PRIMARY 6 ENGLISH LANGUAGE LESSON NOTES

FIRST TERM

WEEK 1

READING: PHONICS AND CONCEPTS OF PRINT

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Pronounce words containing complex consonant blends and digraphs correctly.
2. Identify the different parts of a book, including the title page, table of contents, and index.
3. Explain the function of text features such as headings and captions.

CONTENT

1. Complex Consonant Blends and Digraphs

Phonics is like a secret code that helps us read by knowing what sound each letter or group of letters makes. Today, we are learning about special blends where three consonants stand together and make a combined sound.

- Consonant Blends (Three Letters): We say each sound quickly, one after the other.
  - str: street (like the road outside), strong (like a weightlifter), strap (on a school bag).
  - spr: spring (the season after winter, or a coiled metal), spray (like water from a hose), spread (like butter on bread).
  - thr: three (the number after two), throw (a ball to a friend), throat (where you feel pain when you have a cold).
  - scr: screen (on a television or phone), scream (what you do when you are scared), scratch (like a cat might do).
- Digraphs and Trigraphs (One Sound): These are letter teams that make one new sound, different from the sounds of the individual letters.

- sh (Digraph): ship (a boat), fish (an animal in the water). The 's' and 'h' join to make a "shhh" sound.
- ch (Digraph): church (a place of worship), chair (what you sit on). They make a "ch" sound.
- tch (Trigraph): watch (to tell time), match (to light a fire). The 't' is silent; it just makes the "ch" sound stronger.
- ph (Digraph): phone (a telephone), photo (a photograph). This team makes the "f" sound.

|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| str |                                                                                                    | street   |
| spr |                                                                                                    |                                                                                               |
| thr | water spray |                                                                                               |
| scr | 3                                                                                           | iphone |

2. Concepts of Print: Parts of a Book

A book is like a house; it has different rooms (parts) for different purposes. Knowing these parts helps us find information quickly and easily.

- Title Page: This is the first important page inside the book. It is like the ID card of the book.
  - Title: The name of the book (e.g., Basic Science and Technology).

- Author: The person who wrote the book (e.g., by Chinedu Okoro).
- Publisher: The company that printed and made the book (e.g., LearnRight Publishers Ltd.).
- Table of Contents: This is like a map at the beginning of the book. It lists all the big sections (Units or Chapters) and the page numbers where they start. If you want to read about "Water", you look here first.

|                          |         |  |
|--------------------------|---------|--|
| Unit 1: Family . . . . . | Page 1  |  |
| Unit 2: School . . . . . | Page 10 |  |
| Unit 3: Water . . . . .  | Page 15 |  |

- Index: This is a detailed word-finder at the very back of the book. It lists important names, places, and topics in alphabetical order (A-Z) with the page numbers where you can find them. It is more specific than the Table of Contents.
- Glossary: This is a mini-dictionary at the back of the book. It gives the meanings of difficult or special words used only in that book.

3. Text Features

Non-fiction books (true books that give facts, like your Science or Social Studies textbooks) use special tools to help you understand.

- Headings: These are the big, bold titles at the top of a page or section. They tell you what that whole section is about, like a signpost. (e.g., CHAPTER 2: PLANTS).

- Subheadings: These are smaller titles under the main heading. They break the big topic into smaller parts (e.g., Parts of a Plant, How Plants Grow).

- Captions: These are the one or two sentences written under a picture, diagram, or photograph. They explain exactly what you are looking at.

EVALUATION

1. Say the word "strong" aloud. What three letters make the blend at the beginning?
2. What sound do the letters "ph" make in the word "photo"? Can you give another word with "ph"?
3. If you want to know what page Chapter 5 starts on, which part of the book do you turn to?
4. You want to find all the pages in your Social Studies book that talk about "Lagos". Do you use the Index or the Glossary? Why?
5. Look at the title page of your English textbook. What is the name of the author?
6. You see a picture of a lion in your book. Where do you look to read a sentence about that specific picture?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Oral/Written): Say and then write two new words for each of these blends: "str", "thr", and "scr".
2. (Practical): Open your Mathematics textbook. Find the Table of Contents. Write down the topic written for page 25 (or the page number closest to it).
3. (Drawing/Written): Draw a picture of your school bag. Write a one-sentence caption underneath describing it.

WEEK 2

WRITING: WRITING PARAGRAPHS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define a paragraph.
2. Identify the three main parts of a well-written paragraph.
3. Distinguish between narrative, descriptive, and expository paragraphs.

CONTENT

1. Structure of a Paragraph

A paragraph is a group of sentences that work together to talk about one main idea. Think of it like a sandwich or a burger you buy at the canteen. A good paragraph has three tasty parts:

The Topic Sentence (The Top Bun): This is usually the first sentence. It introduces the main idea and tells the reader, "This is what my whole paragraph is about!" Example: "My dog Bingo is a very clever animal."

- Supporting Details (The Meat/Filling): These are the middle sentences (2, 3, 4). They give examples, reasons, or facts that explain and prove the topic sentence. They make your idea strong and tasty! Example: "He can fetch a ball when I throw it. He knows how to sit and lie down on command. He even barks when a stranger comes to the gate."
- The Concluding Sentence (The Bottom Bun): This is the last sentence. It wraps up the paragraph neatly. It often restates the main idea in a new way or gives a final thought. Example: "That is why I believe Bingo is the smartest dog on my street."

2. Unity and Coherence

For a paragraph to be clear, it must have:

- Unity: All sentences must stick to the main idea. If your topic is "My Dog," don't write a sentence about "My New Bicycle." That would be off-topic.
- Coherence: The sentences should flow smoothly from one to the next, like beads on a string. We use transition words to connect them:
  - To add ideas: First, Also, Secondly, Furthermore.
  - To show order: Next, Then, After that, Finally.
  - To show contrast: But, However, On the other hand.

3. Types of Paragraphs

We write paragraphs for different reasons:

- Narrative Paragraph: Tells a story about something that happened. It answers: What happened? When? To whom? Example: Writing about "The Day I Learned to Ride a Bicycle."
- Descriptive Paragraph: Paints a picture with words. It describes a person, place, or thing so the reader can see, hear, or feel it. It uses sensing words (looks like, sounds like, feels like). Example: Describing "The Busy Market Near My House."
- Expository Paragraph: Explains or gives facts. It teaches the reader about a topic or gives instructions. Example: Explaining "How to Make a Cup of Tea" or "Why We Should Recycle Plastic."

EVALUATION

1. What is the job of the sentences in the middle of a paragraph?
2. If your topic sentence is "Fruits are good for our health," which of these would NOT be a good supporting detail? a) They have vitamins. b) They taste sweet. c) My bicycle is blue.
3. Which part of the paragraph burger summarizes the main idea?
4. If you are writing steps on how to wash your hands, what type of paragraph are you writing?
5. Read this sentence: "The sky was filled with dark, heavy clouds." What type of paragraph would this sentence most likely start?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write a strong topic sentence for a paragraph about "Why Breakfast is Important."
2. (Written): List two supporting details you could use to explain your topic sentence about breakfast.
3. (Oral/Written): Tell a partner a short story about what you did last Saturday (Narrative). Then, write down the first two sentences of your story.

WEEK 3

LISTENING & SPEAKING: INTONATION

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define intonation.
2. Identify the correct intonation pattern for commands, questions, and statements.
3. Use stress and intonation to change the meaning of a sentence.

CONTENT

1. Understanding Intonation

Intonation is the rise and fall of our voice when we speak. It is the music or melody of English. It tells people how we feel (happy, angry, surprised) and what we mean (asking a question or giving an order).

2. Intonation Patterns

Different types of sentences have different "tunes."

- Commands & Statements (Falling Intonation): Your voice starts normally and falls (goes down) at the end. This sounds certain and finished.
  - Command: "Close the door↘."
  - Statement: "My name is Amina↘."
- Yes/No Questions (Rising Intonation): Your voice rises (goes up) at the end. This shows you are asking and expect "Yes" or "No" as an answer.
  - "Are you coming↗?"
  - "Is this your book↗?"
- Wh- Questions (Falling Intonation): When a question starts with Who, What, Where, When, Why, How, your voice usually falls at the end.
  - "What is your name↘?"
  - "Where do you live↘?"

3. Stress and Meaning

Stress means saying one word (or part of a word) louder, longer, and stronger than others. Changing the stressed word can change the whole meaning of the sentence.

- Sentence: "I didn't take Bola's pencil."
  - "I didn't take Bola's pencil." (Meaning: Someone else did.)
  - "I didn't take Bola's pencil." (Meaning: I did something else with it, maybe I only borrowed it.)
  - "I didn't take Bola's pencil." (Meaning: I took a different person's pencil.)
  - "I didn't take Bola's pencil." (Meaning: I took something else of Bola's, like her eraser.)

EVALUATION

1. When your mother calls you with a rising voice at the end, "Akin↗?", is she making a statement or asking a question?
2. Say this sentence as a command: "Sit down." Does your voice go up or down on the word "down"?

3. Say this as a question you can answer with "Yes": "You are happy." How does your voice change?
4. Read this question: "When is your birthday?" Should your voice rise or fall at the end?
5. Say the sentence "She gave me the book" three times. First, stress "She". Next, stress "me". Last, stress "book". Explain how the meaning changes.

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Oral/Written): Write two Yes/No questions. Practice saying them aloud with a rising (↗) intonation.
2. (Oral/Written): Write two commands. Practice saying them aloud with a firm, falling (↘) intonation.
3. (Practical/Oral): With a family member, say the sentence "I love jollof rice." Stress a different word each time ("I", "love", "jollof", "rice"). Ask them to guess what you are emphasizing.

WEEK 4

GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY: DICTIONARY SKILLS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Explain the use of guide words in a dictionary.
2. Arrange words in alphabetical order using the third and fourth letters.
3. Identify parts of speech labels (abbreviations) in a dictionary entry.

CONTENT

1. Using the Dictionary

A dictionary is a book that lists words in alphabetical order (A to Z). For each word, it tells us:

- Spelling (How to write it correctly)
- Pronunciation (How to say it)
- Part of Speech (Is it a noun, verb, etc.?)
- Meaning(s) (What it means)

2. Guide Words

These are your two best friends for finding words quickly! At the top of every dictionary page, you will see two words in dark, bold letters.

- Left Guide Word: The first word on that page.
- Right Guide Word: The last word on that page.
- How it works: Any word that comes alphabetically between these two guide words will be on that page.
  - Example: If guide words are Firefly and Fish, words like fireman, firm, first will be there. The word flag would be on the next page.

3. Alphabetical Order (3rd and 4th Letters)

When many words start with the same first two letters, we must look at the 3rd, 4th, or even 5th letter to arrange them.

- Example 1: Camp, Can, Card, Cat
  - 1st letter: All are 'C'.
  - 2nd letter: All are 'a'.
  - 3rd letter: 'm' (Camp), 'n' (Can), 'r' (Card), 't' (Cat).
  - Order: Camp, Can, Card, Cat. (We look at the alphabet: m, n, r, t).
- Example 2: Dream, Dress, Drew
  - D-r-e are the same for all.
  - 4th letter: 'a' (Dream), 's' (Dress), 'w' (Drew).
  - Order: Dream, Dress, Drew. (a comes before s, s comes before w).

4. Dictionary Abbreviations

Dictionaries use short forms to save space. You must know these common ones:

- n. = Noun (name of something: girl, school, Lagos)
- v. = Verb (action word: run, eat, think)
- adj. = Adjective (describing word: tall, beautiful, fast)
- adv. = Adverb (describes a verb: run quickly, sing loudly)
- syn. = Synonym (word with similar meaning)

EVALUATION

1. On a dictionary page, the guide words are "LAMP" and "LAND". Will you find the word "LAKE" on this page? Why or why not?
2. Arrange these words as they would appear in a dictionary: Frog, Friend, Fruit, Free.
3. You see "happy (adj.)" in a dictionary. What does "(adj.)" tell you about the word "happy"?
4. What is the purpose of the right guide word?
5. Arrange these words: Bring, Bright, Bridge, Brick. (Hint: Look at the 4th letter).

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Arrange these classroom objects in dictionary order: Book, Bag, Board, Bin, Bench.
2. (Practical/Written): Use a dictionary (physical or online with teacher's help) to look up the word "courage". Write down: a) its part of speech, b) one meaning.
3. (Matching): Draw a line to match the abbreviation to its full meaning: v. -> Adjective, n. -> Verb, adj. -> Noun.

WEEK 5 & 6: MIDTERM BREAK AND EXAMINATION

WEEK 7

READING: COMPREHENSION (MAIN IDEAS)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define the main idea of a passage.
2. Differentiate between main ideas and supporting details.
3. Identify the topic sentence in a given paragraph.

CONTENT

1. What is the Main Idea?

The Main Idea is the most important point or the "big news" the author wants to tell you. It is what the whole story or paragraph is mostly about. To find it, ask yourself: "What is the one big thing the author is teaching me?" or "What is the most important lesson here?"

Sometimes, the main idea is written clearly in a sentence, often called the Topic Sentence. Other times, you have to be a detective and put together the clues from all the sentences to figure it out.

2. Topic Sentences

Think of a paragraph as a family. The Topic Sentence is the parent. It holds the main idea and tells you what the whole "family" of sentences will discuss. It is usually the first sentence, but it can sometimes be in the middle or at the end.

- Example Topic Sentence (First): "Keeping our classroom clean is very important." (The rest of the paragraph will talk about why it's important).
- Example Topic Sentence (Last): A paragraph might describe a messy classroom and then end with: "This shows why we must all learn to keep our classroom clean."

3. Main Idea vs. Supporting Details

- Main Idea: The big, general point. (e.g., "Mangoes are delicious and healthy fruits.")

- Supporting Details: The small, specific facts that prove the main idea. They are like evidence in a court case.

- Example:
  - Main Idea: Drinking enough water every day is good for your body.
  - Detail 1: It helps your brain stay alert in class.
  - Detail 2: It keeps your skin looking fresh.
  - Detail 3: It helps your stomach digest food properly.

4. Summarizing

To summarize means to retell the most important parts of a story or passage in your own, much shorter words. You take out all the extra little details and keep only the main ideas. A good summary answers: Who? What? Where? and the most important event or lesson.

EVALUATION

1. If a paragraph is all about the different types of markets in Nigeria, what is its main idea likely to be?
2. Read this sentence: "There are many fun games to play at break time." Is this a main idea (topic sentence) or a supporting detail?

3. Look at this list: a) She has a red pencil. b) She is a good friend. c) She shares her eraser. d) She helps me with homework. Which one is the main idea, and which are supporting details?
4. Read: "Kofi packed his bag. He put in his books, his water bottle, and an apple. He put on his socks and shoes. He was ready for school." What is the main idea?
5. What question should you ask yourself to find the main idea?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Read a short story from your English textbook. Write down one sentence that tells the main idea of the story.
2. (Practical/Oral): Tell a family member two supporting details from your favorite TV show or cartoon (e.g., "The characters are funny. They go on adventures.").
3. (Drawing/Written): Draw a picture of your favorite meal. Write one sentence below it that states the main idea (e.g., "This is a healthy and tasty meal.").

WEEK 8

READING: VOCABULARY (CONTEXT CLUES)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define context clues.
2. Use context clues to determine the meaning of unknown words.
3. Identify different types of context clues (synonym, antonym, definition).

CONTENT

1. What are Context Clues?

When you are reading and meet a new, difficult word, you don't always need to run for a dictionary! The words and sentences around the difficult word—the context—often give you clues or hints about its meaning. You become a Word Detective.

2. Types of Context Clues

Detectives look for different types of evidence. Here are the main types of context clues:

Definition Clue: The author directly explains the word right after using it. Look for commas (,), dashes (—), or words like means, which is, or called.

- Example: "The vendor, the person selling things, shouted about her fresh tomatoes."
- Synonym Clue: The author uses a word with a similar meaning nearby. Look for words like or, in other words, that is to say.
  - Example: "The teacher was furious; she was so angry that her face turned red."
- Antonym Clue: The author uses a word with the opposite meaning. Look for words like but, however, unlike, instead of, although.
  - Example: "Unlike the humid air outside, the air inside the hall was cool and dry."
- Example Clue: The author gives examples that help you understand the word. Look for words like such as, for example, like, including.
  - Example: "Condiments, such as ketchup, pepper, and salt, are kept on the dinner table."

3. Steps to Using Context Clues

When you see a tricky word:

1. Don't panic! Read the whole sentence slowly.
2. Look Left & Right: Read the sentence before and after it.
3. Look for Signal Words: Find clue words like but, or, such as.
4. Make a Smart Guess: Think of a word that would make sense in that blank space.
5. Check Your Guess: Reread the sentence with your guessed meaning. Does it make sense?

EVALUATION

1. In this sentence, what clue helps you understand "punctual"? "To be punctual means to arrive on time."
2. What does "vast" mean here? "The desert is vast, but my backyard is very small." What type of clue is this?

3. Find the meaning of "domestic": "Domestic animals, like cows, goats, and chickens, live with people."
4. What is the synonym clue for "brief"? "The principal gave a brief, short announcement."
5. Create your own sentence using the word "enormous" and include an example clue.

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write the meaning of the bold word: "My uncle is very generous; he always gives money and gifts to people in need."
2. (Practical/Written): Find a new word in your Social Studies textbook. Write down the sentence it is in and guess its meaning using context clues.
3. (Oral/Drawing): Act out or draw a picture for the word "frustrated" (e.g., someone trying to tie a knot that won't work). Explain to a partner what it means without saying the word.

WEEK 9

LISTENING & SPEAKING: AURAL DISCRIMINATION

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Distinguish between short and long vowel sounds in spoken words.
2. Discriminate between voiced and voiceless consonant sounds.
3. Identify diphthongs in given words.

CONTENT

1. Short vs. Long Vowels

Vowels (a, e, i, o, u) can make different sounds. A short vowel sound is quick and crisp. A long vowel sound says its own name (a says "ay", e says "ee", etc.). Listen carefully to the difference.

- Short a /æ/ vs. Long a /eɪ/: cat cake; tap tape
- Short i /ɪ/ vs. Long i /aɪ/: sit sight; pin pine
- Short o /ɒ/ vs. Long o /oʊ/: hop hope; not note

2. Voiced vs. Voiceless Consonants

Some consonant sounds make your throat vibrate (feel your neck with your fingers!). These are Voiced. Others are just puffs of air—your throat is quiet. These are Voiceless.

- Feel the Difference:

- Say "ssssss" like a snake (Voiceless /s/). Your throat is calm.
- Now say "zzzzzz" like a bee (Voiced /z/). Feel your throat buzz!

- Pairs to Practice:

- /p/ (Voiceless) vs. /b/ (Voiced): pat bat
- /t/ (Voiceless) vs. /d/ (Voiced): tip dip
- /k/ (Voiceless) vs. /g/ (Voiced): coat goat
- /f/ (Voiceless) vs. /v/ (Voiced): fan van

3. Introduction to Diphthongs

A diphthong is a special vowel sound where your mouth glides or moves from one position to another, making a combined sound. It's like two vowel sounds in one.

- /aɪ/ as in "Eye": Your mouth starts open for "ah" and moves to a smile for "ee". five, sky, my.
- /aʊ/ as in "Cow": Your mouth starts open for "ah" and moves to a rounded shape for "oo". house, mouth, town.
- /ɔɪ/ as in "Toy": Your mouth starts rounded for "aw" and moves to a smile for "ee". boy, oil, joy.

EVALUATION

1. Which word has the long 'o' sound: rod or road?
2. Put your hand on your throat. Say "van". Do you feel vibration? Is /v/ voiced or voiceless?
3. Listen to these pairs: cap/cab, leaf/leave. Which word in each pair has the voiced sound at the end?
4. Which word contains a diphthong: cat, boil, bed?
5. Say the word "loud". Does your mouth change shape? What two sounds do you glide between? (ah-oo)

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Oral/Written): With a partner, play a "Short or Long?" game. Say a word (e.g., hop, hope). Your partner must identify if the vowel sound is short or long.
2. (Practical/Written): Find three objects in your house. Write their names and circle the first letter. Say the first sound and decide if it is Voiced (V) or Voiceless (V-less). (e.g., Table - /t/ - V-less).
3. (Drawing/Oral): Draw a picture of a boy holding a toy next to a cow. Say these three words aloud slowly, noticing the /ɔɪ/ and /aʊ/ diphthongs.

WEEK 10

GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY: SYNONYMS AND ANTONYMS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define synonyms and antonyms.
2. Match words with their correct synonyms and antonyms.
3. Use a thesaurus to find alternative words to avoid repetition in writing.

CONTENT

1. Synonyms: Words that are Friends

Synonyms are different words that have the same or very similar meanings. Using synonyms makes your writing more interesting because you don't repeat the same word again and again.

- Example: Happy   glad, joyful, cheerful
- Example: Big   large, huge, enormous
- Example: Walk   stroll, march, stride

2. Antonyms: Words that are Opposites

Antonyms are words that have opposite meanings. They are like two sides of a coin.

- Example: Hot   Cold
- Example: Fast   Slow
- Example: Day   Night

3. Using a Thesaurus

A thesaurus is a special book or tool (like a dictionary) that lists synonyms and antonyms for words. If you find yourself writing "good" many times, you can look it up in a thesaurus to find better words like excellent, fine, superb, or great.

- How to use it: Look up the word you have (e.g., small). You will see a list: tiny, little, miniature, compact. Choose the one that fits your sentence best.

4. Why This is Important

Using synonyms and antonyms helps you:

- Make your stories and essays more fun to read.
- Explain things more clearly.
- Show that you have a rich vocabulary.

EVALUATION

1. What is a synonym for the word "begin"?
2. What is the antonym of "sour"?

3. Is this pair synonyms or antonyms? Wealthy - Rich
4. Is this pair synonyms or antonyms? Failure - Success
5. Why should you use a thesaurus when writing?
6. Give two synonyms for the word "smart".

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Find the antonyms for: Ancient, Expensive, Dangerous.
2. (Practical/Written): Use a thesaurus (book or approved online source) to find one synonym each for: Quick, Beautiful, Tasty. Write them down.
3. (Oral/Written): Rewrite this boring sentence using synonyms: "The big house had a big garden and a big gate." (e.g., "The enormous house had a vast garden and a huge gate.")

PRIMARY 6 ENGLISH LANGUAGE LESSON NOTES

SECOND TERM

WEEK 1

READING: PHONICS II AND FLUENCY

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify silent letters in common English words.
2. Read a passage with appropriate speed and accuracy (fluency).
3. Define prosody and explain its importance in reading aloud.
4. Pronounce words containing silent 'k', 'g', 'w', 'b', and 'h' correctly.

CONTENT

1. Advanced Phonics: Silent Letters

In some English words, we write a letter but do not pronounce it. This letter is called a silent letter. Knowing them helps us spell correctly and read words without confusion.

- Silent K: Hides before the letter 'n'. We say the 'n' sound only.
  - Knee, Knife, Know, Knock. Think: "I know I should not use my knee to knock on the door."
- Silent G: Often hides before the letter 'n'.
  - Gnat, Gnaw, Sign, Design. Think: "I saw a gnat gnaw on the sign."
- Silent W: Hides before the letter 'r'.
  - Write, Wrong, Wrist, Wrap. Think: "My wrist hurts when I write the wrong answer."
- Silent B: Hides after the letter 'm' or sometimes before 't'.
  - Lamb, Comb, Thumb, Debt. Think: "The lamb used its thumb to hold a comb." (Fun picture!)
- Silent H: Sometimes hides at the start of words or after 'w'.
  - Hour, Honest, Honour, What, When. Think: "What time is it? In one hour." (The 'h' in 'what' and 'hour' is silent).

2. Reading Fluency

Fluency is reading smoothly, as if you are speaking naturally. A fluent reader is easy to listen to and understand. It has three parts:

- Accuracy: Reading the words correctly without mistakes.
- Speed (Rate): Reading at a "just right" pace—not too fast (racing), not too slow (robot).
- Expression (Prosody): Using your voice to show feeling and meaning. This is the music in reading.

3. Prosody and Expression

Prosody means reading with the right rhythm, pauses, and tone. To read with good prosody:

- Pause at Commas (,): Take a tiny breath. "She bought yam, beans, and rice."
- Stop at Full Stops (.): Let your voice fall and stop. "The book is on the table."
- Raise Your Voice for Questions (?): "Are you coming with us?"

- Change Your Voice for Characters: If a character is old, use a low voice. If a character is excited, use a high, fast voice.

EVALUATION

1. Pronounce the word "knock". Which letter is silent?
2. Read this sentence: "I will write with my right hand." How is the 'w' in "write" different from the 'w' in "with"?
3. What does it mean to read with "expression"?
4. If you see a comma in a long sentence, what should you do with your voice?
5. Which word has a silent 'b': bottle, climb, big?
6. Why is it important to read at the right speed (not too fast, not too slow)?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write five sentences. Each sentence must contain one word with a different silent letter (k, g, w, b, h). Underline the silent letter.
2. (Oral/Practical): Practice reading a paragraph from a storybook aloud. Record yourself or read to someone. Did you pause at the commas and full stops?
3. (Drawing/Written): Draw two faces: one showing a "Happy" expression and one showing a "Scary" expression. Write one sentence you would read with each of those voices (e.g., Happy: "I got a new gift!" Scary: "The door creaked open slowly.").

WEEK 2

WRITING: WRITING SIMPLE COMPOSITIONS (LETTERS)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Distinguish between formal and informal letters.
2. List the specific features of a formal letter format.
3. Explain the function of a Consumer Protection Agency.
4. Write a formal letter of complaint regarding a faulty product.

CONTENT

1. Types of Letters

We write letters for different reasons and to different people.

- Informal Letter: Written to people you know well (family, friends). The language is casual, friendly, and can use contractions (I'm, don't). Example: Writing to your cousin about your holiday.
- Formal Letter: Written to people you don't know personally or to officials (Headteacher, Manager, Government office). The language is polite, respectful, and uses full words.
Example: Writing to a company about a bad product.

2. Format of a Formal Letter

A formal letter has a strict layout that must be followed. Every part has its place, like a uniform.

The diagram illustrates the standard layout of a formal letter on a light beige background. The components are as follows:

- 1. Sender's Address: Located at the top right, containing the placeholder text "Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit".
- 2. Date: A box located directly below the sender's address.
- 3. Receiver's Address: A large rectangular box on the left side of the letter.
- 4. Salutation: A box located below the receiver's address.
- 5. Title/Heading: A box located below the salutation.
- 6. Body: A large rectangular box occupying the central portion of the letter.
- 7. Closing: A box located at the bottom right, below the body.
- 8. Signature and Name: A box located at the bottom right, below the closing.

- Sender's Address: Your address goes at the top right corner. The date is written below it.
- Receiver's Address: The address of the person/company you are writing to goes on the left, below your address.
- Salutation: This is the greeting. Use Dear Sir, (for a man) or Dear Madam, (for a woman). If you know the name, use Dear Mr. Okafor,
- Title/Heading: Write the subject of the letter in capital letters or underline it. E.g., COMPLAINT ABOUT FAULTY SCHOOL BAG.
- Body: This is your message. Paragraph 1: Say why you are writing. Paragraph 2: Give the details (what, when, where, what's wrong). Paragraph 3: Politely state what you want them to do (replace, refund, repair).
- Closing (Subscription): End with "Yours faithfully," (if you used Dear Sir/Madam) or "Yours sincerely," (if you used a name). Sign your name underneath, then print your full name.

3. Consumer Protection and Complaints

- Consumer: A person who buys goods (like shoes, food) or uses services (like haircuts).

- Consumer Protection Agency (e.g., CPC): This is a government organization that acts like a referee. It makes sure sellers are fair, products are safe, and cheated buyers get help.
- Writing a Complaint Letter: If you buy something that breaks quickly, is fake, or is not what you paid for, you have a right to complain. Your letter is your official proof.

EVALUATION

1. You are writing to your grandfather thanking him for a gift. Is this a formal or informal letter?
2. Where do you write the date in a formal letter?
3. What is the correct salutation for a formal letter to a woman whose name you do not know?
4. What should you write in the Title of a complaint letter?
5. What is one job of a Consumer Protection Agency?
6. In the body of a complaint letter, what four important details must you include? (Hint: What, When, Where, What's wrong).

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Practical/Drawing): Draw the layout/format of a formal letter in your notebook. Label all 8 parts correctly.
2. (Written): Imagine you bought a new torchlight from "Bright Shops". It stopped working the next day. Write a formal letter of complaint to the Shop Manager.
3. (Oral/Research): Ask an adult at home: "Have you ever had to complain about a bad product? What did you do?" Share the story briefly in class.

WEEK 3

LISTENING & SPEAKING: REPORTING INCIDENTS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify the "5 Ws and H" required for accurate reporting.
2. Report an incident in chronological order.
3. Interpret the meaning of common public notices.
4. Describe an emergency scenario (automobile fire) clearly.

CONTENT

1. Accurate Reporting (The 5 Ws and H)

A good report gives clear facts, not stories or guesses. It answers the six important questions every news reporter asks:

- Who was involved? (People, vehicles)
- What happened? (Accident, fire, fight)

- Where did it happen? (Exact location: "In front of the school gate")
- When did it happen? (Time: "Today at break time")
- Why did it happen? (Cause: "The car had a flat tyre")
- How did it happen? (How did the event unfold?)

2. Chronological Order

This means telling the events in the order they happened, from first to last. Use sequence words:

- First, ... Then, ... Next, ... After that, ... Finally, ...
- Example Report: "First, I heard a loud bang. Then, I saw a car had hit a pole. Next, the driver came out holding his arm. After that, people gathered to help. Finally, an ambulance arrived."

3. Reporting an Emergency (e.g., Automobile Fire)

In an emergency, stay calm and speak clearly. If you need to call for help (Fire Service: 112 or 199), give the most important information first:

1. State the emergency: "There is a car on fire!"
2. Give the exact location: "It is on Aba Road, directly in front of Central Market."
3. Describe the situation: "It is a yellow taxi. The engine is burning. The driver is outside and safe."
4. Give your name (if asked): "My name is Chidi."

4. Public Notices

These are signs that give instructions, warnings, or information to everyone.

- "No Entry": Do not go in.
- "Wet Floor": Be careful, the floor is slippery.
- "Beware of Dogs": Be careful, there are guard dogs here.
- "Trespassers Will Be Prosecuted": If you enter without permission, you will be taken to the police.

EVALUATION

1. You see a bicycle accident. To report it, which "W" question asks for the place?
2. What does "chronological order" mean?
3. What is the most important thing to tell the Fire Service first when reporting a fire?
4. What should you do if you see a "Wet Floor" sign?
5. A notice says "Silence Please". Where would you most likely see this sign?
6. Put these in order: The bell rang. We entered the class. We stood up for assembly.

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write a short report (5 sentences) about a real or imagined minor incident on your street (e.g., a fallen tree, a leaking pipe). Use the 5 Ws and H and the words First, Next, and Finally.
2. (Drawing/Practical): Draw and label two important safety signs you see on your way to school.
3. (Oral/Research): Find out and write down the emergency phone numbers for the Police and Fire Service in your area. Practice saying a clear emergency report with a partner.

WEEK 4

GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY: REVIEW OF VERB FORMS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Differentiate between regular and irregular verbs.
2. Identify and use modal verbs in sentences.
3. Change sentences from active voice to passive voice.
4. Use the correct verb tense (past, present, future) in sentences.

CONTENT

1. Regular and Irregular Verbs

Verbs are action words. They change form to show past time.

- Regular Verbs: To make the past tense, we simply add "-ed" or "-d" to the end. They follow the rule.
  - Walk → Walked, Dance → Danced, Play → Played.
  - They are like obedient students who always follow the rule.
- Irregular Verbs: To make the past tense, they change their spelling in different, unpredictable ways. They do not just add "-ed".
  - Go → Went, Eat → Ate, See → Saw, Buy → Bought.
  - They are like special words with their own unique past forms. You must memorize them.

2. Modal Verbs (Helping Verbs)

Modal verbs are special helper verbs. They come before the main verb to show:

- Ability (Can/Could): "I can swim. She could read at age 5."
- Permission (May/Can): "May I go out? You can start now."
- Possibility (Might/May): "It might rain today. He may come later."
- Necessity or Advice (Must/Should): "You must wear your uniform. You should drink water."
- Future Intention (Will/Shall): "I will help you tomorrow."

3. Active and Passive Voice

Voice tells us if the subject is doing the action or receiving the action.

- Active Voice: The subject does the action. This is direct and clear.
  - Formula: Doer → Action → Receiver.

- Example: The girl (doer) kicked (action) the ball (receiver).
- Passive Voice: The subject receives the action. We focus on what happened, not who did it. The doer is often less important or unknown.
  - Formula: Receiver → Action → (by Doer).
  - Example: The ball (receiver) was kicked (action) by the girl (doer).

EVALUATION

1. Is the past tense of "help" (helped) regular or irregular?
2. Complete the sentence with the correct past tense: "Yesterday, I _____ (go) to the market."
3. What modal verb shows strong necessity in this sentence? "You must finish your homework before playing."
4. Change this active sentence to passive: "The cat chased the mouse."
5. Change this passive sentence to active: "The song was sung by the choir."
6. Which is more common in everyday talking: Active or Passive voice?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Create a "Verb Family" chart. Write the Present and Past tense of: Speak, Talk, Write, Draw. Label which are regular and irregular.
2. (Written): Write three rules for your classroom using modal verbs (e.g., "You must raise your hand to speak.").
3. (Practical/Oral): With a partner, take turns saying an active voice sentence about something in the classroom (e.g., "I opened the window."). Your partner must change it to passive voice ("The window was opened by me.").

WEEK 5 & 6: MIDTERM EXAMS/BREAK

WEEK 7

READING: COMPREHENSION II (MAKING INFERENCES)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define inference.
2. Distinguish between explicit and implicit information.
3. Identify the author's purpose in a text.
4. Draw conclusions based on evidence in a passage.

CONTENT

1. Making Inferences: Reading Between the Lines

An inference is a smart guess you make using clues from the text + what you already know from life. The author doesn't say it directly; you have to figure it out like a detective.

- Clue in Text: "Uche came inside shaking water off her umbrella and hung up her wet raincoat."
- What you know: People use umbrellas and raincoats when it rains.
- Your Inference: It is raining outside.

2. Explicit vs. Implicit Information

- Explicit Information: The facts are right there, written clearly. You can point to the sentence. (It is spelled out).
  - Example: "The sky is blue."
- Implicit Information: The facts are hidden. You must use clues to find them. (It is implied).
  - Example: "People on the street opened their umbrellas." (Implicitly, it started to rain).

3. Author's Purpose (P.I.E.)

Every author writes for a reason. The main reasons are:

Author's Purpose

- P - Persuade: To convince you to do something or believe something. (Advertisements, campaign posters).
- I - Inform: To teach you facts or give you information. (Textbooks, news articles, recipes).
- E - Entertain: To tell you a story for enjoyment. (Fairy tales, comics, jokes).

4. Drawing Conclusions

This is making a final inference after reading all the evidence. It's the "big idea" you understand after putting all the clues together.

- Clues: A character is packing a suitcase, buying a plane ticket, and saying goodbye to friends.
- Conclusion: The character is going on a long trip.

EVALUATION

1. Read: "The ground was covered in white, and children were making snowballs." What can you infer about the weather?
2. Is this information explicit or implicit? "The sign said, 'School Closed on Monday.'"
3. What is the author's main purpose in a story about a talking tortoise who wins a race?
4. Read: "Mrs. Bello sighed loudly, put her hands on her hips, and tapped her foot." How does Mrs. Bello feel? What clues tell you?
5. If you are reading a manual on how to use a new phone, what is the author's purpose?
6. What two things do you need to make a good inference?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Read a short paragraph from your textbook. Write down one thing that is implicit (not directly said but you can guess).
2. (Drawing/Written): Draw a picture of someone who is "proud" without writing the word. Write one sentence explaining the clues in your drawing (e.g., "She is standing tall with a big smile and a trophy.").
3. (Practical/Oral): Bring an empty product box (e.g., cereal, toothpaste). Tell the class what you think the author's purpose of the text on the box is (Persuade, Inform, or Entertain?) and why.

WEEK 8

READING: VOCABULARY II (PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define a root word.
2. Form new words using common prefixes.
3. Form new words using common suffixes.
4. Explain how affixes change the meaning of words.

CONTENT

1. Root Words: The Base

A root word is the basic word that can stand on its own. It carries the core meaning. You can add parts to it to change its meaning.

- Examples: hope, kind, play, agree.

2. Prefixes: Attached at the Beginning

A prefix is a group of letters added to the beginning of a root word to change its meaning.

Building Words: Prefixes

- un- = not: happy → unhappy, tie → untie
- re- = again: do → redo, fill → refill
- dis- = not or opposite: agree → disagree, appear → disappear
- mis- = wrongly: behave → misbehave, spell → misspell
- pre- = before: cook → precook, view → preview

3. Suffixes: Attached at the End

A suffix is a group of letters added to the end of a root word. It often changes the word's part of speech (e.g., from a verb to a noun).

- -er / -or = a person who does: teach → teacher, act → actor
- -less = without: hope → hopeless, home → homeless
- -ful = full of: care → careful, beauty → beautiful
- -ly = in a certain way (makes an adverb): quick → quickly, slow → slowly
- -able = can be done: wash → washable, break → breakable

4. How Affixes Change Words

Adding a prefix or suffix is like adding a new tool to a worker. It changes their job!

- Root: Joy (a feeling).
- With Suffix: Joyful (an adjective describing someone full of joy).
- With Prefix: Enjoy (a verb meaning to take joy from something).

EVALUATION

1. What is the root word in "disobey"?
2. Add a prefix to "possible" to make it mean "not possible".
3. Add a suffix to "farm" to make a word meaning "a person who farms".
4. What does the prefix "pre-" mean in the word "preheat"?
5. How does the suffix "-less" change the meaning of the word "fear"?
6. Create a new word by adding a suffix to "help". What type of word is it now (noun, adjective)?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Make a "Word Tree". Draw a tree. Write a root word on the trunk (e.g., "use"). On the branches, write words you can make with prefixes and suffixes (useless, useful, reuse, user).
2. (Practical/Written): Look at a newspaper headline. Find and circle one word with a prefix and one with a suffix. Write them down and identify the root word.
3. (Oral/Game): Play "Affix Challenge" with a partner. One says a root word (e.g., "play"). The other must say a word with a prefix or suffix from that root (e.g., "replay", "player", "playful"). Take turns.

WEEK 9

LISTENING & SPEAKING: PARTICIPATING IN A SHORT PLAY

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify the key elements of drama (plot, character, setting).
2. Explain the purpose of stage directions.
3. Demonstrate clear voice projection and appropriate gestures.
4. Role-play a First Aid scenario effectively.

CONTENT

1. Elements of Drama

A play is a story that is acted out, not just read. It has special parts:

Story Elements

- Script: The written pages containing all the words for the play.
- Characters: The people or animals in the story (e.g., Teacher, Student, Doctor, Victim).
- Setting: Where and when the story happens (e.g., In a classroom, during break time).

- Plot: The sequence of events—what happens first, next, and last.

2. Stage Directions

In a script, you will see words written inside brackets ( ) or in italics. These are stage directions.

- Purpose: They are secret instructions for the actor, telling them what to do or how to feel. The audience does not hear these words spoken aloud.
- Example: ADA: (looking surprised and dropping her book) Oh! What was that noise?
  - The actor playing Ada must act surprised and drop a book, but they do not say the words "looking surprised and dropping her book."

3. Performance Skills

To be a good actor, you need more than just words:

- Voice Projection: Speaking loudly and clearly so your voice reaches the back of the room. It's not shouting, but using your "stage voice."
- Articulation: Pronouncing each word clearly so the audience can understand you (e.g., say "going to," not "gonna").
- Gestures and Facial Expressions: Using your hands, body, and face to show meaning and feeling. If you are saying "I'm tired," you might yawn and stretch.

4. Scenario: First Aider Drama

We will act out a short play where someone gets a small cut and a friend helps.

- Characters: Injured Person, First Aider, Narrator.
- Key Actions (Plot): a. The Injured Person falls and gets a cut on their knee. b. The First Aider runs over, stays calm, and asks if they are okay. c. The First Aider gets a clean cloth and water to clean the cut. d. The First Aider tells an adult.

EVALUATION

1. In a script, who reads the stage directions: the actor or the audience?
2. What is the difference between the setting and the plot of a play?
3. If you are acting for a large hall, should you use your normal talking voice or your projected “stage voice”?
4. Why is it important for an actor to use facial expressions?
5. In our First Aid play, what is one important thing the First Aider should do before touching the wound? (Hint: Keep it clean).
6. What does the term “role-play” mean?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write a 4-line script between a buyer and a seller at a market. Include one stage direction for each character.
2. (Practical/Oral): Stand in front of a mirror. Practice saying the sentence “I am so excited!” using three different tones of voice: happy, scared, and bored. Notice how your face changes.

3. (Drawing/Written): Draw a simple First Aid kit. Label three items inside it (e.g., plaster, bandage, cotton wool) and write what each one is used for.

WEEK 10

GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY: USE OF IDIOMATIC EXPRESSIONS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define an idiom.
2. Distinguish between literal and figurative meanings.
3. Interpret the meanings of common idioms.
4. Use idioms correctly in sentences.

CONTENT

1. What is an Idiom?

An idiom is a common phrase or expression where the meaning is different from the meaning of the individual words. You cannot understand it by translating each word. You must learn the whole phrase as a new piece of vocabulary.

- Example: "Break a leg" does not mean to actually break a bone. It is an idiom that means "Good luck!"

2. Literal vs. Figurative (Idiomatic) Meaning

Literal: Hitting books.

Idiom (Figurative): 'Hit the books' means to study hard.

- Literal Meaning: The actual, real-life meaning of the words.
  - "She has a heart of gold." (Literal: Her heart is made from gold metal—impossible!).
- Figurative (Idiomatic) Meaning: The hidden, cultural meaning that everyone understands.
  - "She has a heart of gold." (Idiomatic: She is a very kind and generous person).

3. Common English Idioms

Here are some idioms you might hear:

- "It's raining cats and dogs." = It is raining very heavily.
- "That test was a piece of cake." = That test was very easy.
- "Don't let the cat out of the bag." = Don't reveal the secret.
- "I'm feeling under the weather." = I'm feeling sick/unwell.
- "Cost an arm and a leg." = Very expensive.
- "We see eye to eye." = We agree with each other.

4. Why We Use Idioms

Idioms make language more colourful, interesting, and fun. They can express a big idea in just a few words.

EVALUATION

1. What is the key difference between an idiom and the literal meaning of its words?
2. If your friend says they are "over the moon," are they actually above the moon? What do they really mean?
3. What does the idiom "cold feet" mean? a) Having cold toes. b) Feeling nervous and wanting to back out of a plan.
4. Which idiom means you are very busy: "I'm all ears" or "I have my hands full"?
5. Use the idiom "on cloud nine" in a sentence about someone who just won a prize.
6. Is this sentence literal or idiomatic? "Please give me a hand with this heavy box."

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Matching): Draw a line to match the idiom to its meaning.
  - Call it a day ---> Feeling sick
  - Break the ice ---> Stop working for now
  - Under the weather ---> Start a conversation in a shy situation
2. (Drawing/Written): Choose one idiom (e.g., "raining cats and dogs"). Draw a funny picture of its LITERAL meaning. Below your drawing, write the idiom and its REAL meaning.
3. (Oral/Written): Ask an older family member for one common proverb or idiom in your mother tongue. Write it down, translate the words literally, and then explain what it really means.

PRIMARY 6 ENGLISH LANGUAGE SCHEME OF WORK

THIRD TERM

| Week | Topic                                                                                                           | Content                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

THIRD TERM

WEEK 1

READING: COMPREHENSION III - AUTHOR'S TONE, MOOD, AND POINT OF VIEW

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define "tone" and "mood" in a story.
2. Differentiate between First Person and Third Person Point of View.
3. Identify the author's tone in a given passage (e.g., happy, sad, serious).

CONTENT

1. Author's Tone: The Writer's Voice

The tone is the author's attitude or feeling towards the subject they are writing about. It's like the "voice" you hear in your head when you read. You can tell a lot from the words the author chooses.

- Formal Tone: Serious and respectful, like a news report or a letter to the headteacher. Uses proper grammar and full words.
- Informal Tone: Casual and friendly, like talking to a friend. May use contractions (can't, won't) and slang.
- Humorous Tone: Funny and meant to make you laugh.
- Sad Tone: Uses words that express sorrow or disappointment.

2. Mood: The Reader's Feeling

The mood is the feeling or atmosphere you get as a reader. The author creates the mood through descriptions of the setting, characters, and events.

- Joyful Mood: Makes you feel happy (e.g., descriptions of a birthday party, winning a game).
- Mysterious Mood: Makes you feel curious and a little nervous (e.g., a dark, empty house with strange noises).
- Peaceful Mood: Makes you feel calm and relaxed (e.g., a quiet garden with birds singing).

3. Point of View (POV): Who is Telling the Story?

This tells us through whose eyes we are seeing the story.

- First Person Point of View: The narrator is inside the story. They use the pronouns I, me, my, we, our.
  - Example: "I walked to the shop. My feet were tired." The narrator is a character in the story.

- Third Person Point of View: The narrator is outside the story, watching it happen like a camera. They use the pronouns he, she, it, they, his, her.
  - Example: "She walked to the shop. Her feet were tired." The narrator is telling someone else's story.

EVALUATION

1. If a story describes a dark forest with howling winds, what mood is the author trying to create?
2. Read this sentence: "This is the most fantastic day ever!" What is the author's tone?
3. "We decided to go on an adventure." Is this sentence written in first person or third person?
4. What is the difference between tone and mood? (Hint: One belongs to the writer, one belongs to the reader).
5. Which point of view would a history textbook most likely use to give facts?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Read a short paragraph from a storybook. Write down one word to describe the tone (e.g., excited, scary) and one word to describe the mood you felt.

2. (Drawing/Written): Draw a picture of a setting that creates a peaceful mood (e.g., a sunset, someone reading). Write one sentence describing your drawing.
3. (Oral): Tell a two-sentence story about your morning to a partner. First, use First Person ("I woke up..."). Then, retell it in Third Person ("He/She woke up...").

WEEK 2

WRITING: WRITING E-MAILS AND TEXT MESSAGES

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify the main parts of an email (Subject, Body, Signature).
2. Differentiate between formal and informal emails.
3. List safety rules for online communication (Digital Citizenship).

CONTENT

1. What is an E-mail?

An e-mail (electronic mail) is a letter sent through the internet to someone's email address. It has specific parts that must be filled in correctly.

- To: This is where you type the email address of the person receiving the message.
- Subject: A short title that tells the receiver what the email is about. Be clear! (e.g., "Homework Question" or "Invitation to My Party").

- Salutation: How you greet the person. (e.g., "Dear Uncle Ben," or "Hello Sir,").
- Body: This is your main message. Write in clear paragraphs.
- Closing & Signature: How you end (e.g., "Thank you," or "Best regards,"). Then type your name.

2. Formal vs. Informal E-mails

- Formal Email: Sent to teachers, principals, or people you don't know well.
  - Use: Proper greetings (Dear Mr...), full sentences, correct grammar, polite language.
  - Example: Emailing your teacher to explain an absence.
- Informal Email: Sent to friends and family.
  - Use: Casual greetings (Hi Mum!), contractions (I'm, can't), emojis sometimes 😊.
  - Example: Emailing your cousin about a funny video.

3. Text Messages & Digital Citizenship

Text messages are short, quick messages sent between phones. Digital Citizenship means being safe, responsible, and respectful online.

- Safety Rules:
  - a. Keep Secrets: Never share your password or home address with strangers online.
  - b. Be Kind: Don't send mean or bullying messages. Think before you send.
  - c. Ask for Help: If something online makes you feel uncomfortable, tell a trusted adult immediately.
  - d. Check Facts: Don't believe everything you read online. Check with an adult.

EVALUATION

1. Which part of an email is like the title of a book?
2. You need to email the school principal. Should you use a formal or informal style?
3. Is it safe to share your best friend's password with another friend? Why or why not?

4. What should you write in the 'Subject' line if you are emailing your teacher about a sick leave?
5. What does "Digital Citizenship" mean?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Practical/Drawing): Draw the layout of an email on paper. Label these five parts: To, Subject, Salutation, Body, Your Name.
2. (Written): Write a formal email to your class teacher. Ask permission to leave school 30 minutes early next Friday for a family event. Remember all the parts.
3. (Oral/Research): With an adult's help, look up and write down two more safety tips for using the internet. Share one tip with the class.

WEEK 3

LISTENING & SPEAKING: INTONATION AND SPEECH MAKING (NATIONAL VALUES: HONESTY)

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Use correct intonation to express meaning in a dialogue.
2. Define Honesty and explain why it is important.
3. Prepare a short outline for a speech.

CONTENT

1. Intonation in Dialogue

Intonation (the rise and fall of your voice) helps show your feelings and intentions when you speak with others. Stress on different words can change the meaning.

- Example Sentence: "I did my homework." (Stressing 'did' strongly means you are defending yourself, maybe because someone accused you of not doing it).

2. National Values: Honesty

Honesty means telling the truth, not stealing, and not cheating. It builds trust. We can practice using firm and clear intonation to stand up for what is honest.

- Example Dialogue:
  - Friend A: "Just copy my answers, the teacher won't see."
  - Friend B: (With firm, falling intonation) "No. That's cheating. I'd rather try my best and be honest."

3. Speech Making: Talking to a Group

A speech is when you talk formally to a group of people. A good short speech has a clear structure.

- Introduction: Start by greeting everyone and saying what your speech is about. Example: "Good morning everyone. Today, I want to talk about why honesty is important."
- Body: Give 2 or 3 main points or reasons. Use examples. Example: "First, honesty makes people trust you... For example..."
- Conclusion: Briefly summarize your main point and say thank you. Example: "So, in conclusion, honesty is the best policy. Thank you for listening."
- Delivery Tips: Stand up straight, look at your audience (eye contact), and speak slowly and clearly.

EVALUATION

1. Say the word "No" in two ways: once as a soft refusal, and once as a firm, serious command. Which one uses stronger intonation?
2. What is one good thing that happens when you are known as an honest person?
3. What is the main goal of the Introduction part of a speech?
4. Why is it important to look at the audience while giving a speech?
5. In the speech body, what do we call the stories or facts that explain your main points?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Prepare a simple outline for a 1-minute speech on "Why We Should Keep Our School Clean." Write just the Introduction sentence, two main points, and the Conclusion sentence.
2. (Oral/Written): Write a 4-line dialogue between two friends. One finds a lost wallet. The other suggests keeping the money. Write what the honest friend should say in response.
3. (Practical/Oral): Practice giving the speech outline from Assignment 1 to a family member. Ask them if your voice was clear and if you looked at them.

WEEK 4

GRAMMATICAL ACCURACY: DIRECT AND INDIRECT SPEECH

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define Direct Speech and Indirect Speech.
2. Identify quotation marks (" ") in a sentence.
3. Change simple sentences from Direct to Indirect Speech.

CONTENT

1. Direct Speech: The Exact Words

Direct Speech reports the exact words someone said. We use quotation marks or inverted commas ("...") to show these words.

- Example: Kofi said, "I am hungry."
- Example: The teacher asked, "Where is your book?"
- The words inside the quotes "" are spoken directly.

2. Indirect (Reported) Speech: The Reported Words

Indirect Speech reports what someone said, but not their exact words. We do not use quotation marks. We often change the tense and pronouns.

- Example: Kofi said that he was hungry.
- Example: The teacher asked where my book was.

3. Steps to Change Direct to Indirect Speech

Follow these three key changes:

- Step 1: Remove the quotation marks (" ").
- Step 2: Often add the word 'that' after the reporting verb (said, asked).
- Step 3: Change the pronouns and tense.
  - Pronouns: I may become he or she. My becomes his or her.
  - Tense: Present tense often changes to past tense.
    - am/is → was
    - are → were
    - have → had
    - will → would

Examples:

- Direct: She said, "I have a new book."
- Indirect: She said that she had a new book.
- Direct: He said, "My mother is cooking."
- Indirect: He said that his mother was cooking.

EVALUATION

1. What punctuation marks are used to show Direct Speech?
2. Change to Indirect Speech: Bola said, "I like football."
3. In Indirect Speech, what word often comes after 'said' to connect the information?
4. Change to Direct Speech: He said that he was tired.
5. Look at this sentence: "She said, 'It is cold.'" Which word will change from 'is' to 'was' in indirect speech?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Find two sentences with Direct Speech (using " ") in any storybook. Copy them into your notebook.
2. (Written): Change this Direct Speech to Indirect Speech: My father said, "I am going to the market."
3. (Oral/Practical): Play a "Report the News" game. Whisper a short sentence to a partner (e.g., "I love mangoes."). They must tell the class what was said, using Indirect Speech (e.g., "She said that she loved mangoes.").

WEEK 5 & 6: MIDTERM EXAMS/BREAK

WEEK 7

READING: COMPREHENSION IV - FACT VS. OPINION / CAUSE AND EFFECT

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Distinguish between a Fact and an Opinion.
2. Identify signal words that show an opinion.
3. Identify Cause and Effect relationships in a text.

CONTENT

1. Fact vs. Opinion

Knowing the difference between a fact and an opinion helps you understand what is true information and what is someone's personal feeling.

- Fact: A statement that can be proven true or false with evidence. Everyone can agree on it.
  - Example: "Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius." (We can test this with a thermometer).
  - Example: "Abuja is the capital of Nigeria." (This is a true, checkable fact).
- Opinion: A statement that tells someone's belief, feeling, or thought. It cannot be proven true for everyone. Different people have different opinions.
  - Example: "Maths is the best subject." (Someone else might think Art is the best).
  - Example: "Jollof rice tastes better than fried rice." (This is about personal taste).

FACT

OPINION

- Signal Words for Opinions: I think, I believe, I feel, in my opinion, best, worst, beautiful, ugly, should.

2. Cause and Effect: What Happened and Why

Cause and Effect is about why things happen (the cause) and what happens as a result (the effect).

It shows the connection between events.

- Cause: The reason why something happened.
- Effect: The result what happened because of the cause.
- They are linked like an action and its reaction.

- Signal Words: Because, so, since, therefore, as a result, if...then.
- Example Sentence: "Because it rained heavily (Cause), therefore the football match was cancelled (Effect)."
- Example Sentence: "The plant died (Effect) because nobody watered it (Cause)."

EVALUATION

1. Is this a Fact or Opinion? "Nigeria is in West Africa."
2. Is this a Fact or Opinion? "Football is more exciting than basketball."
3. What signal word in this sentence shows it is an opinion? "In my view, reading is very enjoyable."
4. In this sentence, what is the Cause? "The street was flooded because the drain was blocked."
5. In this sentence, what is the Effect? "The baby cried so her mother picked her up."
6. Combine these two ideas into one Cause and Effect sentence using "so": "The bell rang. We went to our classrooms."

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write two Facts about your hometown. Write two Opinions about your favorite music.
2. (Practical/Written): Look at a recent event at home or school. Write one Cause and Effect sentence about it (e.g., "I studied hard, so I passed my test.").
3. (Drawing): Draw a simple comic strip with two panels. Panel 1 (Cause): A boy forgets his umbrella. Panel 2 (Effect): The boy is getting wet in the rain.

WEEK 8

WRITING: BIOGRAPHIES AND AUTOBIOGRAPHIES

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Define Biography and Autobiography.
2. List the differences between the two.
3. Organize life events in chronological order.

CONTENT

1. Definitions: Life Stories

A life story is called a biography, but who writes it makes a big difference.

- Biography: The story of a real person's life written by someone else.
  - Example: If you write a book about the life of Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, that is a biography. You are writing about another person.
- Autobiography: The story of a person's life written by that person themselves.
  - Example: If Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe wrote a book about his own life, that is an autobiography. ("Auto" means "self").

2. Key Differences

- Point of View (Pronouns):
  - Biography uses Third Person (he, she, they, his, her). Example: "She was born in 1977. Her childhood was..."
  - Autobiography uses First Person (I, me, my, we). Example: "I was born in 1977. My childhood was..."
- The Author: In a biography, the author and the subject are different people. In an autobiography, they are the same person.

3. Chronological Order in Life Stories

Both biographies and autobiographies are usually written in time order—the order in which events happened in the person's life.

- Sequence: Birth → Childhood → Education → Work/Career → Important Achievements → Later Life.

EVALUATION

1. If your teacher writes a story about the life of the school headteacher, is it a biography or autobiography?

2. Which point of view (I or He/She) would you use to write your own life story?
3. What does the "auto" in "autobiography" mean?
4. Put these life events in chronological order: Got married, Learned to walk, Went to university, Was born.
5. Why is it important to write a biography or autobiography in chronological order?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write a short autobiographical paragraph (4-5 sentences) about yourself. Use "I" and "my". Include where you were born and one thing you like to do.
2. (Research/Oral): Interview an older family member (parent, grandparent, aunt/uncle). Ask them: "Where were you born?" and "What was your primary school like?" Write down their answers as if you are starting a biography about them (use "He/She was...").
3. (Practical/Drawing): Create a personal timeline of your own life. Draw 3 key events in order (e.g., born, started primary school, learned to ride a bike). Write a date or your age for each event.

WEEK 9

READING: TEXT STRUCTURE AND CONCEPTS OF PRINT II

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify different text structures (Sequence, Compare/Contrast).
2. Use signal words to identify the structure of a text.
3. Explain the purpose of a bibliography or reference list.

CONTENT

1. Text Structure: How Writing is Organized

Authors organize their writing in different ways depending on their purpose. Recognizing the structure helps you understand and remember the information better.

- Sequence / Chronological Order: The author lists steps or events in the order they happen. Used in recipes, instructions, and history.
  - Signal Words: First, Second, Next, Then, After, Finally, Before, Later.
- Compare and Contrast: The author explains how two or more things are similar (compare) and different (contrast).
  - Signal Words: Similar to, both, like, unlike, on the other hand, however, in contrast.

- Problem and Solution: The author states a problem and then suggests one or more solutions.
  - Signal Words: Problem, issue, challenge, solution, solve, therefore, as a result.

2. Advanced Concepts of Print

- Footnotes: Tiny numbers (like this<sup>1</sup>) in the text that lead you to a note at the bottom of the same page. Footnotes give extra explanations or tell you where the information came from.
- Bibliography / Reference List: A list at the end of a book, report, or project. It shows all the books, articles, or websites the author used for research. It gives credit to the original writers and shows where you can find more information.
  - Why it's important: It shows the author did not copy others' work without saying so. It helps you check the facts.

EVALUATION

1. What text structure would you use to write instructions for making a sandwich?
2. Read this sentence: "Unlike cars, bicycles do not need petrol." Which text structure is being used?
3. What is the purpose of a footnote?
4. Where in a book would you find the bibliography?
5. If you are writing about "The Problem of Litter in Our School and How to Solve It," which text structure will you use?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Read a page from your Science textbook. Identify if it is mostly using Sequence or Description. Write down two signal words you see.
2. (Written): Write two sentences comparing a radio and a television (how they are similar). Write two sentences contrasting them (how they are different).
3. (Practical/Research): Look at the back of any non-fiction book from your school library. See if you can find a "Bibliography," "References," or "For Further Reading" section. Write down the title of one book listed there.

WEEK 10

READING: CRITICAL READING AND VOCABULARY INTEGRATION

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Evaluate a source of information for credibility (truth).
2. Define "bias" in a text.
3. Explain the meaning of given subject-specific vocabulary.

CONTENT

1. Critical Reading: Is This Information True?

Not everything we read, especially online, is true or fair. A critical reader thinks carefully about the information.

- Check the Source: Who wrote it? Are they an expert? (e.g., A doctor giving health advice is more credible than an unknown person).
- Check the Date: Is the information current or very old? Old information might not be correct anymore.
- Check for Bias: Does the author only show one side of the story because they have a strong personal opinion? This is called bias.
  - Example: A company that makes a certain soap will only say good things about it in their advert. Their opinion is biased.

2. Recognizing Persuasive Techniques (Propaganda)

Sometimes authors use strong, one-sided methods to persuade you. This is often seen in adverts.

- Bandwagon: "Everyone is buying this phone, so you should too!" (Persuading you to join the crowd).
- Testimonial: A famous person says they use a product. (They may be paid to say it).

3. Subject-Specific Vocabulary

As you prepare for secondary school, you will meet important words used in all subjects. These are academic words.

- Analyze: To look at something very closely and in detail to understand its parts.
- Evaluate: To judge or decide the value, importance, or quality of something.
- Evidence: Facts, information, or objects that help prove something is true or false.
- Interpret: To explain the meaning of something.

EVALUATION

1. Why is it important to check the date of an online article about medicine?
2. What does it mean if a news report is biased?
3. If a football fan writes that his team is "the best in the universe," is this likely to be unbiased? Why?
4. In a Science experiment, what do we call the facts we collect that help us answer a question? (Evidence/Analyze)
5. What does it mean to analyze a character in a story?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Practical/Written): Find an advertisement in a newspaper, magazine, or online. Write down: a) What it is selling. b) One technique it uses to persuade you (e.g., bandwagon, testimonial).
2. (Written): Use the academic words correctly in sentences: a) Evaluate: "I will _____ my study habits to see what I can improve." b) Evidence: "The muddy shoes were _____ that he had been outside."
3. (Oral/Research): Ask a parent or elder for a wise proverb in your local language or in English (e.g., "A stitch in time saves nine"). Write it down and explain what lesson it teaches.

WEEK 11

LISTENING & SPEAKING: INTERVIEWS AND SIMILES/METAPHORS

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the lesson, pupils should be able to:

1. Identify mono-syllabic and poly-syllabic words.
2. Demonstrate appropriate body language for an interview.
3. Differentiate between Similes and Metaphors.

CONTENT

1. Pronunciation: Counting Syllables

A syllable is a single, unbroken sound of a spoken word. We can clap for each syllable.

- Mono-syllabic: Words with ONE syllable (one clap). Cat, Run, Book, School.
- Bi-syllabic: Words with TWO syllables (two claps). Tea-cher, Mon-ey, Ha-ppy.
- Poly-syllabic: Words with THREE OR MORE syllables (three or more claps). El-e-phant (3), In-for-ma-tion (4).

2. Speaking at Interviews

An interview is a formal meeting where someone asks you questions to learn more about you (e.g., for a school prefect role, or secondary school admission). First impressions matter!

- Body Language:
  - Posture: Sit up straight; don't slouch.
  - Eye Contact: Look at the interviewer when speaking or listening.
  - Hands: Keep them calm on your lap; don't fidget.
  - Smile: A polite smile shows you are friendly and confident.

Good Posture

Bad Posture

3. Grammaticatical Accuracy: Similes and Metaphors

These are figures of speech that make descriptions more vivid by comparing two things.

- Simile: A comparison using the words like or as.
  - Example: "Her smile is as bright as the sun." "He runs like a cheetah."
- Metaphor: A direct comparison that says one thing is another thing. It does NOT use 'like' or 'as'.
  - Example: "Her smile is the sunshine." "He is a cheetah on the track."

Simile vs. Metaphor

|                                                                                     |                                                                                    |                                                                  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  | Simile:LIKE or AS As bright asthe sun | Metaphor:IS Is thesunshine |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|

EVALUATION

1. How many syllables are in the word "watermelon"? (Clap it out).
2. Give an example of a mono-syllabic word.
3. During an interview, why is it important to sit up straight?
4. Identify this sentence as Simile or Metaphor: "The classroom was a zoo during break time."
5. Identify this sentence as Simile or Metaphor: "She sings like a bird."
6. Which figure of speech is a more direct comparison?

ASSIGNMENT

1. (Written): Write two similes describing a very tall building. Write two metaphors describing a clever person.
2. (Oral/Practical): With a partner, role-play a short interview. One person is the Headteacher asking "Why do you want to be the class monitor?" The other practices good posture, eye contact, and a clear answer.
3. (Written): Imagine you are being interviewed for your dream secondary school. Write down two intelligent questions YOU could ask the interviewer at the end (e.g., "What clubs does the school have?").
