important to arrange events in the correct order so that others can understand what happened first, what happened later, and what happened at the same time. This is called sequencing of events. In French, some of the words we use to show the order of events are avant (before), après (after), and pendant (during).

Using “avant” (before)

“Avant” is used to indicate something that happens earlier than another action. It places one event in time before another.

Examples:

- Je me lave les mains avant de manger. → I wash my hands before eating.
- Avant le dîner, nous faisons nos devoirs. → Before dinner, we do our homework.
- Elle prie avant de dormir. → She prays before sleeping.

Notice that when “avant” is followed by a verb, we often use avant de + infinitif.

Using “après” (after)

“Après” is used to show that something happens later than another action. It places one event in time after another.

Examples:

- Après le repas, je regarde la télévision. → After the meal, I watch television.
- Nous jouons au football après l’école. → We play football after school.
- Après les cours, ils rentrent à la maison. → After classes, they go home.

When “après” is followed by a verb, it is often après + avoir/être + participe passé, but at beginner level, students may simply use après + nom/activité.

Using “pendant” (during/for)

“Pendant” is used to indicate that an action takes place during a period of time, or it lasts for a certain duration.

Examples:

- Je dors pendant la nuit. → I sleep during the night.
- Nous chantons pendant la fête. → We sing during the party.
- Elle a étudié pendant deux heures. → She studied for two hours.

“Pendant” can therefore show both the time when something happens (during) and the length of time something continues (for).

Putting it all together

By using “avant,” “après,” and “pendant,” we can create clear sentences that show the correct sequence of actions.

Example passage:

- Avant l'école, je prends mon petit déjeuner.
- Pendant les cours, j'écoute mon professeur.
- Après l'école, je joue avec mes amis.

(Translation: Before school, I eat my breakfast. During classes, I listen to my teacher. After school, I play with my friends.)

This shows how daily activities can be arranged in time using sequencing words.

Evaluation

1. Translate into French:
 - a. I wash my hands before sleeping.
 - b. We play football after school.
 - c. She studies during the night.
2. Write three sentences using “avant”.
3. Write three sentences using “après”.
4. Write two sentences using “pendant” to show duration.
5. Arrange this sequence in French: eat breakfast, go to school, do homework, sleep (using avant, après, and pendant).

Assignment

Write a short composition in French (about 8–10 sentences) describing your daily routine. In your composition, use at least:

- Two sentences with “avant”

- Two sentences with “après”
- Two sentences with “pendant”

WEEK 10: DEMANDER ET EXPLIQUER CE QUE L'ON FAIT TOUS LES JOURS DE LA SEMAINE (TALKING ABOUT WEEKLY ROUTINES)

In French, it is important to be able to talk about daily and weekly routines, that is, the activities we do every day of the week. This helps us to describe our lifestyle, school timetable, and personal habits. It also allows us to ask others about their schedules and respond appropriately.

To talk about weekly routines, we use the days of the week (les jours de la semaine) together with verbs in the present tense.

Mon Emploi du Temps
LUNDI	MARDI	MERCREDI	JEUDI	VENDREDI	SAMEDI	DIMANCHE

École					Ménage	Église / Repos

Les jours de la semaine (Days of the week):

- Lundi – Monday
- Mardi – Tuesday

- Mercredi – Wednesday
- Jeudi – Thursday
- Vendredi – Friday
- Samedi – Saturday
- Dimanche – Sunday

When describing routines, we often use expressions like tous les jours (every day), le matin (in the morning), l'après-midi (in the afternoon), le soir (in the evening), toujours (always), souvent (often), and parfois (sometimes).

Examples of Weekly Routines:

- Lundi, je vais à l'école. (On Monday, I go to school.)
- Mardi, je joue au football avec mes amis. (On Tuesday, I play football with my friends.)
- Mercredi, je fais mes devoirs après l'école. (On Wednesday, I do my homework after school.)
- Jeudi, je vais au marché avec ma mère. (On Thursday, I go to the market with my mother.)
- Vendredi, nous prions à l'église/mosquée. (On Friday, we pray in the church/mosque.)
- Samedi, je nettoie la maison. (On Saturday, I clean the house.)
- Dimanche, je me repose et je vais à l'église. (On Sunday, I rest and go to church.)

Demander les habitudes de quelqu'un (Asking about someone's routine):

To ask about what a person does on a particular day, we use the question:

- Qu'est-ce que tu fais le lundi ? (What do you do on Monday?)
- Qu'est-ce que tu fais le samedi ? (What do you do on Saturday?)

Répondre (Answering):

- Le lundi, je vais à l'école. (On Monday, I go to school.)

- Le samedi, je joue avec mes amis. (On Saturday, I play with my friends.)
- Le dimanche, je vais à l'église. (On Sunday, I go to church.)

These structures help in everyday conversations because they allow students to describe their personal activities, compare routines with others, and practice correct use of verbs and time expressions in French.

Evaluation:

1. Write the seven days of the week in French.
2. Translate into French: "On Tuesday, I eat rice."
3. How do you ask in French: "What do you do on Saturday?"
4. Write two sentences in French about what you do on Monday and Friday.
5. Differentiate between tous les jours and parfois with examples.

Assignment:

Write a short paragraph in French about your weekly routine. Mention at least four days of the week and explain what you do on each day, using correct verbs and expressions of time.

WEEK 1: DEMANDER ET INDIQUER LE TEMPS QU'IL FAIT (ASKING AND TALKING ABOUT THE WEATHER)

In French, discussing the weather is an important aspect of daily conversation. It allows learners to ask about current conditions, describe the weather, and talk about seasons. Mastering weather expressions is essential for both practical communication and vocabulary development.

Asking About the Weather

To inquire about the weather in French, students use the following common expressions:

- Quel temps fait-il ? – What is the weather like?
- Il fait quel temps aujourd'hui ? – How is the weather today?

These questions are the standard ways to ask about the weather in formal and informal situations. Responding appropriately requires knowledge of weather-related vocabulary.

Talking About the Weather

There are various expressions used to describe weather conditions:

- Il fait chaud. – It is hot.
- Il fait froid. – It is cold.
- Il fait beau. – The weather is fine/nice.
- Il pleut. – It is raining.
- Il neige. – It is snowing.
- Il y a du vent. – It is windy.
- Il y a du soleil. – It is sunny.
- Il y a des nuages. – It is cloudy.

Students should learn to use these expressions in full sentences to describe current conditions accurately. For example:

- Aujourd'hui, il fait chaud et il y a du soleil. – Today, it is hot and sunny.
- Demain, il va pleuvoir. – Tomorrow, it will rain.

Seasons of the Year

Discussing the weather is closely linked to seasons. In French, the four seasons are:

- Le printemps – Spring
- L'été – Summer
- L'automne – Autumn/Fall
- L'hiver – Winter

Students can describe typical weather conditions for each season:

- En été, il fait chaud et il y a du soleil. – In summer, it is hot and sunny.

- En hiver, il fait froid et il neige parfois. – In winter, it is cold and sometimes it snows.
- Au printemps, il fait doux et il pleut souvent. – In spring, it is mild and often rains.
- En automne, il fait frais et il y a du vent. – In autumn, it is cool and windy.

Practical Application in Conversation

Students should practice short dialogues asking and telling the weather, for example:

- A: Quel temps fait-il aujourd'hui ?
- B: Il fait beau et il y a du soleil.
- A: Quel temps fera-t-il demain ?
- B: Demain, il fera froid et il pleuvra.

Using these expressions encourages fluency and confidence in French, allowing learners to engage in everyday conversation naturally. Teachers should provide opportunities for students to practice speaking, listening, and writing about the weather through role-play, classroom discussion, and written exercises.

EVALUATION

1. Translate the following into French:
 - a) What is the weather like today?
 - b) It is cold and windy.
2. Name the four seasons in French and describe typical weather for each.
3. Construct a short dialogue asking and telling about today's weather in French.

ASSIGNMENT

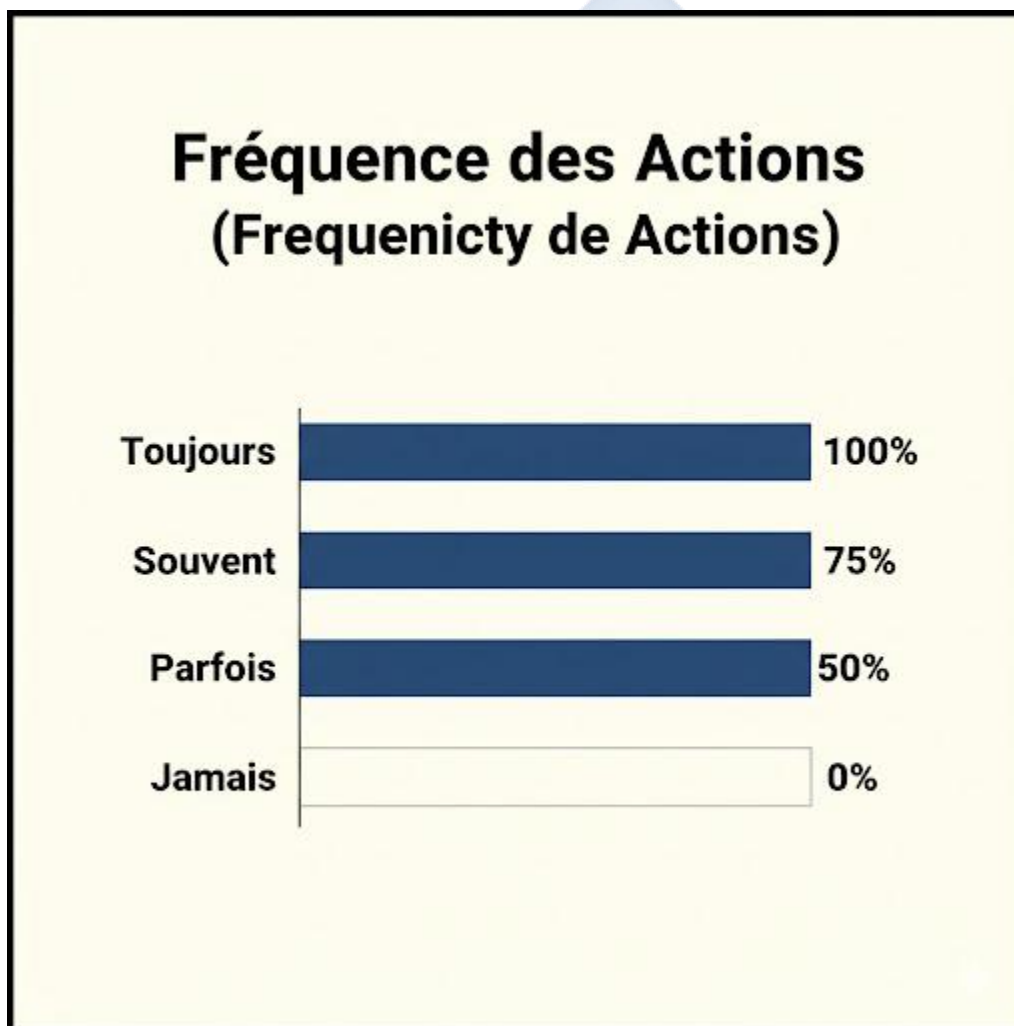

1. Observe the weather for one week and write daily sentences in French describing it.
2. Create a dialogue with a classmate where one asks about the weather and the other responds, using complete French sentences.

WEEK 2: EXPRIMER LA FRÉQUENCE D'UNE ACTIVITÉ

In French, just like in English, people often need to talk about how frequently they do certain activities. For example, in English we say: always, sometimes, often, never. In French, these are called adverbes de fréquence (adverbs of frequency). They are used to describe how regularly or how often an action takes place.

Learning how to use adverbs of frequency is important because it helps students describe their daily habits, routines, and lifestyle. It is also useful in conversations about school, hobbies, chores, and leisure.

Common Adverbs of Frequency in French

1. Toujours → Always

2. Souvent → Often
3. Parfois → Sometimes
4. Jamais → Never

Rules for Using Adverbs of Frequency

- In French, adverbs of frequency usually come after the verb they describe.

Example:

- Je lis souvent des livres. → I often read books.
- Elle chante toujours. → She always sings.

- With negative sentences, jamais (never) is used together with ne.

Example:

- Je ne mange jamais de poisson. → I never eat fish.

WEEK 3: INVITER QUELQU'UN (INVITING SOMEONE)

In every language, social life involves inviting people to share experiences such as birthdays, meals, outings, or ceremonies. In French, learning how to invite someone, how to accept an invitation politely, and how to refuse without offending the other person is an important part of communication. It helps to build friendships, show courtesy, and interact confidently in different situations.

Inviting Someone in French

To invite someone, different polite expressions can be used. Some of the common ones are:

- Veux-tu venir... ? → Do you want to come...?
- Est-ce que tu veux... ? → Do you want to...?

- Tu voudrais venir à ma fête ? → Would you like to come to my party?
- Je t'invite à dîner. → I invite you to dinner.
- Voulez-vous m'accompagner... ? (formal) → Would you like to accompany me...?

Examples:

- Veux-tu venir au cinéma avec moi ? → Do you want to come to the cinema with me?
- Je t'invite à mon anniversaire. → I invite you to my birthday.

Accepting an Invitation

When someone invites you, you can accept politely. Some expressions are:

- Oui, merci. → Yes, thank you.
- Avec plaisir. → With pleasure.
- D'accord. → Okay / agreed.
- Volontiers. → Gladly.
- Merci beaucoup pour l'invitation. → Thank you very much for the invitation.

Examples:

- Veux-tu venir chez moi demain ? → Do you want to come to my house tomorrow?
Oui, avec plaisir. → Yes, with pleasure.
- Tu voudrais dîner avec nous ? → Would you like to dine with us?
D'accord, merci. → Okay, thank you.

Refusing an Invitation Politely

Sometimes you may not be able to accept an invitation. It is polite to refuse gently and, if possible, give a reason.

- Je suis désolé(e), mais je ne peux pas. → I am sorry, but I cannot.
- Merci, mais je suis occupé(e). → Thank you, but I am busy.

- Non, je regrette. → No, I am sorry.
- Ce n'est pas possible pour moi. → It is not possible for me.
- Une autre fois, peut-être. → Another time, maybe.

Examples:

- Veux-tu venir au match avec moi ? → Do you want to come to the match with me?
Je suis désolé, je ne peux pas. → I am sorry, I cannot.
- Tu voudrais sortir ce soir ? → Would you like to go out this evening?
Merci, mais je suis occupée. → Thank you, but I am busy.

By mastering these expressions, students will be able to invite friends, respond to invitations, and communicate politely in French social situations.

Evaluation

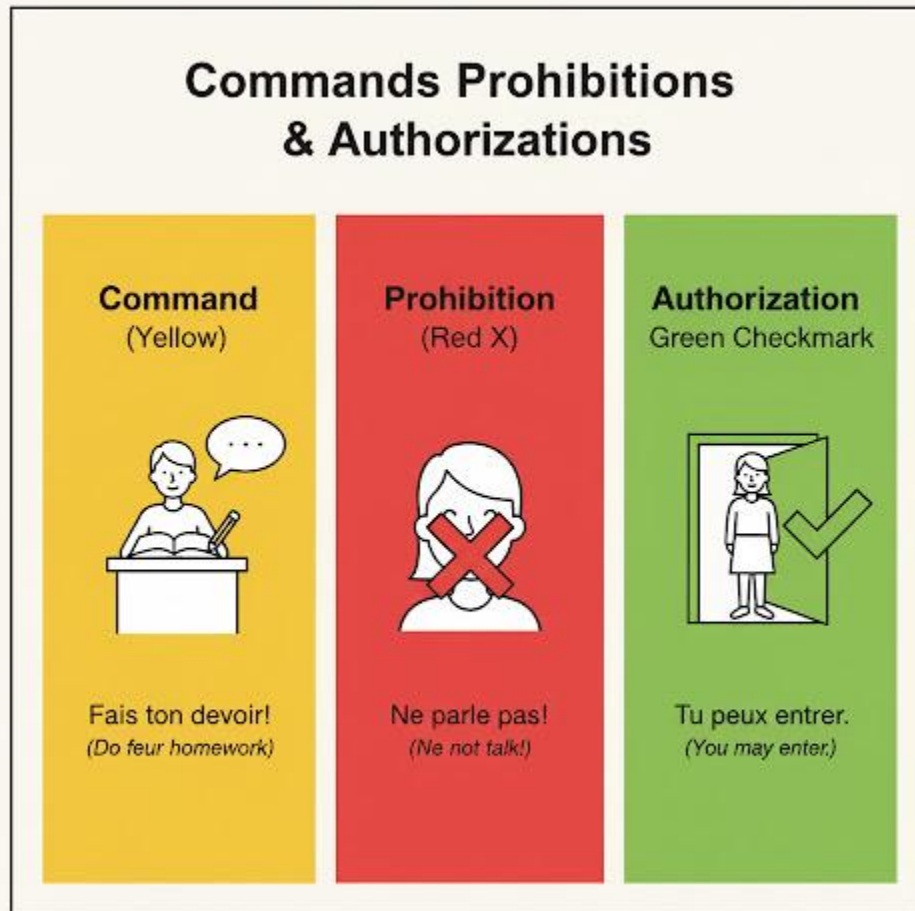

1. Give three expressions used to invite someone in French.
2. Translate into French:
 - a. Do you want to come to my house?
 - b. Thank you, but I am busy.
 - c. Yes, with pleasure.
3. State two expressions you can use to accept an invitation politely.
4. Write two different sentences refusing an invitation in French.
5. Explain why it is important to refuse invitations politely.

Assignment

Write a short dialogue (8–10 lines) in French between two friends: one invites the other to a party, the other accepts. Then rewrite the dialogue with a refusal instead of acceptance. Translate both into English.

WEEK 4: DONNER UN ORDRE, INTERDIRE, AUTORISER

In French, we often need to give instructions, stop people from doing certain things, or allow them to do something. These are expressed through commands (ordres), prohibitions (interdictions), and authorizations (autorisations). Mastering these forms of expression is very useful in daily communication, especially in the classroom, home, and society.

Commands (Donner un ordre)

Commands are used when we want to tell someone to do something. In French, commands are often given using the imperative mood (l'impératif). The imperative uses only three persons: tu (you singular), nous (we), and vous (you plural or polite form).

Examples:

- Écoute ! → Listen! (to one person)
- Écoutez ! → Listen! (to more than one person or politely)
- Viens ici ! → Come here!
- Allez-y ! → Go on!
- Regardons ! → Let us look!
- Fais ton devoir ! → Do your homework!

Commands can be polite if we add “s’il te plaît” (please, informal) or “s’il vous plaît” (please, formal). Example: Asseyez-vous, s’il vous plaît. (Sit down, please).

Prohibition (Interdire)

Prohibition means telling someone not to do something. In French, prohibition is often expressed with “ne... pas” in the imperative form, or with the phrase “Il est interdit de ...” (It is forbidden to ...).

Examples:

- Ne parle pas ! → Do not talk!
- Ne cours pas ! → Do not run!
- Ne fais pas ça ! → Do not do that!
- Il est interdit de fumer. → Smoking is forbidden.
- Il est interdit d’entrer. → Entry is forbidden.

In the classroom, the teacher may say:

- Ne copiez pas ! → Do not copy!
- Ne dormez pas ! → Do not sleep!

Authorization (Autoriser)

Authorization is when we allow or permit someone to do something. In French, we often use verbs like permettre (to allow, to permit) or expressions such as “Tu peux...” (you can ...), “Vous pouvez...” (you may ...), and “Il est permis de ...” (it is permitted to ...).

Examples:

- Tu peux entrer. → You may enter.
- Vous pouvez parler maintenant. → You may speak now.
- Il est permis d'utiliser le dictionnaire. → It is permitted to use the dictionary.
- Le professeur permet aux élèves de sortir. → The teacher allows the students to go out.
- On peut jouer ici. → One can play here.

Authorization makes communication polite and shows respect for rules.

Evaluation

1. How do you form commands in French? Give two examples.
2. Translate the following into French:
 - Do your homework!
 - Do not run!
 - You may enter.
3. Differentiate between prohibition and authorization with examples.
4. Write three commands your teacher often gives in the classroom in French.
5. What is the meaning of “Il est interdit de parler” in English?

Assignment

1. Write five commands in French that a teacher can give to students in class.
2. Write three prohibitions that can be seen in public places (e.g., market, hospital, school).
3. Write three sentences giving permission to your friend in French. Example: Tu peux utiliser mon livre.
4. Prepare a short dialogue (6 lines) in French between two friends where one gives a command, one refuses with prohibition, and one gives authorization.

WEEK 6: DEMANDER LA PERMISSION, CONSEILLER

In everyday interactions, it is important to know how to ask for permission politely and how to give advice appropriately. In French, there are specific expressions and structures used for these purposes.

Permission & Advice

DEMANDER LA PERMISSION (ASKING FOR PERMISSION)

When asking for permission in French, we use polite expressions and modal verbs like pouvoir (can/may) and vouloir (to want). The tone must always be respectful, especially when speaking to elders, teachers, or strangers.

Common Expressions:

- Est-ce que je peux... ? – Can I...? / May I...?
- Puis-je... ? – May I...? (more formal)
- Je peux... ? – Can I...? (informal)
- Est-ce que je peux sortir ? – May I go out?
- Puis-je entrer ? – May I come in?

- Je peux utiliser ton stylo ? – Can I use your pen?
- Est-ce que je peux poser une question ? – May I ask a question?

Examples in sentences:

- Monsieur, est-ce que je peux aller aux toilettes ? – Sir, may I go to the toilet?
- Puis-je vous téléphoner demain ? – May I call you tomorrow?
- Papa, je peux regarder la télévision ? – Dad, can I watch TV?

CONSEILLER (GIVING ADVICE)

To give advice in French, we often use expressions like il faut (one must), tu dois (you must), vous devriez (you should, formal), je te conseille de... (I advise you to...), à ta place... (if I were you...).

Common Expressions:

- Il faut étudier pour réussir. – One must study to succeed.
- Tu dois te reposer. – You must rest.
- Vous devriez manger plus de fruits. – You should eat more fruits.
- Je te conseille de parler au professeur. – I advise you to talk to the teacher.
- À ta place, je dirais la vérité. – If I were you, I would tell the truth.

Examples in sentences:

- Tu dois faire tes devoirs avant de jouer. – You must do your homework before playing.
- Il faut respecter les règles de l'école. – You must respect the school rules.
- Je te conseille de prendre un parapluie, il va pleuvoir. – I advise you to take an umbrella, it's going to rain.

Sample Dialogue (Demander la permission et donner un conseil):

Élève: Monsieur, est-ce que je peux sortir maintenant ?

(Student: Sir, may I go out now?)

Professeur: Non, ce n'est pas l'heure. Tu dois attendre la fin du cours.

(Teacher: No, it's not time. You must wait until the end of the class.)

Élève: D'accord, merci monsieur.

(Student: Okay, thank you sir.)

Professeur: Je te conseille de préparer ton cahier pendant ce temps.

(Teacher: I advise you to prepare your notebook in the meantime.)

This dialogue shows how permission is requested politely and how advice is given in response.

EVALUATION:

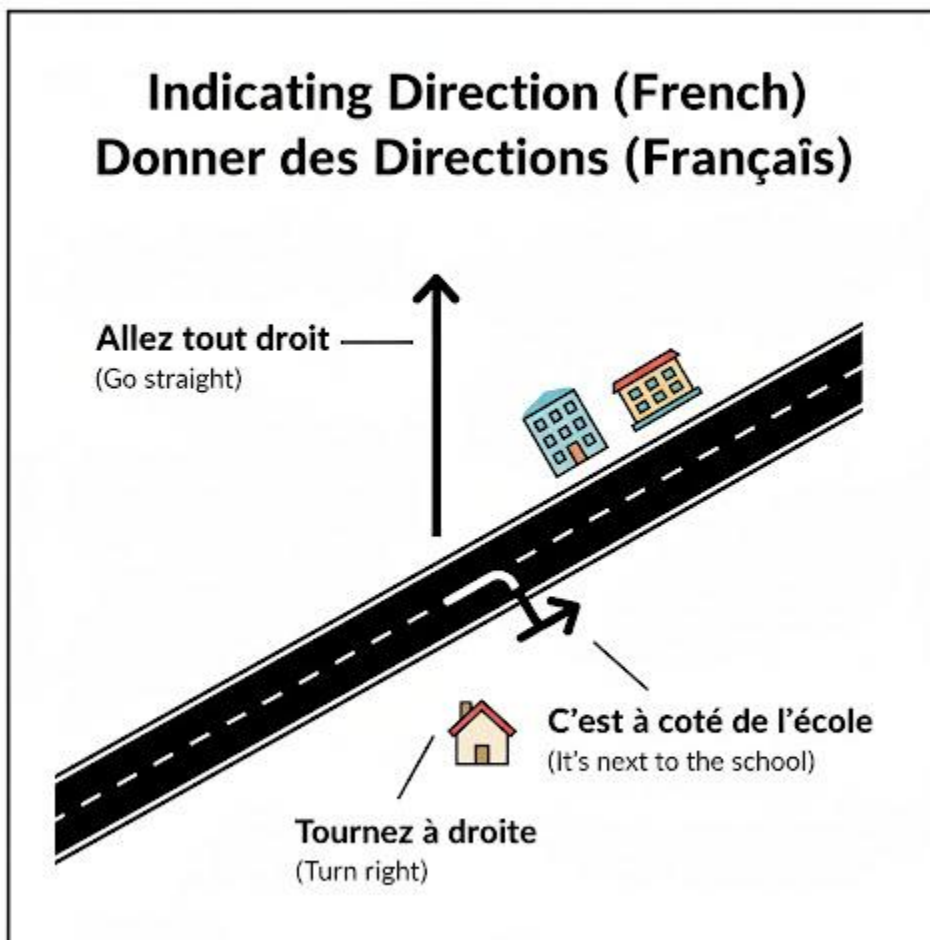

1. Translate into French:
 - a) Can I ask a question?
 - b) You should listen to your parents.
 - c) May I open the window?
2. Write three polite expressions for asking permission in French.
3. Construct three sentences giving advice using il faut, tu dois, and je te conseille de.
4. What is the difference between Puis-je and Est-ce que je peux?
5. Write a short dialogue (4–5 lines) between a student and a teacher where the student asks for permission and the teacher gives advice.

ASSIGNMENT:

Write a short paragraph (8–10 sentences) in French where you ask for permission to attend a friend's party and your parents give you advice on what you should or should not do there.

WEEK 8: EXPLIQUER UNE DÉMARCHE À QUELQU'UN

In French, being able to explain a procedure or give directions is an essential communication skill. It allows one to instruct others clearly, guide someone to a location, or describe the steps needed to complete a task. Mastery of this skill is especially important in daily life, school, or when helping visitors or friends.

Giving Directions

Giving directions involves using vocabulary and phrases that indicate movement, position, and location. Common expressions include:

- “Allez tout droit” – Go straight ahead

- “Tournez à gauche” – Turn left
- “Tournez à droite” – Turn right
- “Continuez jusqu’au...” – Continue until...
- “Prenez la première/Deuxième rue à gauche/droite” – Take the first/second street on the left/right
- “C’est à côté de...” – It is next to...
- “C’est en face de...” – It is opposite...
- “C’est près de...” – It is near...

For example, to explain how to reach a library, one might say:

- “Pour aller à la bibliothèque, allez tout droit jusqu’au carrefour. Tournez à droite, puis continuez jusqu’au troisième bâtiment sur la gauche. La bibliothèque est à côté de l’école.”

Explaining a Procedure

Explaining a procedure involves giving clear, step-by-step instructions in French. Key words and phrases include:

- “D’abord” – First
- “Ensuite” – Next
- “Après cela” – After that
- “Puis” – Then
- “Enfin” – Finally

For example, to explain how to make a simple sandwich, one could say:

- “D’abord, prenez deux tranches de pain. Ensuite, étalez du beurre sur une tranche. Après cela, ajoutez du fromage et du jambon. Puis, recouvrez avec l’autre tranche de pain. Enfin, coupez le sandwich en deux et servez.”

Students should learn to combine imperative verbs with these sequence words to give clear instructions. Using polite expressions such as “s’il vous plaît” (please) can also make the instructions more courteous.

Practice Tips

- Practice giving directions to locations within the school or home using complete sentences in French.
- Explain simple daily activities, such as washing hands, preparing a meal, or writing a letter, step by step in French.
- Role-play with classmates to simulate asking for and giving directions.

Evaluation

1. Translate into French: “Go straight, then turn left at the first street. The post office is on your right.”
2. Give directions in French from your classroom to the school gate.
3. Explain in French the steps to make a cup of tea.
4. List five French phrases commonly used to give directions.
5. Use the words “d’abord,” “ensuite,” and “enfin” to describe any simple procedure in French.

Assignment

Write a paragraph in French explaining how to reach your favorite place in your neighborhood or how to complete a simple task at home. Use at least five sentences and include words for sequence and directions.

WEEK 9: REVISION OF COMMUNICATIVE FUNCTIONS

Integrating Learned Topics in Dialogues and Role Plays

In learning French as a second language, students are expected not only to know vocabulary and grammar rules but also to apply them in real-life communication. Communicative functions are the different purposes for which language is used in interaction, such as greeting, introducing oneself, asking questions, giving information, expressing likes and dislikes, talking about daily activities, hobbies, and so on.

By the third term, students have already learned different aspects of French vocabulary and grammar. This week is devoted to revision through dialogues and role plays, where students will put together all the expressions, structures, and functions studied in previous weeks.

Review of Some Key Communicative Functions Learned

- Chidi: Bonjour, Amina. Ça va bien, merci. Et toi?
- Amina: Ça va. Quelles matières aimes-tu à l'école?

- Paul: Et qu'est-ce que tu fais après l'école?
- Marie: Après l'école, je fais mes devoirs. Pendant le soir, j'écoute de la musique.
- Paul: Moi, je joue au football après l'école.

Role Play Activity

Students can role play as friends meeting on a Saturday. One will ask questions about family, hobbies, and daily activities, while the other responds using learned vocabulary. This helps students integrate greetings, talking about family, school, hobbies, sequencing events, and expressing likes and dislikes in one conversation.

Evaluation

1. Write five French expressions you can use when introducing yourself.
2. Construct a short dialogue (at least six exchanges) between two friends meeting in school, asking about their family and subjects they like.
3. Write three sentences in French showing your daily routine using avant, après, and pendant.
4. Translate into French: "I love playing football, but I don't like reading books."
5. Perform a short role play with a partner, where you both talk about your hobbies and daily activities.

Assignment

Write a short composition in French (10–12 sentences) about “Une Journée Typique dans ma Vie” (A Typical Day in My Life). In your composition, make sure you:

- Greet and introduce yourself.
- Talk about your family briefly.

- Mention your school and favorite subjects.
- Describe your daily routine using avant, après, and pendant.
- End by saying what you like and dislike doing during your free time.

WEEK 10: PRACTICE OF WRITTEN/ORAL FRENCH

The study of French does not only involve learning vocabulary and grammar but also practicing how to use the language both in written and spoken form. In this lesson, we shall focus on three main aspects: guided writing, comprehension, and conversation. These activities help students to develop their communication skills in French, making them able to express themselves clearly and confidently.

Guided Writing (Expression écrite guidée):

Guided writing is a form of writing where students are given instructions, examples, or specific structures to follow in order to write correctly in French. This helps beginners to build confidence and accuracy in expressing ideas. For example, students may be asked to write simple sentences about themselves, their family, or their daily activities using given patterns such as Je m'appelle... (My name is...), J'ai... ans (I am... years old), J'aime... (I like...), or Je n'aime pas... (I don't like...).

Examples:

- Je m'appelle John. J'ai douze ans. J'aime le football. Je n'aime pas les araignées.
- Je vais à l'école tous les jours sauf le dimanche.

Guided writing exercises may also include filling in blanks, rearranging words into sentences, or writing short paragraphs based on pictures. This ensures that students practice vocabulary, sentence construction, and grammar in a controlled manner.

Comprehension (Compréhension écrite):

Comprehension exercises help students to practice reading and understanding passages written in French. A short text may be provided, after which questions are asked to test understanding. For instance, a passage could describe a person's daily routine, family, or favourite food. Students will then answer questions such as Comment s'appelle le garçon? (What is the boy's name?), Quel âge a-t-il? (How old is he?), or Qu'est-ce qu'il aime manger? (What does he like to eat?).

This practice improves vocabulary recognition, sentence interpretation, and the ability to derive meaning from context. Comprehension also builds confidence in reading and prepares students to use the language effectively in communication.

Conversation (Conversation orale):

Conversation practice is essential because French, like every other language, is meant for speaking and interaction. Conversation exercises allow students to practice dialogues, greetings, asking and answering questions, and role-plays. Students may work in pairs or groups to exchange information using structures already learned.

Examples of simple conversations include:

- A: Bonjour! Comment tu t'appelles ?
B: Bonjour! Je m'appelle Grace. Et toi ?
A: Je m'appelle Paul. Tu as quel âge ?
B: J'ai douze ans. Tu aimes le football ?
A: Oui, j'aime le football. Et toi ?
B: Non, je préfère le basket.

Conversation exercises also include asking for directions, talking about school, hobbies, or family, and role-playing real-life situations. The goal is to help students gain fluency, correct pronunciation, and confidence in speaking French.

In summary, guided writing strengthens the ability to write accurately, comprehension improves reading and understanding, while conversation develops speaking and listening skills. These three aspects, when practiced regularly, make students more competent in both oral and written French.

Evaluation:

1. Write three sentences about yourself in French using the structure Je m'appelle..., J'ai... ans, and J'aime...
2. Read a short passage given by your teacher and answer the comprehension questions that follow in French or English.
3. Role-play a short conversation with your partner in French about your favourite food or subject.
4. Translate into French: "My name is Musa. I am thirteen years old. I like music."

5. Explain why practicing conversation is important in learning French.

Assignment:

Write a short guided composition in French about your family. Mention the names of your parents, how many brothers or sisters you have, and what each person likes or does. Then, prepare a short dialogue in French (at least six lines) that you can present with a partner in class.
